A CENTENNIAL AWARD

Is valuable to the recipient and the public, when given to one of many competitors, as showing true merit. The competition in plasters at the Centennial was great yet the manufacturers of Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster received the highest and only award; thus proving by the highest medical authority in the world the great superiority of their article over ordinary porous plasters and it the slow action of the ordinary porous plaster, and to afford quick relief from pain. Only the purest vegetable ingredients enter into the composition of Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster. When combined they constitute the best remedy ever devised for the cure of rheumatism, neuralgia, lame and weak back, spinal and kidney affections, sciatica, lumbago, stubborn colds, sprains and bruises. Sold everywhere.

Ask your physician if Benson's CAPCINE Plaster is not the Best Porous Plaster. Beware of worthless imitations. Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster was invented to overcome

LAME-BACK. BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER is the best remedy for a lame or painful back, or weakness of the back ever invented or known. It soothes, it strengthens, it cures, where other porous plasters and all liniments fail.

A Grocer Ruined.

We are pained to record the fact, but duty compels. A prominent grocer in town was compelled to succumb recently because he attempted to palm off a line of baking powders, flavoring extracts and yeast, in place of Gillet's, which he had been selling. His trade forsook him and he was ruined, for no one who once uses Gillet's preparations will have any other. 5

THE scarcity of Diamonds, Gold and Silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value.

Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Aug. Kaiser's Celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom or put out a prairie fire with a tear.

For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections, it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your Druggist for it. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the facsimile signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75 cent bottle. Trial bottle, 25 cents.

No complexion, however fair it may be naturally, looks well when disfigured by tan, freckles, pimples, blotches or other blemishes of a like nature. Various Causes—

Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them inclines it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR will restore faded or gray, light and red hair to a rich brown or deep black, as may be desired. It softens and cleanses the scalp, giving it a healthy action, and removes and cures dandruff and humors. By its use falling hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or glands decayed. Its effects are beautifully shown on brashy, weak, or sickly hair, to which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its operation, it is incomparable as a dressing, and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts. It contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil nor color white cambric; yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous. For sale by all dealers. dsw

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

A Message.—There is a message at the W. U. Telegraph Office for Isaiah Fletcher.

Select Party.—A select social party will be given in the 18th Ward School-house this evening, to close the season's session of the Mutual Improvement Association.

Correction.—In our notice, a week or two ago of the death of John Cameron, jr., who died April 1st, at Randolph, Utah, the name was misspelled, Canusor. St. Louis papers please notice.

Theatre.—Go and see the 21st Ward Thespian Association play "Pride of the Market" and "Rough Diamond" on Saturday night. We are glad to see our home talent come to the front; Salt Lake needs some good actors. Let us encourage them in their efforts.

More Organizations.—Yesterday, the Primary Association of the 10th Ward was organized, and 78 members, exclusive of the officers, enrolled, with a good prospect for more.

To-morrow, Sister E. B. Wells and others will go to Cottonwood, for the purpose of founding a society of a similar character there, also to meet with the Relief Society of South Cottonwood, which holds its first annual meeting, at 11 a.m.

Ahead of Time.—Dwyer has already received Harper's Magazine for June, which is the first number of this popular monthly in its enlarged form. Its pages are larger and there are 160 of them in this number. Its illustrations are varied and beautiful and the reading matter exceedingly interesting. The June issue is the first number of the Fifty-ninth volume. Now is a good time to arrange for subscription. It stands in the front rank of the leading magazines.

EXECUTION OF WALLACE WILKERSON.

By special telegram to the DESERET NEWS.

PROVO, May 16, 1879.

