STATE NEWS.

Richfield Gazette: While the people were waiting for the excursion train Jim Brown indulged in throwing rocks into the grove, and struck Charlie Baker in the eye, knocking the ball from the socket. It is hoped that Charley will not lose his eye but there is still danger. Jim has been arrested.

Bingham Bulletin.—The damage to roads and destruction of bridges by the late freshet is considerable, but Overseer George E. Lee has a gang of men at work, and all repairs will be completed in a few days. Opposite Dry fork, in main canyon, 300 feet of the county road bed was washed out, and the place rendered impassable until a temporary passage was opened. Markham bridge is in bad condition, as part of the underpinning went down. It has been braced up until substantial timbering can be done. At the Brecken bridge cribbing was put in only a couple weeks ago and aligood job done, but the high water washed it out. This was been repaired in a thorough manner. In Carr Fork bridges Nos. 1 and 2 are partially washed away, while Nos. 3 and 4 are entirely gone. No. 5 is intact; and temporary fords are used by teams at the other crossings. At a moderate estimate it will cost the county $600 to $700 to repair all the damages to the public thoroughfares.

Wasatch Wave: Homer Draughton returned from the head waters of the Provo Monday where he has been prospecting for some time past. He says he saw the sun only just begun to melt up in that country and that we may look for higher water in the Provo than that of last Saturday, after a few days of sunshine. He reports much damage to bridges and roads from Woodland up, the bridges that were across the river near Jones' mill and at Robert Jones' ranch both being washed away. The self-supporting dams used to conduct water across the river for irrigating farms on Woodland bench is also gone, which causes much inconvenience to the ranchmen and crops will to all probability suffer for want of water before it can be replaced. The snow at McGuire's old saw mill settling near the head of the south fork is all of three feet deep, as near as Mr. Draughton could judge, one in depth becomes much greater as the higher mountains and canyons are reached. All this has to come down and greater damage than has already been done by the flood is anticipated.

Price, Carbon county, Advocate: Everybody in Castledale who could master a team or an ax were working like beavers to save the big bridge just south of town, early this week. After chopping down many of Castledale's beautiful shade trees to put in the stream where the bank was rapidly being cut away by the unusually high water, and the use of load after load of rock, it was thought the bridge was safe again and unless the river rises still higher no further damage is anticipated.....Arch Livingston, of Castledale came near losing his life in crossing the river near the bridge which on account of high water was unsafe. In attempting to ford the stream Mr. Livingston accidentally got into a deep hole and only with help was he enabled to get out. The team by the merest chance was saved.... The water in Huntington river is said to be higher than for eight years. The Cleveland bungalo is washed out. The Avery dam, just below Huntington, where the Lawrence people get their water is nearly taken away. About forty teams have been at work for three days.

Millard Stake Conference.

FILLMORE CITY, Utah, May 28, 1896.—The regular quarterly conference of Millard Stake was held at Holden Sunday and Monday, May 24th and 25th, 1896. There were present Elder Heber J. Grant of the Twelve Apostles; Ira N. Hinckley, Daniel Thompson and David R. Stevens of the Stake Presidency, and a good representation of officers and members from all the wards.

After the opening exercises Sunday morning Pres. Hinckley made a few opening remarks and reported the condition of the Stake, which was in the main good, after which a few of the bishops were called and gave fair reports of their wards.

Elder H. J. Grant then preached a very interesting sermon on a number of subjects. He dwelt upon the necessity and benefit of fasting and prayer, and pointed out a few important results therefrom. He read from the Lord's sermon on the mount, from Alma in the Book of Mormon, and discoursed upon the beauties of charity, and the inconsistency of faith without works; also bore a strong testimony that Jesus is the Savior of the world, and Joseph Smith a Prophet of God.

In the afternoon the Sacrament was administered, after which Elder Grant resumed his comments upon the sermon on the mount; emphasized the words "By their fruits ye shall know them," and sought earnestly to impress the necessity of a living faith. The speaker also related a number of remarkable manifestations to prove that the signs follow those that believe.

