The first speaker was President Frank Y. Taylor, of the Granite Stake. He said that he had never before witnessed such an outpouring of the Spirit of God as had been manifested during the con-ference. This, he said, was evidence that God gives his Spirit to those whom He clothes with power and authority.

The next speaker was Elder William H. Smart, president of the Wasatch Stake. He affirmed that he had faith in the work of God, and His servants, and was willing to obey them. He then read from the Forty-sixth section of the Doctrine and Covenants wherein it is declared that the rebellious are not of the blood of Ephraim, and that those who shall flourish in Zion will be those only who have willing minds and who give their hearts unto the Lord.

President Ben E. Rich, of the South-ern States mission, was the next speak-er. He said that he also had enjoyed as much of the Spirit of God during this conference as he had ever experienced at any conference. The longer he lived in the earth and the more experience he had in preaching the Gospel the clearer became the knowledge to him that the mightiest spiritual work that was ever performed is being carried on in the earth today

The choir sang the hymn, "Great is the Lord."

Elder A. W. Ivins, president of the Juarez Stake, followed in a few inter-esting remarks. He said that he would esting remarks. He said that he words take for his text the words from the hymn, 'God is with us and we with him." He said that God had given him a testimony of the truthfulness of the work revealed through the Prophet Joseph Smith, and had also given that testimony to thousands of others in all parts of the world

The next speaker was Elder Ellas S. Kimball, former president of the Southern States mission. He said that he wished always to be obedient to the servants of God. He testified that the servants of God. The testined that the Gospei was true, and that the Church of Christ had been established with Apostles and Prophets, with the gifts and powers of God. He also wished to assist in bearing off the work of the kingdom, and to take part in the sacrifices that the people will have to make.

President E. H. Nye of the California mission then spoke a few moments. He had feasted on the spirit of the confer-ence and rejoiced in the privilege of oming up to Zion and listening to the word of the Lord. The speaker stated that the California mission was pros-pering and that the power of God was ande manifest in that mission frequently.

Apostle Heber J. Grant then sang "The Holy City," explaining before he did so that he did not consider himself a vocalist, but he wanted to encourage the people in their duty in regard to singing. # THE LAST CONVENTION.

Elder J. M. Tanner delivered an address on the last Sunday school con-vention held last November. He stated that two conventions had been held and that there was an increase in the second in membership over that of the first, He said that the convention had become a said that the convention had become a permanent institution in the Sunday school@economy: that its success in the past had already demonstrated the wis-dom of the movement. Elder Tanner spoke upon the necessity of having the children commit passages of holy writ to memory. Such methods had been de-cided on at the last convention. It was the mission of the Sunday schools to teach the children how to feel as well as how to think. If their hearts and minds are filled with pure thoughts and feelings they are not ant to depart far from the teachings of the Gospel.

ELDER GRANT SINGS.

Apostle Heber J. Grant ful-filled the promise that he made six months before, and sang "Oh My Father." He stated before singing, that if he failed he would try It again six months hence. But he did not fail, he went through the entire song without a mistake,

ELDER ENSIGN TALKS.

Elder Horace S. Ensign, having been called to accompany Apostle Grant on a mission to Japan, was requested to a mission to Japan, was requested to make a few remarks. He spoke of the great work that is being done by the Sunday schools, and he regretted hav-ing to break off associations with them, Although he was thankful for the honor of being called on another mission, and to accompany an Apostle. He said that he realized what manner of people he was going among, but he had no desir to do anything but all the good that h could. He concluded by testifying that he knew that the Gospel was true not only because of the miracles he had witnessed, but by the Holy Spirit that had born testimony to him of that truth.

JUVENILE INSTRUCTOR.

Apostle Heber J. Grant followed with few words on the Juvenile Instructor, explaining the transaction whereby it shall become the property of the Sun-day school union, by a 5 cent donation from the Sunday school pupils and

In saying good bye, the speaker said that some of the happiest hours of his life had been spent in working for the Sunday schools. In going forth to pro-claim the Gozpel the speaker said that he would go with Joy in his heart for the privilege of opening the doors of the Gospel to another nation. He left his blessings upon the heads of the Saints and asked the Saints to sustain Saints and asked the sources to sustain him and his compations with their faith and blessings. Elder George D. The hog situation is unchanged and the battle ery of the salesmen is "on-ward and upward." A new top price is established almost daily and has ad-vanced in a month's time from $5.40 to 6.17%, while the bulk of sales standard as moved from $5.27% to $5.37% up to $6.05 to $6.15, over a space of 75 cents to 85 cents within the same period.

command all the way from $3.75 to $5.25 for common to choice. Cows and helf-ers are the highest of the season, very lesirable cows selling as high as $4.75

Sheep and lamb values also show an idvance at 15c to 25c during the month f March and, notwithstanding a marked increase in receipts, prices re nain firm. A temporary decline of 10 per cwt. was saffered in lamb value y an unusually heavy influx on the 1st if April, but a quick reaction has laced the best lambs back at $5.25 to placed the best lambs back at $5.25 to $5.30, where they were during the clos-ing days in March. Sheep values did not suffer and a shipment of western ewes, from Hochne, Colorado, sold on Wednesday at $4.55 which was as high as any time this season. Wethers and mixed sheep and verifings are in demixed sheep and yearlings are in de-mand at $4.50 to $5.00 and a good train of 88-pound New Mexico, clipped weth-ers sold at $4.65 early in the week. Less than 4,000 sheep went to the country during the month of March, as every-
