SAVE YOUR HAIR | TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.
SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.
BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.
CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.
LYON'S
KATHAIRON,
Discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Yale, is the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.
Besides being the best hair dressing ever produced, Lyon's Kathairon will positively prevent greyness, and will restore new hair to bald heads, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.
It actually performs these seeming miracles, of which the following is A FAIR SPECIMEN
I had been entirely bald for several years, constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and, to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.
COL. JOHN L. DORRANCE, U. S. A.
In every important respect the Kathairon is absolutely incomparable. It is unequaled.
1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair.
3. To Remove Dandruff.
4. To Dress and Beautify the Hair.
BEAR IN MIND.—The Kathairon is no sticky paste of sulphur and sugar-of-lead, to paint and daub the hair and paralyze the brain. It is a pure and limpid vegetable lotion, intended to restore the hair by natural growth and reinvigoration. It is splendidly perfumed, and the most delightful toilet dressing known. No lady's or gentleman's toilet outfit is complete without Lyon's Kathairon.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

EXTRA SESSION.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 12.—Consideration was resumed of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Windom said if wiser men of the party could have prevailed, the party could have been saved from much trouble, but King Caucus issued his decree that there should be no stragglers from the lines. Windom read from the remarks of Mr. Beck to show that the democrats meant to coerce the President, and that the programme was sustained by Thurman, whom Windom designated the Cæsar of caucuses. Toward the close of the session he said to one of the prominent confreres of the House, "I do not understand why the House should defeat the appropriation bills and thus compel an extra session of Congress, as no Congressional elections will be held until after the next session of Congress." The reply was: "If we pass these bills the Government would have money till July, 1880, and would then manage to get along until the elections in November, but if we let the bills fail, the Government would have money until the 30th of June, 1879. The Government might get along for four months. Windom said the democrats were afraid that four months would not bring the President to terms and therefore they agreed on sixteen months of strife for that purpose.

Morgan—If the senator has no objection, will he give the name of the gentleman?

Windom—I will give the name of the senator.

Morgan—I would not ask for the name if the conversation was a private one.

Windom—The conversation took place in the committee room, and the gentleman was chairman of the House committee on appropriations, Mr. Atkins. The democrats did not propose anything for the relief of this country and to promote its prosperity. No State conventions, no citizens by petition had asked for such legislation as they proposed. They ignored all great issues and inaugurated the revolutionary measures to accomplish their revolutionary purposes. To denationalize this nation and convert it into a mere confederacy of States, and to recover the power which they lost by four years' war.

The assertion and advocates of State sovereignty was the boldest form in which the design was presented for the destruction of fair elections. Democrats in the south had, by fraud and violence, prevented the republicans from expressing their will at the polls, and the democrats in the north had disproven honest elections. Motives for dishonest elections was plainly seen from the fact that without New York and Ohio the democrats could not grasp the presidency.

Windom ridiculed the remark of Hill, and especially ridiculed that senator's remark that if the South had known there would have been war they would not have seceded and that they seceded to accommodate northern conscience. All would recollect the opposition of the democrats to the war. The democratic party was masquerading as the guardian and protector of human liberty and the rights of man. To make the play harmonious, Satan should be introduced as an angel of light, Judas Iscariot as a Christian, Benedict Arnold as a patriot, and Sitting Bull as a peacemaker. Senator Hill, praying for the Union, should not be omitted. The democrats would make the world believe before the scenes that the republicans were trampling upon everything precious to human and divine. While behind the scenes a race was flying from the democratic rule as from a pestilence. While democrats were professing to be protectors of human rights, 10,000 persons had fled from the southern country to the west and were now making appeals for food and shelter, and thousands more were lying on the banks of the Mississippi praying to be removed from the presence of their oppressors. At the footlights the democrats hold up the democratic banner, inscribed with the initials C. S. A. The same spirit that brought on the rebellion was here manifested to destroy the nationality of the government and substitute State sovereignty. But the democrats could not deceive the people who would now, as in the past, overwhelm them in their unpatriotic designs.

Coke said the remarks of the senator being calculated to excite sectional bitterness, would find no reply in what he now had to submit, in favor of the sections of this bill, which proposed to repeal the election laws. He proposed to discuss not who was right or wrong in bringing on the civil war, but whether election laws were Constitutional. After reviewing the President's veto of the army bill and pronouncing its premises untenable, Coke argued that the election laws ought to be repealed, because they interfered with the freedom of the elections, and rudely intruded upon the rights and duties of the States to keep peace at the polls. The States are vested with exclusive power to prescribe the qualifications of voters, and this carried with it the power to protect voters in the enjoyment of the elective franchise, under the conditions prescribed, and in order to do this the machinery must be framed by officers appointed under the State laws. If the federal officers, whose duty is to enforce the national laws, are empowered to control elections, then the authority of the States are nullified.

