DESERET EVENING NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1895.

Gleason, the Silver Tongued.

Professor O. H. Gleason, the famous lime talker, will begin a series of performances in this city beginning tomorrow night at 8:15 at the Continental Music Hall. Professor Gleason has been giving exhibitions in Denver recently, and according to well-informed men of that city says Professor O. H. Gleason is a born humorist. His humor consists of his skill, for he talks merely for his skill, for he talker is any man was a well known humorist. He grew up among horses and learned to love and admire them. His system of training is the outcome of years of patient observation and an experience with over 10,000 horses of all breeds and temperamenta. His marvelous exhibitions in Denver have been attended, in 12 performances, by over 24,000 ladies and gentlemen.

Fraud is Alleged.

As a sequel to the assignment of C. L. Tenney, the Main street grocer, attachment suits have been filed in which fraud in making the assignment and in contracting debts is charged by creditors as follows: Remington-Johnson company, $2827; Barnes Fruit & Produce company, $66.17; Miller Produce & Commission company, $2837; Mormon Dish Grocery company, $2155; Kahn Bros., $1011.50.

Good Words for Our Soldiers.

The following official letter was promulgated at Fort Douglas yesterday, January 1.

Headquarters of the Nineteenth Infantry, Fort Douglas, Utah, Jan. 1, 1895.

To the Non-commissioned Officers and Men of the Nineteenth Infantry:

The non-commissioned officers desire to thus publicly express to your satisfaction and to your credit, that after last pay day not a man in the command was brought before a court for drunkenness of drug, and that during the month not one case was tried.

This is a record not few regiments, if any, can equal.

The new year has come, and with it we hope to demonstrate that the good record shall be maintained. A happy New Year is extended to all. By order of Colonel Pearson.

(Signed) C. B. T. [illegible],
First Lieutenant Nineteenth Infantry, Adjutant.

Resign For Reappointment.

At the meeting of the board of fire and police commissioners on Monday evening, Chiefs Finn and Devine tendered their resignations as heads of the police and fire departments respectively. Before doing so, however, it was positively understood that the board would immediately reappoint them by making their terms of office indefinite as to length. It was feared that a new board might not do so, so the feeling between all parties concerned might not be so now. Both officers were unanimously reappointed.

They've Got Into Harness.

All the new county officials took hold of the reins of office yesterday morning, and their predecessors simultaneously slipped out. Sheriff Harvey Hardy has taken up his headquarters in the basement of the new city and county building. He has appointed Gardner S. Clark as his chief clerk. Mr. Clark was formerly a clerk in the American National bank. George C. Schaeffer is the new city jailer to succeed W. F. Hill. W. F. Howe has been appointed a deputy sheriff. Other appointments of deputies are held in abeyance for the present.

Holiday Season at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, Dec. 29, 1894.—Christmas passed off at the place with its usual enjoyments of dancing, etc. On Thursday evening the S. and A. gave a dramatic entertainment entitled "Hidden Links." Much credit is due to the ladies and gentlemen for the way in which they acquitted themselves.

On New Year's day the Primary association will give an entertainment under the direction of Sisters Miller, Hampton and Roddy.

The snowstorm was thankfully received on the 28th inst. The health of the inhabitants is good.

TIDDY, etc. J. C.

Horticultural Society.

The Salt Lake County Horticultural society will hold its next monthly meeting in the office of county clerk in the new city and county building, on Saturday, January 5, 1895, at 2 p. m. All who are interested in orchard culture are earnestly requested to be present.

F. S. GIBBS,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Y. L. M. I. A. Notice.

The Y. L. M. I. A. officers' meeting will be held in the Fourteenth ward Relief Society hall on next Saturday, January 5, 1895, at 11 a. m. It is particularly requested that representatives be present from each association. All interested are invited to attend.

MARY A. FERRIS,
Stake President.

Sanford News.

SANFORD, UTAH, Dec. 19, 1894.—We did not escape the general infliction of hard frost recently, the temperature being 32 below. The weather has moderated, however, and we are having a gentle snow storm.

There was no public recitation of Christmas here, but the people seemed to join in groups of neighbors' homes and have a good time.

The Western Stock Co. entertained its employes among their customers.

The mines at Bullfrog and Winter Quarters are only working about two days a week. It seems we are hampered after plans, having to obey men in the mines of work there is to do.

Winter Quarters is badly in need of a post office and it is hoped entitled to one at Bullfrog.

William Howells has moved to the Lowelana farm on Winter Quarters, preparatory to doing business by the first of the year.

Several of our young men have taken with themselves wives lately. They seem to think if they can keep a wife when it is hard times, they can keep a family in good times.

Some of the Cactus county officers don't know that they are going to qualify to take their office by the first of the year, so there is no county judge here. A MORMON BOY.

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

The Police Court Chamber Transformed into a Modern Mill of Justice.

