THE IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

Governor Thomas stated the disadvantage in which the Territory had been placed by the government arbitrarily setting aside sections 16 and 36 as school lands. Many of the best sections have been patented and lost for school purposes while much of the rest was mountainous or arid land. "Utah," he said, "had gone as far ahead in providing public schools as any other State or Territory according to the aid she had received from the national government, and the tax for maintaining the system was very heavy on the citizens. If anything could be done to secure congressional legislation in donating more lands I am in favor of it."

Colonel Hollister said that if the object of the irrigation congress was to have the national congress cede the arid lands to the States and Territories [illegible]

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Business Transacted at Last Nights' Meeting.

Vice-President Nelson presided at the meeting of the Board of Education last evening. There were also in attendance Messrs. Colbath, Duke, Raybould, Newman, Pike, Pratt and Baldwin.

An application was read from Miss Maude Pratt, who asked to be appointed a music teacher in the public schools. The letter was referred to the committee on teachers.

Joseph Price applied for a position as janitor in one of the schools. Referred to the committee on supplies.

The committee on sites and buildings, to whom was referred the proposition of Peter Sinclair, to rent a room for school purposes in the Third Ward, reported that the proposition was accepted. The necessary repairs have been made and it is now occupied as a school. The committee recommended that a lease be executed and this was authorized.

A number of alterations have been made in various buildings, increasing the seating capacity.

The committee asked for authority to arrange for additional room in several localities, as schools are very crowded. The committee was authorized to act.

The best bid for a map of the city was from McAllister & Gibbs, for $147, and, acting on the recommendation of the committee, the board authorized the contract.
