DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, December 15, 1892.

FRAGMENTS.

THE members of the Union Club will meet for practice tomorrow evening at 7:30 sharp.

A RESTORATIVE has been established at Midward, Uintah county, with Annie P. Woodward postmistress.

IN the case of H. A. Hoss et al. vs. Margaret White, the jury in the Third district court this afternoon found a verdict for the defendant.

THE New Englanders resident in Salt Lake intend to celebrate "Forefathers' Day, December 22nd, with a banquet at the Knousford hotel.

ROBE JOHNSON, who was involved in a suit before Justice Hall yesterday, is not Eef Johnson of this city but a gentleman from the Park.

G. F. BERGMAN, formerly of the San Francisco Examiner, and late of the Herald, has assumed the management of the Utah Agriculturist.

THE Eighth quorum of Seventies will meet in the vestry of the Twelfth ward meeting house tomorrow (Friday) evening at half-past seven o'clock.

W. H. RAINEY was fined $2.50 by Justice Gee this forenoon for violating the ordinance which prohibits the driving of vehicles on the sidewalk.

CARRIE SIMPSON, a colored kinetomphone, was sent to jail for five days by Justice Gee this forenoon for stealing a basket of fishes.

HOWARD M. JONES brought suit in the Third district court this afternoon against Thomas K. Stevens et al. and the United Electric company to recover $500 with interest and costs on a promissory note.

WORLD'S Fair Commissioners Emery and Chambers and Secretary McDaniel are now in Chicago arranging for Utah's exhibit at the Columbian Exposition. The Utah building is being pushed to a rapid completion. Messrs. Emery, Chambers and McDaniel are expected home in a few days.

To Home Missionaries.

Inasmuch as Christmas comes on Sunday this year, the home missionaries of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will not be asked to fill appointments on that day.

ANGUS M. CANNON,
President of Stake.

Prize for the Newsboys.

The NEWS will shortly offer a prize for the newsboys. The NEWS is on the "upward curve," and the little fellows reap a harvest from the street sales every day. Boys, the prize will be $5.00 and the time limited to Jan. 1, next; so turn out and get ready for the struggle. The one that sells the most papers by that time gets the money.

Action Against The City.

Frank Fitzgerald vs. Salt Lake City is the title of an action, the trial of which was begun in Judge Zane's court this afternoon. The sum of $1500 and costs is claimed as damages, for injury alleged to have been done to the plaintiff's property, known as Dudler's Brewery, by reason of the overflowing of a ditch said to have been negligently constructed by the defendants. The plaintiff states that his cellar was consequently filled with water and a variety of things therein spoiled.

Attorney Reilly represents the plaintiff, and City Attorney Hoge the defendants.

AMUSEMENTS.

JULIA MARLOWE, the gifted young star, appears at the theatre to night in Twelfth Night, aided by a strong supporting company.

Within Our Gates.

President Hugh S. Gowans, of Tooele, is again enjoying our Alpine situation and surroundings.

Miss Julia Marlowe escaped from Ogden and arrived here today. Those who would like to form an acquaintance with the lady (artistically only) can do so at the Theater tonight for $1.50 down.

Ben E. Rich arranged matters with the railroad and came down yesterday from the alleged junction of the pioneer transcontinental routes. He dropped in for a minute or so and dropped out again same occasion.

Nathan Tanner, jr., a legal light of Ogden, was observable with one naked eye upon our streets today. If he chases any game with the vigilance of Stanley in Sonegambia he was easily able to disarm another lawyer or so in our midst.

Gen. Michener, the prominent Republican politician of Indiana, came in last evening and went to the Knousford. The cool and salubrious breezes doubtless feel quite refreshing to the general in view of recent events down his way, and it is to be hoped he will enjoy the visit fully.

Abe Newberger, representing a big New York establishment, managed to pull through the eastern drifts and land with us again today. Mr. N. enjoys the distinction of having been among the first, if not the very first, to get so far into the benighted West on commercial errands, and he has been at it ever since. It is said he gains five pounds in flesh every time he comes, which would seem to mean that he is either a Falstaff low or started in very fine.

