ALL HONOR TO THE SABBATH DAY.

Rev. J. C. McClain Thinks Christians Should Unite Against World's Encroachments.

SOME OF TODAY'S PROBLEMS.

Conditions "Christ Would Find if He Came to Salt Lake"—Commercial Alley vs Other Parts.

In a discourse yesterday morning, in the Third Presbyterian church on the proper observance of the Sabbath, Rev. J. C. McClain said:

"I believe Christians must unite in a mighty effort against the world's encroachment on the Sabbath day.

"The blessings to the home cannot be measured by words. The true home is not of accidental growth. If so, you might find the true home everywhere, in China as well as in Christian America, but the true home is not found in China until it becomes a Christian home; until God has His place in that home.

"I want to show you what a true observance of the Sabbath will do for that home and then what a power that home is in the world. In the first place it makes the home the center of quiet and orderliness. Think back to your childhood days of the home where the Sabbath was kept. Was it not orderly and quiet? There seemed to be in it a spirit of restfulness and peace. There was obedience in that home, obedience to man's laws and to God's laws, far better than sacrifice. If we trample upon one of God's most holy laws, a law He made for our good, does it not destroy our respect for all law and authority? Take that word 'obedience' in God's word and you will find it is the largest word in the Bible. That's what we are in the world for, and His day was made to bring to man his greatest blessings. See what store God has set upon that day! Obedience gives strength and stability to the home, and when you have that you have something which can stand by itself and defy the world. Such a home multiplies itself, and the children of that home go out to establish homes for themselves along the same lines. The substantial men of the land come from such homes.

"We ought to be proud of our nation, and I think that the mass of the people are proud of the heritage that has come to them from men and women who suffered, fought and died in defense of her. Yet, let us always bear in mind that we are not perfect, and that we can only attain that degree of perfection by coming in closer communion with God. We can do that in some degree, I might say a large degree, by respecting the Sabbath for all that it means and portends. When we do that, then, indeed, we will see the United States at the forefront of all the nations of the world. She is giving to the other nations a glorious example of what may be accomplished by a wholesome respect for law and order as all things go mundane, but when we give to the Sabbath that reverence and respect that is due to it then we will set an example for the rest of the world."

PROBLEMS OF TODAY.

In a sermon yesterday morning, in the Unitarian church, on "Modern Christian and Social Problems," Rev. Frank F. Eddy said:

"The conscience of Rockefeller is good enough so far as it goes, but it stops short at the age of Calvin. The only kind of a Christian of any great use in modern life is a modern Christian. The conscience of a Peter or a Paul would be lacking in several important respects for every-day use on Wall street. In twenty centuries the moral and mental point of view that we call conscience changes as the kind of timepieces needed to govern our actions, and we would not ask a locomotive engineer to keep his orders by the guidance of a sun-dial.

"All through human history three great ideas have been struggling for recognition and supremacy in the social systems of men. They are the principle of collectivism or co-operation, democracy and equality. They have contended with three opposite principles of action. Collectivism has struggled with individualism, democracy with autocracy, equality with privilege. Orthodoxy once taught us that God and the devil warred for human souls. Even likewise through all the ages of mankind these great opposing ideas have contended for the possession of men's souls, like giants warring."

IF CHRIST CAME.

Rev. D. M. Helmick preached last evening in the Riff Methodist church, on the theme, "If Christ Came to Salt Lake," and said in part:

"Coming as an ordinary man He would find Himself jostled about like other men, while twenty or more would rush into the street car ahead of Him, and when ushered into the hotel He would find a dozen or more striving for the best rooms. He would in all probability find as impure people in northeast Salt Lake City as in Commercial alley, and as reckless gamblers outside of the dens as in them, and men as steeped in crime walking up and down Main street as confined in the state's prison. Not being able to recognize Him from other human beings, they would not hide from Him.

"Should He visit the Temple grounds, He might probably admire the building and be struck with the courtesy extended to Him. Were He to attend the services in the Tabernacle, I believe I could tell you one thing He would hear: 'We are the best people on the face of the earth.' He might find the same feeling unexpressed in some of the Gentile churches.

"If Christ should come to Salt Lake City, doubtless He would admire the beautiful streets, the elegant homes, the fine public buildings and business blocks. Were He then to visit these mountains bored to their center for the wealth stored there for the past ages, then travel up and down these valleys luxuriant in vegetation, made so from the rich soil deposited there centuries ago, make His home here for a year in this climate unexcelled anywhere in the world, and then on a Sunday evening visit the churches of this city and see the very few of the thousands who reside here, He might wonder what the profit in bestowing all this wealth of mineral, vegetation and climate upon a people who remembered Him not? For is not every good gift and every perfect gift direct from His hand?"