After an executive session, adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 12.—Bills were introduced by Cox, abolishing juror's test oath.

Mr. Stephens authorizing the coinage of the silver dollar and fractions thereof of full standard value.

By Townsend, of Ohio, making appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1880.

By Buckner, proposing a constitutional amendment fixing the presidential term at six years, also amending the law providing for the compensation of the President.

By McCook, by request, for the relief of the heirs of Count Pulaski.

At 2.16 p. m. a message from the President was received, supposed to be the veto message of the bill prohibiting military interference at the polls.

Warner moved to proceed with the consideration of the silver bill; defeated without division.

Wood hoped the President's message would be read at once.

Dibbrell moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill imposing a tax on incomes; rejected, yeas 104, nays 94; not the necessary two-thirds.

The Speaker then, at 2.50 p.m., laid before the House the President's veto of the military interference bill. There was considerable applause on the republican side when the sentence was read which insists that the power of the federal authority to employ troops when necessary should not be interfered with, and there was an incredulous sneer on the democratic side at the President's assurance that he desired to act in harmony with Congress. Republican applause was repeated at the reading of the sentences relating to President Jackson crushing nullification, and to President Lincoln issuing his call for troops to the Union in 1851, also at the allusion to the hostility of State governments, and again, at the suggestion that the bill was an intrusion of State supervision, amounting in spirit and in tendency to State supremacy.

On the conclusion of the reading, Knott offered a resolution directing that the message be entered on the journal, and that the House will proceed to-morrow to consider the same; agreed to.

On motion of Wood, a resolution for final adjournment of this session on —— day of May, date not fixed, was referred to the committee on ways and means.

Deering moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill making appropriations for the support of the army.

Knott moved to adjourn; defeated, yeas 97, nays 114.

The House then proceeded to vote on the motion to suspend the rules and pass the army appropriation bill, it being the same as introduced to-day by Messrs. Young and Townsend, of Ohio, the same as the regular House bill with the sixth and ninth sections out. The motion was rejected, yeas 101, nays 109. As between the democrats and republicans, it was a strictly party vote, the democrats all voting no, republicans aye.

The result of the vote was greeted with the clapping of hands on the democratic side, and with counter demonstrations on the republican side.

Rondoubt, May 9th.

The efforts of a landlord in California to entrap the unwary in this section are attracting attention here. The man is named R. V. Kingswell, and he claims to be the proprietor of a hotel called the Hamilton House, San Francisco. The following letter sent to Mark Deavlin, a prominent undertaker of Saugerties, will illustrate Kingswell's methods:

Hamilton House, San Francisco, P. O. Box 102, Station A, R. V. Kingswell, proprietor.
San Francisco, April 25.

Mark Deavlin, Saugerties, Ulster County, N. Y.:

Dear sir.—It is my painful duty to inform you that a stranger registered at this house under the name of Deavlin, died of pneumonia, after a short illness, on March 31st. I can find no information concerning him except your name and address, which was found on his person among various other unimportant memoranda. This leads me to believe him to be a relative or friend of yours. I therefore write to you in regard to the effects of the deceased. They are in my possession, and consist of a valuable gold watch and chain, a seal ring, sleeve buttons, studs, etc., together with sundry articles of clothing, and a trunk, the contents of which I am ignorant of. The deceased had but $50 in money on his person, which I paid to the attending physician and for burial. He was indebted to me $30 for board and attendance. If you feel interested in the latter and will remit the sum due me, I will, on receipt of the same, express the things to you. Merely remit the amount ($30) in bills, together with your instructions, and address as below. An immediate answer will oblige.

Yours very respectfully,
R. V. KINGSWELL.

Dearlin immediately wrote him that he could sell the effects, retain the $30 for attendance, beside 10 per cent. for his trouble, and remit the balance. Other persons in this neighborhood have received similar letters. One gentleman named Wolff residing near Middletown, turned his letter over to the newspapers as Dearlin did.

This afternoon, Robert Harris and Dell Shaw, while attempting to cross Brack River, N. Y. in a row boat, a short distance above the Big Falls were carried over and drowned.

Murder and Suicide.

