The Times predicts that woman's rights are doomed in the present Parliament.

LONDON, 15.—The second of three races between the Sappho and Cambria was won, yesterday, by the former, owing to a virtual back-out by the Cambria. An English account says the Cambria, with her new bowsprit lengthened two feet and a half to accommodate a larger working jib, proceeded outside shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday morning, in tow of the Vetis. The Sappho had already arrived in tow of the Gem. The wind was blowing off the shore, W. S. W., with considerable sea, though less than anticipated. The Cambria signalled to the umpires for a triangular course, but they refused; she then accepted the proposal to sail sixty miles to windward, the course to be around Cherbourg breakwater by the western entrance. Ashbury won the toss and took the weather position; everything being ready for the start the warning gun was fired at 7:20 a.m. Presently the Cambria signalled that this was not a dead beat to windward, and the answer was returned: "This is the best the umpires can do, being only half a point off the wind." The Cambria then flung out a signal, "Dead beat or no race." At 7:45 the starting gun was fired, but the Cambria remained motionless and the Sappho stood to windward with a steamer following and signalling the course as she bore away to claim the prize, accompanied by the Dauntless. The Cambria at last commenced to move and followed a short distance, then tacking she returned to Cowes; the Dauntless soon after arrived. There was a splendid breeze. The Sappho behaved superbly, shipping a little water. A protest against giving her the prize is expected.

LONDON, 17.—The controversy between Ashbury and the umpires in regard to the second race, is generally thought to be unfavorable to the former. It is considered that he has no warrant for resisting the decision of the umpire and referee, after starting for the race. The wind at the time of the start was blowing a half gale and the Sappho, Dauntless and Guinevere were the only vessels which ventured outside and proved their sea-worthiness, and that these American vessels were able to sail well in the roughest weather. The Sappho claims the cup, to which Ashbury protests.

In working along the island the Sappho, from her greater length fore, reached and weathered the Cambria, rounding the mark forty-two seconds ahead. Here all interest in the race is ended. The mark steamer had to take the Cambria in tow as she drifted with the tide. There was a good breeze for the first twenty miles, and the struggle for the weather position occasioned considerable excitement. There was a dense fog during the greater part of the time.

PARIS.—The Corps Legislatif met to-day and verified the vote on the Plebiscitum. The declaration of the result was received in shouts of Viva la Empereur from both centers. FROM THE SOUTH.—Henry W. Miller, Esq., called upon us this morning, having just arrived from St. George. He reports everything prosperous in that region. The prospects for a fine crop of fruit are very excellent, even the apricots, which were thought to have been killed by a late frost, are likely to yield tolerably well. If nothing unexpected occurs, a larger quantity of wheat will be harvested in that section this season than ever before; this cereal looks very promising. The grasshoppers are not there, and he saw but few in Iron county. On the bench this side of Beaver he saw them for the first time in any quantities, and there they were in myriads. Bro. Miller has had poor health this winter; since the warm weather commenced he has improved. Before he left St. George the thermometer had reached as high as 92° Fahrenheit.

CALLED.—Yesterday we had a call from, and very interesting visit with, T. H. Goodman, Esq., General Freight and Ticket Agent of the Central Pacific Railroad, and Judge Boalt, of Nevada. The latter gentleman has been in the city through Conference, and though he has been here twice before, still seems enough in the people and affairs here to interest him. Mr. Goodman feels the importance of the C. P. R. R. cultivating more close business relations with the people of this city and Territory than have heretofore existed, and has taken steps to show that he not only feels this, but that he is determined, as the agent of the C. P. R. R., to do his part towards bringing this about. As we have often before remarked, there are many articles of merchandise which can be brought to this city at lower prices from the West than from the East, if those interested will take the proper steps to secure the trade. This is Mr. Goodman's view; and the C. P. R. R. is determined to do its part towards securing for California that portion of trade which legitimately belongs to it.

TWO CLASSES OF VISITORS.—Among the many hundreds who visited this city and Territory last season, there are many doubtless who closed their eyes to every evidence favorable to the people's morality, industry, temperance and other good qualities; but opened their ears to catch every slander and misrepresentation that floated on the breeze. Such persons probably went away feeling more obdurate and inaccessible to reason than they were before they came here, because they had been here, and would assume that they had seen for themselves. There was a different class of persons, however, from these, who came here, and they employed their opportunities to good advantage, and left the city convinced that the people of this Territory had been greatly maligned, and that they were a very different people from what had been represented. This reflection was forced upon us by a conversation which we had with Mr. H. Comstock, of the firm of Rushmore, Cornell & Co., manufacturers of varnishes and japans, Pearl street, New York, who, with Louis E. McComas, Esq., Attorney-at-Law, of Hagerstown, Maryland, called upon us yesterday. These gentlemen are en route to the Pacific Coast, but could not forego the pleasure of calling here and spending a few days, and thus far are gratified with the visit. Mr. Comstock was here last summer when Miss Anna Dickinson and her brother were here, had equal opportunities with them of learning the true condition of affairs, and left at the same time for California. Their expressions and testimony concerning what they saw while here differed widely from those to which they gave utterance after they left here, and Mr. Comstock took the opportunity of informing them and others of this difference.