DAMAGE SUIT AFTER LION BITE.

Charles G. Birkinshaw Sues Levanting Pugilist for Injuries To His Son.

BADLY BITTEN BY BIG "SENATOR"

Unmuzzled Beast Attacked Child in Ferocious Manner and Inflicted Several Painful Wounds.

The damage suit which was mentioned in the "News" several days ago against Robert Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, has been filed in the civil division of the city court by Charles G. Birkinshaw, guardian ad litem of Charles W. Birkinshaw, his 10-year-old son. Jacob Bergerman, manager, the Lagoon Resort company, and the Salt Lake & Ogden Railway company are also made parties defendant in the action.

Mr. Birkinshaw alleges that his son, while at Lagoon on Monday, June 12, was bitten by Fitzsimmons' pet lion, "Senator." The lad was bitten on the arm and other parts of his body, he was also badly bruised and his clothes were torn by the animal, for all of which judgment is asked against defendants for $499 as damages. The complaint alleges that the lion was advertised as one of the attractions at Lagoon and that it was allowed to move about among the visitors at the resort without a muzzle and without any restraint whatever. Defendants, it is claimed, well knew that the animal was of a savage and ferocious disposition and were negligent in allowing it such freedom. Because of such negligence the lion bit the boy and defendants are asked to pay over $499.

Utah Press Association Goes to See the Lewis-Clark Exposition.

In addition to visiting the fair, they will go to Astoria on the Pacific ocean, returning to Salt Lake about the end of June.

SHERIFF'S FORCE BUSY.

Brutal Holdup and Assault at Bingham Occasion of Activity.

Sheriff Emery of this county is working on a difficult holdup case, which until today contained a possibility of being also a murder case. As yet no announcement has been made as to clues although the sheriff's office has been busy since Saturday in the matter. The victim of the holdup is John R. Michels, collector for a Salt Lake Sewing Machine agency. Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock his unconscious body was found in a tunnel near Bingham at a point between the United States lead house and the United States mine on the line of the old tramway, 30 feet from the county road. It was known that Michels, who lives at 1137 south Third East street, was in the habit of making regular collection trips to Bingham, and that he had collected a fairly large sum of money Saturday before leaving the town. When discovered in the tunnel by Marshal Baker and Emmet Robinson not a cent of money was in his possession, and even the ring had been stripped from his finger. His horse and buggy was also missing.

The marshal summoned medical assistance at once, and Drs. Smedley and Rothwell responded. The unconscious man was taken to the home of Dr. Smedley, where he remained unconscious until Sunday evening, when he rallied and seemed to be out of danger from dying in consequence of the blows upon his head.

Sheriff Emery was notified of the affair Saturday afternoon, and went to Bingham at once. Sunday he was furnished a description of the holdups, and is now at work on the case. From the story told by Michels it is probable that the holdups knew of his collection trips and were waiting for him where they knew he was sure to pass. His statement, made to Dr. Smedley Sunday evening, is that while driving along about a mile and a quarter above Bingham a man suddenly jumped from concealment behind a sagebrush, seized his arms from behind, and then forced his knee into the small of his back. In this helpless condition a second thug appeared, a larger man than the first, and struck Michels a blow over the head with a sandbag. This rendered him unconscious, and he was then robbed and thrown into the old tunnel. He had about $200 in his possession when the holdup occurred.

Dr. Smedley stated to the "News" today that there was no doubt but that Michels would recover. He is very sore from the effect of the wrenching of his muscles and the sandbag blow, but will probably be able to leave his bed within a couple of days.

GROCERY STORE BURGLARIZED.

The South Side grocery store, 570 south East Temple street, was broken into last night, presumably by boys, who made off with a number of cigars and a bottle of olives. Entrance was gained by breaking in a rear door. The police were notified and are in hot pursuit.

FEDERAL COURT.

In the federal court today the case of the United States Mining company vs L. M. Lausen et al, a petition of defendant for appeal to the United States supreme court was heard. The case is an old one, having been originally heard in the federal court by Judge Riner sitting in the place of Judge Marshall. He rendered a decree in favor of defendant, which was reversed on appeal to the circuit court of appeals. Now defendant prays for appeal to the United States supreme court on the grounds that a jury trial should have been granted.

The case of George R. de Groot, trustee of Charles Bonetti, bankrupt, vs Peter Bonetti, was dismissed this morning. The matter, which concerned the estate of the bankrupt, was settled out of court.

LARSEN CASE IS STILL UNDECIDED.

County Atty. Christensen Raises Question of Jurisdiction and Asks for Time.

GOES OVER UNTIL JUNE 28.

