FRAGMENTS.

GEORGE CLEGG, Alden found a horse-fight business in Rockwell, Utah, and North A. Nelson.

JUDGE ANDERSON, in the Federal court this morning, an another large array of civil cases.

The stars and stripes waved gaudily over all the "Gentile" business houses of this city today.

J. E. DOUGLAS has been elected chairman of the Territorial Board of Equalization; J. J. Thomas is secretary.

JACK DIXON, a notorious character, was arrested at noon today by Officer Gillespie on a charge of petit larceny.

PEDDLERS were industriously plying their respective trades the day. Several cases of swindling were reported.

EIGHT passenger trains arriving in this city today was filled to overflowing with people who came to witness the capstone services.

THE regular monthly meeting of the Salt Lake City Press club will meet tonight. A full attendance is desired as important business is to be transacted.

W. G. MCMASTER today entered upon his duties as deputy collector of internal revenue for the home division of the district of Utahna which embraces the Territory of Utah.

CONSIDERABLE interest was manifested on the streets over the election in Rhode Island today. The Democrats are jubilant over the result, and both sides expect it as the first gun in the great campaign which closes in November.

JUDGE ANDERSON granted two divorces yesterday on the ground of desertion. The first was William Pickering vs. Elizabeth Pickering, the couple married in Manchester, England, in 1876, and the second James Hunsaker vs. Elizabeth Hunsaker. They were married in Logan in 1886.

THE "Dairy-men's" held a small meeting in the old Fellows hall one evening. Henry Isaacs presided and it was completed with the report of the "Territorial committee" asking Hon. J. C. Dayle to call on delegates, meeting and that gentleman had declined. They talked of a special train to Chicago.

FROM 10 o'clock this morning till 2:30 afternoon progress on the unfinished business of the building stood still. The Temple was a matter involving some little time and occasionally some inconvenience. Immediately after the ceremonies, and after the last thread had tossed out upon the streets, it was almost impossible for a vehicle to go along in the opposite direction to that in which the crowd went, but we heard of no accidents nor no complaints.

Personal.

Joseph Judd, a well known Manti Democrat, is in the city.

C. W. Nibley, secretary of the Oregon Lumber Company, of Logan, is stopping at the Templeton.

John Gillespie, a well known Tooele citizen, is in the city attending conventions.

Bishop Thomas Atkin, of the same place, is in Salt Lake for a similar purpose.

Judge Symes, of Denver, is in Salt Lake on business. He is stopping at the Knutsford.

Colonel D. C. Dodge is expected to arrive in this city tomorrow, from Denver.

General Traffic Manager Sage of the Rock Island Railway, is at the Knutsford.

William Mallorman, of Seelbert & Sons, New York, is at the Templeton.

John Park, manager of the Kaiser events, is among the host of Conference visitors.

T. P. Diggs, a representative of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, is at the White House.

Following are some of the Templeton arrivals: A. O. Smoot, jr., Provo; A. H. Snow, Brigham; J. D. Jones and family, Provo; C. T. Richmond and wife and L. W. Shurtliff, Ogden; Mrs. L. A. West, Pocatello.

Dr. Brocken, of Springville, is at the Continental.

D. C. Robbins, of Emery county, is at the Cliff House.

W. H. Hay, a prominent lumber contractor of the Rio Grande Western, is at the Walker House.

Sheriff Stroup and wife are guests of the Cullen.

Manager Snow, of the Brigham City Opera House, is at the Templeton.

J. H. Berry and party, of Chicago, are stopping at the Templeton, on a tour across the continent.

Amusement Notes.

"Esmeralda" will be presented tonight at the Theatre by the Home Dramatic. "Hold by the Enemy" is announced for tomorrow evening by the same company.

"LAYED ON."

Hallen and Hart will appear at the Salt Lake Theatre Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee. This skit has brought fame and fortune to both of these players, and this is the last season in which they will be seen in it. There is no doubt that several striking novelties will be presented, especially in a musical way. All of the company, save Baritone John Mowbray and the Misses Ada Gilmore and Mollie Fuller, are new in the piece.

AGNES HUNTINGTON.

commences a four nights' engagement at the Theatre on Monday, April 11. Miss Huntington, we are assured, excelsior both man and woman alike, and it is their better selves she attracts. Her sweet contralto voice seems to delight every one who hears her, and she fills the stage with her magnificent statuesque presence. Now is the Mary Anderson of the lyric stage and photos from the same camera, that of her rare exclusiveness in her art and the womanly attributes of her character.

