Alberta Stake Conference.

CARDSTON, Alberta, N. W. T., Canada, February 28th, 1896.—The quarterly conference of the Alberta Stake of Zion was held Sunday and Monday, Feb. 23rd and 24th, 1896, President C. O. Card, presiding. After the opening exercises, the Bishops reported their various wards as being in a favorable condition temporally and spiritually, the members, generally speaking, being alive to their duties, although there was still room for improvement. The members of the High Council, who had been laboring as Home Missionaries in the Stake followed, testifying of a renewal of diligence among the Saints, and also of the good feelings manifested towards them in their visits to non-members. Reports from the different quorums, the traveling Priests, Sunday Schools, Relief Societies and Associations were given by their representatives, showing a laudable energy among a majority of those enrolled in these organizations, especially among the youth who were seeking to qualify themselves for farther usefulness by gaining knowledge. The statistical report of the Stake was read, showing a total of seven hundred and eighty souls, being an increase of seventy-[illegible] during the past year. A report of the tithes paid in 1895 was also given, showing an increase of ten per cent per capita above the previous year.

Impressive addresses were made by Elders Card, Wolf and Williams of the Stake presidency, Patriarch Hamm[illegible] and other leading Elders of the Stake, speaking of the gift of tongues and interpretation thereof, of prophecy, so freely poured out upon the Saints recently in this region, and encouraging the Saints to a continuance in diligence and faithfulness, especially in the care of our children, in guarding them from the snares the adversary is continually setting for them, and leading them by precept and example in the ways of purity and righteousness; of the necessity of strictly observing the law of tithing, that the blessings of the Lord might be continued unto us, and the land be sanctified for our sakes; the strict observance of the Word of Wisdom; the necessity of a full and complete organization of the different helps and governments necessary in a ward, of wisdom being exercised in regard to the gifts of the Gospel, to guard against the inroads of the adversary, of our duty in complying strictly with the laws of the land, the payment of our obligations, and living in peace and unity.

The attendance at the conference both days was unusually large, the weather being remarkably fine; the Spirit of the Lord was poured out to a great degree upon speakers and hearers and caused a time of general rejoicing.

SYLVESTER LOW,
Stake Clerk.

OBITUARY NOTE.

EMELINE WHITING COX.

Died, at her home in Manti, of old age, on March 4th, 1896, Emeline Whiting Cox. Deceased was the daughter of Elisha Whiting and Sally Hewlett, who were natives of Vermont, but removed to Nelson, Portage Co., Ohio, in the early settlement of that state, where the subject of this sketch was born July 23rd, 1813. In 1832 she was married to Frederick Walter Cox; some time after she and her husband embraced the Gospel and removed to Far West, Mo. They endured all the privations, hardships and persecutions to which the Saints were subjected during their residence in that state. Brother Cox being a man of great faith and marked ability, was frequently called to perform missions in different parts of the United States, consequently his wife was often left to care for her little ones alone; but as she was a woman of rare executive ability and by nature specially adapted to the care of children, she performed these duties wisely and well.

After being driven from Missouri they settled in Lima, where they resided nearly six years, but were finally driven from their home, which was set on fire by the mob before their eyes, also their stacks of grain, outbuildings, etc., leaving them destitute, homeless, almost penniless, but glad to escape with their lives. They next settled in Nauvoo, but were only permitted to remain there a few months, when they again took up their line of march, this time toward the setting sun. At the next halting place, Mt. Pisgah, Sister Cox had more than her share of the sickness and sorrow which seemed to be the portion of the Saints during their sojourn at that place. Her beloved mother and two of her own little daughters, aged seven and two years, followed each other to the grave in quick succession, and this while she was sick almost unto death, to feel her life hung trembling in the balance for nearly three months. They afterwards removed to Council Bluffs, where they were again called to part with another child, this time their infant boy.

In the spring of 1852 Brother Cox and his family crossed the Missouri river and began their long, wearisome journey across the Plains. On the banks of the Platte river another little daughter was born, who lived and prospered in spite of the unfavorable circumstances attending her advent. On the 6th of October, 1852, Sister Cox, with her family, once more found a resting place in Manti where she has since resided. She endured all the hardships and privations which were the lot of the pioneer settlers of Sanpete valley, and in addition to these, they were constantly harassed by hostile Indians. In the spring of 1865, Brother Cox was called to take a mission to England; in August following his last child, a little girl, was born, and when the little one was eighteen months old, Sister Cox was afflicted with a cancer, the removal of which nearly cost her life, and the following summer, when the baby was two years old, she was called from earth, thus adding another grievous trial which came like a crushing weight in the absence of the husband and father.

Sister Cox was an exemplary wife and mother, a faithful, considerate friend, and a conscientious Latter-day Saint. She was a woman of intelligence and refinement, an agreeable companion, with a keen sense of humor and an inexhaustible fund of anecdote and reminiscence of her early life. She was the mother of twelve children, eight of whom survive her. Their respect and love for her was unbounded and of her it can be truly said, "Her children rise up and call her blessed," and also that she has fought the good fight, has kept the faith, and is gone to receive the rewards which her long years of toil, toil and sacrifice entitle her.

Her remains were tenderly borne to their last resting place by her grandsons, who hold her memory in grateful remembrance. "After life's fitful fever she sleeps well."—[Com.

GRAVEL CURED.

(Philadelphia, Penn., Item.)

A healthier, heartier, happier man than John J. Neill, of 2317 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, could not be found in a day's search. The fact that he is still alive is a constant wonder to his friends.

In the fall of 1892 he began to suffer from stone in the bladder, and his sufferings were indescribable. Consulting several physicians in Philadelphia, he was told that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he dread the result, for if unsuccessful it meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind he heard of

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Although disheartened, on July 1 1893, he bought a bottle of it, and within a month had experienced beneficial results, and before he had finished the third bottle, the gravel was completely dissolved and his sufferings at an end.

Mr. Neill feels that he owes a lasting debt of gratitude to Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and his disorders of the bladder and urinary organs, says: "It will effect a cure if one be possible."

Favorite Remedy is prescribed with unfailing success for rheumatism, dyspepsia and nerve troubles which it has cured many that were considered beyond the aid of medicine. All druggists $1.

COUGHS AND COLDS.

ELY'S PINEOLA BALSAM is a sure Remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat and for asthma. It soothes, quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy.

Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use. Many who suppose their cases to be consumption are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. Sold by druggists.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.
