REPORTED DEFEAT OF YAQUIS.

Asphyxiated by Gas—Los Angeles Mayor Ill—Utah Boy Dropped Dead in Wyoming.

Owen Hagler of Salt Lake received a dispatch from his son Ed. in Pueblo on Monday.

Perry W. Smith of this city died suddenly on Saturday after an hour's illness, while playing with his baby.

Too gas was accidentally turned on in Orland Sanborn's room in San Francisco on Saturday night. Both died that place on Monday.

Mayor Frank Rader of Los Angeles, Cal., who was in Salt Lake a few months ago, is seriously ill with typhoid fever that it is feared he cannot recover.

The California Democratic convention, which meets in Sacramento on June 23, will consist of 404 delegates. It is seen it is a divided organization as never is seated.

Bennett, Idaho, Silver Hundred Jack, Dutchman of Boise, was Owen Valley, Utah, passed through Ogden Monday on his way to Texas where he will probably select a future home.

Gov. M. Toppel has appointed a committee to receive a contribution of $10,000 to the Young Men's Christian association building in Salt Lake City, the committee having been unable to raise the money to pay the interest on the debt.

A dispatch from Torres, Mexico, says a battle occurred between Yaqui and Mexican soldiers in the Yaqui country on Thursday. The soldiers are back at Guaymas, and report that they killed fifty Yaquis, and wounded six Mexicans. Gen. Torres is expected to go down to Guaymas and take up the Yaqui campaign. The people of Guaymas fear the soldiers and bring wounded into their town.

Catalina, wife of Thomas Cruzalez, of Durango, Mex., committed suicide last week by hanging herself. The woman was 30 years of age. She has long been subject to fits of insanity, and recently had her husband committed to the insane asylum. Cruzalez is a well known sheep man and has lived in Durango for many years.

Uintah County, Wyoming, Herald: Friday morning about 4 o'clock, as a freight train pulled into Evanston from the East and stopped near the freight house, it was learned that a man who was riding in a box car had died suddenly a few minutes before. He was taken from the train and placed in the undertaking rooms of Beeman & Cassin Mer. Co. His name is Geo. W. Mowery, and he, in company with his father-in-law, were returning from Iowa to their home in Porterville, Utah. Mr. Mowery was born in Utah and was 30 years of age at the time of his death. His father-in-law (whose name we have not learned) says that Mowery was sitting with his back against the side of the car when the train wrecked at Kemmerer, and that he (Mowery) remarked that they would soon be there now, and in three minutes thereafter was dead.

Mrs. Ramsey left her home in Morgan, Cal., Friday morning, taking with her her little boy 3 years old, to find a horse which had strayed away. She went down the American river and crossed Rock creek, which is a turbulent stream. The country is very mountainous and thickly covered with brush. She became confused and lost her bearings, wandering about aroundall day and all night. The child became exhausted and Mrs. Ramsey had to carry him until she could go no farther. After resting she would renew her journey, climbing hills, crossing ravines and working her way through the brush. Toward morning she struck a trail, which she followed, and came out at Mr. Hoffman's, who lives at Spanish Flat, near the town of Kelsey. This is about five miles from her home in a straight line. She probably traveled three times that distance. Mrs. Ramsey was completely exhausted and nearly demented, having had nothing to eat or any sleep, and being compelled to carry the child most of the time. Her son, 15 years of age, coming home at night and not finding his mother, went in search of her at the neighbors. Nothing could be heard of her. The neighbors became alarmed and went in search of her, carrying lanterns and continuing their search all night.

Present Political Issues in Canada.

The main issues on which the approaching elections will turn are the protective tariff and the Manitoba school question, though the amount of public interest centered upon them has perhaps lessened among the importance of other matters. The tariff question is, of course, most intimately concerned with the welfare of the country, and it is one in which property may best be compared with humanity. Ever since the present protective system, called the "National Policy" was introduced in 1879, it has drawn the main line of cleavage in party politics. It is felt by all classes that a settlement of yearly trade on the system is simply a matter of time, and that the next month or a year will see a decisive popular verdict in regard to its rejection or continuance. Recent indications point to the former alternative. Elections to six constituencies have occurred since the issue of the national policy, creating strong anticipation of a similar result in many other constituencies. At every general election since 1878, the question of tariff reform has been the subject of popular vote. Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, whose firm adherence to a revenue tariff cost the liberal party the control of the government, was in principle a free trader in the Cobden school, but since his defeat the opposition to protection has not always been from the same lines, the notable exception being the adoption by the liberals, a few years ago, of a Unrestricted Reciprocity or "Commercial Union" as the policy best calculated to bring an industrial revival. At the last general election in 1891 this policy was defeated, partly on account of the alliance of the liberals by Great Britain which in appearance, rightly or wrongly, procured to lastening from it. That commercial union is only to a pseudonym for that union which was the aim of the Chase and the Hon. Edward Blake, the ablest man that in Canadian politics and now a member of the Liberal party in the Imperial House of Commons, with now no support from the liberals for that reason. In June, 1891, that party again adopted a revenue tariff in opposition to the present policy.