WONDERLAND.

There are numerous attractions at this hotel for present week, and the public appreciate the various features immensely. One of the most interesting exhibitions are the tile-setting exhibition in the Curio Hall and the young gentleman who has already saved not less than forty-nine human lives from a watery grave. Mrs. Prince-Dow is the great attraction in the Theatorium.

Pleasing Exercises.

The monthly music recital given by the pupils of Prof. Karl Hill last night at 62 W. Second south was an unqualified success. The exercises consisted of 14 numbers, and were rendered under the direction of the Professor, who also gave a piano solo which brought forth an encore. Several encores of the various numbers were demanded and given. The parlors were crowded with the friends and acquaintances of the pupils, and they were highly delighted with the performances. Some of the renditions ranked far above the efforts of average pupils.

here we should have the privilege of entering down with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and those of our relatives who had already passed away in the family organization of the celestial world to live and reign.

The choir sang:

The Temple Anthem.

Benediction by President George Q. Cannon.

THE PROCESSION.

The Priesthood, arranged in procession after the dedicatory service, marched to the grounds adjacent the Temple at about half past eleven.

ORDER OF PROCESSION.

First Presidency,
Twelve Apostles,
Presiding Patriarch and Patriarchs,
First Seven Presidents of Seventies,
Presidents of Stakes, their Counselors, and High Councilors,
Seventies,
High Priests,
Elders,
Presiding Bishops,
Bishops and Counselors,
Priests,
Teachers,
Deacons.

The work of arranging the Priesthood according to the various orders and the organization of the procession was superintended by Bishop John R. Winder.

On a stand located at the south-west corner—southside of the building—the General authorities of the Church were seated, as follows: The First Presidency—Wilford Woodruff, George Q. Cannon and Joseph F. Smith; of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles Lorenzo Snow, Franklin D. Richards, Brigham Young, Moses Thatcher, Francis M. Lyman, John H. Smith, George Teasdale, Heber J. Grant, John W. Taylor, Marriner W. Merrill, Anthon H. Lund, and Abraham H. Cannon.

Patriarch to the Church—John Smith.

Of the First Seven Presidents of the Seventies—Seymour B. Young, C. D. Fjeldsted, John Morgan, B. H. Roberts, George Reynolds and Jonathan Golden Kimball; the Presiding Bishopric—William H. Preston, Robert T. Burton, and John R. Winder. Presidents of Stakes and Counselors and other officials of the Church also occupied this platform. The stand was elevated about eight feet above the level of the ground, in a line was decorated with national bunting.

To the left of the main stand was a platform occupied by the Tabernacle choir.

Near the southeast corner of the position occupied by the general authorities was another stand. It was also decorated with national bunting. This platform was occupied by Elder Stephens, conductor, and Joseph J. Daynes, organist.

Both band occupied a position immediately east of the choir.

THE CAPSTONE CEREMONIES.

The "Capstone March," composed by C. J. Thomas, and dedicated by permission to the First Presidency, was played by Held's band.

The Tabernacle Choir sang the following anthem:

Glorious God, Eternal Father,
In the name of Christ we pray
Thou wilt bless us with Thy presence,
While this dedicating place we lay;
In Thy dwelling-place, O Father,
Let Thy mind and power dwell;
May Thy power descend into the Temple,
As in Thine, O God, we dwell.
It is Thine, O God, and unto
It is Thine, O Father, to Thee, O Lord, and unto Christ our King.

Glory, Glory, hallelujah,
Honor and earth and angels sing,
Honor and earth and angels sing
Glory, glory to our King.
Glory, glory, hallelujah,
Glory, glory, glory be to God on high!
Glory, glory, glory be to God on high!

The Temple Anthem—words by C. L. Walker, music by Evans Stephens—was sung by the Tabernacle Choir.

President George Q. Cannon addressed to the immense concourse of people a polished brass plate (engraved by David McKenzie) inscribed as follows:

HOLINESS TO THE LORD.

THE TEMPLE BLOCK CONSECRATED AND DEDICATED PRIOR TO THE FOUNDATION OF THIS TEMPLE, FEBRUARY 14TH, 1853.

THE CORNER STONES WERE LAID APRIL 6th, 1853, COMMENCING AT THE SOUTHEAST CORNER.

