TERRIBLY Exhausting are the Night Sweats which accompany consumption. But they, as well as the paroxysms of coughing, are invariable broken up by Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, which conquers the deadly malady, as well as bronchitis, pneumonia, pleurisy, asthma, diphtheria, and all other affections of the throat, lungs and chest. It saves thousands from untimely graves, and is invaluable in rescuing children from the croup, whooping cough, and quinsy. It is sold by all druggists. daw

Unprecedented Success.

We have positive proof before us that C. N. CRITTENTON of 7, Sixth Avenue, New York City, has sold during the last two months, over fifty thousand bottles of HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR, an article for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing and all affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, leading to Consumption; and from the number of letters we have ourselves received, proclaiming its wonderful cures, we judge that almost as many persons have been cured as there have been bottles sold. We understand that the only papers in which Mr. C. has advertised his article in this city are our DAILY and SUNDAY NEWS. Thus the advertising public will see the necessity of advertising in a paper which makes a demand like the above. A hint to the wise is sufficient.—Daily News, Jan. 12. All druggists sell this article at 50 cents and $1. Depot, CRITTENTON'S, 7 Sixth Avenue, New York City. Great saving by purchasing the large size.

Court adjourned till this morning at 9.30 o'clock.

City Council. — Meeting of the City Council, Tuesday evening, Oct. 29, 1878, Mayor Little presiding.

Bolivar Roberts, by petition, asked that if Ninth South Street were to be opened, he might be permitted to place his fence on the south side of said street, between First and Second East streets, about 20 feet north of the line of his lot, so as to include the old city wall and ditch in his enclosure. Granted during the pleasure of the Council.

The committee on streets and alleys, to whom was referred the petition of Harrison Sperry and others, in relation to a thoroughfare running east and west, in the southern portion of the city, reported that they had given the matter due consideration, and in view of the necessity of a graded street running east and west, recommended that Sixth South Street be graded from the line of the Utah Southern railroad east as far as necessity requires, and that the street supervisor be instructed to grade said street as soon as practicable. Report adopted.

The committee on streets and alleys, to whom was referred the petition of S. A. Woolley, and other residents of the Ninth Ward, asking permission to work out their taxes on the streets and crossings of said ward, reported adversely thereon, but recommended the petitioners have the privilege of paying a portion of their taxes in labor, under the supervisor's direction. Report adopted.

The same committee presented a report on the petition of Messrs. Butler & Manning, asking to put up a platform on Second South Street. They recommended the petition be granted, provided a railing be put up at each end of said platform, the work to be done under the City Marshal's direction, and to remain during the pleasure of the Council. Report adopted.

The same committee reported favorably on the petition of Joseph Hepworth, which asked permission to refix a coal stand on Second South Street, to be done to the acceptance of the City Marshal, and during the pleasure of the Council. Report adopted.

The marshal was instructed to require all platforms hereafter erected, to be built not to exceed eight feet in length, three feet in width and two feet in height.

The committee on streets and alleys, to whom was referred the petition of Messrs. Wheeler & Carney, asking permission to erect a platform for loading and unloading hay, grain, etc., in front of their place of business, on First East Street, recommended the petition to be granted under the usual restriction, and subject to the supervision of the city marshal.

A bill was presented for work on the Seventh West Street canal, amounting to $62.50. Allowed.

The council adjourned till next Tuesday evening at 8.30 o'clock.

The Miles Case.—Mrs. Foreman placed upon the stand for the prosecution. The witness was at a wedding party in the house of A. M. Cannon, on Thursday evening last. Saw there the defendant and Miss Emily Spencer. Heard Miss Owen say to Mr. Miles that he called Miss Spencer his wife. He did not deny the assertion. Did not see nor hear any particular quarrel. Was in another room and heard loud voices in the parlor. Heard Miss Owen say to Miles that he had tried to seduce her. Did not hear nor see Mr Miles attempt to control Miss Spencer in any way. Did not hear nor see anything said or done by Miles which would induce her to believe that Miles and Miss Spencer were man and wife. Did not hear Miss Owen charge Miles more than once with being married to Miss Spencer. At this point Miss Owen left the room for a short time. Miss Emily Spencer was sitting in the parlor not saying nor doing anything. Did not see Miles afterward.

Cross-examination; Miss Owen said she would not come into the room to play for Miles' Wife—Miss Emily Spencer; that Miles had called her wife and Miss Owen wanted to know what she was. Did not hear Miles say anything in reply. Did not hear Emily Spencer called by any other name than Miss Spencer. Miss Owen in her remarks to Miles called the other lady by the name of Miss Emily Spencer.

Re-direct; the witness said that it was customary to address plural wives by their maiden names rather than by the names of their husband. The witness knew as a matter of fact that two marriages were to be celebrated at the house of Mr. Cannon. Mr. Miles was the husband in the case.

