AMONG THE STOCK BROKERS

There Was Little Business Done on 'Change Today.

MAY DAY HELD ITS OWN.

Lower Mammoth Weak—Transfers of Wabash Shares on Open Board—Quotations and Sales.

The sales made during both calls of the stock exchange this forenoon amounted to just exactly $3,290, the equivalent of 14,700 shares transfered. There was little change from the conditions which prevailed in the pit yesterday. Notwithstanding the assessment on May Day stock it maintained its strength very well. Star Con. remained firm, while Lower Mammoth weakened. New York Bonanza slid off to 29½ in the sales. Victor Con. stiffened to 18½ cents. On the open board, Wabash was transferred at 21½@22 cents.

The closing quotations and sales were posted as follows:

NEW ALASKAN GOLD FIELD.

White Horse Deserted as Consequence of Stampede.

Seattle, Wash., July 16.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from Dawson says that 150 men left there by steamer today on a big stampede to the new gold fields 100 miles west of White Horse. Gov. Congdon has sent mining Recorder Burwash to the seat of the new find and the latter will record claims on the spot. Mounted policemen have also been sent to the new fields. White Horse is said to be almost deserted in consequence of the stampede.

BEVERIDGE LEAVES DIXIE.

Charles Doolittle, of Colorado, Now Manager of Utah Eastern.

J. E. Beveridge has announced his retirement from the management of the Utah & Eastern Copper company, operating near St. George. He has been succeeded by Charles Doolittle, formerly superintendent of the Bimetallic smelter at Leadville.

General Manager Stoddard, who has arrived from camp, states that the plant is handling about 50 tons of ore daily, from which is being derived about 12,000 pounds of metal.

HAS ANOTHER STRIKE.

A Body of Ore Opened in South Tunnel of Little Bell Mine.

The Little Bell mine of Park City is fast coming into prominence and it now seems only a matter of a short time until it will be numbered among the big mines of the famous camp. On top of the news of the important strike made in that property recently has come another, of equal if not of more importance. A body of ore was broken into in the south tunnel; there is considerable steel galena mixed in the vein and Supt. McDonald has advised Manager Solon Spiro that it very much resembles the ore being taken out of the drift north of the shaft.

The south tunnel is about 185 feet south of the shaft, and cuts the main drift at right angles, following what is called the inside fissure east and west for several hundred feet. A mining expert who looked at this fissure several days ago said that it gave indications of being the best fissure so far revealed in the mine, not excepting the fissure on which the strike of several days ago was made. The vein is well defined, practically extends the width of the tunnel and breaks with a clean and beautiful cleavage from the walls of quartzite on either side.

Manager Spiro said this morning that the strike of a few days ago is holding out all right and there seems to be no question about it being permanent. An upraise is being made in the ore and he expressed the opinion that it would connect with the ore body encountered on the 200-foot level. This being the case by the time the connection is made there will be no less than 300 feet of stoping ground.

The Little Bell is practically a close corporation. True there are some small blocks in the hands of a few brokers, but the larger holders of the stock have none for sale.

The property is one of the best financed in the state and is being conservatively managed.

MEASUREMENT OF ORES.

Uncertainty of Sizing Up Undeveloped Ore Bodies.

An ore body not blocked out by actual shafts, drifts, crosscuts, winzes and raises is a most uncertain quantity, says the Mining & Scientific Press. The trend of the walls forms no index of the quantity of ore not actually measurable. An ore body is seldom symmetrical in form, and the shape or dimensions of any one portion of it cannot be depended upon to give even an approximate idea of the extent or value of unseen portions of the same ore body. Good bodies of ore disappear or come to an end in the most unaccountable manner. Crossheads or faults cut off veins regular and apparently continuous. Mineralization sometimes stops at a jointing plane, and values become impoverished or nil. In other instances the mineralization continues, but values cease to accompany the ores or drop to a point where profit is no longer possible. The engineer who not long since said "the average mining report is only a nice fairy tale" was not far from the truth, for there are those making reports on mines in these days of prosperity whose entire mining knowledge and experience has been gained within a year. The man who wrote in a prospectus that the ore shoot had been developed 200 feet in length and the shape of the hill indicated that it would be at least 500 feet longer was certainly favored with a "gift" not possessed by most people—that of seeing several hundred feet into the undeveloped portion of a mining claim. He was frank enough, however, not to include this extension of the vein in his estimate of "ore in sight." A prospect may be poor indeed, but any prospect deserves a trial; and if an improvement can be noticed, it is safe to follow it as long as it improves, for before long it will have developed a paying mine. But this simple fact does not justify misstatements as to ore in sight, nor does any number of years of exprience make a man competent to estimate ore in sight in undeveloped mine workings.

