NO. 248. SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1893. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVI.

WAR ON CLEVELAND.

The President to Be Arraigned in the Senate on Monday.

STEWART CREATES A SENSATION.

The Chief Executive Accused of Violating the Constitution of the United States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—The President of the United States will be arraigned in the United States Senate on Monday for violating the spirit of the Constitution, in endeavoring to destroy the independence of the law-making branch of the government, by seeking to coerce Congress into the passage of the repeal bill. A notice to this effect was clearly intended in a resolution presented this morning by Senator Stewart, Nevada, upon which he announced he would address the Senate on Monday. The resolution declares the independence of the co-ordinate departments of the government must be maintained and the use of the power and influence of one department to control the action of another is a violation of the Constitution and destructive of our form of government. The indication of the resolution created a sensation and the discussion of the matter on Monday will attract great attention. As indicated the silver senators will divert the discussion of the Senate in the alleged attempt of the President to control Congress.

The resolution was then taken up. Turpie, of Ind. argued against its adoption.

WANTING TO BORROW.

Cattle Sam Meets with Refusal in Paris.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A dispatch to the Zeitung from Paris says the negotiations of the United States to raise a gold loan of fifty millions at one-half per cent have collapsed through the demands of the syndicate that was to advance the money and the intervention of the French government. France wanted reciprocal treaties and the tariff on French goods in return for permitting the official listing of the proposed bonds on the Paris bourse. The United States refused to treat on that basis. Overtures have since been made in London for raising the loan.

ADVICES FROM BRAZIL.

Negotiations Still Pending.—The Forces of the Rebels.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Private advices from Rio de Janeiro say the situation is unchanged. The rebel fleet still threatens bombardment. Negotiations are still progressing and business is partially resumed in spite of the threatening aspect, though it is thought possible that through the efforts of the representatives of foreign governments the matter may be patched up. It is understood the terms under consideration are the raising of Peixoto and the pardon of the rebels. Peixoto is constantly surrounded by body guards, fearing assassination. It is also reported that the bombardment is postponed pending advices from the relief delegation which arrived in England yesterday.

AN OFFICIAL REPORT.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—The following official dispatch was received by the Brazilian delegation here, dated Rio de Janeiro, Sept. 22, 5 p. m.: "The city has resumed its customary aspect. It has been investigated by means of the railways which connect the state of Rio de Janeiro with Minas Geraes, San Paulo (of which Santos is the port) never suffered from food. The rebels never succeeded for an instant in taking possession of a single point on shore, neither at Nictheroy, nor Santos. There is discouragement in their ranks. Every day some submit themselves to the government, and both chambers continue their sittings regularly. President Peixoto has informed them that he has confidence in proving the state of siege. No constitutional guarantee has been suspended. The newspapers appear without restriction to all shades. Enlistments increase against the association of all who have ventured to disturb the order and normal working of our institutions."

SWEDEN.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 22. [SPECIAL.]—A rumor among the court officials says that Sweden is going to join the triple alliance, and that the whole matter will be settled as soon as Emperor William arrives at Wisbaden. It is certainly true that the Emperor is anxious to have Sweden in the triple alliance, and it is said he has invited King Oscar.

"A declaration of war" is what a Stockholm daily calls a speech which a Liberal member of the Riksdag made at a mass meeting. He branded the administration as "a mismanagement of the affairs of the state."

Lieutenant Zetterman, of Eskilstuna, and Mrs. Hedin, of Stockholm, who are twins, completed their eighth year the other day. They are both hale and hearty and look as though they might easily put in another decade.

The Daily News (Dagens Nyheter) of Stockholm, asserts that most of the Swedish missionaries sent to China are poorly equipped for their work. They do not know of the language, and their culture in general is not apt to make much of an impression on such a highly cultured people as the Chinese.

A new church will be built at Vadstena at a cost of 250,000 crowns.

Jacques Valette, a native of Rouen, France, has died at Hofors 28 years, and seems to all intents and purposes to be a Swede, and is certainly greatly allowed with Swedes. Still he remains a Frenchmen to the core. He even sends his sons to France to serve their regular term in the army in order that they may, if need be, perform their duty to "their country and the republic."

THINGS POLITICAL.

Democratic Primaries Throughout the City Tonight.

AFRO-AMERICANS ORGANIZE.

Officers in the Third Precinct Nominate W. S. Seymour, Joseph Warren and R. P. Morris.