Re-cross-examination—the witness did not see Miles married to any person. Did not know that Miles was married except by common report. Heard members of Mr. Cannon's family say that two marriages were to be celebrated that evening. Did not hear any other person make such assertion.

Leo Dykes sworn. Said he was 13 years old. On the evening of Thursday last he was on the porch of A. M. Cannon's house, and, with some of Cannon's boys was looking through the window. Could see what was done and hear what was said inside the house. Saw Miles and Miss Owen there. Did not know Miss Spencer; but saw a lady, not Miss Owen, sitting on the music stool, whom Miles called his wife. Miss Owen went up to the lady on the stool, saying: "I said I would and I will." Miles said, "She is my wife," meaning the lady sitting on the music stool. Miss Owen slapped the other lady, and Miles said several times that he was ashamed of her. Did not hear him call her wife more than once.

Cross examination elicited nothing particular aside from a statement that the windows were all down, and that the persons referred to were about 20 feet away from witness, with several people intervening.

Miss Eliza Foreman called and sworn. She was at A. M. Cannon's house on the night in question. The greater part of her testimony coincided with that given by her mother, Mrs. Foreman. She had not, however, heard that a plural marriage was to be celebrated. Understood that the occasion was a wedding reception given to Mr. Miles and Miss Owen.

President John Taylor then came into court and took the witness stand. He said that he was called and that he acted as the President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Had seen the defendant in his office a week or ten days previous to the date of his alleged marriage. Did not see him in the Endowment house on Tuesday last. When Miles came into the President's office there was a lady apparently with him, who was young and probably of medium outlid. The object of Miles' visit was to consult President Taylor. He spoke of marriage, and of himself in that connection. The witness did not think it proper to tell the substance of the interview, which was in confidence, on the ground, as stated by the law, that a minister of the gospel should not be examined as to any confession made to him by any member of the church in the regular course of church discipline.

A decision was not rendered in the matter last evening.

Court adjourned till this morning at 9.30 o'clock.

This morning President John Taylor took the stand.

The question of last evening was not discussed, nor brought to a point of issue this morning.

The prosecution resumed the examination by asking if at the Miles interview, Wilford Woodruff, Joseph F. Smith and George Reynolds were present. President Taylor stated that George Reynolds was usually there. Believed that Apostles Woodruff and Smith, and other persons were present, and that he consulted with them. Had seen Mr. Miles once before this time, partly on the same business and partly on other business.

There was really nothing very particular to dispose of. Had no definite recollection of the matter. Remembered that a lady, whom he understood to be called Miss Owen made some statement to him, in which she was interested. The witness did not care to answer the question, asked by the prosecution, as to whether he had said to Miles and others that Emily must become the first wife. He said that if the defendant Miles were on trial, he did not see the relevancy of the question. But if he and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter day Saints were on trial, there might be some connection.

The Court decided that the question was a proper one.

After considerable discussion and several arguments pro and con, President Taylor stated that he might relieve the situation and prevent further delay by telling, as he understood them, the circumstances of the case. With consent of the Court, he proceeded: The defendant had been acquainted with Miss Owen, and had made some arrangement with her, several years ago, in England. He left England and followed the sea for some time, finally landing in Australia where he met some of our Elders and embraced the gospel. He came to this Territory and settled in St. George. While there he sent a letter, containing an offer of marriage, to Miss Owen; but had never received a reply, though the lady had written accepting his proposal. Some years, probably 8 or 10, had elapsed in the mean time; and Miles, supposing that Miss Owen had given him up, engaged himself to two other ladies in St. George. He afterward returned to England and renewed his engagement with Miss Owen, and then came here bringing her with him. The two young ladies from St. George were also here; and when the matter was brought before the witness he told them that there was a rule in the Church requiring, in cases of the baptism of a family, that they should accept of the ordinance in order of age—that is the father first, then the mother, then the eldest child and so on; and that the same law should extend, in a measure, to marriage. He said, however, that inasmuch as the whole affair was considerably involved, they were released, so far as the Church was concerned, from their engagements. He also advised them in consideration of the circumstances, to release each other; and that if they entered into any new relations, they would do so on their own responsibility.

Several questions were then asked the witness Taylor, none of which, however related to any matters not included in his statement. After thanking the court for the courtesy shown him, and stating that, if wanted hereafter, he could be found either at his office or residence, he withdrew.