MINING CONCENTRATES.

Samuel L. Page is up from Marysvale on mining business.

George H. Robinson is expected to arrive from Montana on any train.

Power drills are soon to be installed at the Creole mine of Park City.

Manager M. M. Johnson of the Newhouse mines was in Bingham today.

Ed. Loose, of the Grand Central mine, has returned from a trip to San Francisco.

Offices are being fitted up in the McCornick block for the use of the Utah Copper company.

Sam M. Levy, one of the Western Exploration company's field staff, came in from Nevada yesterday afternoon.

H. C. Southworth, one of the heavy Con. Mercur shareholders, has arrived from the west to look over the big gold mine.

W. B. Andrew, manager of the Creole mine of Park City, departed for the coast yesterday accompanied by Mrs. Andrew.

James W. Neill, consulting engineer of the Tintic company, has returned from a professional trip to the southern part of the state.

The ore and bullion settlements reported yesterday were as follows: Crude ores and concentrates, $21,200; base bullion, $24,400. Total, $45,60.

The assessment of two cents a share levied by the directors of the May Day Mining company becomes delinquent on Aug. 15. The date of sale is fixed for Sept. 3.

Automobile service is now regularly established between Wells and Ely, Nevada. The machine makes the trip about four hours quicker than the stages.

James T. Fulton, who has been in Tonopah for several months, is expected to return to the city in a few days to recuperate from the effects of a broken leg.

The Tonopah-Superior Mining company is the name of a new corporation which has come into existence by virtue of the laws of Delaware. The Davis brothers of this city are interested in the concern.

The plans for the proposed Honerine concentrator at Stockton are nearing completion. After being submitted to P. L. Kimberly for approval, who is expected to arrive during the day, steps will be taken, no doubt, towards the early construction of the plant.

The Cocomungo mining district has had a decided boom since the installation of the Wide West milling plant, as owners of free gold properties in that rich district will be able to use the new mill for the treatment of their ores with but a short haul of a mile or two.—Cherry Creek Miner.

The Pittsburg mine and mill, located in the Carribou mining district, Idaho, was bid in for $25,000, at Blackfoot, Idaho, yesterday. The property was offered at receiver's sale and McCornick & Co. were the successful bidders. Among the heaviest creditors was the Salt Lake Hardware company. The indebtedness of the corporation was about $25,000.

The Wide West company is stoping fine very rich free gold ore in their mine in Gold Canyon district. They will soon begin running a lower tunnel to tap their ledge at about 200 feet below their present workings, so that they can by drifting block out standing ground for their newly erected mill.—Cherry Creek Miner.

Drifting is advancing rapidly on the 200-foot level of the Last Century claim, in a body of solid ore, carrying very high values in silver and gold, Manager P. H. Cannon reports the completion of the Old Imperial company's new ore houses, and expects to make another carload shipment of highgrade ore this week.—Cherry Creek Miner.

EMPLOYES OF THE CON. MERCUR

Send Relief to the Ones in Distress At Hanna.

MERCUR MEN SEND RELIEF TO HANNA

Roasting department	75.50
Leaching, refining and assaying	69.50

Mine employes	623.25
Electric tramway	34.50
Totals	$887.25

The employes of the great Consolidated Gold Mines of Mercur have responded to the appeal for aid made in behalf of the families of the men who perished in the terrible explosion in the Hanna coal mine. A few days ago a subscription paper was passed among the men employed in the various departments and in a short while nearly five hundred, who are in the service of the company, had attached their names to it, authorizing the cashier to deduct from their next pay checks sums subscribed, ranging from 50 cents up to $10, making a total of $887.25.

But this is not all. Before the subscription paper was circulated, a good many of the employes had already sent in various sums individually, aggregating considerably over $100, so the total contribution to the relief fund from the Consolidated Mercur reaches more than $1,000.

The money will be forwarded to the proper authorities at once by President Dern of the big mining corporation.