The Democrats of the city will assemble in the various municipal wards tonight in response to the call of their central committee to nominate candidates to be voted for at the coal election. It is stated, however, that the primaries will either endorse the actions of the Independent Citizens and separate simply adjourn without either endorsing or breaking such action and await the results of the convention of the committee of fifty.

ORGANIZATION OF THE THIRD.

A meeting of the Independent Citizens' delegates of the Third municipal ward was held last night at the residence of Frank H. Kimball for the purpose of nominating three candidates from that district. The delegates assembled, Mr. Byers, presided and R. P. Morris acted as secretary.

Nominations were made as follows: R. P. Morris by A. S. Gedney; Joseph Warren by W. J. Newman; August W. Carlson by John L. Schoner; Thomas J. Merrill by W. H. Rivers; W. S. McCornick by Elias A. Smith; Marion J. Gillespie by John Green; Arthur Parsons by W. R. Dougall.

The vote resulted:

Joseph Warren	11
R. P. Morris	11
W. S. McCornick	11
A. W. Carlson	7
Marion J. Gillespie	7
Thomas J. Merrill	7
Arthur Parsons	7

Messrs Warren and McCornick were declared the choice of the meeting vote on motion of A. S. Gedney. Mr. Morris was nominated by acclamation.

The following campaign committee was then appointed:

Sixteenth ward—M. J. Gillespie.
Seventh ward—W. S. McCornick.
Nineteenth ward—John H. Hosmer.
Twenty-second ward—Joseph S. Hyde.
Twenty-third ward—J. C. Sansonetti.
Center ward—John Green.

W. A. Byers was made chairman of the committee.

SOME REASONS AND POWERS ADDUCED.

For a considerable time past prominent Liberals have canvassed for the resignation of John Morris as chairman of the Liberal city committee. This demand has been occasioned by the sorry status of political affairs and the idea that Mr. Morris was not equal to the emergency. Half one of the latter's colleagues: "John is a good fellow but he is not a politician and can no more lead the Liberal hosts to victory in the coming election than Al. Kelly can hope to be elected mayor of Salt Lake. But when it comes to putting up for "stuff" he is all right. We want Powers to take hold again and then we can make a good fight."

This is only a simple expression of sentiments and for the last few days there has been such a constant clamor in the Liberal camp that Mr. Morris has proved a plausive communication tendering his resignation and at the same time requesting Judge Powers to step into his official shoes. The letter has succeeded to be so of course. Times are too hard and money too scarce for the Mormons to be able to get $10,000 for his services this year but it is stated that he must be handsomely paid for the attention he will give to political affairs and the neglect that will consequently attend his law practice.

INDEPENDENT CITIZENS' CONVENTION.

Home-Made Soap.

The enterprising firm of Jennings-Hardy Company have in their show window a fine representation of the Temple carved out of large cakes of native laundry soap. All parties interested in home industry will view this handsome cut with interest, not only because it is artistic but also because it shows that a superior quality of home made soap can be produced. Mr. B. F. Grant, manager of the company, who has charge of the carving and manufacture of the fine three laundry soaps, informed a News reporter that the company are in a position to supply the demand for the fine article and are able to compete with the eastern manufacturers. They expect soon to move into the new factory, where they will be able to do all orders promptly. As the factory part of the business consists of boiling, and as they must every requirement of quality, they are wasting the patronage they are receiving, and should have more pay taken to bring them, like all good home industries, into prominence and prosperity.

REORGANIZATION OF STUDENTS.

A Popular Institution of the Latter-day Saints College Commences Its Regular Session.

After the regular opening exercises of this society last night, Professor Dunn stated that, according to the announcement in the catalogue of the college, the faculty had appointed Brigham John T. Woolley chairman of the society for the entering year. He also announced that in the regular list of last year's officers would be added two more, a first and a second vice president. The election of officers, occurring in the following week, was then proceeded with. Secretary, Miss Maria Junius; corresponding secretary, Frank Benjamin; first vice president, Brigham A. Pulsipher; second vice president, Gwendolin Lewis. Short speeches of acceptance were made by each of the newly elected officers.