NORWICH, CONN., 12.—Andrew Manning, a dissipated factory operative, at Danielsonville, Conn., in a quarrel with his wife this morning, chopped her head open with an axe, killing her instantly, then he ran to a neighboring pond and drowned himself.

A Murderess.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., 12.—Mrs. Charles Merrihew, living near Deer River, who was supposed to have poisoned her brother-in-law and husband, confessed to the coroner an attempt upon her husband's life, and virtually admitted killing her brother-in-law.

Fire.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., 12.—Nine stores, a bank and four dwelling houses in the centre of the village of Unadilla were burned on Sunday. Loss $60,000; partly insured.

WESTERN.

Suspended Because a Steamer Crosses a Sand-Bar.

SAN FRANCISCO, 12.—A Portland, Oregon, dispatch says: The local board inspectors found Captain James Carroll wrong in letting a steamer go across the Columbia River bar at night. He is suspended for six months. Pilot Doig is also found in error for attempting to take a steamer across the bar at night, and is suspended for twelve months.

The California Hotel-Keeper.

A middle-aged man was arrested this afternoon at Post Office Station A, on the charge of obtaining money fraudulently from parties in the Eastern States, by writing a letter reporting the death of a stranger supposed to be a friend of the person to whom the letter is addressed, and asking a remittance to cover funeral expenses, etc. The prisoner refuses to give any name and has not yet been identified. He seems to have practiced fraud quite extensively and is undoubtedly the author of letters referred to in the dispatches to-day. This is — such motor as the Hamilton House.

The Correct Vote.

The official canvass of the city vote by the board of election commissioners gives a majority against the constitution of 1,642.

H. L. A. CULMER & CO., PUBLISHERS.
OFFICE OF
SALT LAKE DAILY TIMES.
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, March, 1879.
TO THE CITIZENS OF UTAH: WE ARE about to publish a general and complete Directory of Salt Lake, Utah, Davis and Weber Counties, giving name, occupation and residence of every citizen, and in addition, will be a correct Business Directory of every City and town in Utah, giving name, business and residence of every merchant, dealer or manufacturer in the Territory; thus constituting a work long needed and that will be of immense value and interest to the country, and especially to the business portion of the community.
Incorporated into the Directory will be a concise and reliable account of the various advantages which each city presents, whether manufacturing, mining or commercial; its public buildings and institutions, together with all other practical information that will be of value to the general public.
An efficient corps of experienced men have been engaged in this work throughout various parts of the Territory, and are now making a record of the residents and business houses of SALT LAKE CITY. They will also dispose of the limited number of pages which the book will devote to advertisements, and we respectfully solicit for them the information and support that a work of this character deserves. The Directory will be sold only by subscription. Price Three Dollars.

PURIFY THE LIFE CURRENT.
SCOVILL'S
Blood and Liver Syrup
A PEERLESS REMEDY FOR
Scrofula, White Swellings, Cancer Erysipelas, Chronic Sores, Gout, Syphilis, Tumors, Carbuncles, Salt Rheum,
And all Diseases indicating an
IMPURE CONDITION of the BLOOD
Cutaneous eruptions upon the face or body do not necessarily indicate the taint of Scrofula, but whether the insidious poison of that dire malady is present in the system or not, certain it is that Scovill's Blood & Liver Syrup
completely cures such disorders. Irritant virus of Scrofula does exist in the every this matchless purifier will root out be it vestige of it. No eruptive malady so scrofulous or otherwise, can resist the potent refining action of this safe and potent remedy, which renders the skin
CLEAR, SOFT AND BEAUTIFUL,
when ordinary medicines utterly fail to arrest the progress of scrofulous and other eruptive disorders, the persistent use of this incomparable deponent secures the desired result. Proof of its reliability in our possession, we make the two following condensed extracts:
Mr. Samuel H. Matthews, Modestown Accomac Co., Va., states that his child, when a month old, was attacked with an eruption which covered its head, face, arms, feet and legs, converting them into "one sore, you could not see a sound place," but that two and a-half bottles of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup effected a complete cure, without a scar.
Martin Robbins, Jr., writes that he suffered from Scrofulous White Swelling with twelve running ulcers on his legs, from which more than 100 pieces of bone sloughed away, but by the time he had finished the twenty-fourth bottle of the Syrup he was completely cured.
THIS GRAND REMEDY is a compound of vegetable extracts, the chief of which are Sarsaparilla and Stillingia
The cures effected by Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup are absolute, and their record is undisturbed by failures. For sale by all Druggists.
Price, $1.00 per bottle.
