CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 14.—Bailey argued that it was the intention of Congress to pay the bonds in coin and the acts were most carefully worded that the coin might be either gold or silver. He favored the passage of the resolution of Matthews, and contended that the restoration of the silver dollar would not prevent or retard the funding of the public debt, as had been argued. He had no doubt that our debt could be funded at four per cent. The object of remonetizing the silver dollar was not to furnish money to pay the public debt alone. The main purpose was to arrest the movement inaugurated in Europe to take the silver from the coinage of nations, to check the advance in value of gold, to cheapen money in this country and enable people to pay their debts. He quoted from the recent work of Dr. Linderman, director of the mint, and said he (Bailey) agreed with the Senator from Kentucky (Beck), that silver coinage would not be pushed forward without positive instructions on the part of Congress. He would not believe that the men who voted for the act of 1873, demonetizing silver, were guilty of wilful fraud, but he did think they were the victims of bondholders. He thought now that Congress, by prompt action, could arrest this movement to demonetize silver all over the world, and thus prevent a great evil to mankind. A contracted and constantly contracting currency dwarfed our capacity and paralyzed our efforts. He commented at some length on the financial policy of Germany, and said that the country would never have demonetized silver if she had mines producing $40,000,000 annually. Had she been able to produce so much, her mints would have been at work night and day. In conclusion, he argued that with a single gold standard, our vast debt, doubled in value, would bring poverty to all homes.

Mitchell presented a petition signed by citizens of Oregon, favoring the passage of the bill recently introduced by him, relative to the completion of the Northern Pacific railroads upon certain conditions. Referred to the committee on railroads. In presenting the petition he said that since he had introduced that bill the Northern Pacific Railroad company, through its magnates and paid lackeys, had been assailing it and himself personally. They had asserted that he misrepresented the people of the great northwest in introducing this bill. The statement, though infamously false, was not more so than the other statements made from time by the managers of the company and their paid correspondents of various newspapers. He desired to repudiate the charge that he misrepresented the people of his section by introducing the bill. Of the 40 newspapers published in that section, 37 of them had emphatically endorsed the bill and they represented all political opinions. He also presented a resolution of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce, in favor of additional aid to construct a canal and locks at the cascades of the Columbia River, and for the improvement of that river, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Booth presented resolutions of the California legislature, in favor of the passage of the bill introduced in the House of Representatives by Shelly and in the Senate by Sargent, to restrict Chinese immigration. Referred to the committee on foreign relations.

The following bills were introduced:

By Sargent, to provide for the removal of the naval observatory. Referred to the committee on naval affairs.

Also, a joint resolution for the purchase of copies of the general register of the navy and marine corps of the United States. Referred to the same committee.

By Mitchell, for the protection of the salmon fisheries in the Columbia River. Laid on the table to be called up hereafter.

The Senate went into executive session, and, when the doors were reopened, adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 14.—The following bills were introduced and referred:

By Davis, restoring to either house of Congress the power to punish for contempt.

By Rice, to enable the Secretary of the Interior to make a final settlement with the Pottowatomie Indians.

By Banning, authorizing the Secretary of War to sell certain ordnance establishments; also authorizing the same to prescribe rules to be observed in the preparation and opening of bids for contracts under the War Department.

By Whitthorne, providing that all parties making contracts or agreements in violation of law, whereby money may be drawn from the Treasury, shall be guilty of misdemeanor.

By Fort, forbidding the Territories to incur indebtedness in aid of railroad or other private corporations.

By Schleicher, to assign certain credits to the sinking fund, and to make their equivalent available for the redemption of United States notes.

By Williams, Wis., providing for the purchase of the best movable torpedo.

Kelly offered the following:

Whereas, Petitions are about to be presented to this House from many thousand citizens from the 35 States of the Union, asking the adoption of an amendment to the constitution, which shall prohibit the several States from disfranchising citizens on account of sex;

Resolved, That a session of the House be held on Saturday, the 19th, at which the representative women, chosen by those petitioners and now in the city, may be heard at the bar of the House in support of their cause.

Rejected—yeas 107, nays 140.