A little stranger arrived at the residence of our goodly disposed townsman Clement Hosley, Esq., yesterday morning. As this is not a birth notice the reader will please read on. He holds forth at 361 Fourth street, and on emerging from the front door at a late hour found a suspicious looking package on the step. Investigation, accompanied by a note, showed it to be a male infant, born on the 13th of November. The child was well dressed and provided with a nursing bottle, was a "kicker" in a vigorous way and healthy as a trout. "Clem" has office for his find right away, but prefers to keep it himself and will do so if permitted.

Peter Jackson, along with Parson Davies, his manager, backer and adviser, came in on per announcement yesterday and gave a session to a select circle of newspaper representatives led by Col. Ed. Kelley at the Knousford. The colored pugilist bore of the most affable of manners, but has a weakness for journalists. He towers aloft in his shoes to the height of an inch or so over six feet, weighs about 220 pounds, is modest, has a graphaphone blackmail, and dresses and talks like a duke. He gave an exhibition sparring last night that was largely attended, and as an incentive or a new it is not done in the prize ring was a success. The pugilist and the parson went on west future midnight.

Joseph Stanford, one of Ogden's oldtimers and a man of mercantile methods and means, dawned upon us for the first time in a series of years today. He says the removal of the Rio Grande Western blacksmith shops and sich like up there has sent things a-humping again, property having already advanced twenty-five per cent, with a probability that the summit of the activity is not yet reached. He was with us more of a hurry to pay immediate attention to an offer to supply the junction burg with a tax or designed to still further narrow the gap between Hell and Impossibility. We have a goodly number of burglars, footpads, scent-thieves, etc., there being the inevitable paradox of every modern municipality of the first class, and if these are wanted they can be had for a song indifferently sung.

MUST HAVE HELP.

But Cannot Get It in the Third District or Justices' Courts.

THE CITY COUNCIL POWERLESS.

The Story Told to Justice Gee and Assistant County Attorney Excusor by a Divorce Seeker.

There was a lively seance in the Police court at the City Hall this afternoon and the excitement was all owing to an individual who rushed into the presence of Justice Gee with a lot of papers in his right hand. He at once commenced the recision of a tale of matrimonial woe. His story was to the effect that he had taste I much gall and but little honey during the last few years. He said that his name was Elias Christiansen and that his wife, Sophia Christiansen, took great delight in making his life a burden to him and that he must have relief. Money he had not and was at his wits end as to how to institute proceedings for divorce without it. Finally he explained that he had taken the pauper's oath, believing he could thereby file papers in the Third district court and obtain a decree in his favor. It seems that he was informed that the law passed by the last territorial legislature granting permission to poor persons to commence suits only applied to the district courts. On this representation he sought out Justice Gee. Tale official informed him that his information about the law referred to was correct, but that it did not apply to divorce proceedings, a class of cases over which a justice had absolutely no jurisdiction. This the unhappy applicant considered an outrage and a shame. The courts either did not have the power to help him or else they had no desire to do so. "My case is getting concrete and something must be done for me," he said further. "I know what I'll do."

"What will you do?" queried Assistant County Attorney Elsbner.

"Why, I'll send in a petition to the City Council and ask them to assist me!"

"That body is already burdened with more woes of its own than it can well take care of," responded the good natured student of Blackstone discouragingly, "besides it is also powerless in your case."

"Well, I'll try them anyhow."

"It will do you no good," answered Justice Gee.

"Then I will appeal to Uncle Sam. Somebody must help me." Having thus declared himself he rushed out into the storm still clinging to his papers.

FLAKE'S UNTIMELY DEATH.

He Was Shot by a Bank Robber at Snowflake, Arizona.