Contends that Writ Should Have Been Filed in Weber County, Where Industrial School Is.

No decision was reached today in the matter of the petition of Josephine Larsen in behalf of her son Herbert Larsen, for the release of a boy from the reform school under a writ of habeas corpus, as County Attorney Christensen, who appeared for the juvenile court and the state, filed a demurer to the petition which was argued before Judge Lewis, who gave the attorneys until June 28 to file briefs in the matter.

The petition, which was filed by Attorney Ray Van Cott, raised the point that the bill creating the court is unconstitutional and the matter of its constitutionality will be passed upon before the case is concluded. The demurrer filed by the county attorney was based upon the ground that the court has no jurisdiction in the matter. In his argument Mr. Christensen contended that the writ should have been filed in Weber county as that is nearest the place of confinement and detention for the writ. He contended that Mrs. Larsen is not the applicant at all but that she merely made application in behalf of her minor child as his guardian.

According to the statutes Attorney Van Cott contended that the person who signs the writ is the applicant and in this case Mrs. Larsen filed her application in the nearest court having jurisdiction. He said that all of the proceedings in the case were had in this county and that the applicant should not be compelled to leave her place of residence and go to some other county and make application for the writ. Such would have to be done if the contention of the county attorney were correct, he said. As far as the statute is concerned he thought that it was a matter of discretion with the courts whether or not the matter should be heard in this county or in Weber county.

Judge Lewis was inclined to think that the court could use its discretion in the matter but as the county attorney wanted to submit some authorities on that point he gave him until Friday to file his brief. In the meantime the boy is in the custody of his mother. The boy was committed to the reform school by Judge Brown of the juvenile court on May 26.

An Unfaithful Wife.

Ross M. Bonny filed suit for divorce in the district court today against Anna C. Bonny on the ground of infidelity. Irvine Wolf of Bingham is named as co-respondent in the suit. The complaint alleges that the parties were married in this city on July 3, 1900, and have two children now in the custody of defendant. Plaintiff asks the custody of the children for the reason that his wife is not a fit and proper person to have them.

COURT NOTES.

In the federal court a suit has been filed by the City Street Improvement company of California to recover a balance of $4,750 due, it is alleged, for the paving of South Temple street from State to Third West streets. The money was held out by the city as a forfeit for delay each day after the time for finishing the work had elapsed. The company alleges the delay was caused by the city and not by its negligence, and that for this reason the forfeiture is unjustly claimde.

Suit for divorce has been filed in the district court by Charles T. Murphy against Louise T. Murphy on the ground of desertion. They were married at Bowling Green, Ky., on July 4, 1897, and it is alleged that defendant deserted her husband in April, 1903, and is now in San Francisco.

AMUSEMENTS.

The rainstorm prevented the opening of the Saltair Beach theater Saturday night. Much to the general surprise, Mr. Connelly, the manager, announced that the opening would occur Sunday afternoon. The opening did occur, but in the presence of a very small turnout, a fact which the friends of the resort will not be sorry to hear. Mr. Connelly, who is a newcomer in Salt Lake, ought to understand that opening his theater on Sundays will not prove popular with many of those to whom he will wish to cater. Miss Bateman is an actress, and the Saltair Beach theater should be a place of amusement, entirely above the necessity of appealing to the tastes of those who must have their theaters on Sundays. Many people in the community who believe in the observance of the Sabbath, are not inclined to criticise those who announce musical offerings on Sunday, although the bills often served under the name of "sacred concerts" are nothing short of burlesques, but even people who do not object to listening to band concerts or singing on Sundays, will draw the line at theatrical performances.

The "News" wishes Mr. Connelly's theater project well, and trusts his week-day presentations, which continue tonight, with Miss Bateman in Gilbert's "Sweethearts," may be successful.

The Bittner company at the Grand has made a slight change in its plans this week and instead of opening tonight in "Dora Thorne," will put on "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," "Dora Thorne" being rendered Thursday night.

Alberto Jonas, the eminent pianist, and teacher of several of Salt Lake's well known pianists, is to be heard in this city on the nights of June 27 and 28. As a pianist he stands high. Philip Hale, the noted Boston critic, said of Jonas in the New England Home Magazine:

"The success gained by Mr. Jonas on the occasion of his appearance in New York, at Carnegie hall, with Walter Damrosh's orchestra, was instantaneous and marked. His success with the Boton Symphony orchestra was one of the greatest ever recorded in that city. He was recalled eight times, and won enthusiastic praise from the entire press. Since then the reputation and fame of Alberto Jonas have been steadily growing and his numerous concerts throughout the United States and Canada have added new laurels to his brilliant virtuoso career in Europe."

