THE WORK IN TEXAS.

Elders Meeting with Success in the Preaching of the Gospel There.

Elder Joseph Coulam of the Eleventh ward, this city, returned Wednesday from the Southwestern States mission field, whither he went March 21, 1896.

While away Elder Coulam labored in the Texas conference, being president of the North Texas branch for one year. He reports the work progressing steady in that section and says that through fasting and prayer many honest-hearted souls have been brought into the Church. [illegible]

During his entire absence Elder Coulam traveled without purse or scrip. He had good health in the main, made many friends, wanted for nothing and comes back with a firm testimony of the Gospel. When leaving Dallas he was interviewed by a reporter for the News and that paper gave him a fair and unbiased hearing, the substance of which was published in the "News" a week ago. Elder Coulam feels well and says that Texas is a pleasant field to labor in.

Short-Driggs.

Frank M. Driggs, son of B. W. Driggs of Pleasant Grove, and Miss Maud Short, daughter of W. B. Short of this city, were married at noon Saturday. The wedding occurred at the residence of the bride's parents on Fifth East street. Mr. and Mrs. Driggs took the Rio Grande Western Saturday evening for Jacksonville, Ill., where they will reside temporarily. Mr. Driggs will teach in the school for the deaf and dumb of that state.

A MONSTER PURCHASE.

Our Mr. S. H. Auerbach, now in New York, bought very largely for cash at the annual trade sale from the largest importers of linens in the United States, immense quantities of Damasks, Napkins, Table Cloths, Towels and crashes, at such ridiculously low prices, that we are enabled to offer linens in this sale at less prices than the goods sell for in Ireland, Scotland or Germany, the source of production.

A LINEN AGITATION!

A veritable Bargain Feast with no precedent. Linens at less than manufacturer's cost. An early autumn harvest for economical housekeepers, hotel keepers and boarding house keepers. Good, dependable linens at the lowest prices ever quoted for equal values. Don't miss this sale. Let nothing prevent you from coming this week.