Pushed Far Their Wickedness.

The St. Andrew's Societies are expected, no doubt, certainly, to be less venturesome than others. A year or two ago they retrieved their fame by very gallant conduct in an unmentionable incident. However, their worse neighbors tell this tale:

Many years ago, there was a violent storm on a 23d of November. A wreck came in, the fellows forgot it, found some sailors still alive and "made short shift" by drowning them. Then they seized the cargo and fell to bed. The anniversary, St. Andrew's day, broke bright, still, balmy day, and the blue lady was covered with brown sails. No one came home to the rocky coast, which does duty as a harbor. A boat crew came, and the Ethiop fleet paraded. Commonly a sane and sober or low land fellow, mainly of Caledonian extraction, and never sane enough good men to the lowlanders of Fife. For long the unholy day of November was a holiday, nobody daring to go forth to sea.

Such is the legend, which may have no historical basis. In any case Fife fishers and the east coast now generally are considered to be better in a boat than the west highlanders, and Fife enterprise and capital might have left as a more prosperous isle of Lewis.—Aberdeen Free Press.

Prospectus For Volume XVII, OF THE CONTRIBUTOR. 1895-6.

We are pleased to announce the following as some of the leading features of Volume Seventeen of THE CONTRIBUTOR. It is the determination to make this magazine occupy the front rank in our home literature, and we trust this effort will find encouragement in the liberal patronage of the public.

PRESIDENT JOSEPH F. SMITH will instruct and interest our readers with some articles descriptive of

Early Days in the Valley,
Which will contain reminiscences of his valuable thoughtfulness trying experiences as a boy and man in Utah.

My First Mission,
Will be the title of some articles from the pen of APOSTLE FRANCIS M. LYMAN, wherein he will give an account of his interesting experience of traveling "without purse or scrip," and many marvelous incidents connected with his ministry abroad.

APOSTLE HEBER J. GRANT will narrate in a series of illustrated articles the incidents of a Visit to the Moquis,

Made by himself and APOSTLE BRIGHAM YOUNG. These papers will portray in a remarkable manner the ears and power of God which accompanied these Elders. The customs of this Indian tribe will also receive attention.

Salem Witchcraft.
A succinct historical account of this remarkable feature of New England colonial history; theories and explanations of its phenomena, offered by leading writers; treatment of the subject from the standpoint of a Latter-day Saint, by B. F. CUMMINGS, JR.

ELDER MARVIN E. PACK will prepare a series of illustrated and highly interesting papers on

The Sandwich Islands Country and Mission
These articles will give a brief historical account of this group of islands, review some of the customs of the people and describe the past labors of our missionaries and the present condition of the latter-day work.

These papers will be furnished by ELDER JAMES H. WALLIS, on

The Consistencies of Mormonism.
These will be most ably written, and are designed to furnish arguments in favor of the truth for our missionaries and those who are called to defend our religion.

My School Days at Ann Arbor,
Will receive treatment by ELDER RICHARD R. LYMAN who recently graduated as a civil engineer from this noted Michigan school with high honors. These articles will be illustrated.

John Stevens' Courtship, a Tale of the Rockaway War, is the title of a deeply interesting serial story which will be continued through the whole volume; its author is our versatile and talented friend SUSA YOUNG GATES (HOMESPUN), whose already published narratives have been of so much interest.

Ideal Manhood: Some Suggestions About It.
This will be the title of some articles containing valuable suggestions to our young men who have an ambition to do or be something in the world. The author is a long resident of Utah, but desires his identity concealed and will consequently write under the nom de plume of SIMPLEX.

College Department.
The Latter-day Saints' College in Salt Lake City, will be represented by a department which will be supplied with essays and other articles from students and teachers. These productions will represent, as far as possible, the actual work of the college, and will pass through the hands of the Principal, who will see that everything used is of a high order.

The Musical Department
Will be in charge of Professors JOHN J. McCLELLAN and WILLARD DONE. A graded series of musical compositions, original and selected, will be published including solos, duets, quartettes and choruses chosen with special reference to their adaptability to M. I. A. work. Home composers are earnestly invited to send their productions to the editors of the department.

The Eisteddfod Prize Male Quatrette,
For which THE CONTRIBUTOR gave a $25.00 cash price, will appear in this volume of the magazine.

Association Intelligence.
In this department will appear all instructive or interesting matter pertaining to M. I. A. work, including answers to questions, reports, suggestions, etc. We particularly invite all active workers in the Associations to assist by their literary contributions in making this department of prime importance.

M. I. Manual, Part III,
By MILTON H. HARDY and GEORGE R. BRIMHALL committee on compilation.

M. I. Work,
A series of articles on practical work in the Associations by MILTON H. HARDY and GEORGE R. BRIMHALL.

The Study of Self,
A series of articles by GEORGE R. BRIMHALL and MILTON H. HARDY.

Sermons and Writings from the Prophets,
By MILTON H. HARDY and GEORGE R. BRIMHALL Volume Seventeen will be beautifully illustrated with

Choice Original Engravings,
Representing scenes and incidents of great value to the progressive student.
