SOUSA COMING.

The Great Bandmaster Will Be With Us in the Spring.

This morning's train from the West brought to town Frank Christianer, advance manager of Sousa's celebrated band. Mr. Christianer has been on the coast arranging the details for the coming tour of the great organization, and his morning he was closeted for two hours with Prof. Evan Stephens arranging for a concert in the Tabernacle in conjunction with the Tabernacle choir. The consent of the Church authorities had already been obtained, and the contract was soon closed. The day will be in the early part of March, '96, and the full band, led by Sousa himself, and with several special vocal selections, together with the choir of 400 voices, will make up an event scarcely less interesting than the recent Eisteddfod. The management of the affair has been entrusted to H. G. Whitney, who handled the latter appearance of the band and the choir last year.

The Secretary Got One.

Secretary James of the Camborne society says he received a letter from Mr. Henry Housesy, a copy of which was published in the morning papers today, but that he does not make such letters public without first submitting them to the committee. Evidently Mr. Housesy sent copies to the newspapers and they, of course, published them. The adjudication for which Mr. Housesy asks appears in this issue of the News.