Professor Dunn addressed the society. He said it was first organized five years ago for the special benefit of students who have not the chance of listening to advanced literary and scientific lectures in their regular courses. In all true education there is one thing we must carefully guard against and that is becoming dissatisfied or pessimistic. Just as soon as we lose that and become intolerable views on different subjects then does our progress become retarded and finally stand still. There is no man knows everything, and the more one knows the more he sees there is to know. As he looks ever forward, seeking the peaks of his mountain home, reaches the top of it, a towering summit he beholds far above him yet one more, the seemingly insurmountable, man for never yet has been able to reach the highest mountain in our material world, much less so in the world of knowledge. Isaac Newton, a man before whose superior intellect the brightest among us is but a spark, in his last days used to lay down, we his said, "I seem to be a child that has been playing upon the seashore picking up here and there a pretty pebble and a gaily tinted shell and examining them, while the whole ocean of knowledge lies before me yet beyond me." This organization has started out to make or true students. It is a students' society. We welcome to its sessions all who feel disposed to mingle with us, and trust that this society may be the temple of learning with a feeling akin to frivolity that spirit may be felt when by the pursuing of education that impressionable time walls.

Mamie Lewis's song in a charming manner rendered a musical selection.

Instructor Maynard addressed the society for a short time. He dwelt upon the term society and showed how it was that we may advance our social interests by mingling in each others' company. There are two kinds of society. When man cannot be with his fellow beings he can yet live in his own society, in his own thoughts. He was here in school in such a condition, this would tend to degrade rather than elevate him. Let him be with associated persons and he will advance, but let him find company lower than himself, he will retrograde. Man is a sociable being and so such filled for society. We hope that those who come among us may not go backward but rather advance.

Chairman Woolley briefly addressed the assemblage and the benediction was pronounced by George Crosby.

Adjourned for one week.

It Was Augusta.

In the News of yesterday the arrest of Sophia Anderson, a witness who had failed to attend before the grand jury, was mentioned. The christian name should have read "Augusta." The record of the Third district court, however, cases begun, to which said the error was only attributable.

Elder Joseph H. Thurber of Richfield, Sevier county, Utah, arrived in Salt Lake City last night, Sept. 22, on his way home from the Samoan Islands, where he has labored as a missionary. He has been absent since March 1, 1891. Elder Thurber says he has enjoyed good health during his absence. The mission is prosperous and the Saints fare well. Lately the Josephites have started work on the islands and succeeded in gaining some converts.

THE DISTRICT COURT

The Nelson Embezzlement Case Occupied a Large Portion of Today.

IT HAS GONE TO THE JURY.

The Jury Array Arraigned.—Several Small Civil Matters Come Before Judge Zane.

The trial of Attorney M. Mattelle Nelson on a charge of embezzlement had not concluded when the Third district court adjourned yesterday afternoon. Towards the latter part of the day the defendant went on the witness stand and testified in his own behalf. His testimony was to the effect that he and Gordon were partners at the time he was to hand the Christiansen note, and that Gordon had received $700 from Mr. Chamberlin, being a part of the $900. Gordon had retained $25 of this money and turned over to Nelson $675. He stated that at par and subsequently it was agreed as between himself and the plaintiff. Mr. Chamberlin had at one time indicated that he would give $100 or $200 to the new matter, but his instructions from his client were not to accept less than $500. Gordon and he dissolved partnership and the former then became a party to these proceedings against him.

The morning Attorney Gordon was recalled to the stand for the prosecution. He was asked to cross-examination by Attorney Cherry whether he considered forty per cent a reasonable and proper charge for the collection of a claim such as he understood this to be against the Daily mining company, but the question was objected to by the prosecution and the objection sustained.

The arguments by counsel occupied greater part of the day.

At 6:30 the jury were still out.

THE AROUP MURDER CASE.

Charles Aroup, a youth about 18 years of age, was arraigned on a charge of murder in the second degree. The affair took place on July 3rd in the present year and the Chinaman died on the spot.

The court appointed Attorney Rolly to defend and the trial was set for Sept. 26th.

SAD AND UNEXPECTED.

A Patient Passes Away in the Office of His Medical Adviser.

Conroy Taylor has ordered an inquest and may hold a post mortem examination of the body of John Walker who died so suddenly at the office of Dr. A. E. Smith, between four and five o'clock yesterday afternoon. It appears that Mr. Walker had been suffering from a severe attack of quinsy for several days and was under treatment by Dr. Smith. His residence was No. 34, Eight East street, and yesterday morning he came down town and went to the office of his physician. Dr. Smith being present administered hypodermically morphine. He says he absented at about one-fourth to a grain. During the evening his respiration was very low and he said into a stupor. Dr. Smith and Sharp sought to resuscitate him and partially succeeded. Then he suddenly became unconscious and died almost immediately.

Mr. Walker came to this city about six months ago from Savannah, Ga., bringing with him a wife and daughter, who are almost heartbroken over the death of the husband and father. The deceased was thirty-eight years of age and since his residence here has been engaged in the plumbing business, and was manager of the American Plumbing association at the time of his death.

