STREET ILLUMINATION.

Prospects That the Electric Lights Will Soon Be Turned On Again.

The Big Cottonwood Power company has had an understanding with the Salt Lake and Ogden Gas and Electric Light company. This understanding is the result of a meeting held at the Mechanics' bank building late yesterday afternoon. Both companies were fully represented at the meeting. Street lighting was the principal theme of discussion. Incidentally the Mayor's veto of the Council's contract with the Big Cottonwood people received some consideration. One of the chief objections urged by the Mayor was that two years was a greater length of time than the city should contract for. Now it is understood that objection has been overcome by the Big Cottonwood company offering to light the streets at $9.50 per lamp for one year, the same figure as set forth in the two years' agreement. This it is able to do, it is claimed, through a better arrangement with the Salt Lake and Ogden company than it previously had. The whole affair is likely to culminate in the $9.50 one year bid at the meeting of the City Council tonight.

WANTS DAMAGES

Two Thousand Dollars Asked for Injuries in a Street Car Collision.

Joseph Dederick's suit for damages against the Salt Lake City railway company was called up in Judge Street's court yesterday. The suit is the outgrowth of an accident which occurred on Eighth East and Second South streets on the first day of October, 1895. Dederick was driving across the defendant's track at the point mentioned when his outfit was struck by a car. As a result Dederick had a rib broken, one of his teeth was knocked out and he was otherwise bruised and injured, while his vehicle was damaged to a great extent, says the complaint. The plaintiff therefore sued the company for $10,000. In April, 1895, Judge Merritt, before whom the cause was tried, granted a nonsuit, when the defendants appealed to the Supreme court and a new trial was ordered.

Testimony on both sides was taken today and it is possible that the jury will not be given the case until tomorrow morning.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX.

In Ten Days After Notice Is Sent it Becomes Delinquent.

Poll tax collections are coming in somewhat slowly. So far there have been sent out about one thousand notices and 323 collections have been made, representing $980. According to the law the collector is given the time between January 1 to November 30 in which to make all his collections, but the statute provides that suit for collection can be instituted after ten days subsequent to the date of notice. Suit will be instituted in a number of cases on the first of next week. Some delinquents may be surprised to have costs assessed against them when their neighbor has not yet received a notice; but the collector regards delinquency after ten days and the one step beyond delinquent in ten days after the first of January and the other will not receive a notice until November. This is the law, however, and when a notice is received it should be remembered that delinquency occurs in ten days.

THE CARNIVAL QUEEN.

A Suggestion From One of Utah' Veterans as to the Election.

Who shall be our queen? Honor to whom honor is due.

Mr. Editor, permit me to ask a few pertinent questions through the columns of your valuable paper, and to enter my feeble protest, also, against the way they are trying to elect a queen.

It is customary, in all civilized countries, to give preference to our old residents in all affairs pertaining to the commonwealth they have helped to establish, and the government they have helped to form.

In the constellation of courts which the American nation delights to honor and ever remember, none are brighter than those of Washington, Jefferson, Hancock, Franklin or John Adams. They endured all that men could endure, suffered all that men could suffer, and consecrated their lives, their property and their all to the cause of liberty. These are names that are inscribed high on the roll of fame, and which will live to the counsels of our nation while we have a national existence.

And now, Mr. Editor, to the burden of my complaint.

Utah has become a State and is about to inaugurate a season of rejoicing by way of a carnival. There has to be a representation of royalty—a queen with her necessary officers to preside over her subjects—the people of our new State. There have been several times when we have voted for as queen of the carnival. Some of the names presented have been granddaughters of our early settlers who came here when Utah was a desert, who helped by their industry, toil, surrounded by dangers and hardships of the severest nature, to make Utah what it is today. Also there are some friends of candidates who are spending money lavishly to gain their favorite's election. This latter move I most seriously protest against.

Shall we, as part of the United States, depart from the time-honored customs and the decided principles therein? I for one say NO! Most seriously NO! I would respectfully suggest that instead of the present state of affairs, let those who have the right—which I believe is in the Governor of the State—give that in each ward throughout the county a chance be given for some one to be a queen—who have not the money to buy coupons. Let a voting place be appointed in each precinct that those who have borne the heat and burden of the day in establishing this country may have the privilege of choosing, as much so, as those who are spending their money so lavishly but never endured the test of privation.