The execution of Wallace Wilkerson took place precisely at 12 o'clock noon in the yard of the county jail in this place. Through the bullets striking him just above instead of through the heart, he did not breathe the last gasp for 27 minutes after being struck, being insensible, however, during the time. His wife was allowed to stay in jail with him during last night and up to the hour of execution. She took her farewell at half-past 11, the scene of separation being very affecting. Wilkerson carried on a conversation most of the night with his wife, but slept from three o'clock till daylight and ate a comparatively light breakfast this morning. To-day he was allowed a little liquor by the sheriff in response to his numerous pleadings, and was partly under its influence up to the hour of execution, but as the time approached he measurably sobered up. He conversed freely with those who called on him during to-day, giving an incoherent version of the killing of Baxter, and also commenced to give an account of his killing a man at Humboldt County, Nevada, but was interrupted by the Marshal clearing his cell of all but relations. At about three minutes to 12 he was led out of the cell to the place of execution on the north side of the jail. Before taking a seat in the chair placed for him, he made a short speech to those near him, consisting of attending physicians, reporters and the guard, who were stationed but a few feet to the south, sheltered by the building. He expressed his thanks to Marshal Shaughnessy, Sheriff Turner, the Warden of the penitentiary, and all officials with whom he had had to deal, and stated he had no hard feelings towards any person excepting one individual whom he claimed had sworn falsely on his trial, but he hoped God would have mercy on that person. He bade the crowd good bye, shaking hands with Marshal Shaughessy, Sheriff Turner and two others, stating that he was ready to die and had come to his fate. He then seated himself on the chair placed for him and the Marshal pinned a round piece of white paper as a mark, on his coat, in the region of the heart. He sat facing the marksmen, who were distant about thirty feet, without any bandage on his eyes or without closing them. The Marshal gave the signal to make ready, and the signal to fire, during which time Wilkerson sat unflinching, and looking directly towards the guns. On the reports of the shots he leaped forward a few feet, exclaiming, "O God," then turned over on to his face, and lay in that position until he breathed his last gasp. He was dressed in a suit of broadcloth, with a white felt hat. The relatives took charge of the remains. About twenty-five people were present in the jailyard, and probably two-hundred outside the enclosure. Good order prevailed. The marksmen were concealed in a wooden building in one corner of the jail yard. One arm was broken by a shot, three in all being fired.

Official Clemency.—John Lee, brother of Eli Lee, both of whom were sentenced about three years ago for highway robbery and assault on the person of a man named Hennefer, was pardoned by Governor Emery yesterday. His sentence was nine years imprisonment in the Penitentiary, while his brother's was ten years. Eli was the chief criminal in the matter and has the reputation of being a "hard case," having, about two years ago escaped from prison and shot one of his pursuers before he was re-taken; while John, it appears, is quite the reverse, having been a very unwilling party to the Hennefer robbery, and since, by his good behavior while in confinement has recommended his case to the mercy of the Executive.

A Slight Blaze.—Shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon a fire broke out in a building belonging to Bishop Spiers, next door east of Joe Barker's, near the south end of Commercial Street. The alarm was given soon afterward, the firemen rushed to the scene and in a few minutes extinguished the flames. The cause of the fire is unknown. It was an empty building, which a number of bootblacks had been permitted to inhabit, and it was their bed, in a back room on the second floor, which was on fire; but whether from the boys cooking their dinner, or indulging their propensity for smoking, has not yet been ascertained. The loss is merely nominal.

Freedom of the Press.—We have always acknowledged the freedom of the press, even that of a letter-press; but when an impatient scribe, proudly unconscious of a dozen quart bottles of ink, in endeavoring to make a literary impression, converts the whole surrounding region into a sea as black as the night of despair, and his trousers into a base imitation of the star spangled banner, we are forced to the conclusion that a license from Dan to Beersheba is inimical to the safety of our common country.

For further particulars, apply at the clerk's office, one block east.

Museum.—The curator of the Deseret Museum respectfully acknowledges the receipt of a few silver coins, which were part of the last five dollars paid out by the Prophet Joseph Smith, previous to his martyrdom, June 27th, 1844. Also, a Turkish coin, by the hands of Hon. F. M. Lyman, and a copper coin of George the Third, one of the old incised four cent. pieces, by exchange from I. M. Hutchings, Esq., of Yosemite Valley, California. The Smithsonian Report of 1877 is also received by favor of our Delegate, Hon. Geo. Q. Cannon.

Furious Runaway.—A vicious horse threw its rider near the post office, last evening, and ran eastward to Franklin Avenue, where it turned and ran over a man named Hansen, knocked over a couple of boys farther down and injured a son of Brother George Goddard, who tried to stop him. The man Hansen is reported seriously hurt, the boys, Lawrence and Jones, but slightly, while young Goddard, though bruised considerably, is feeling pretty comfortable this morning.

THE EXPRESS ROBBERY.

