BREACH OF PROMISE.

A Young Lady Sues for Five Thousand Dollars.

Miss Annie Nichols entered suit in the Fourth district court on Saturday against D. C. Heistie, for breach of promise of marriage. Miss Nichols claims that on September 8, 1893, in this city, defendant promised to marry her on the 10th day of the same month, and that he has not kept his promise though she is ready, and has been since the time said promise was made, to fulfill her part of the bargain. The lady now sues Mr. Heistie for the sum of $5,000 for failure in keeping his bargain.

Police Pickings.

Bert Lucas and William Myers were arrested on Saturday by officers Davenport and Sullivan, charged with gambling.

Charles E. Corey was arrested yesterday by Officer Ferris, on being drunk.

Jacob Hertz was arrested for vagrancy by Officer Sullivan this morning on the U. P. grounds.

Charles Kruse, who, it is supposed, stole some clothing, was arrested by Officer Sullivan this morning.

Notes and Personals.

A special car with the general master mechanic of the U. P. came in from Salt Lake and went north this morning.

E. Dickinson, general manager of the U. P., came in from north and went east this morning.

Mr. McCormally of the U. P. went east this morning.

A few members of the Utah Legislature were in the city yesterday for the purpose of discussing the relative school question with the municipal officers at Ogden.

Ole Olsen will be the next attraction at the Grand Opera house, on Friday evening, March 2nd.

The grand jury has before it on Saturday the case of the Swan burglars and holdups.

The cases of Daniel Hamer vs Weber county and Weber county vs Daniel Hamer have been postponed by the court until March 3rd.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, - FEB 25, 1894.

First District Court.

Business was transacted in Judge Smith's court as follows:

The divorce suit of Pierson vs Pierson was set for March 8th.

Parley Young, of Fairview, arraigned on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, alleged to have been committed with Louisa Briggs in January of 1893, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to fifty days' imprisonment.

It was the turn of the notorious Anna Marks (variously known as Marks the lawyer and the Queen of Eureka) to appear in court. The charge against her was for resisting Sheriff R. L. Scott, of Juab county, while he was serving an execution on her in favor of Juab county. The officer's testimony was that he was levying on some of Mrs. Marks's personal property when that lady placed her hand to her bosom. The officer seized her wrist and discovered a revolver. After disarming her, he was permitted to take the property. The jury came in at 5 o'clock in the evening and reported they could not agree. The court discharged them. It is reported they stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal.

Hank Mikesell was tried on a charge of larceny, alleges to have been committed with Swan Pantle, near Tintic. He was found guilty and sentenced to fifty days in the penitentiary. The trial was held with closed doors. The woman recently gave birth to a child.

A Fire.

Albert Whipple's residence and grocery on Provo beach were on Saturday night destroyed by fire. The loss is $1,000; insurance, $500. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp. Mrs. Whipple was walking across the floor with the lamp when her foot caught in a crack. She fell and the lamp was dashed on the floor and exploded.

Notes.

B. M. Duggins was on Saturday tried in Justice Wangsgard's court on the charge of permitting minors in the church of Mrs. L. C. Duggins, defendant's wife. It was clearly proven that minors were in the saloon, but it appeared from the testimony that Duggins had not seen them. The bartender had, but on the theory that Mr. Duggins and the bartender were both agents of Mrs. Duggins and neither could be held responsible for the acts of the other, a verdict of not guilty was returned.

The trial of Elijah Cox on the charge of petit larceny was commenced in the justice's court, but was not concluded. Cox is charged with stealing some dried fruit and other articles from the house of Mrs. C. E. Murphy, a neighbor. The goods were found in his possession, which he explained by saying they were thrown into his yard by some unknown person, who, he had supposed, was charitably disposed.

The Scandinavians of Provo are arranging for a ball to be given at the Second ward meeting house on the evening of March 1st, the proceeds to go to Mrs. Spilsbury, whose husband recently died while on a mission in Sweden.

Mrs. Annie Atkin has gone to the Milwaukee Fair.

LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH, - FEB 26, 1894.

Wants More Borrowing Power.

At the meeting of the city council held last Wednesday evening a communication was received from the mayor, calling attention to the fact that the city has exceeded its borrowing capacity by about $5,000, and as the amount to be received during the next two years from all sources would be required in the necessary expenses of the municipal establishment, he suggested as a remedy that Congress be petitioned to extend the limit a small percentage, so that the city's creditors may be paid and never any accusations.

