FRAGMENTS.

Z. C. M. I. will be closed tomorrow for stocktaking.

The county clerk has issued marriage licenses to Charlie M. [illegible] and Sarah A. Williams of Murray; William [illegible] of Salt Lake and Minnie [illegible] of St. Louis; Robert E. Lee of Woodruff and Helen Mar Bryson of Bountiful.

Vast quantities of snow are being deposited in the mountains, and the hearts of the farmers are thereby made glad at the promising and assured prospects for a good supply of water for irrigating purposes during the coming summer season.

Members of the Tabernacle choir will please take notice that all parts meet together at the large Tabernacle for rehearsal Thursday night at [illegible]. The place will be heated and made comfortable, and much important work must be done. E. Stephens.

There will be an excellent musical entertainment given in the [illegible] ward meeting house this evening, the proceeds to be used for ward purposes. [illegible]

There was considerable temporary excitement among persons residing north of the Union Pacific depot about [illegible] o'clock last night, by the report of three pistol shots fired in rapid succession. The cause of the firing was not known, but it is believed to have been done by a crowd of hoodlums, simply for the "fun" there was in it.

It is stated that a certain detective a few nights ago arrested one of the "sure thing" men who operate about the Temple block and escorted him about three-fourths of the way to the City Hall, when for some unknown reason he allowed the bunco man to go. [illegible]

There are two coal yards near the intersection of Fifth South and Third West streets. During the last administration Fifth South street between Second and Third West was "graded" by carrying off all the gravel, and as a result the street is now almost impassable. Wagons are stuck in the mud nearly every day. [illegible]

Y. L. M. I. A. Notice.

The Y. L. M. I. A. officers' meeting will be held in the Fourteenth ward Relief society hall on next Saturday at 11 a. m. It is earnestly desired that each association be represented. An invitation is extended to all interested.

MARY A. FREEZE,
Stake President.

To Foreclose.

Thomas Marshall et al., as trustees, have commenced proceedings against the Salt Lake & Fort Douglas Railway Company et al. to foreclose mortgages in the sum of $500,000. The Utah Central Railway company, its receivers and others are made party defendants. The receivers of the Utah Central are appointed receivers in this instance.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS

The Council Still Takes Issue With the Mayor on the Removal Question.

AGAIN THE PAVING MUDDLE.

Property Deed to the University With a String to It.—An "Unknown" City Detective.

There was a long and busy meeting of the City Council last night and for the first time during the present administration, it was deemed necessary to hold a Friday night session, a policy that seems heretofore to have been closely guarded against. All of the members were present and President McCormick occupied the chair.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

Isaac Hunter asked to be allowed to use the water of City Creek for ice making purposes. Committee on irrigation.

A petition from J. W. [illegible] for relief from tax sale was referred to the city attorney.

A claim of [illegible] from Walker Bros. and one from the Kentucky Liquor company for $117 and one from Carlson Bros. for $300 was referred to the committee on waterworks, the damage being claimed from the effects of the recent break in the watermains.

The petition from A. L. Jacobs for $25 for insurance and the request of Harriet M. Foster were referred to the committee on license.

A petition from the board of education to have the property owners on the south side of the Jackson school remove their fence to the property line, and of Frederick Smith to set up a fruit stand at the corner of South Temple and East Temple streets went to the committee on streets.

A. F. Lawson and others complained that their property was being flooded and damaged by city water. Committee on irrigation.

Hannah Phillips asked for a refund of [illegible] payment of sewer taxes. Committee on sewerage.

James Fullmer and twenty-three other stone cutters employed on the joint City and County building sent in a communication in which they complained saying they were informed that after today (Wednesday) they would be displaced for [illegible]. They wished to protest against any such proceeding. Laid on the table temporarily.

Corporation Counselor Hoge reported that the claim of [illegible] for $5,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by falling on the sidewalk, was so indefinite as to make it impossible to tell whether the petitioner was entitled to anything or not. Filed.

The same official reported adversely on the claim of the sidewalk food inspector, Mr. Kendell, for salary after he was removed by the Mayor. Filed.

Health Commissioner Beatty recommended that the abandoned canal on Eighth West street be filled up. Referred.

George S. Backman was confirmed as deputy recorder, while the appointment of Captain Donovan as deputy city marshal also passed muster.

The recorder was ordered to notify the heads of all departments, both elective and appointive, that they submit at the next meeting of the Council the names and salaries of all the employes in their respective departments.