Again, I we follow the examples set us by the ancients of our country, why not select from the females of our honored Pioneers, many of whom are sleeping in their graves, worn out in the service they rendered in redeeming the desert? Where are the families of our honored and respected heroes, Brigham Young, Heber C. Kimball, William Hemmes, George A. Smith, Jedediah M. Grant, John Taylor, Orson Pratt, President Wilford Woodruff, Daniel H. Wells and Lorenzo and Erastus Snow, with many others that might be mentioned? Where are their children or grandchildren? Is their no one of their posterity that can grace the position by their own merits as well as out of their honored sires?

We may go a little farther. Joseph Smith was the one who directed our Pioneers where to come. Are there none from that family? I have one to my mind's eye who could fill the position gracefully and honorably to our new State; she is a niece to Joseph and grand-daughter to Hyrum Smith. Orson Pratt rendered valuable aid in assisting our Pioneers, giving his children the benefit of his education in the sciences. It was Professor Orson Pratt that gave the latitude and longitude, and by consulting his instruments gave them the exact time at high noon; he has a grand-daughter who would well grace the position. She is one of the sweet singers of Israel.

But the honor by right belongs to Prest. Brigham Young's family. He was the one who led the people here, and by his wisdom directed the building of cities, establishing industries and benefiting the people—not only the people of his own faith, but none it possible by his been brought aid financial ability for the travelers to find an oasis after crossing the great desert, where they could rest and recuperate.

The above mentioned, like the pilgrim fathers of our country, who sought an asylum from their persecutors and landed in America to escape the unjust persecution and tyranny they were subjected to in their native land, endured all that man could endure—suffered all that man could suffer—and consecrated their lives to converting these savage tribes into and making of them Institutional Roles, to delight the eye and sweet the heart. Shall their names be inscribed honorably on the roll of fame and be handed down to posterity side by side with the fathers of our country?

I have no objection particularly to any candidate personally; but by all means let us have a Utah girl for queen—one who was born and reared here; the honor belongs to Utah.

The course that is being taken to elect a queen is unfair from the fact that the poor of this county are being ruled out—they should have a voice in saying who should be queen, and how can they have a voice except through the ballot? The best results have not always been obtained from those placed in office where money has been the motive power.

In conclusion I will say, being a free born American citizen, my forefathers having served in the Revolutionary war and helped to establish the Constitution of our country, which gave us freedom of speech, protection to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness; later on, my relatives had their life's blood spilled in defense of the Union, during the War of the Rebellion; therefore I feel closely allied to the institutions of our common country, and I would like to see a queen descended from our honored veterans, born and reared in Utah—one who will reflect honor on our records in years to come.

With best wishes and kind regards, I subscribe myself,

Yours in truth and liberty,
FREDERICK KESLER, SEN.,
SALT LAKE CITY, June 8, 1896.

Work on Plats.

The State land board this morning employed four clerks and tomorrow will have six clerks at work on the county plats and an effort will be made to complete them by July 1st.

Law Books Missing.

There are missing something like fifty law books belonging to the Supreme court library and the board of control, consisting of Chief Justice Zane, Associate Justice Minor, Governor Wells and Secretary Hammond, have issued a notice of the loss, giving the names of the missing books and requesting attorneys to search their private libraries therein.

From the Mission Field.

Elders Stewart Eccles of Eden, Weber county, and Carl Hanson of Spring City, Sanpete county, are recent arrivals from the Scottish and Norwegian conferences respectively, where they have been engaged in promulgating the principles of the Gospel. They both left this city on April 27, 1894, and have labored continuously in their respective fields of labor until their release to return home. The Scottish conference is reported by Elder Eccles, who presided over it during the last six months of his absence as being in a good building and the prospects for a good work in the future are quite encouraging. Elder Hansen reports the work in Norway as progressing nicely and in the Fredericksten branch, over which he presided for some time, new members are constantly applying for baptism.

Elder J. M. Weller of this city returned home Sunday morning, after an absence of nearly thirty months in the mission field. He left this city Jan. 23, 1894 and went direct to Germany, where he had been called to labor. His work while absent has been principally in the cities of Leipsic, Dresden and Chemnitz, and he regards the mission in better condition now than for some years past. The Elders are well received by the people and they succeed in making many friends who show quite much respect and kindness. Elder Weller says that the German mission is sorely in need of Elders conversant with the language, as such missionaries would be able to accomplish much good now that the people are somewhat favorable to Mormonism and are investigating its principles. Brother Utt, who recently passed away in that field, was a companion to Elder Weller at the time of his decease.