Heading the long list of names sent in from the mine by Supt. Edwards was the following:

"On June 30 of the present year, a most terrible disaster occurred in the coal mines located at Hanna, Wyoming, whereby some 200 lives were lost, and a like number of homes deprived of their main support. It is hard indeed, at times, to understand why some parts of our country are visited by calamities as dreadful as this, while other portions are free from such; why some people seem to have more than their share of trouble, while others are happy and have none. It is just this which makes people unable to realize the sufferings of others, yet we, who live in Mercur, have seen the realization of it, when our little town was destroyed by fire but a year before. We remember how outside towns and people responded to help us in our affliction, and the gratitude we felt for them. What must be the grief when human life is lost to such an extent as in the Hanna explosion? Who can imagine the feelings of the mother, with heart broken and racked with pain, as she looks upon the little ones made fatherless; the distress it has brought to those homes whose father went forth in the morning to return no more? Words cannot express these.

"It is a noble purpose of humanity to soothe the unhappy and relieve the distressed.

"Believing it to be our duty, so far as we are able, we, the employes of the Consolidated Mercur Gold Mines company, in the various departments of its mines and mill, as hereafter mentioned, voluntarily offer our assistance, and subscribe the amounts set opposite our respective names for the above mentioned cause, and do hereby authorize the Consolidated Mercur Gold Mines company to deduct from our first pay check, or time check, on its pay roll, said amounts subscribed."

RETURNS FROM DELAMAR.

J. E. Bamberger Finds Conditions Satisfactory at Nevada Mines.

President J. E. Bamberger of the great Daly-West mine of Park City returned this forenoon from a trip of inspection to the Bamberger-Delamar mines at Delamar, Nevada.

Mr. Bamberger said he found everything running along smoothly, and the new mill is giving entire satisfaction. He was accompanied by his son Ernest.

Big Land Contest Settled.

Pueblo, Colo., July 17.—By the compromise of the largest land contest in the United States land office in the city, the United States government will be paid many thousands of dollars for several thousand acres of valuable coal land in Las Animas county that had been entered as timber and stone locations and under other acts.

Although nominally the contests were between private parties, it was in reality a fight between the Colorado Fuel & Iron company and the Victor Coal company on one side and the Utah Fuel and Iron company on the other. All proceedings that have been instituted have been discontinued and representatives of both corporations are buying from the government at coal land rates, $20 per acre.

Most of the land in question had been entered at $2.50 per acre.

MARKET OPENED UP VERY STRONG

Prices Rebounded From Yesterday's Late Reaction.

ENORMOUS BUYING ORDERS.

Were for Standard Stocks, Causing an Immediate Rally at All Points—Bonds Irregular.

New York, July 17.—Opening prices rebounded from yesterday's late reaction, the recovery reaching a large fraction for the leading speculative favorites. Amalgamated Copper jumped 1¾ on the purchase of 3,000 shares, but fell back to 46½, yesterday's low point, and the general market receded slightly. But enormous buying orders appeared for the standard stocks on the decline and there was an immediate rally at all points. Amalgamated rallied to above 48 again and the railroad list advanced beyond the first prices. Before 11 o'clock St. Paul, Union Pacific, Atchison, the southwesterns, the Pennsylvania group, New York Central, Eries, Alton, Northwestern, New Haven, Southern Railway preferred, Louisville, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Consolidated Gas and United States Steel had risen to over yesterday's highest. St. Paul and Omaha jumped 6½. The market was strong and active at the end of the first hour.

The advance was interrupted by a sudden slump of 6½ in Colorado Fuel to 32. It was the worst seller of the year. There was a drop of 1¾ in Sugar and 1¾ in Tennessee. Coal & Iron, the general list, reacted. The market steadied when Colorado Fuel rallied 2½, but became dull. In the inactive list General Electric rose 3 and Pullman Pice Cr 2½, while Colorado Southern second preferrd fell 2½. Illinois Central 2 and Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred 2½. Rope & Twine sixes rose 4 on the announcement that the interest would be paid.

Liquidation of Toledo, St. Louis & Western securities relieved an otherwise featureless market. The 4 per cent bonds dropped 2½, th common stock 5½ and the preferred 7 points. Some demand for Atchison preferred and Texas & Pacific helped them a point and the general list was quite firm, though dull up to 1 o'clock when it showed signs of weakening under large sales of Rock Island.

Rock Island fell off to 27¾, the lowest price ever recorded. Reactions from the best reached a point in some of the other favorites before the delins was checked. Prices rebounded strongly before 2 o'clock and several of the coalers and transcontinental stocks touched the highest of the day. C. C. C. & St. L. and Delaware lost 1½. Northwestern preferred advanced 1¾ and Consolidated Gas 1¾.

The bond market was irregular.