Miss Katie Connelly was then sworn. Said that she had known the defendant for three weeks. Was acquainted with Emily Spencer Miles, with Miss Caroline Owen, and with the family of Angus M. Cannon. Was at Mr. Cannon's house last Thursday. Went there to attend the wedding reception of Mr. Miles and his two wives. About 40 people were present. On entering the room she was introduced to Mrs. Emily Miles and other members of the company. Miss Owen came into the room with Miles, said it was no place for her, spoke to witness and left the room. Mr. Miles then went out and Miss Owen soon returned with him. She demanded that Emily should get up from the piano stool. Mr. Miles told Emily not to arise. Miss Owen slapped Emily, and when Miles remonstrated, threatened to do the same by him. The brother of witness attempted to calm Miss Owen. Mr. Angus M. Cannon then came into the room and said that he could not have such proceedings in his house; that so long as Miss Owen behaved as a lady she was at liberty to stay, when she could not do that she could leave. Miss Owen left the room. Miles said that she could have her way no longer, and that he would not put his wife, Emily Miles, out of the house the first night they were married. Miss Owen came in at supper time and said that she did not know if she had the right, but she would take the head of the table. Witness considered that it was a marriage supper. Mr. Cannon said that they should be thankful for such a supper, and not make any trouble about it. Miss Owen was requested, after supper, to play for the company to dance. She said she would not do it if Emily danced. There was no dancing. Miss Owen left the room. She came back and asked Miss Williams if she had been introduced to the squaws. Mr. Miles and Misses Emily and Julia Spencer left the house when witness did. The witness was introduced to Emily Spencer Miles by the defendant, who said, Miss Connelly, this is my wife, Mrs. Miles. The witness thought that the trouble between the wives was because Miss Owen could not be the first wife. Both Miss Owen and Mr. Miles said so. Miss Owen said that Mr. Miles had bought a sewing machine for Emily Spencer, that she had been to Mr. Taylor, and she could not be the first wife, and that Miles had promised that she should be. Miss Owen said that Emily was to be first, herself second, and Julia third. The ceremony was to take place the Thursday following. Witness said this conversation was at her brother's house two weeks previous. Heard at the reception that Julia Spencer had backed out, but that the other ladies had been married. Defendant, though present, did not take part in this conversation. There was very little said during the evening about the marriage ceremony. Several persons called Emily Mrs. Miles. There was no person present beside Emily Spencer, Miss Owen and Miles' step-mother, that was called Mrs. Miles.

Court took a recess until 1.30 o'clock p.m.

Y. M. M. I. A. MEETING.

The presidents and officers of the Mutual Improvement Associations of Salt Lake County, met, as per call published, at the Council House, Monday evening, Oct. 28. Called to order by Bro. J. F. Wells. Singing. Prayer by M. Bro. H. Hardy. Roll of wards called, nine represented. Bro. M. H. Hardy stated the business of the meeting was to perfect the organization in this Stake of Zion, by electing a superintendent to fill the vacancy caused by Supt. John Nicholson's being away on a mission. Bro. R. C. Badger moved that a committee of five be appointed to consult with Prest. Cannon, and nominate a Supt. of the Mutual Improvement Associations for the Salt Lake Stake of Zion. Carried. Bros. Jos. H. Felt, M. W. Pratt, Hugh Watson, Geo. C. Lambert, and A. Hyde were appointed as said committee.

Bro. Wells gave a brief report of his labors in connection with Bro. M. H. Hardy, in organizing the different Stakes of Zion. He spoke decidedly in favor of keeping the organizations distinct from the Y. L. M. I. A., and spoke of the great amount of good being done by the Associations throughout the Territory. He advocated regular Bible, Book of Mormon and Church History exercises.

Brother Lyman, being called for, responded in a few remarks, encouraging to those interested in mutual improvement. The nominating committee returned and reported the name of Jos. H. Felt for Superintendent, Brothers Geo. C. Lambert and John W. Taylor as 1st and 2nd assistants, and Heber J. Grant as Secretary. The nominations were sustained by unanimous vote of the members present. Bro. Wells announced that there would be a meeting held, shortly, to further perfect the organization of the stakes.

Brother W. J. Silver, being called, stated his ideas of starting a class in connection with our associations for the study of such subjects as are not generally taught in public schools, and named mechanical drawing, painting, and such arts as desirable for the youth of Israel.

Singing. Prayer by Prest. A. M. Cannon. R. C. B.

Coming to Utah.

Surgeons from the National Surgical Institute will be at the Townsend House, Salt Lake City, Utah, November 4th, 5th and 6th, 1878, where they can be consulted by the afflicted. Beware of Counterfeits!!

During the past few months certain parties have been selling, throughout our city and territory, bogus and spurious machines for the genuine Singer Machine, representing themselves as agents for the Singer Co. Almost daily parties are coming to us who have been thus swindled, and want us to exchange their machine for the genuine.

We believe it our duty therefore to warn the people against the bogus and spurious machines now in the market, being sold as the "Improved Singer."

The Singer Manufacturing Co. will not hold themselves responsible for these machines.

The genuine can always be told by its having the words "The Singer Manufg Co." on the top of the arm, also on the trade mark on the side of the arm.