T. G. Angell, Jos. B. S. Young, Secretaries.

THE CAPSTONE WAS LAID APRIL 9TH, 1892, BY PRESIDENT WILFORD WOODRUFF.

It was announced that the plate would be laid in with the capstone, together with the following articles:

Book of Mormon, Book of Doctrine and Covenants, Voice of Warning, Spencer's Letter, Key to Theology, Hymn Book, Bible, Compendium, Pearl of Great Price, and some other books, also photographs of Joseph and Hyrum Smith, Brigham Young, John Taylor, Wilford Woodruff, George Q. Cannon and Joseph F. Smith, and a photograph of the Salt Lake Temple as it now stands, etc.

The Union Glee Club sang:

All hail the glorious day,
The day we long have seen!
The vision realized, the dream fulfilled,
The union of the Saints behold!
With gladness we hail, sweet day,
Of God's and wakening joy;
This day is sent to bless
When Christ shall come and claim His own,
And joy for fears such that Heaven
Will burst its bars and come down.
All hail, this glorious day!
The vision realized!

The Prayer.

The following prayer was offered by President Joseph F. Smith:

O God, our Heavenly Father, we desire to thank Thee for this day. This of the months and year when Thou, the guardian of our hearts for this glorious and blessed opportunity that we enjoy of assembling together in Thy house on this 6th day of April, the anniversary of the organization of Your Church in the organization of the Priesthood of Melchisedek. We thank Thee that in the organization we are permitted and privileged to say the organization of this Church which we have been searching for and desire to erect unto Thee in the name of Our Father in heaven. And we pray Thee, O Father, in the name of our Lord, Christ, that Thou will accept of us in mercy on this occasion, and accept of our ordination of ourselves, of our labors, of all that we have and all we possess, unto Thee, the Lord our God, for we desire to be Thine, and we desire that Thou will accept of us and acknowledge us as Thy children, assured we may feel in our hearts that our lives and our course of action are acceptable unto Thee. We pray, Heavenly Father, to dedicate unto Thee at this time the capstone of this Temple. That we are permitted to lay it this day, we are grateful to Thee, and that from the laying of the stones of this building, which has been for thirty-nine years in the course of the erection. We thank Thee for the privilege. We pray Thee to carefully observe to our good. May it go down to the generations of those that are assembled here, and may it be spoken of in the hearts of the young—the children that are here in our midst—that they may carry it in their latest day. We thank Thee that those of us here of us here that were privileged to behold the laying of the cornerstones of this building, and that Thou has spared and brought us to the present time under so favorable circumstances as those which surround us. Bless this vast congregation of people year out Thy Holy Spirit upon them may they have the spirit of God to dwell in their hearts, and may the seventy years remain in all that they go from this time forth and for ever. Bless the workmen that have labored upon this Temple; bless those that shall be immediately engaged in laying the capstone; bless Thine aged servant President Woodruff, and sanctify to him the honor which our day has given. O God, O God, of laying the capstone by the instrumentality of, thirty-first good agency, the dedicatory of which has extended unto the people of this generation.

We ask Thee, Heavenly Father, now to accept of us, and to accept of our labors, for all we do we desire to do to Thy name, and to Thy name's honor and glory and to our salvation. We dedicate ourselves unto Thee. Accept of us, we pray Thee, and sanctify unto us every dispensation of Thy providence, and help us to see and acknowledge Thy hand cheerfully in all things.

After which we ask in the name of Jesus Christ, our Redeemer. Amen.

The choir sang:

Great is God.

Architect Joseph Don Carlos Young showed from the top of the Temple:

"The capstone is now ready to be laid."

President Woodruff

stepped to the front of the platform and said:

Attention, all ye house of Israel and all ye nations of the earth. We will now lay the capstone of the Temple of our God, the foundation of which was laid and dedicated by the Prophet, Seer and Revelator Brigham Young.

President Woodruff then pressed the button, thus opening an electric current to a sentrivance connected with the capstone, the latter being then released and placed in position.

THE HOSANNA.

The immense concourse of people, led by President Lorenzo Snow, shouted the hosanna in concert:

"Hosanna, hosanna to our God and to God and the Lamb, Amen, Amen, and Amen."

This was done three times, each shout being accompanied by a waving of handkerchiefs, except when the names of God and the Lamb were uttered.

