WHY STATE MILITIA IS NECESSARY

Address By Lieut. E. B. Buck, Sixteenth U. S. Infantry, to the Officers and Members of the National Guard of Utah, March 23, 1896.

My subject this morning is an inquiry, "Should Utah train her young men in the military art?" General Jomini, who served under Napoleon the First, and was afterwards chief of staff to the emperor of Russia, said:

"Misfortune will certainly fall upon the land where the wealth of the tax gatherer, of the greedy gambler in stocks, stands in public estimation above the uniform of the brave man who sacrifices his life, health or fortune to the defense of his country."

Thomas Jefferson said:

"For a people who are free and who propose to remain so, a well organized and armed militia is their best security."