"There is nothing strange about the man's death at all," said a well known physician today. "It was simply a case of heart failure resulting from overexertion caused by quinsy. The symptoms given him would not have injured a child."

The funeral will take place from Evans's undertaking parlors on Monday afternoon next at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of the Masons, of which the deceased was a member.

A LITTLE "GUN PLAY."

But It Got John Ensworth Into Much Trouble.

An employee of the city named John Ensworth, about 30 years of age, was arrested last evening by one of Sheriff H. Quinn's deputies on a charge of threatening his wife, Lena A. Ensworth, and Edith Shaw. The trouble occurred at 302 west Sixth South street, where the parties reside. The complaint was sworn to by the independent Mrs. Ensworth's story is to the effect that Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Ensworth were quarreling over some children and grew exceedingly excited at the house. He says he found talking and yesterday he went and thought to quiet her with a little gun play. He meets that the weapon was not loaded, although he charged it.

When taken before Commissioner Dickson he had signed bail in the sum of $500. The commissioner accepted the bondsmen until this afternoon, but decided to release him on bond. He therefore went to the county jail.

When the defendant appeared again at 3:30 the Commissioner fined him $5 and costs, admonishing Ensworth to the effect he paid.

It is understood that as the husband and wife had filed in bankruptcy, the various claims, to the together longer, they have recently separated by agreement forthwith. There are three young children to be considered.

THEY WERE BURNED.

That is the Story New Told of the Missing Crematory Records.—What Dr. Beatty Says.

Health Commissioner Beatty was asked by a News reporter this afternoon what he proposed to do in the matter of the disappearance of the crematory records and he said: "The council is aware of the facts in the case, that is some of the councilmen are. If a prosecution is to be commenced it should be by that body. I have endeavored to bring about an investigation and partially succeeded. The fine and cry was the necessary cause that I was playing the part of a prosecutor and McMillan was a whitewasher. It was not persecution with me before—it would not be again. But as I said the council knows of these things and it will not act. As to the records I have lost the further thing to say that not only a part of it is missing but the whole thing is gone and can be where he found. I know that it would show a discrepancy of between one hundred and fifty and five hundred tons of garbage per week between what the city paid for and what was actually removed. An investigation should be instituted by all means but I am powerless. The very fact I am having the garbage removed at $1000 a month less now than when Stowell was at the helm, and the additional fact that the service is better in every way should focus an inquiry."

From another source the reporter learned that the record was burned during a shift that Mr. Springer, a man in one of Stowell's, was in charge of the crematory.

CALLS MABRY DOWN.

President W. E. Hubbard Telegraphs a Denial of the Clergyman's Statement.

W. E. Hubbard, president of the Chamber of Commerce, doesn't take very kindly to the misstatements credited to Dr. Mabry of this city in his recent lecture at Fulton City, Iowa, on Utah. These statements were first published in the Dubuque Times, and were reproduced in the News last evening. Mr. Hubbard, last night, sent the following telegram to Ed W. Duncan, member of the Dubuque bar, with whom he is acquainted:

"The statements of Dr. Mabry, as published, are utterly false. There are more public improvements being made in Salt Lake City today than there have been in any other city, population considered. If Mr. Mabry makes these statements we should ask the people of Iowa to keep their money at home. We have enough to do to take care of our own people and ask no assistance from outside. We cannot believe Mr. Mabry would make such statements. Please see the editor and correct the false impression in your daily papers, and oblige, yours respectfully,

W. E. HUBBARD.

To the Dubuque Times Mr. Hubbard also telegraphed as follows:

"Press correct statements of Rev. Dr. Mabry in your special dispatch. Salt Lake City, Ia. He has no authority from his church nor anyone else to beg money for Utah people. Salt Lake City has more public improvements under way, but fewer idle men and is in better condition than any other city of its size. Utah has greater resources and is in better condition than any other state. W. E. HUBBARD."

President Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce.

This plain denouncement of the Rev. Mabry's assertions and begging expedition is a proper step under the circumstances. The church to which he belongs is not upheld by the tenets advanced by their minister, and in their criticism of him make personal reference to certain events which occurred when they were induced to accept him for a second term as their pastor.

On a Promissory Note.

The Deseret National bank of Salt Lake brought suit in the Third district court this afternoon against Isaac J. Hobbs, Nephi Pratt and R. T. Pettigrew to recover $500 on a promissory note, with interest from July 7th, 1893, at 8 per cent per annum.

Lederach Young is the plaintiff's attorney.

BUSINESS AND MINES.