We extract the following from a letter forwarded to the NEWS for publication. It was written by Joseph H. Frisby to a friend in this city, from Snowflake, Arizona, under date Dec. 10th, and has reference to the killing of young Charles Flake in that territory:

"I have to tell you of one of the worst affairs that has ever happened in this settlement. You will remember young Mr. Flake with whom I came home two days ago. He and his mother and father and myself were talking in the store, when a messenger boy handed him a telegram, saying that a stranger who was in the settlement was a bank robber, that the sheriff of New Mexico was coming after him, and that for fear the man would leave before he got there he wanted Mr. Flake to arrest him and keep him until the sheriff arrived. Young Flake did not tell his father or myself what the telegram contained, but he and his brother just stepped over to where the man was, about twelve rods distant from where we were standing, and tried to arrest him. In less than ten seconds the fellow shot Charlie in the neck and killed him; also shot his brother through the ear; but the brother then shot the man, killing him. The two lay dead in less then a minute. Charlie was a good young man. We were out as home missionaries and traveled together. The sad affair has broken me all up, and the whole town is in a gloom."

Since writing the foregoing I have been to see James Flake. When the man shot him he was so close that the powder burnt his face terribly and almost destroyed his left eye. We did not notice this at first because he was covered with blood, from his head to his waist. It was the most sickening sight I ever witnessed. His eye is now very bad. Hymenius has set in and I am afraid that blood poisoning will follow. There is no telling how it will go with him yet."

BY WIRE TO-DAY

Hippolyte's Revenge on Guilty and Innocent.

BLAINE REPORTED BETTER

Annie Murphy or Miss McIlan Arrested, Charged with Forgery.

KILLED ONE HUNDRED BEGGARS.

A Diplomatic Fatal with China—The Brooklyn Conference—Congress.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—W. A. Griffin and Clarence B. Riker of this city were passengers on the steamship Adirondack, which arrived from Kingston, Jamaica, on Tuesday with reports of the attempt to kill President Hippolyte of Hayti. The story of the attempted assassination as they heard it, is as follows: President Hippolyte was in bed in the palace when one of the attendants saw a man slipping along the corridor toward the president's room. An attendant grappled with the man and was stabbed in the shoulder. Other attendants came and the man was bound. He was asked what his object was in visiting the palace, and said: "To kill Hippolyte." He was then taken out and shot. Investigation was made and it was found that the man got into the grounds by breaking through a fence. Next day six of the guards were shot for allowing the man to get into the house undetected, and one commanded them was sentenced to be shot. A son of Hippolyte, however, interceded for the lieutenant and his life was spared, though he is still in prison. It is believed the attempted assassination is the result of a conspiracy in which some people in Hippolyte's household are implicated. On the other hand, no enemies claim there was no attempt at assassination and that Hippolyte simply took occasion to get rid of some followers whom fidelity he suspected.

Blaine Reported a Little Better.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—A reporter who called at the Blaine mansion this morning was informed that Blaine is a little better and very comfortable.

WHAT THE PHYSICIAN SAYS.

Dr. Johnson, Blaine's physician, says there is no truth whatever in the statement that Blaine is dying. In fact, so far from being in a critical condition, when he left him yesterday afternoon, Blaine was sitting up in bed feeling very comfortable and there had been so little cause for alarm since, that he had not thought it necessary to visit the patient. The rumor is supposed to have risen from the fact that his daughter, Mrs. Damrosch came over from New York to see him.

CHANGE OF CLIMATE NEEDED.

It is said at Washington that the climate does not agree with Blaine, and that as soon as possible he will go either to Aiken, S. C., or Florida, instead of waiting until he is strong enough to go to California as originally intended.

Indian Corn Mills.

Three of Them Running in Hamburg Alone.

HAMBURG, Dec. 15.—Another mill has been started in this city for the grinding of Indian corn exclusively. This is the third of the kind now running. The establishment of these mills is due to the efforts of Charles Murphy, the special agent of the United States agricultural department, who was sent to Europe to work up the use there of corn as a food product.

Death of a French Statesman.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—John Emile Lemoinne, the well-known statesman, is dead.

A GREAT UNDERTAKING.

To Drive 45,000 Sheep a Distance of 1000 Miles.

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 15.—Early in May, Frank Sedgwy, a young stock baron, will attempt to drive from the center of this state to Ogalala, Neb., 45,000 sheep; the distance is a thousand miles. The trip will occupy six months. The sheep will have to cross the Rocky Mountains in the wildest part and have to ford scores of small streams.