When Police Justice Smith mounted the stairway leading into the court chamber in the old City Hall this morning he found that a complete transformation in the arrangement and furnishing of the interior had taken place.

While the justice had been making New Year calls, receiving friends and selling turkey, workmen had been busy with hammer, saw and plane. The judicial dais on the rough platform of planks on the west side of the chamber had been torn down and removed and a new and pretentious oak affair like unto that in Judge Smith's court had been taken in its stead on the south. A witness stand and jury box to the right of the court had also been provided. The gilded metal railing which ran from north to south separating spectators from offenders thrust from east to west to conform to the new order of things and a large oak table put in for the joint use of attorneys and reporters. The last improvement, said the justice, was to get new benches and benches for the auditorium.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

The first case called at this morning's session was that of Harry Wright, a chronic drunk. "Guilty, your honor," said the culprit. "It was recording the advent of the New Year with some friends and then took a little to remember of the old and I was done for."

"I see," said the court. "But haven't you been here before?"

After a long pause an affirmative reply was uttered in a barely audible tone.

"I thought so," said the court, who then asked the following question: "Didn't I let you off last time?"

"Yes, sir, but—"

"And the time before?"

"I guess you did, but my family [illegible] of the time before?"

"That's right too, judge, but my family are in miserable circumstances and I want like for you to let me off again."

"They are always in that condition are they?" queried the court.

"Yes, and they keep me that way, too."

"Your story is getting monotonous, and I'll give you five days. Next time you'll get six, and so on."

HAD SO FRIENDS TO OFFER.

Then an individual answering to the name of James Smith came forward and pled guilty to the robbery charge, and saying he had no excuse to offer. He was fined $5, which he promised to raise in twice that number of minutes, promising an officer would accompany him up the street. He kept his word.

MUST SHOW A SUBSTANTIAL CHANGE.

At the close of the proceedings Steve Allen, Thomas Brown, H. E. Lee and J. W. Howell, the quartette convicted several days ago on a charge of burglary and holding up the Agricultural park structure were summoned to plead, but by agreement of counsel on either side the case was continued until Friday next at 10 a. m. Morris Schmarr is representing the accused who will be first called upon to answer to the charge in variety.

"WHO ARE SECOND BORN NOW?"

Each was the statement made by Johnnie Larson and Willie Coats, the latter a contrite, when asked if they were ready to be sent to the Reform school.

"I hope you are," answered the justice who has been very kind to the lads, "and your case will be continued for two weeks."

Trout and Whitefish.

The following letter, which is self-explanatory, will be of interest to fishermen, Bureaucrats, and the entire public generally:

U. S. COMMISSION OF FISH AND FISHERIES,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27, 1894.

Marshall McDonald, Commissioner.

Mr. A. Milton Musser, Salt Lake City, Utah:

Dear Sir—Your letter of the 21st instant has been received. Correspondence will be opened with Mr. A. E. Wolfe regarding a supply of trout and if it be in accordance for the transportation from Leavitts I believe it will be possible to furnish them next spring. It is too early, however, to estimate on the probable output of that station.

As to the whitefish concerning which the commission wrote you on March 1, if you can send a baggage car to Ogden for us at the Union Pacific depot on or about the 15th instant we shall be pleased to receive a whole car load of whitefish. Our new cars are so prepared with work that it will be impossible for one of them to transport the fish so far. Please advise me whether or not this can be done.

Yours truly,

TARLETON H. BEAN,
Assistant.

THE MARYSVALE MINES.

Excellent Report of the Properties in that District.

In a recent letter to Mr. Musser, of this city, Mr. Reuben De Witt (the inventor of the Ocelo mining district) writes from Marysvale concerning that camp as follows:

"The Lucy Mortlock is a valuable piece of property and with proper development will make a great producer, but the most valuable claim the Deseret M. & M. company have in the Eldo. I have seen ore taken out of that claim that assayed $900 in gold, and there is a great deal of high grade ore on that claim. The vein runs parallel with the Branch vein and could be developed with a cross cut tunnel from the long tunnel on the Branch mine. There are large bodies of low grade ore in the Branch mine, but it cannot be sent far enough in to strike the high grade ore in the mine. I think that 50 or 100 feet would cross the rich pipe of ore that shows on the surface, and it is of more importance to demonstrate to the Zion Park and Mollie claims that we would strike a vein that would make the town paying property in southern Utah.

"The miners of the camp is very good for the money. There are at present four men working on the Daisy Dean mine, which lays east of the Lucy Mortlock and adjoins the Lucy Mortlock. We look for a great strike in the Daisy Dean if that gold ore before spring, which will be greatly to the advantage of the Deseret mining company. There are three men working on the Dalton mine, of which I am one, and we have a very fine showing of ore. There are three men working on the Monarch mine, better known as the Copperhead; they have a large body of low grade gold ore. There are two men working on the Webster mine and have large boxes of silver ore; also two men working on the Mountain Queen group of claims, and they have some very high grade gold ore. There are other mining claims being opened up in the camp with good results.

