DESERET EVENING NEWS.

THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1893.

FRAGMENTS.

There is nothing doing in the courts today.

The Twenty-four quorum of Elders will meet in the Tabernacle next morning, hour tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

The father bearing to the Fort below died was buried before Referee Harris this morning. Mrs. Bell now seems to be getting the best of the argument.

The Y. M. M. I. A. of Salt Lake county are booked for a big excursion to Garfield tomorrow. Field sports, bathing, boat, fishing and a delicious picnic are on the program.

Dr. C. W. Crane, a student in those days of the Normal university, died from consumption Tuesday morning and probably will be buried by the law of his fraternity—an oak on his grave Tuesday.

The Pioneer Reviewer and party did not reach home this morning as originally hoped for. The wheels were left behind in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where the Sellers-Gardner party arrived last night and where they were given a rousing welcome by the Democracy. Today the journey was resumed towards the east.

"Sunrise" Smith, it is said, is gradually waking his political feet out of the turbulent and uncertain sea of Democrat-Liberalism into more placid waters. Last night the "sunrise" and party united with non-Mormon delegates and among the members of the Utah Democratic club at the river meeting and joined one of their lodges in the hand and heart and house party. Pat's friends say, however, that he will remain with his party until he serves out his term, but that of that he will think with the followers of Jefferson, Jackson and Cleveland.

W. H. Cassidy Released.

This morning W. H. Cassidy emerged from the penitentiary on the expiration of his term. On February 15th he was sentenced to six months' imprisonment, by Chief Justice Zane, for adultery.

DEATH ON THE RAILS.

George W. Barnes, a Rio Grande Brakeman, Fatally Crushed and Mangled.

A most lamentable and fatal accident occurred on the Green River and Grand Junction run of the Rio Grande Western yesterday afternoon. The victim was Brakeman George W. Barnes. By some means as explained he slipped and fell between two freight cars on the moving train. An arm and both legs were terribly mangled and almost severed from the body. The train was stopped and the hapless victim put on board the "last freight" and brought to this city. His injuries were so severe, however, that he died a few hours before reaching here.

The body was taken to the establishment of Joseph William Taylor, the R. G. W.'s official undertaker where it will be prepared for interment. The deceased was a resident of Grand Junction, where his wife is now living. His parents live at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. The wife and parents of the poor man have been apprised by telegraph of his terrible fate. The body will be held awaiting directions from them as to the burial.

FRANKS AND HIS BLOODHOUNDS

Are After the Runaway Convicts, Who Are Still Ahead.

The two convicts who escaped from the penitentiary last Monday night are still at large. It now transpires that one of them went to Bartley's section house in Parley's canyon about midnight on Monday and obtained permission from Hansen, the man in charge, to lie down and rest in the basement of the building until next morning. The convict was then wearing an ordinary suit of clothes, and Hansen did not the least suspicion that the fellow was other than a tramping, "on the road." The convict arose before 6 o'clock on Tuesday morning, declined to partake of breakfast, went his way and was soon out of sight. Detective Franks, with bloodhounds, went out in pursuit of the fugitives, and claimed to pass the section house some four hours later. Franks stated to Mr. Hansen, and then learned, from the description given by the man, that the man to whom the latter gave shelter the previous night was one of the very men he was after. The search is still being kept up, but it is now feared that the convicts are likely to have the best of it.

Lecture in the Assembly Hall.

The hearty reception that Prof. A. Lobsiette received at the hands of his class and their cordial invitation for his return, have induced him to agree to do so next week. He will give another course by handling it a fresh way the same lessons so admirably. There will be a course of eighteen lectures open to the general public. Professor Worstall has consented to the use of the Assembly Hall on next Monday evening, July 17th, for a lecture, which commences at 8 o'clock.

Bohemian's Kissing Festival.

Helmsen, a Bohemian country town of 1,000 inhabitants, holds its annual fair on the Sunday of St. Thomas. On this occasion the place swarms with newly married brides from sixty to eighty villages in the district, women who have taken their husbands within all those. The young women in bridal attire and garlanded attended by their bridesmaids, are carried aloft in their seats. The Bohemian Professor says they kiss every man they meet, and afterward present the lucky kisser with a "sign." The individual then repaid bestows a small gift on the fair Cybele. Not to partake of the proffered wine is regarded as an insult to the young wife and her family. She is therefore reserved toward strangers, and only kisses those whom she thinks likely to take of her wine. The kissing is carried on everywhere—in the street, in the taverns and in private houses. The origin of this custom is veiled in obscurity. Some say that it dates back to the time when the Turks made frequent raids into Transylvania and carried away all the young women they could lay their hands on. Much of Turk so contrived to escape from captivity, hopeful to return to Hungary, at the time of the fair, kissed their friends and relatives, and even strangers who congratulated them on their wonderful deliverance.

Royal Baking Powder is Highest of all in Leavening Strength.

IF you are urged to buy other baking powders in place of the Royal, it is solely because the dealer can make more money on them, for all agree that the Royal is the best. The low cost of the others to the grocer is proof of the cheap character of their ingredients and of their inferior quality. All others are cheaper made powders of inferior strength.

"There is certainly no baking powder known to me superior to Royal, and probably none approaching it for general excellence, purity and efficacy."
"P. SCHWEITZER,"
Prof. of Chemistry,
Missouri State University.

—U. S. Gov't Food Report.

Made from pure grape cream of tartar only

27 Per Cent. Stronger.

The amusing advertisement of a rival Baking Powder, claiming that "it is 27 per cent. stronger than any other," must refer to its smell (as it is a well known ammonia powder).

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

Is a pure cream of tartar powder, brought to the highest degree of strength and perfection.

Truly the ideal Baking Powder.

Its superiority over every other can be clearly shown by any fairly conducted competitive test, whether made in the laboratory or kitchen.