Before a Court Martial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—The court martial on Commander Henry L. Johnson, U. S. N., on the charge of negligence in allowing the steamer Mohican to go ashore off the Alaskan coast recently, began yesterday. The proceedings were merely formal. Actual work begins today.

ANNIE MURPHY ARRESTED.

An End Put to Her Clever Transactions with the Banks.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 15.—News has been received of the arrest at Huntsville, Ala., of Annie Murphy, alias Miss McIlan, supposed to have forged numerous drafts purporting to be drawn by the Tacoma National Bank of Commerce on the Chase National Bank, New York. She tried to cash a similar draft at Huntsville yesterday, and inquiry by Huntsville bank of the cashier of the Tacoma bank led to the arrest. The woman's clever transactions have been causing bank trouble all over the country.

A Scholar Gone.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—August Simson Lang, the historian and scholar, is dead.

India and Silver.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—A special from Calcutta states that Mackay, president of the Indian currency committee, returned to Calcutta after giving evidence in London before the Herschell currency committee. Mackay says, if the committee reports against gold standard, commercial men of India most emphatically situation in India, he added, would go on with silver as well as could for a few years longer when further experiments with that metal would lead to a change. In the meantime business is at a low ebb and the ports are blocked with unemployed shipping. In reply to a question of the baron, as to what issue would be given if the matter of the government stakes it can say nothing at present.

A Minister to China.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—A dispatch from Tien Tsin states that O'Conor, newly appointed British minister to China, has delivered his credentials to the emperor. O'Conor and his suite lunched in his majesty's giving him audience in the inner palace, and his action has settled the diplomatic difficulty arising from the emperor's refusal to hold such ceremonies within the sacred precincts.

RUSSIAN JUSTICE.

One Year for Killing a Hundred Innocent Children.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 15.—The midwife, Hadelmann, found guilty of murdering 111 babies, whose bodies were found buried in her cellar, has been sentenced only to one year's imprisonment. Great indignation is expressed by the fact that the powerful influence of some of her inner patrons were able to save her from the full penalty of her crimes. It is now but three years since, with the exception of twenty years, there is little doubt that her victims number hundreds.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

The Special Committee Reports the Result of their Work.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 15.—The committee appointed by the international monetary conference to consider the various projects submitted to the conference, adopted a report in which they state that in considering the various proposals submitted to them they confined themselves to the study of general principles and did not discuss the details necessary to give the several proposals effect. After reviewing the reasons for and against the different schemes, the report concludes: Having regard to the fact that the conference is not yet pronounced on the general question, the committee is not feel satisfied in taking a vote upon the projects referred to them, or attempting to formulate a compromise between the varying monetary doctrines advanced.

The Suit of the Edison Electric Company.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The United States court of appeals has granted an injunction in the suit of the Edison Electric company against the new yer Manufacturing company, with the proviso that the Edison company must supply the Wenham company with plants installed before the injunction was issued, with lamps at reasonable prices.

The Pope and the Saxons.

ROME, Dec. 15.—The pope will soon send to the Italian bishops a letter denouncing Free Masonry as parading in the sacred aim of replacing Christianity by naturalism.

Damage by Fire and Water.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 15.—Fire and water this morning caused $100,000 worth of damage to the Nonotuck silk company and Schwab & Hocking, Wholesale notions, and others.

A MYSTERY CLEARED UP.

A Missing Tacoma Cashier Turns up in Honduras.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Bankcashier Fred. C. Fuller, of Tacoma, Washington, has been cleared up. He has not been murdered, nor has he committed suicide as was generally supposed. He was seen alive in Honduras where he now turns out that he took a steamer for Europe.

INVESTIGATING THE TREASURY.

A Sub committee to be Appointed for the Purpose.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—There was a meeting of the committee on ways and means this morning to consider the resolution to investigate the financial condition of the treasury. Some favored an investigation by the entire committee, others believed results could be expected by assigning the work to a sub-committee. The matter was finally settled by the adoption of the following, presented by Wilson, W. Va.:

"Resolved that the inquiry devolving upon this committee by a resolution adopted by the House on the 13th instant, be conducted by a subcommittee to be composed of five members, including of the chairman and four members appointed by him."