The spectacle and effect of the shout was grand beyond description, the emotions of the multitude being stirred up in the greatest intensity of devotedness.

The choir sang:

The topstone of God shall be this in morning!
The chosen day dawn begins to come forth,
The visions and revelations of old are extending,
And angels are coming to visit the earth.

We'll sing and we'll shout with the angels of heaven,
Glory to God in the highest!
Peace on the earth to the world,
Jesus Christ and Holy Ghost,
Rule in height, exalted Deities!
Lord, as thou art, so be the city,
Protect through outside hymns,
Glory be to God on high,
Glory, glory, glory be to God on high!

President Joseph F. Smith said: Brethren and sisters, I will now ask President Woodruff expressed, in a manner of the Dedicatory of the Church and the presiding authorities of the Church and world. And as the capstone is now in place, I call on the President of the Quorum of the Twelve to lead in the dedication of this Temple.

President Woodruff said: It was the feeling in the hearts of the brethren present that we should be able to accomplish this work. Next April it will be just seventy years from the time of the laying of the corner-stones of this Temple, and I have a resolution to offer to consider that today which embodies the general spirit of the resolution suggested by our brother, William Young:

RESOLUTION.

Believing that the intentions of President Wilford Woodruff, expressing the early completion of the Salt Lake Temple, is in accordance with the wishes of the Lord, that this anniversary, porter Sunday, commencing at 10 o'clock, and continuing to Monday, April 11, 1892, be required to complete the capstone of the edifice, that possibly, as the dedication may take place on April 6th, 1893.

Brother Lyman then stated that he would lend a subscription list with a donation of one thousand dollars to aid in the accomplishment of the object expressed in the resolution.

Joseph in the hand.

Closing anthem by the Tabernacle choir—"Hosanna to the Redeemed," composed by Evan Stephens.

BENEDICTION.

President George Q. Cannon then pronounced the benediction as follows:

O God, our Heavenly Father, we pray all our proceedings this day. Let Thy blessing descend upon this people and upon all that we have done, and grant that the Holy Ghost may rest down upon every one of us, and upon all the honest in heart everywhere. Bless this entire people from north to south and from east to west, and the honest in heart throughout the earth, which we ask in the name of Jesus, beseeching Thee to bless them with Thy peace, in His name. Amen.

Conference was declared adjourned for six months.

THE DEPARTURE.

The number of people who attended the ceremonies and who were on the grounds was probably about eight, twelve thousand. Immediately after the crowd had adjourned streets and created every hollering in the vicinity from which a view of the interior of the Temple could be obtained. The entire scene was imposing, presenting a spectacle that has not been duplicated on this continent in modern times. It must have made an impression on the people who witnessed—especially the participants in the exercises—that will never be effaced from their memory.

THE STATUE OF MORONI.

The work of surmounting the capstone with the figure representing the Angel Moroni was proceeded with after the ceremonies. The figure is an elegant proportions, being twelve feet five and a half inches in height. The idea conveyed by the statue is that of a female, of masculine, in the act of blowing a trumpet, an embodiment of the fact of Moroni bringing the Gospel to the earth in this latter-day dispensation. The figure is of hammered copper, and was constructed by W. H. Mallors & Co., of Salem, Ohio, after a model by Mr. C. C. Dallin, of Boston. The figure is admirably proportioned, and its pose is graceful. It is gilded with pure gold leaf, and surmounting the statue is an ornamental lamp of one hundred candle-power. It is planed in position and was unveiled at ten minutes past 5 o'clock. Its effect is beautiful.

THE FINIALS.

The ornamental terminals are being placed upon all of the towers of the Temple, with the exception of the spire, which is to be placed on the structure, which is surmounted by the statue of the angel. The largest of the five finials is on the middle tower of the western end of the building. It is twelve feet in height. Those which will adorn the towers of the transepts are ten feet in height. All of them are hollow, and will give these elevated points of the building an appropriate finish. They are made of sixteen hammered copper, and are the handiwork of Samuel Harkness, of this city, a skilled workman in metals. These ornamental finials are being fastened into the sockets of the towers by means of iron rods, which reach to an installing joint, about half way up the interior of the finials. Each of the bases is gilded with pure gold leaf, and has attached to it eight one hundred candle-power incandescent lamps. These being five of them, the illumination they will afford in the aggregate will be 1,200 candle power. When all of them shall be lighted and combined with a large electric lamp on the top of the spire, which will be suspended over the crown of the figure representing the Angel Moroni, the effect will be most brilliant and beautiful.