"The Deseret company has a splendid group of claims, and all they need is development. I have had twenty-three years' experience in mining in this Territory, and I have better men so many claims in our group that shows ore on every claim as the Deseret Mining company's claims. Bishop Taylor of this place has known me for thirty years. I was born in Utah and raised by Mat Breathitt. I am well known in Manti. I can refer you to Luther Tuttle, John Lowery, R. W. Peyand others in business at that place, and I consider my judgment in regard to mines and mining as good as any man's in Utah."

THE WORK IN SWEDEN.

Interesting Missionary Experiences—Personal Information Wanted.

MALMO, Sweden,
December 14, 1894.

Editor Deseret News:

Please allow me a little space in your paper, as I very often see in your columns letters from our brethren who are laboring in the different parts of the world, and with the thought in view that a few lines from this part of the Lord's vineyard may be of interest to the many readers of the NEWS, I will attempt to write of how we are progressing. Though we never hear from us as others, we are still alive and laboring with all diligence in spreading the glad tidings of the Gospel. We see that the servants of God in their various fields of labor meet with success which testifies to us that they need not be ashamed of their work. We also receive courage to continue in our labors as we see what our work, and not on in vain. If we fulfill our duties, some of the good seed we sow will fall in good ground and in the near future will spring forth and bear fruit. Though we have not as very many strangers interested in our meetings we have some who feel that we are investigating the principles of the Gospel and it is our desire that they may be enlightened by the spirit, that they may see the necessity of going into the waters of baptism and receive the Holy Ghost to lead them in the path of truth.

I have been laboring here in this vicinity ever since my arrival in Sweden, the 21st of February, 1894. The first nine months I labored in company with Brother Chas. Swenson, who was releasing over the Stockholm conference on the 1st of November to return to his home in Salt Lake City, after which Br. M. Swenson was sent to succeed him.

Bro. Swenson and I attended a meeting some time since, of a religious sect who called themselves Union Brethren and asked their leader to read the beginning of the morning read some few passages from the writings of Paul. There was then given the privilege or anyone in the congregation to ask questions in regard to the passages read and Bro. Swenson asked the privilege of saying a few words. It was granted, and as soon and spoke about three-quarters of an hour, relating to the organization of the Church in these last days, the necessity of the same upon earth as in the days of the Savior and His Apostles. It seemed to have a good effect, but on account of time we had to leave before they closed. They bade us welcome to attend their meeting again and converse with them, but of course they knew not who we were. We could unknowingly call and see them again and let them know.

Some few days after we attended another meeting where some few were assembled in a prayer meeting. We conversed with them for some time before the beginning of their meeting, and after they had closed we began to converse with them in regard to the plan of salvation, when they of course claimed that they would be saved by faith alone, and we proved to them the contrary and informed them that we were missionaries sent out to preach the Gospel in Christ and that we were the Priesthood conferred upon us, authorizing us to do the same as the Priesthood had been received by the earth through revelation to Joseph Smith. Take counsel from politely to ask us to leave; they did not want to hear anything of Joseph Smith for he was a false prophet and God rendered to reveal His mind and will to his people.

The Saints are only try to live their religion under the circumstances. Though they are few, we have some interesting meetings here in Malmo.

On December 3rd and 5th the Swedes celebrated the 300th birthday of Gustaf Adolf, and in Helsingborg on the 5th was laid the corner stone of a church which is said to be built to his honor—the great king who helped to establish the Lutheran religion in Germany, and who laid down his life for the cause of the faith.

Anders Bengtle, who lives here in Malmo, has a sister who for some time past lived at 251 south, Main East street, Salt Lake City. Her name is Martha Bengtle. Mr. Bengtle would be glad, if she is still alive, if she would send her address to him (Lilla Graengatan, 23 A Malmo), as he wants one to write to her in regard to some legacy that she has been left in her parents. I ask such a person here in Utah who sees this to send her address to her brother as above mentioned, also John Nilson who some time ago lived at 229 north, Fifth West, Salt Lake City, and who has a sister living in Elsing, Sweden, who desires to hear from him; if he will give his address to me here, it will be forwarded to his sister in Lund, address: Lilla Graengatan, 5, care P. A. Malmo.

Respectfully,

MARTIN OLSEN.

AN OPINION GIVEN.

Recently Mr. J. B. Thomas, of North Dakota, visiting the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, and after carefully examining the country located in Winchester, he writes to Mr. V. Richards, Land and Immigration Agent, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Baltimore, Maryland, as follows: "I have been in pretty every state and territory of the United States, and my frank is my opinion that this valley surpasses all other sections in the Union. The lands are low in price, and produce profitable crops. I thank you for directing me here, and solicit those seeking pleasant and profitable homes to locate in this country."