The committee will be announced by chairman Springer before the holiday adjournment. On motion of Turner it was resolved that a resolution be presented to the House providing that the holiday recess should begin after the adjournment of the House on the 22nd instant and continue until January 4th.

For the Sake of a Girl.

LEWISTON, Ida., Dec. 15.—At Warren's mining camp 110 miles distant, Jack Wilkins was shot and killed by Nancy Gardner a week ago. The boys in the camp thought the girl was at fault. Wilkins married her. The day after Wilkins passed Scanlon's house, the latter saw him.

Sensational Charges.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The Republican senatorial caucus adjourned at 10 o'clock this morning and further discussed the programme to be followed by the party in regard to the senatorial contests in the several western states.

The resolution of Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, was adopted authorizing the chairman (Senator Sherman) to appoint a committee of five members to take into consideration the wisdom and propriety of senatorial interference in these contests. The obvious purpose of the resolution is to reflect unpleasantly upon the pernicious activity of the Democratic caucus committee in this matter. Further than that nothing was done except to discuss the general outlook in the West and the result of this was to greatly encourage the western senators, inasmuch as it demonstrated that their eastern colleagues are by no means lukewarm in the contest. The caucus adjourned subject to call.

The Labor Congress.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15.—The morning session of the Federation of Labor was unimportant, most of it being devoted to the discussion of propositions to correct small issues made by that body to striking organizations in the past.

The Kansas Senatorial Question.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 15.—The Democratic members are assembling from all parts of the state to attend a meeting of the Democratic central committee to decide the senatorial question, numerous candidates are in the field, but John Martin seems to have the lead which is hard to overcome, the belief being that he can best unite all the elements of the party. With the aid of the Democratic votes the Populists can elect senator, and Senator Ottorson, although a straight Democrat, makes it impossible to elect any Democrat other than a fusionist and the legislative caucus will decide who that fusionist will be.

A Crew Lost.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—L'Esperance, a French vessel, was wrecked off the island of Guernsey; all of the crew were drowned.

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The Senate again took up the McCarnahan bill, and Hunton concluded his argument in favor of the passage of the bill over the President's veto. Hunton had not concluded his argument when the morning hour expired.

The McCarnahan bill went over till Monday and the anti-option bill was taken up, Hodge continuing his speech in favor of it.

A motion that when the Senate adjourns it be till Monday was opposed by Washburn in the interest of the anti-option bill. The vote stood a tie, and the Vice President cast the casting vote in favor of adjournment till the time specified.

Senator Power today introduced an amendment to the bill defining options and futures, adding silver bullion to the articles, the dealer in which must obtain a license.

At the conclusion of George's speech Washburn attempted but failed to have the time fixed for taking a vote next week. Adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The House agreed to the conference resolution for recess from December 22nd to January 4th, also adopted a resolution setting apart today after the morning hour for business called up by the committee on Indian affairs.

The bill making it unlawful for any common carrier to insert in any bill of lading a clause to relieve it from liability for its loss during transportation of merchandise committed to its care, passed.

The floor was then accorded to the committee on Indian affairs.

The Panama Investigation.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—At the cabinet meeting today Burgeois, minister of justice, announced that he would propose to the chamber of deputies the appointment of a commission with judicial powers. In the chamber of deputies the government demanded immediate discussion of the proposals of Roberts. Buisson, president of the Panama committee strongly urged that the commission be invested with judicial powers and attacked Rouvier, the new premier, and Bourgeois, minister of justice, in severe language for opposing the proposition.

Deficiency in the Postal Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The secretary of the treasury sent to the House today estimates of the deficiencies in the appropriations account of the postal service. The deficiency amounts to $837,970 and covers the years 1891 and 1892.

Order of Salute.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 15.—In the trial of the ex-supreme officers of the Order of Scions, today ex-Supreme Treasurer Godfrey took the stand and made a general denial of the charges.