The special committee to whom was referred the communication of the Mayor on the power of appointment and removal of officers, sent in a very exhaustive report on the matter, in which they maintained the stand taken against his honor, and after quoting a good deal of law and citing cases, concluded as follows:

"We are therefore constrained to say that we do not think that the Mayor of Salt Lake City has the power to remove an officer unless it be the police in the city, and that before the Council can act upon the appointment of Mr. Mulley it must remove the present incumbent. We therefore recommend that the Council take steps at once to remove Mr. Frank L. Hines and confirm the appointment of Thomas F. Mulley."

The report was adopted, Hines removed and the appointment of Mulley confirmed.

W. A. Edwards and F. P. McDonald were confirmed as policemen.

The committee on finance reported adversely on the petition of Treasurer Duke for the retention of the license inspector. Adopted.

After a lengthy report and a good deal of discussion had been listened to, it was ordered that the work of the Culmer-Jennings Paving company be accepted and a final estimate made.

The city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance requiring persons having claims against the city to swear to the same.

Young offered the following which was referred to the city attorney:

[illegible]

Lynn offered an ordinance to regulate, license, restrain and prohibit slaughterers, butchers and dealers in fresh meats. It provides that dealers shall shall pay an annual license of from [illegible] according to the amount of business done by them.

The stone cutters' communication was referred to the committee on the joint city and county building and connected therewith was the adoption of the following resolution offered by Clawson:

[illegible]

Cheesman presented an ordinance releasing the conditions of a deed for block [illegible], plat A, Salt Lake City survey, confirming the title thereof in fee in the University of Utah. The ordinance states that the city conveyed the said block to the University of Utah on [illegible] certain conditions, among others that the principal university building should be constructed and maintained thereon [illegible] Salt Lake City is willing to release the conditions [illegible] Lake City.

In accordance with which the ordinance provides that the University shall have the title in fee to said land, provided that within three years from the passage of this ordinance the University shall procure a site and locate its principal buildings thereon [illegible] of the University thereon. City attorney.

A few other minor matters were disposed of after which the council adjourned until Friday night.

THE MEETING OF SEVENTIES.

An Important and Excellent Discourse by Elder B. H. Roberts.

In response to invitations extended to the members of Seventies and Elders' quorums a large number of brethren met in the Assembly Hall last night, Jan. 30, to listen to the suggestions and instructions of the first presidency of the Seventies as to the best mode of conducting theological classes. Elder B. H. Roberts, one of the first presidents, occupied the time and delivered a most excellent address, showing the necessity of the Elders of Israel to acquire knowledge in all branches of learning whereby they may be made efficient as ministers of the gospel and witnesses of the work of the Almighty in this age.

The speaker briefly emphasized the great responsibility resting upon those bearing a portion of the Priesthood, and then pointed out that the duties belonging thereto could not be discharged without earnest effort on the part of the members. [illegible]

The discourse was listened to with deep interest throughout. Another meeting will be held tonight (Wednesday) for the purpose of giving a practical illustration of how to conduct a class. Those attending are expected to be prepared to answer questions on the Ecclesiastical History just mentioned. The meeting should be largely attended.

No Oxygen in the Sun's Atmosphere

Science has predicted that one day the fires of the sun will end. [illegible]

M. Janssen resolved to find out if this lot was awaiting the earth; if her future was to be cut short by a veil of vapor. [illegible]

There was one evident method. If he could reach the limit of the earth's atmosphere, and there examine the solar spectrum, the question would be solved at once. [illegible] were due to absorption as the ray passed through the earth's atmosphere.

Not being able to reach this limit, M. Janssen decided to ascend as high as possible above the earth's surface for observation. [illegible] atmosphere of the sun contained no oxygen.

It was in October, 1888, that the first experiment was made. The place chosen was the station on the route to the summit of Mt. Blanc, called the Grands Mulets, ten thousand feet above sea level. [illegible]

If the ascent had been severe, the reward was more than a compensation. The weather proved to be favorable, and M. Janssen succeeded in making a series of experiments which led him to announce to the Academy of Science, "The lines and bands of the spectrum due to oxygen result exclusively from the earth's atmosphere. The solar atmosphere has nothing to do with the phenomenon. It is exclusively telluric."—From "The Observatory on Top of Mt. Blanc," by Ida M. Tarbell, in McClure's Magazine for February.
