Sunday School Conference, Emery Stake.

The annual Sunday School Conference of Emery Stake convened at Castle Dale, Nov. 2nd and 3rd, 1895. Present on the stand, Elders K. G. Maeser and Thomas C. Griggs, of the Sunday school union board, Stake superintendent N. E. Curtis, first assistant Alexander Jameson, Bishop Owen, of Castle Dale, and two ward superintendents.

The Pine Sunday school was reported by Assistant Superintendent Jos. Jones and Brother James Peterson gave the report of Castle Dale Sunday school. Elder Thomas C. Griggs, of the Union board, occupied a short time, giving instructions on how to govern local schools and a brief account of Sunday schools in general. Brother K. G. Maeser outlined the exercises that should be carried out in the Sunday schools and made special remarks on concert recitations.

In the afternoon the report of the Ferron school was presented by J. E. King. The second intermediate department of the Castle Dale school rendered an exercise which was worthy of praise. Brother F. M. Lowell, of Spring Glen, reported the Sunday school over which he was presiding. The necessity of encouraging each other in Sunday school duties; the mode of governing conferences in regard to the Deseret and other topics were ably treated by Elder Griggs. Elder Maeser illustrated the way in which to teach by precept and example; the way to sustain and be sustained; the necessity of officers and teachers handing in excuses for absenting themselves from school—the consecutiveness of excuses from an individual not to exceed three without a forfeit of position, which position should be filled by someone else.

Sunday, Nov. 3rd, 10 a. m. The Huntington Sunday school was reported as being in a good condition by Supt. O. J. Harmon; Supt. Ole M. Tait reported the Sunday school of Lawrence as being poorly supported. A review on the life of the twelve was given as an exercise by the primary department of the Castle Vale school, followed by an exercise on the resurrection and resurrection of the Saviour. Supt. J. C. Snow reported the Orangeville school as being in a condition favorable to success. Brother Thomas C. Griggs addressed the congregation on the topics of locals, cheerfulness, order, punctuality of officers, teachers, choristers and pupils; duties of Elders, secretaries, and the ways of dismissing schools.

The following questions were answered by Brother Maeser: Shall a teacher continue to teach who cases to believe? Nay, no teacher should teach by precept, who cannot teach by example. Who should be set apart in Sunday schools? School officers only should be set apart. A congratulation was extended by Brother Maeser to the pupils who had taken part in class exercises, for their complete answers.

A Teacher's meeting was held at 12 o'clock, at which Bro. Maeser explained the object of having teachers' meeting, by comparing them to an engine room where all the forces were to be originated and be prepared for activity. The following topics were spoken upon very comprehensively: plans, methods of teaching, order, including place, cleanliness, quietness, class exercises, how to learn, disorderly pupils, Sacrament, (sticks) day, and the question never to teach by compulsion but always by love. In reference to the above Bro. Griggs was very instructive.

Conference reconvened at 2 p.m., and the Sacrament was administered by Elders Reid Peterson, and Peter Franson, of Castle Dale. The general and local officers were presented by Stake Secretary J. H. Jewkes and sustained by the people. Bro. J. N. Kilpack, of Molen, reported the Sunday school of which he was superintendent as following the plans adopted by the Union board, or nearly so. The 1st intermediate department of Castle Dale school gave an exercise on Lehi and his family, conducted by Miss Peterson and Sister Anderson.

Stake Superintendent U. E. Curtis gave the report of the Stake announcing that it is more progressive this year than it has ever been before. He explained the courses of study that had been planned by the union of Castle Dale and Orangeville during the past winter in relation to carrying out the instructions given at Provo. He further announced that he had instructed the various wards to do likewise. He concluded by presenting the methods used in Orangeville Sunday school.

Brother Maeser by way of endorsement to the remarks of Brother Curtis, added further instructions on the duties of Sunday school teachers and of obtaining teachers which should not be done contrary to the teacher's free agency.

Elder C. G. Larson expressed himself as being pleased with the rapid improvement that had been made during the past year. He extended his thanks and gratitude to all who had taken part and especially to Brother Maeser and Griggs, who had come so far to see us. Asst. Stake Supt. Alex Jameson added his mite to what had been said, and gave very appropriate instructions. Elder Griggs congratulated Brother Larson on his vast number of Sunday school children, and commended Brother N. E. Curtis on his labors. The conditions that would have favored his absence from conference were related, but he added that his duty stood foremost of all things. His appreciation of the choir, janitor and all who had taken active parts were extended; and he concluded by giving good advice and well wishes to all.

Brother U. E. Curtis made appropriate closing remarks.

J. D. JEWKES,
Stake Secretary.

Big Reservoirs.