Upon motion of Banks, unanimous consent was given that the petitions on the woman's question might be presented in open House. The Speaker thereupon proceeded to call the States for that purpose, but had got no further than the second State on the list when a motion to adjourn was interposed.

The Speaker announced the following changes and appointments: An interchange of committees by Price and Cox (Ohio), the former going to the committee on elections and the latter to the committee of civil service reform. On ventilation of the hall—Young, Covert, Shelley, Carlisle, Butler, Oliver and Stone; regents of the Smithsonian Institution—Clymer, Stephens and Garfield.

The House adjourned.

EASTERN.

Claims for Volunteer Organization.

WASHINGTON, 14.—The Vice-President laid before the Senate, today, a letter from the Secretary of War, transmitting a report from Assistant Adjutant-General Vincent, on the Senate bill to extend the time for presenting claims for collecting, drilling or organizing volunteers for the war of the rebellion, in which he says are presented facts which he believes will obviate the necessity for legislation looking to the re-opening of business which has been viewed as closed since June 30th, 1874.

Papers on the Venezuelan Awards.

The President, to-day, in accordance with the request of the House of Representatives, transmitted to that body a large mass of papers on the subject of the Venezuelan awards.

Evarts' Grand Reception Ball.

Evarts proposes to give a grand reception and ball towards the close of the present month in the State Department building. He will furnish the music and refreshments and the government will supply the gas and a magnificient suite of rooms, including the superb diplomatic audience chamber. The rooms and adjoining corridors will accommodate about 2,000 persons, and the entertainment is expected to be one of the most brilliant ever known in Washington.

The Strike of the Shoe Operatives.

BOSTON, 14.—At Lynn, to-day, most of the shoe operatives who were requested by their employers to withdraw from the Crispin organization or quit work, have adopted the latter alternative. The manufacturers have not unanimously adopted a resolution aimed at the Crispin society, and the operatives are thereby much encouraged. A number of manufacturers who favored the resolution have changed their minds and refused to have the notice posted in the shops. The female lasters in one of the shops struck this morning, because the proprietors would not take down the resolution, and most of their companions in other shops will follow their example.

A Travestie on Justice

An Amherst, Mass., dispatch says: President Seelye, of Amherst College, who when in Congress was a member of the House committee on Indian affairs, has pronounced the proceedings of the late board of inquiry into the Indian management a gross travestie on justice, which was procured by the unscrupulous enemies of the late chief clerk, Galpin.

Death of an Actress.

NEW YORK, 14.—A Philadelphia special says Miss Lillie A. Thorn, nee Davenport, an actress, died here of consumption, last night. Mrs. Thorn was the wife of Frost Thorn, who lost his life on the yacht Mohawk, and second daughter of the late E. L. Davenport. She leaves three children. The funeral will take place on Wednesday.

Inauguration.

COLUMBUS, 14.—Governor Bishop was inaugurated to-day. Thousands of people witnessed the ceremony, in the midst of a drizzling sleet. Delegations were present from the principal cities and town in the State. The address suggested economy and judicious living as the best way out of the hard times. An elegant reception was held this evening.

WESTERN.

A Heavy Blow.

SAN FRANCISCO, 14.—It has been blowing heavily from the south-east for 24 hours. It is now raining with a prospect of a continued storm. Dispatches from the interior report rain throughout most of the State.

A Victoria dispatch says R. Finlayson was elected mayor to-day by acclamation.

The Lick Estate—Bark Supposed to be Lost.

In the nineteenth district court, to-day, Judge Wheeler decided that the $385,000 which the trustees of the Lick estate agreed to pay John H. Lick in compromise of his claim, must be paid from the residue left to the Society of Pioneers and the Academy of Sciences, by the terms of the trust deed.

It is believed that the American bark W. A. Holemb, Captain Dunton, which left Honolulu on Sept. 27th for Baker's Island, has been lost with all hands.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Humbert the New King of Italy.