Among his pupils in Utah are J. J. McClellan, Tracy Y. Cannon, Sybella Clayton, Mrs. P. O. Perkins, Arville Clark and Walter Poulton, who is at present in Detroit, as is Miss Clayton.

Mr. Jonas will play a recital at the M. H. Walker residence on the night of Tuesday, June 27, at which time he will be assisted by Willard Weihe, violinist; Hugh Dougall, baritone, and J. J. McClellan, organist. A piano concerto with organ accompaniment played upon Mr. Walker's $10,000 organ will be one of the features of this affair.

On the following night the music-lovers of the city may hear the great artist at the Salt Lake Theater in a charming program, in which he will be aided by Willard Weihe. Mr. Jonas played with complete success at the Theater some two years ago, receiving for his work the unstinted praise of the press.

Both Utahna houses are open tonight with varied bills. At the theater the stock company renders "College Chums" and "The Little Girl," while at the Park the usual vaudeville program will be presented.

STOCKS STRONG, MARKET DULL.

Leading Properties Moved Slowly Upwards Nearly a Point.

DEALINGS WERE SMALL.

What Interest There Was Developed Late and Had No Bearing on General Sentiment.

New York, June 19.—Stocks which are usually the medium of profitable trades were not dealt in half a dozen times during the first hour. The undertone of the market was firm and the only semblance of activity was in the Wisconsin Central stocks. The common moved up 1 and the preferred 1½. United Railway and Investment preferred and Enameling preferred also rose a point and Great Northern preferred 2. Ontario & Western fell off 1, and American Car and Foundry 1½. The leading speculative stocks moved slowly upwards from ⅛ to ⅞, the latter figure for Union Pacific. The slight activity centered in that stock, St. Paul, Reading, Pennsylvania, United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper. Northwestern rose 2, New York Dock preferred 1½ and Steel Foundries preferred and Metropolitan Securities 1. The bond market was dull and irregular at noon.

Better prices were obtained for stocks, the demand lifting them almost imperceptibly, until several of the leaders rued ⅛ above Saturday's closing. Of these United States Steel preferred, Brooklyn Transit and Tennessee Coal were the most prominent. Steel Foundries preferred increased its rise to 2 points, while Northwestern yielded an earlier gain of as much. New York Dock rose 1.

What little there was of interest in the late market developed in stocks that has no bearing on general sentiment Pennsylvania, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Sault Ste Marie and Western Union improved ⅞. St. Louis Southwestern ran off 1⅝ and General Electric 1½.

A rise in the tractions and a few specialties held the rest of the market steady in the final hours. Brooklyn Transit, Metropolitan and Manhattan rose about 2 and Metropolitan Street Railway 1½. Knickerbocker Ice gained 3, New York Dock preferred 2½, Biscuit 1¼, United States preferred 1½, C. C. C. & St. Louis 1, and Bag ⅞. Westinghouse Electric fell 1, and General Electric and Virginia Iron 2. Profit taking made an impression on railroad stocks in the final dealings. The closing was somewhat irregular.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 19.—Excellent weather for harvesting created bearish sentiment in the wheat pit here today. In addition a report from Minneapolis stating that recent rains had done little damage to the spring sown crop caused some selling. July opened ⅛ to ¼ cent lower at 78⅞ to 79. After selling off to 85⅝, the price rallied again to 89 cents. Higher prices at Liverpool was the cause of a fair demand from commission houses. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 190 cars against 361 a year ago.

A large percentage of grain of contract grade in today's arrivals caused a weak undertone in the corn market. Weather conditions were a further aid to the bears. July opened ⅛@¼ cent higher to ⅛@¼ lower at 55⅝ to 54. Later the price touched 53½.

Weakness of wheat had a depressing effect on the oats market. Pit traders were moderate sellers. July opened ⅛ higher at ⅝ lower at 31 to 31½, and sold off to 30⅞.

Provisions were a trifle easier in sympathy with a slight decline in the price of live hogs. September pork was off 5 cents at 13.05; lard also was down 5 cents at 7.47½; ribs were a shade to 2½ cents lower at 7.32½ to 7.35.

Corn—No. 2, 54@54¾; No. 3, 54½.

Oats—No. 2, 30½; No. 3, 30¼.

During the last half of the session the market became extremely weak as a result of numerous bearish reports from the west and southwest. One of these reports claimed that the wheat crop of Kansas would be 15,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's yield. Final quotations on July were down 1¼ at 87½@88, after the price had touched 87⅝.

Corn—On liberal profit taking brought out by an estimate of large receipts for tomorrow, the market became quite weak, July selling off to 55. At the close July was down ⅝@¾, at 55¼.