After recess, yesterday, the court record was understood to be admitted as evidence, also the bond given before Alderman Raleigh at the time Williams was first arrested. The files in the case of Wells, Fargo & Co. vs. Williams et al., were admitted for the defense.

HARRY DUKE.

Knows where Robbins' house is. It is on the northwest corner of the block on which Geo. Q. Cannon's house is situated, and on the Warm Spring street car track. Last night I walked from the house to the railroad track about a block north from the depot, and timed myself back to the house, starting on a fast walk just as the train passed. I walked very fast; it took me four and a half minutes. Mr. Ed. McKean was with me. I did it at his request. He said Hume wanted it done. Am teller in Wells, Fargo & Co's bank.

ED. H. MCKEAN

Was at the Robbins' house, last night, with Mr. Duke, Messrs. Dooley and Hume. I walked the distance from the railroad track to the house with Mr. Duke. It took us four and a half minutes. The distance would be about half a mile. I was requested to make the walk by Judge Tilford and Mr. Hume. The prosecution here rested their case.

The defence then introduced the following evidence in rebuttal:

W. G. PHILLIPS.

Am a policeman. Recollect the arrest of Williams and his release on the night of the 15th, to go home and see his wife, who was very sick. I think the bond was given on the 16th.

Both sides expressed their willingness for the case to be given to the jury.

Judge McBride informed the court and the counsel on the other side, that the defence looked upon the trial as a piece of fraud and a persecution. That although the law only allowed the defence one argument, they desired to make two in this case.

Attorney Van Zile did not object, and Judge Emerson stated that he would limit neither side to the number of arguments nor to their length.

District Attorney Van Zile then commenced the argument for the prosecution.

He was followed by Judge Bennett for the defense, who occupied the remainder of the afternoon until the close. At the evening session, he resumed his argument at half-past 7 and continued until 9 p.m., when the court adjourned till this morning.

After the opening of the court, Judge Bennett resumed his address to the jury and closed at noon today.

Judge McBride, likewise for the defense, then took the floor, and after arguing on some points of law for about 15 minutes, began his speech to the jury. He is still speaking as we go to press, and will probably occupy the rest of the day.

The Court Room is crowded with spectators, many of whom are ladies.

"Enquirer" Items.—Three children died in Provo, last Sunday night, from diphtheria—a little son of Joseph Strong, a little daughter of James Smith, and a son of William Gray.

A young man named Jas. A. Shelton, of Payson, while attempting to mount a fractious horse, last Monday, was thrown violently to the ground. His head striking, concussion of the brain resulted, and he died 18 hours later.

On Saturday, the 3d inst., Brother Leonard G. Pickle, of Lehi, while engaged in repairing his roof which had been torn off by a wind storm, was struck by a piece of falling scantling, which inflicted a wound from which he died last Tuesday morning, the 13th inst.

Mr. Pickle was formerly of Strasburg, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. He came to Utah a few years ago, where he has since made his home. He was a faithful Latter-day Saint, and a respected citizen, and his departure is keenly felt by all who knew him.

Two men in Utah County, named respectively Cook and Loser, had a quarrel, and were each fined for assault. The day following, Loser's little 8 year old boy, went, it is said at his father's instigation, with his dogs to Cook's place, and killed 35 of his chickens. Cook had the boy arrested, who was fined $2 and costs, total, $16 75. Loser, although a man of money and property, would not pay the fine, nor sell some stock belonging to the boy, to pay it, but let him go to prison, coaxing him with some candy to remain there 16 or 17 days, at the public expense, for which he promised him a new suit of clothes.

The boy, though carefully looked after, took very sick in prison after the 2d day, and Sheriff Turner took him home Monday. It is feared he has diphtheria.

Slow Traveling.—The following from an exchange illustrates the disadvantages of a tourist in Southern Utah. (The italics are ours);

Having through ill health and conversing with our numerous friends, fallen behind with our narrative, we sit down alone by the roadside for a couple of hours whilst our driver goes two and a half miles off our road for another passenger, being on our way to Panwuitch, en route for Beaver.

We were not aware, before, that it took so many hours to go such a short distance.

ESTRAY NOTICE.

I HAVE in my possession the following described animals:

One sorrel HORSE, branded UP combined with figure 3 over it on left thigh, O on the left shoulder, 8 or 9 years old, star in forehead, 4 white feet, about 14 hands high.