LONDON, 14.—A correspondent at Rome says: Since the day of Count Cavour's death in Turin, I have never seen the population of any city so utterly stunned by a sudden blow as the Romans appeared when the official announcement of the King's death removed every doubt of the fearful loss the nation has sustained. The sudden transition from father to son could not have occurred at a more trying moment. The ministers of the late sovereign have been maintained in their office by his young successor, but what ministers! A cabinet that was a mere rehash of the administration fallen a few days ago, under the irresistible outburst of public indignation, forsaken by nearly all sections, of an immense parliamentary majority, brought together by fair means or foul at the recent election, and hampered by a variety of rash engagements, which it had shown itself neither willing nor able to fulfil. We must have a new session of parliament and an address from the crown, but the latter must come from a new king, who hardly knows anything about his late father's ministers, and does not much like the little he knows, and is supposed to harbor views and principles in opposition to those attributed to them. If ever there was need of a providence to shape the ends rough hewn by man, it certainly is felt in the position in which Italy has been put by the death of Victor Emanuel. Personally, Humbert comes to the throne under favorable auspices. He has outlived the ill name won by some of the follies of youth. He has been lately well behaved; methodical, of a wisely saving disposition and free from debt in spite of the incessant calls upon his resources. Like his father, he has shown himself a good soldier, and professes sound liberal principles, besides which, unlike his father, he above all things abhors subjection to priests.

King Alphonso's Marriage Not Postponed.

The report of the postponement, on account of Victor Emanuel's death, of the marriage of King Alphonso, is untrue. The marriage will be solemnized on the 23d of January, the date originally fixed.

Surrendered.

Advices from Capetown, Dec. 25th, by telegraph from Madeira, state that Botman has surrendered. Kreli Galiki, the chief, is endeavoring to make terms with the British authorities who, however, demand an unconditional surrender. Chiva A. Minor, a chief, with 200 followers, escaped.

Will go into Mourning.

The Official Gazette announces that the British court will go into three weeks' mourning for the late King, Victor Emanuel, beginning to-morrow.

ITALY.

Contradicted.

ROME, 14.—The statement in the Constantinople dispatch that the German and Italian ambassadors at Constantinople had informed the Porte that if it permits the British fleet to come to Constantinople, Germany and Italy will also demand permission for the fleets to pass the Dardanelles, is untrue.

TURKEY.

War News.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 14.—The Servians have re-occupied Kurschumlje, which the Turks evacuated, and have taken Vranja.

The Servian general, Belimarkoniche, with fifty battalions, is marching on Prishtina.

The Servians have effected a junction with the Roumanians before Widdin. The commandant of that town has been summoned to surrender, but he demands that the garrison be allowed to march out with their arms.

The departure of Server and Namyk Pashas for Kezanlik has been delayed until to-morrow, in consequence of a railway accident.

The Turkish chamber of deputies, being unwilling to embarrass the government, have unanimously rejected the motion asking the ministry for information respecting the armistice.

The Turks claim that their fleet has bombarded and destroyed parts of Eupatoria and Yalta in the Crimea.

MASON & HAMLIN
ORGANS

Unanimously assigned the

"FIRST RANK

IN THE

"SEVERAL REQUISITES"

of such Instruments!

The MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. have the honor to announce that the Organs of their manufacture have been unanimously assigned "the FIRST RANK in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of instruments of the class" by the Judges at the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION at Philadelphia, 1876, and are the ONLY INSTRUMENTS OF THIS GENERAL CLASS AWARDED THIS RANK. This is after the severest competition by the best makers, before one of the most competent Juries ever assembled.

They have also received the MEDAL, but, as is well known, medals of equal merit have been "awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition; so thus it will be easy for many makers to advertise that they have received "first medals."

The differences in competing articles, and their comparative excellence, are recognized in the Reports of the Judges from which the following is an extract:—

"THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. Exhibit of Reed Organs and Harmoniums shows instruments of the FIRST RANK IN THE SEVERAL REQUISITES OF INSTRUMENTS OF THE CLASS, viz: Smoothness and equal distribution of tone, scope of expression, responsive and singing quality, freedom and quickness in action of keys and bellows, with thoroughness of workmanship, combined with simplicity of action."

(Signed by all the Judges.)

The Mason and Hamlin Organs are thus declared to rank first, not in one or two respects only, but in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of such instruments, and they are the Only ones assigned this rank. This triumph was not unexpected, for the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs have uniformly been awarded the highest honors in competitions in America, there having been scarcely six exceptions in hundreds of competitions. They were awarded highest honors and
