BEAR LAKE STAKE CONFERENCE.

The Quarterly Conference of the Bear Lake Stake of Zion was held at Paris, May 11th and 12th, 1878.

10 a.m.

Present: Of the Twelve Apostles, Orson Pratt and Charles C. Rich; Bishop E. F. Sheets, the Presidency of the Stake, and local authorities.

Singing and prayer.

President Wm. Budge read the quarterly statistical report for the stake, also report of work and means expended for the Temple by this Stake.

Supt. Wm. M. Allred reported the flourishing condition of the Sunday schools of this Stake.

Prest. Hyrum S. Wooley represented the Y. M. M. I. A. and read a statistical report, which showed very encouraging results of the recent and more perfect organization.

The Bear Lake Agricultural and Manufacturing Association was represented by the Secretary, Fritz Johnson, who gave a brief report of its organization and purpose.

Prest. Budge said the working of the Relief Societies and Y. L. M. I. A. was very satisfactory, but, for lack of time a full report would not be given.

Bishop Sheets spoke of the good works the above organizations were effecting. Referred to our temporal labors in building temples, etc. Treated upon the necessity of union in our agricultural and manufacturing pursuits, and showed the necessity for storing up grain for times of famine.

Prest. J. H. Hart congratulated the brethren on their manifest increased unity. Referred to the resources of the country and how they might be utilized by united effort.

Singing and benediction.

2 p.m.

Singing and prayer.

Elder Orson Pratt spoke on the power and efficacy of the prayer of faith, of the unspeakable joy which had rested upon him while engaged in prayer. Counselled the brethren to economize their strength and not exhaust it by an unwise amount of labor. Referred to the Arizona mission and the faith required in building up the waste places of Zion.

Elder C. C. Rich showed that in order to lay a good foundation for future glory and exaltation we must make good resolves and then live up to them. We should appreciate and be thankful for all the labors we have to perform, we should put our trust in God and serve him with all our hearts, honestly and devotedly.

Singing and benediction.

7.30 p. m.

Singing and prayer.

Elder Orson Pratt spoke of the glories and blessings of the future. That we are apt to let the things of this life absorb all of our interests, this is an extreme we should avoid as much as the other of neglecting every day duties in contemplation of the future. Referred to our natural sense of vision, as compared with that imparted by God's spirit to the mind of man, the narrow limit of the one compared with the limitless extent of the other. Cited the instance of Moses having his vision opened to see all the wonderful works of God. Treated with great simplicity on the omniscience of God and the principle upon which man can hold converse with his Maker.

Singing and benediction.

Sunday, 10 a.m.

Singing and prayer.

Bishop Sheets addressed the congregation upon the necessity of a persevering and punctual attendance to the duties of our every-day life in order to secure the blessings of eternity.

President W. Budge presented the first Presidency and general authorities also the Stake authorities who were unanimously sustained.

Elder Orson Pratt spoke of the patriarchal blessing, the joy and consolation it brings, but through slackness and want of faith, doubt creeps into the mind and we question the inspiration by which it is given. The realization of these blessings depends upon our faithfulness. Spoke of the mercy and long suffering of the Lord extended to ancient Israel, as also to the [illegible] in the [illegible] dispensation.

2 p.m.

Singing and prayer.

The sacrament was administered.

Elder Orson Pratt was pleased to see the very liberal spirit manifested by the people in building temples. There are millions of people who have passed behind the vail, waiting anxiously for the connecting link to be made. How should we feel if reproached by our friends behind the vail for having neglected our duty in this respect? We should do all in our power to secure the genealogies of our ancestors. Spoke of the great power given to the servants of God who bear the Holy Priesthood, also the benefits of the Urim and Thummim. Concluded by urging upon parents the necessity of placing good books in the hands of their children.

Elder C. C. Rich spoke upon the necessity of seeking first the interests of God's kingdom, of magnifying our calling, that we may be truly ministers of life and salvation. Referred to the blessings attending the honorable fulfilment of a mission, the predictions of God's servants over the heads of those who are sent, and their verification.

President W. Budge made a few concluding remarks, expressing the pleasure and benefit he had received throughout the conference. Hoped the spirit of the instructions would remain with us, that we may be better able to discharge the duties and obligations resting upon us.

Singing.

Benediction by C. C. Rich.