Joint Building Notes.

Visitors to the building admire the grounds.

Judge Ogden Hiles went to Coeur d'Alene this morning.

There were no bills allowed by the county commissioners yesterday, so under the new law all bills against the county must go through the hands of the auditor to receive his O. K.

County Auditor Fisher expects to get located in an office today. Commissioners Geddes and Christopherson were appointed by the board yesterday to provide quarters for the officer.

G. S. Clark, in the sheriff's office, is offering a reward of $5 for the return of a pearl handled Smith & Wesson revolver, taken from the basement closet of the joint building.

The elevator in the county's portion of the building will probably be running in a day or two. Applications for the position of elevator boy are being received and will be acted on at the next meeting of the board, which will occur at 2 o'clock on Monday next. For the first month there will be an experienced man in charge of the elevator, sent by the contractors, and the successful applicant for the position of elevator boy will be under his tuition during that time.

Still the Bingham Suit.

Judge Bilinie was occupied again today in hearing the case of Harriet Ann Watson et al against A. P. Mayberry. The litigation is the result of a dispute over boundary lines in the Dana and Harrison mining claims in Bingham mining district. It is probable that the case will occupy the court's time until tomorrow morning.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk today:

William E. Rigby, 20, and L. Ida Larson, 21, both of Farmers ward.

Hester B. Parsons, 19, and Mary J. Betts, 22, both of Beautiful, Davis county.

Frank F. Collier, 28, of Bright, Arapahoe county, Col., and Marie T. Larkin, 22, of this city.

CARNIVAL AND CAMILLE.

The Candidates for Queen to Make Their Last Appearance at the Grand Tonight.

At tonight's benefit performance for the Carnival fund at the Grand, Colonel Thesser, commanding at Fort Douglas, will be present and will be accompanied by members of his staff in full uniform. The attendance tonight promises to be greater than that recorded last night, as more single seat tickets have been sold for it.

THE VOTE FOR STATE QUEEN.

The vote for queen is now assuming the most interesting proportions it has had since its beginning. There are only four more days in which to vote, as the result will be announced Saturday evening. The vote this morning was:

Miss Jean B. Russell	3,195

Keep your favorite above this line if you wish her to succeed.

Miss Vilate Pratt	2,140
Miss Clarissa Stacheus	1,610
Miss Laura Dreyer	1,097
Mrs. A. J. Allen	910

Cut this out and send to executive committee, room 53 Atlas Block, city.

MY CHOICE FOR QUEEN.

Jean B. Russell

This coupon entitles holder to one vote for Queen of the Midsummer Carnival, Salt Lake City, July 2nd, 3rd and 4th, 1896.

All counties in the State will be invited to join in the Carnival Pageant and to choose Queens of their several counties to represent their delegations, who will be received by the Carnival Queen at the Throne as guests of Honor.

CARNIVAL NOTES.

The Queen's ball will take place at 8 o'clock on the evening of July 3rd.

Sanpete county is now thoroughly organized for the carnival and will send with its queen 150 or more horsemen and women.

Parties representing themselves as publishers of the carnival official program have no vested rights in it, and the executive committee wants no persons to collect money for advertising purposes unless the collector can show credentials signed by the director-general and the president of the executive committee. Director General Mulcahy and Chairman Morris of the finance committee will report before the City Council this evening and ask that an appropriation be made to decorate the city and that a permit for erecting tribunes on Main street, fronting the Jules Building be issued.

A Divorce Granted.

Mrs. Alice Steele obtained a divorce, by default, from her husband, Oliver C. Steele. The divorce was granted by Judge Street on a showing of failure to support.

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, JUNE 9, 1896.

Junction City Items.

The Tabernacle choir will repeat the concert given Decoration Day, on Saturday, June 14th, at the Grand Opera house.

The Pioneer Electric Power company have completed a canal that will water a large section of country in the neighborhood of Weber, the newly organized ward of Weber county. The material prospects for the future of the new ward are of the most encouraging kind.

Mr. Roland R. Conklin of the North American Tree company was in town yesterday. He is interested in the Hot River Land company, and says that the plan of the Hot Springs company is to run an electric line of cars to the Hot Springs and make the Springs one of the finest pleasure resorts in the West.

Ogden's "heater"—Baldwin—was down from the power dam works where he is employed, administering to the sick on Saturday and Sunday. He returned to his work on Monday morning. One gentleman admitted to expressing his belief that he will be healed as he feels much improved already.
