THE SUPREME COURT.

Arguments in Three Cases at Today's Session.

Wm. H. Bennet, of Wyoming, Admitted to Practice at the Bar.

Judges Merritt, Bartch and King occupied the bench at today's session of the Supreme Court. On motion of P. L. Williams Attorney Wm. H. Bennet, of Wyoming, was admitted to practice at the bar.

The case of Joseph Goddard, appellant, vs. E. H. Parsons et al was placed on the calendar for oral argument.

The first case argued in the Supreme Court today was that of D. P. Tarpey, plaintiff and respondent, vs. John Sharp et al, executors, defendants and appellants. The case is appealed from the Fourth district.

Several years ago Tarpey brought an action in ejectment against the Deseret Salt company to recover certain lands at Lakeside Point, near the north end of Salt Lake. A verdict and judgment in that case was had for plaintiff, appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of the Territory and the judgment affirmed. Then that judgment of the court was taken by writ of error to the Supreme Court of the United States, and that court affirmed the judgment in favor of Tarpey. Upon filing out the writ of restitution back in the most form was given by the Deseret Salt company, with John Sharp, who derived, and George T. Wallace, who intervened, and from which the respondent was put out of the possession of said premises from March 16, 1888, until July 1, 1892, when the same was delivered to him.

This action was therefore brought by respondent to recover damages for the use and occupation of said premises during the time he was kept out of possession by virtue of the said writ of error and supersedeas bond. In the court below plaintiff received judgment for $2,000 damages, and $372 interest and $2.85 costs. Appellants claim that there was no evidence to justify or support the verdict, and that the finding of the jury was the result of passion or prejudice, and not the result of testimony even tending to show that any profit whatever was derived from the occupation of the land, or that he plaintiff was damaged in any way whatever.

FOR RESTITUTION ONLY.

The next case argued and submitted was that of Frank L. Fairbanks, plaintiff and respondent, vs. Montana View Cemetery association, defendant and appellant. This was an action brought in the Fourth district court to obtain judgment for $10,000 for trespass. Plaintiff claims that defendant willfully entered upon a certain cemetery lot and dug up and removed therefrom the remains of plaintiff's son, and interred them in a strange place. Defendant denied that the plaintiff was the owner of that lot. The jury rendered a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $1,150 damages. The appellant claims that the court erred in its instructions to the jury, and appeals from the decision of the lower court.

DAMAGE SUIT.

The case of Philip Cook, plaintiff and respondent, vs. Bullion-Beck and Champion Mining company, defendant and appellant, was also argued and submitted. The action was brought by plaintiff in the First district court for damages in the sum of $15,000 and $150 paid for medical and medical attendance, for injuries sustained by reason of the negligence of the defendant in constructing a plank walk in a certain stope. On the trial of the case in the lower court the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant for $5,000. An appeal was taken on the ground that the evidence is insufficient to justify the verdict.

Woman's Glory Is Her Hair.

It is the most precious gift from her creator. It is her abundant, long and glossy, it will compensate for the homely face and be the envy of all her sisters. But when it becomes, when the raven tresses become faded or gray, it has the invariable effect of beautiful women or not. Even handsome women fall from the greatly prized locks, then it is that disappointment is the heart of a woman. No one, however fair, can long appear young crowned in gray or faded hair.

Yale's Hair Tonic

is the magic wand which sweeps back the hands of time and makes the locks of woman of sixty appear young and beautiful. It is a tonic, not a dye, and is a preparation the very reverse of both in operation. Are you mourning the loss of your hair? Are you mourning the loss of your hair? Are you mourning the loss of your hair?