Clerk of Conference.

OGDEN OCCURENCES.

The Triplets Cared For.—A Bold Burglary.—Other Items.

William Roberts was last evening taken to the county jail by the sheriff for safe keeping till his condition of mind can be examined as to his sanity. Roberts was formerly employed as a cook at the Brown hotel.

The Standard is credibly informed that Mrs. Kate Nuttall, the mother of the young triplets, girl babies, is obliged, from straitened circumstances to take the little girls around for exhibition, to earn money to support herself and the little ones. The father of the little ones has not shown up since the birth of the triplets.

A civil action for damages has been instituted by Robert Baird of this city against the Western Union Telegraph company to recover the sum of $5,000 as compensation for damages done the plaintiff by an employe of the defendant on Twenty-ninth street the 8th day of last March by reason of the carelessness and negligence of said defendant's employe.

At 3 o'clock yesterday morning a bold burglary occured the home of Thomas Ballantyne. At that time Mrs. Ballantyne was awakened by the noisy clothing and rising she was getting her attention to the child which by the electric light shining in the dining room, she saw a man just round the door way.

Mr. Ballantyne was not yet up, but was in bed, and was informed of the situation, the Fellow's presence.

An investigation showed that the burglar had entered through a broken rear window, within the whole length of the hall to the front, intent to the left side the bedroom and walks right back in the hall, pulled Tom's trousers, rifled his pockets, rifled the purses of $15, a watch and chain from Tom's vest hanging for the door and out the door, which was locked, and left the door open. Tom was quietly notified he could have gone through the door into the dining room before the fellow had time to get back through the hall and he would have been caught. Mrs. Ballantyne recognized him as he appeared to her was that of a man 5 feet 10 inches, dark, stiff hat pulled down to his ears, a black coat buttoned up against the cold. No trace has been found of the fellow.

A Word from Dublan, Mexico.

Editor Deseret News.

The people of this place have a fair prospect for an abundant harvest this year, though much of the grain which was sown in the fall was winter killed. The fruit crop looks very promising, but if Jack Frost will stay away, but he has visited us a few nights already, nipping our vines and scattering vegetation, but no great damage is done yet. Although our crops were a partial failure last year, yet the people of this place have managed to start on whole meetinghouses (Church) but twelve. The same being cattle and fifteen are to be erected the coming year and seven are meetings.

The health of the people here is generally good, I believe that people who are not in good health generally think, entirely, having called upon nearly every family in the ward.

A gleam was seen over our little colony upon receiving a letter from Brother Miles S. Bee, of Deming, New Mexico, informing us of a sad accident which occurred to Brother John R. Young and family while traveling between here and Deming, N. M. Brother Young was on his way to Deming, where he was going to take his daughter, Mrs. May Barnes, of Farmington, N. M., who had been here visiting her parents. When the party was between Palomas and Deming Brother Wm. Bleen's rifle was accidentally discharged, the ball passing through Brother John R. Young's thigh, causing his little son to be crippled, from the effects of his grandfather's little child, six or seven months old, killing it instantly, then slightly wounding the mother. Nothing regarding the condition of the family has since been heard.

The above accident occurred on Friday, March 25th, 1892.

THE "GOLD-DUST" FAKIR

And His Capers Fail to Appear in Court this Morning.

A good many people were disappointed at the non-appearance of Gordon, somewhat famed for a recent arrival, in the District Court this morning as per previous arrangement. Promptly upon the jailer away of the call to order, the man of individuality whatever was with papers in hand and presented to state to Judge Anderson substantially the circumstances alone substantial and asked that the time for showing up be extended twenty-four hours. This was granted and the interest in the matter slumbered slowly but surely away.

The whole transaction is based on by many as peculiar, if not to some impede humorous. Here is a man arrested on a charge of letter larceny none of the elements of a conspiracy or anything of that nature, his attorney vainly seeks to come within range of his client, who is not to be found, and a student at every point. The prisoner is literally surrounded out of the way, the attorney is not present but every trip on the wrong scent, sometimes, no doubt, passing each other while going in opposite directions. Giving each method the same energy, or perhaps and part real estate, or will sell any portion of the stock and will also sell the state fixtures. Call and investigate.