Superintendent Ray, of the Marysvale Reservoir company, was up from his home in Sevier county today. He has just finished his work of supervising the construction of two of the largest reservoirs in Utah. They extend completely across Sevier canyon and are calculated to catch and store water enough to reclaim 50,000 acres of now arid and useless lands. When the headgates are dropped and the floods of spring time on the water will rush up a distance of several miles, approaching very close to Marysvale. The building of the reservoirs has been a big enterprise and means much to the people of the section in which it has been carried on.

Shelley Items.

SHELLEY, Idaho, Nov. 12, 1895.

To the Editor:

The week ending November 2 has been a somewhat severe one. The full moon shone on the 2nd, bringing with it a hard frost, and on the 6th a change of warmer weather greeted us. This forenoon there was a blinding snow storm for a short time, and the beautiful is piled deep upon the mountains. I think we must say good bye to all scenery upon the mountain excepting snow for some time to come. Some of the boys have delayed in getting up their potatoes before the snowy frost came in, but many car loads are now being shipped. The boys are hauling cedar from across the river by the ferry boat. This will be a great advantage to the folks on the other side; they can come in for a very short time and go to Shelley's store and get their provisions, which will save them going to Idaho Falls, a distance there and back of about 18 miles. Charles Hepp, of Ogden, is putting up a commodious drug store here. The folks around these valleys will soon erect brick instead of frame buildings, as heretofore. The brick company is looking forward for some good orders next spring. The firm got a diploma at the Iowa fair for the best brick ever made in Idaho.

The mock trial of E. J. Farnes caused a great deal of merriment. He was accused of an attempt to sit on a child while sleeping in the school house. The jury found him guilty, and fined him fifty cents, and ordered him to work five days in the potato field, but as the frost set in he has only worked two days. Sister Lucy A. Stephens a few nights ago was much surprised by some forty of the boys walking into her house laden with plenty of this world's goods. It was her birthday, and some forty-five sat down to a good supper. Songs and recitations were afterwards rendered, and all went home feeling happy and gay. Wm. Prescard, a young man here, was taken very sick on Sunday last. He was at a meeting of the Y. M. M. I. A. on Saturday evening and one not improved much since taken ill.

LITERARY NOTES.

The famous S. V. White, who has for so many years been such a power in Wall street, and has meanwhile represented his district in Congress, appears in a new role in the columns of Every Where. He delivers a lay sermon to young men and women on the text "Keep that which is committed to thy trust;" and it is the general verdict of business men, that his remarks ought to be framed in gold and hung in every counting-room. The other departments of the paper are up to their usual standard, which is saying a great deal. The name of the editor Will Carleton is in itself worth a whole corps of ordinary contributors.—Every Where, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM WHALLEY JACKSON.

The subject of this memoir, Brother William Whalley Jackson, was born at North Shield, Cumberland, England, Sept. 28, 1801. His father was a leading minister of the Methodist New Connexion organization, and was one of the six founders of that church, and author of a number of Christian and other publications, prominent among which was a lecture entitled "Mormonism weighed in the balances and found wanting." When a lad of seventeen he embraced the Mormon faith much against the wishes of his father who held that faith in derision and was its bitter opponent. His mother died when he was about ten years old, and his father, on account of his embracing the Gospel, disinherited him from all title to his property. At the age of seventeen he embraced the Gospel and was baptized by Elder Roberts at Leicester, Leicestershire, England, in 1838, and at the age of nineteen married Hannah Brooks, of Warmfield, Yorkshire. He was ordained a Deacon, Priest and Elder respectively while in England, and was an earnest advocate of the Gospel while employed in hostilly business, during which time he became president of the Warmfield branch aforesaid, which position he held until he emigrated to Utah in 1852 with his wife and one son, crossing the plains in Captain Tidwell's company, and settling in Salt Lake four years, where he buried his wife and second son, and afterwards married Ellen Wright there. He was ordained a Seventy about 1853 and moved to American Fork in October, 1856, where he remained until his death, November 3, 1895. He was an active member of the Seventies and was one of the seven presidents of the Sixty-seventh quorum. In November, 1875, he took a mission to the Southern states, which he filled with honor and was called on a mission to England November 29, 1878, returning in the summer of 1881 and engaged in the mercantile business for himself. He was for some time a member of the American Fork Co-operative board and took charge of the business several years. He owned a ranch in West Mountain and in Alpine, and American Fork canyons and filled offices of trust in the City Council. He married a third wife, Mary Warnham, in 1884, by whom he had two sons. He has left two wives, five sons and a daughter to mourn his death. Eleven of his children have gone before him. He died as he had lived, bearing a strong testimony to the truth of the Gospel and to the ministry of holy angels to him while in the flesh. Beloved by all he has passed to his glory on high with a spotless reputation to await the reward of the righteous in a glorious resurrection.

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry

The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure.