Money Lenders Find in Salt Lake a Good Field.

SAMPLES FROM A NEW COAL FIND.

After Governor McConnell—Paying Placer Mines.—Various Items.

Dr. Bartlett, of Los Angeles, who is staying in Salt Lake for a few weeks, for the benefit of his wife's health, thinks this is a good field for those who have money to loan. The doctor has a little spare cash himself, and as evidence of his conviction in the line indicated he has invested a goodly sum in city bonds. He regards them as a splendid investment, for the cash value, in view of the fact that they can be purchased at a heavy discount. Nineteen cents on the dollar, with interest added, make five per cent city bonds, as the doctor figures it, a safe investment that bearing money at ten per cent. Of course the city coffers by the depreciation of its bonds through municipal extravagance, and the taxpayers have to foot the bill.

NEW COAL FIND.

Samples of the coal found 12 miles east of Salt Lake City, by Messrs. Sidney and Schill, were were brought in last night and subjected to a satisfactory test. Local capitalists have signified a willingness to develop the vein and see what there is in it. The progress by this line will be watched with great interest.

AT THE CITY TERRITORY.

Word comes from Cedar, Washington state, that Benjamin Bergmann, receiver of the McConnell-Chambers company, has taken out a writ against the members of that corporation and numerous parties to whom transfers of company property were made just prior to the company being adjudged insolvent. W. J. McCombs, vice-president of the company, is Governor McConnell, of Idaho. The complaint of the receiver alleges grave fraud on the part of the corporation. W. A. Winslow, secretary, is charged with making a false statement of the condition of the company to the creditors at the beginning of the year, thus obtaining an extension of time and further credit. The company owes $40,000 to San Francisco and $40,000 to Portland, besides $50,000 to divers other creditors. Members of the company are charged with incorporating as a part of a conspiracy to shift from themselves liabilities for debts. It is alleged that the firm was insolvent before the incorporation.

IDAHO.

A dispatch from Marcus, Wash., says that the whole country there is excited by reports of a wonderfully rich placer strike on a tributary of the Kettle river. Two Chinese brought $2000 in gold, some of the nuggets weighing $25, and exchanged it for provisions. Certain companies and settlers at Boundary Falls, noted for wild discoveries and disorders that have turned the head of every miner and prospector in the section. Claims are being rapidly staked and are paying from $50 to $100 a day to a man.

Beaver Assay. In Utah and Idaho the office of assay in the smelters, including those in this city, are becoming liberal. Many smelters have closed in June are resuming operations, and with silver at 75 or 80 cents, and some one-sixteenth from the railroads, they expect to run all winter. The miners of Wood River, Idaho, have made a proposition to the Union Pacific to ship about fifty tons a day from that district. The Cœur d'Alene mines are raising about 1500 tons per month, part of which comes to this city.

The Weiser, Idaho, Signal has the following: "Fleet Greene is down from Long valley, where he has put in the last four months piping on the Greene placers. The run yielded fair as the result of three men's work, the expense being small. The Greene mines are about eight miles from Van Wyck, near the head of the canyon of the Payette, and without doubt that will yet prove to be a very rich section. Mr. Greene says that down in the canyon two brothers found a prospect early last spring but which was unbearably to water. They constructed a small reservoir and succeeded in utilizing a little snow water for last year's work, and this year they took out pick. Tom Pike and others have some ground near the Greene claim which prospects well but on which water has not yet been brought. A large amount of ground can also be worked near by in a flat where no dwelling or mining can be attained. The bedrock is from two to four feet deep and the pay streak of gravel about the bed rock."

Idaho Bullion. Ben Solomo, William Libby and Ed Reed have leased some well paying ground at the mouth of Chickahominy gulch, which they discovered a few days ago. They are now digging a ditch to convey water onto it. Mr. Solomo has also leased the conglomerate mine at the head of the Chickahominy vein, yielding a claim recently located by Messrs. Libby and Reed. The ledge is large and the claim all prospects in free gold. Mr. Solomo will do some development work on it before he leaves. There is water enough to run the Blaine mill in which lead running for some time. Ed Harrison, who has a lease on the Lost Boy, has out considerable ore, and will get into a good deal more before winter. Libby also has a great deal out of the Chickahominy, which will also be milled. Charley and Frank Cooper have several tons at the mill to be worked and expect to have a running call before the snow comes. Inside a month the Boulder mill will be running. A man who came here a few weeks ago has discovered a fine gold ledge a little north of where the Cole brothers had once an extensive outcrop this year and Hardy creek.