After the speaking of the morning services Monday, two returned missionaries, W. F. Pratt of Hinckley and Charles Wood Jr. of Holden, were called to the stand and gave interesting reports of their experience and labors in Great Britain.

Elder David Thompson spoke a short time on the perfect harmony in the Church organization, etc.

Elder David R. Stevens spoke on the necessity of fast day donations and caring for the poor.

Elder Grant occupied the balance of the time, and showed the folly in the declaration by the fool, "there is no God." It seems to be harder for men of wealth to pay their tithing and live their religion than it is for those with limited means. Prayer is a check against sin. The sinner does not feel like praying.

In the afternoon the address to the Saints on Church discipline was read by Elder Christian Anderson and unanimously sustained. The general and local authorities were then presented and unanimously sustained.

Elder Grant was present with the unanimous voting. He referred to how some of the papers had misrepresented some of our conferences, and desired that if there were any members present who had not voted that they would make it known. There was no response. He also read from the Doctrine and Covenants, section 121 in regard to the proper use of authority, and from the hymns on page 60 and on page 405, and scripture quotations relative to charity, and delivered a very impressive discourse on forgiveness and the force of example, etc.

President Hinckley made a few closing remarks, thanking the choir for their excellent singing, etc.

Conference was then adjourned to meet at Deseret, August 23rd and 24th next.

CHRISTIAN ANDERSON, Clerk.

S. S. Conference in Idaho.

OAKLEY, Idaho, May 30.—A very pleasant and profitable Sunday school conference was held at Oakley Hall May 30 and 31. General Assistant Supt. George Goddard and T. C. Griggs of the Sunday School Union board were present and made valuable and instructive remarks relative to Sunday school work. It is gratifying to see how well Brother Goddard's songs, with choruses for the congregation, take among the people, especially among the children. The program consisted of illustration exercises from the four departments of the Sunday school, recitations in concert of the Articles of Faith, Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer; also reports for the various schools throughout the Stake by the superintendents or representatives, with short speeches from Bishops, officers, etc.

The conference was a grand success. After having held four regular and one teachers' meeting, the people voted to another meeting in the evening, which was well attended by parents and the larger children.

We enjoy these treats annually and hope that the aged veteran of the S. S. cause and his co-laborers will live long and not tire in their active work of moral and spiritual growth and education.

L. J. ROBINSON,
Acting Secretary.

DYSPEPSIA

How to Cure Yourself.

In all forms of stomach trouble Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure will promptly cure where there are such symptoms as pain or soreness in the stomach, fullness or distress after eating, pressure and fullness in the stomach, shortness of breath, poor appetite, coated tongue, sour or bitter eructations from the stomach, heartburn, wind in the stomach, constipation, dizziness, faintness and lost energy.

When these symptoms are associated with biliousness, yellow-coated tongue, nausea, bitter taste in the mouth and sallow skin take Munyon's Liver Cure in alternation with the Dyspepsia Cure, an hour apart. Where there is obstinate constipation keep the bowels open once a day by using Munyon's Constipation Cure until they become regular under the effect of the Dyspepsia Cure. When there are troublesome heart symptoms alternate Munyon's Heart Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If there is great nervousness and inability to sleep, alternate Munyon's Nerve Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If the blood is poor or quality watery alternate Munyon's Blood Cure and Dyspepsia Cure. By this plan of treatment one can eradicate the worst forms of stomach troubles and their complications, and make the cure permanent.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

This is what happens: One part annoys and others it should be choking, the other pons side the Ship and Country. Usually ends in the result of the Cold-Blooded and are exclusively Hot-Forged and Hammer-Pointed, precisely like the old-fashioned home made nail. Hot forging makes a surplus of iron closely together at the point, so that cannot split. Never so in Machine Nails.

Absolutely Safe.

Examine the nails in your carriage shop, and see if their edges are sharp or round. If the edges are round they are Cold-Forged Nails. If they show marks of the dies, they are Machine Nails, and not Hammer-Pointed.

Insist that your blacksmith shows you Putnam Nails, and if he says they are as good as any, or the same or alike,