The case of plaintiff Henry Ballard as street superintendent, he was sustained by the courts.

Gave a Blind Animal.

Policeman George Adams was arrested on a complaint sworn to by M. A. M. Sai, charging him with grand larceny. It appears to be a "tangled in a tangle," however, as the act complained of was simply getting an animal to the county road, from which, in the blind, it was a stranger to law.

Miscellaneous Items.

General Arnostagle's lecture in the auditorium of the Agricultural College, on Orchella, was very interesting. His subject, "Mollusks and the Moon," is to grace this evening at the B. Y. College. Will countless stars be a full house.

The theatrical entertainment given in the fifteenth ward on Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Sunday school, was excellent and drew a very full house.

The blockade prevailed yesterday from Salt Lake attending the princess' ball. The party was far from being a financial success, and the boys will have to net a great many extra thousand cans to get even.

Parties who have been getting out timber in Logan canyon state that the snow is deeper there than it has been for many years.

The latest fad in the way of raising chicken or charity funds in Logan is the "mountain" supper. An extensive menu is prepared, but the bill of fare contains only numbers, with nothing to indicate the nature of the edible represented by each figure. The mesh may be imagined; so may the size of the bill in case the order is unfortunate, as each article has a valuation in proportion to its cost.

ALL CAN GO TO THE FAIR.

The Chance of a Lifetime—Don't Miss Seeing the Second Largest Exposition Ever Held in America.

The obstacle which prevented so many thousand Pacific Coast residents from visiting the World's Fair will not interfere in the case of the great Midwinter Fair in San Francisco. Not only is the distance very much less, but the railroad rates have been reduced so low that the cost of making the trip will have comparatively little weight against the obligation to go. There is also the assurance of hotel, lodging-house and restaurant proprietors that no advantage will be taken of the unusual demand for accommodations by charging more than standard rates during the Fair season.

Who, then, can afford to lose such an invaluable opportunity?

Excepting always the World's Fair, nothing of equal magnitude and importance has ever been seen in America, indeed, we may go much further without transgressing the truth. There are plenty of competent witnesses ready to testify that in some respects—chiefly those of original features which appeal most warmly to the sentiments of the western world—the California Mid-winter International Exposition exceeds in splendid achievement and striking effect similar departments in the great Columbian enterprise.

It is scandalous the hosts of Pacific Coast pride and enthusiasm, it compromises as no other scheme ever has, the united efforts of Pacific Coast industries to show the world what can be done on the great western slope. It will be the greatest awakening the Coast has ever known, and the world, so far from being alone interested spectators, will participate largely in it. There is probably no man in civilization who has not been lulled to some extent by the glory and romance of the Golden West. Yet now for the first time will the world be permitted to witness to greatest in its entirety—in all its unmatched strength and grandeur.

If the reader will take a narrow and grudging view, let the horizon of our observation be broadened. That is a vastly more fine a State or domain than it could only be known that upward of thirty foreign countries are represented, and that a few hours spent viewing their elaborate exhibits will be almost equal to a journey around the world. It will give exhibitors a glimpse of the peculiarities and industrial dissensions of foreign countries that could not otherwise be obtained save at an extended travel and hard study.

In the brief space permitted for this subject it will be impossible to mass all the attractions, and give all the reasons why they should be seen; but a few brief hints in the form of summary may serve as a text to stimulate the desire to see. The ground occupied is upward of two hundred acres in Golden Gate Park, the most beautiful park in America. Cost of the buildings, over $500,000. Area of the main palaces, 10,000 square feet. The splendid spectacle of these imposing structures is worth crossing the continent to see. More than one-third of their space is occupied by foreign exhibits. Exhibits there are a number of unique and spacious State and county buildings. Artistic lower cost $75 feet high in the Grand Central Court. The Park Wheel will swing you up 150 feet in the air. There is a genuine swing canon, a reproduction of the Hawaiian volcanoes, a Japanese tea garden, Chinese, Alaskan and Indian villages and countless other attractions.

When visitors have seen all they wish of the Fair, they may take advantage of the unusually cheap railroad rates to broaden their knowledge of California. The State is full of interesting sites, mostly resorts mountain resorts with natural healing springs that will repay the expense of a visit, and ample time is allowed for all reasonable trips.

Readers who do not understand all that is here intended to will be cheerfully answered with full information if they will simply make their wants known to
