EASTERN.

The Magellan Massacre—Revolt of the Garrison at Sandy Point.—Killing, Ellingley and Burning.

WASHINGTON, 8.—Commander Rogers, commanding the United States steamer Adams, writes to the Secretary of the Navy, from Sandy Point, Straits of Magellan, giving particulars of the revolt of the garrison there. The first murder committed seems to have been that of the captain of a company of soldiers, numbering about 100, who were regular artillery troops. They mutilated the captain in the most horrible manner, and then opened fire with artillery upon the Governor's house. The Governor, upon making his appearance, was knocked in the head and left insensible. He, however, recovered after some time, and made his escape. His family also escaped, almost naked, to the woods. The mutineers then released the convicts who, altogether, numbered nearly 200, armed with rifles.

The following day the mutineers committed the most incredible excesses in the way of wanton killing, burning, and sacking. Next day the mutineers deserted the place, carrying off all public funds and much private property. The mutineers burned all public property and a number of stores; in fact, the best part of the town is in ashes. The streets were strewn with the dead bodies of the killed. Most of the killed were soldiers, who had been shooting each other indiscriminately.

It is estimated that at least 50 people were killed. Many of the dead and wounded were burned in the buildings. The hospital was burned with five wounded men in it.

Commander Rogers says it was the intention of the mutineers to capture the steamer Memphis as soon as she was expected, but as her commander had previous notice of the revolt, he seized the soldiers, convicts and captain of the port, who rowed out to him, suggesting a fine anchorage under the guns of the fort. He then went to sea, and meeting with the United States steamer Adams reported the condition of affairs.

Commander Rogers took the mutineers on board his vessel and hastened to Sandy Point, where his presence was much appreciated by the Chilian authorities.

As to the cause of the revolt there seems no reliable information. It is reported and believed the Padre or priest of this colony has had much to do in instigating it, he being an enemy of the government, and he is now one of the prisoners on board the Chilian steamer Magellenes.

In the destruction of property not the slightest regard was paid to nationality. A 12-pounder shot was fired clear through the English consulate, and the Vice-Consul himself was pursued and fired at a number of times, however, he escaped in his own boat.

Lieut. Bullis and the Mexican Raids.

Before the sub-committee on military affairs Lieut. Bullis gave a circumstantial narrative of the results of his raids into Mexico in pursuit and punishment of Indian thieves. The total number of depredating Indians is about 250, divided into four different tribes. In reply to a question whether it would be possible for a sufficient force to annihilate them, he answered: "They are cunning; they hide their families in fastnesses, and it is almost impossible to reach and strike them. There were no officers anxious to bring on a conflict between the two nations unless with a just cause. The thieving Indians have no fear of the Mexicans. They go into towns and openly trade with them." The Lieutenant never knew Mexicans to take pains to return stolen property. It was in the power of the Mexicans to punish or exterminate those Indians, who are a source of almost all the troubles.

Female Suffrage Convention.

This afternoon, Lincoln Hall was crowded with spectators, principally women, at the opening of the female suffrage convention. Mrs. Dr. Lozier, president, read the annual address. Speeches were made by Mrs. Hooker and Mrs. Harper.

Frost Hayes and the Chinese Question.

President Hayes has definitely determined to make the Chinese question the subject of a special message to Congress. In this message he will call attention to the present and prospective evils of unlimited Chinese immigration to this country, and will recommend Congress to take such action as in its wisdom may be most proper and efficient to restrict and regulate the immigration of Mongolians.

Cabinet Meeting—Eads to be Paid.

The cabinet discussed the report of the board of engineers appointed by the Secretary of War to examine Eads' improvements on the Mississippi River, and approved the same, whereupon it was decided that Eads should receive the amount of money appropriated by Congress for his payment, upon the compliance by him with the provisions of the law.

A Slim Prospect for a Mining Stock Board.

CHICAGO, 8.—Most people here are losing faith in the prospect for a mining stock board. Last night's meeting was destitute of actual results and was adjourned for a week. It is said that the character of one or two men who seem most interested in it is enough to condemn it and to secure general opposition to its establishment. New York and western agents have been active in getting it on foot, but their efforts appear to be fruitless. It is charged that it will be established, if at all, simply for stock gambling, and not for legitimate business.

Emigration Figures.

NEW YORK, 8.—The report of the commissioners of emigration shows that the total number of aliens who arrived at this port last year was 54,526, a decrease of 16,129 compared with the previous year.

Plymouth Church Pew Sale.

The sale of Plymouth Church pews, for the ensuing year, took place to-night. The total receipts for premiums and rents for last year were $47,326; this year's receipts will be $56,904; last year the premiums were $24,668, and this year $34,171.

Mississippi State's Electoral Ticket—Revising President Hayes' Title to the Office.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., 8.—Montgomery Blair, in the House of Delegates to-day, introduced a resolution, memorializing Congress, which sets forth that the late electoral bill provided that no decision of the presidential election under the act should preclude a judicial decision of the question that the act contemplated a decision of the case submitted to the electoral commission by a judicial tribunal; that the commission did hold itself incompetent to inquire whether some of the State returns were true or false, and that the President is seated in virtue of notoriously fraudulent returns, which Justice Strong, whose vote seated him, has admitted, and as the President himself has admitted by disregarding the returns in the matter of the State officers whose titles were identical with his, whilst the repudiation of these returns by the incumbent, for all purposes save his own election, is admission that it was fraud to use them for that purpose, the motives which produced this partial repudiation greatly aggravate his offenses; that by the published statement of John Young Brown, which has remained uncontradicted since April, 1877, this repudiation was a condition imposed by the said Brown and his associates, then holding the balance of power in the House of Representatives, upon which alone the incumbent would be allowed to be counted into office upon these false returns; that this condition was accepted for the incumbent by Stanley Matthews and Charles Foster, then and since his closest friends and most authoritative representatives; that Brown and his associates had been elected as adversaries of the incumbent, but separated from the great body of their political associates in the House of Representatives, to carry into effect said arrangement; that at the time of entering into it they were the leading advocates of the bill then pending in the House to grant a large subsidy to the Texas Pacific Railroad Company, to which the president-elect was known to be opposed, and it is a just inference, from all the circumstances, that whilst they were willing to defeat his inauguration for this reason, they would not venture to act with their political opponents for that object, if such co-operation involved also the surrender of the local governments of the States in question as well as of their electoral votes to their political opponents; that to remove the obstacle it was stipulated in effect that the incumbent should treat the returns as fraudulent, so far as they affected the local governments of said States, by withdrawing the United States troops, the presence of which alone, it was known, gave them any force; that it thus appears the constitutional question so gravely and elaborately debated in Congress before the electoral commission and in the public press, as a question on which the presidential contest hinged, and with which the public mind was so long exercised, has no part whatever in determining the contest, but that it was in fact determined by a party of men elected by one party, but openly acting with their opponents in the interest of a certain railroad corporation at the decisive moment; that every interest of the country is greatly prejudiced, and its most vital interests are put in jeopardy by suffering the people to be superseded as the political power, and substituting for them such moneyed organizations as will pay for defrauding them; that, in the opinion of your memorialists, the continued prostration of the business of the country is largely due to the fact that the confidence of the people in the conduct of public officers is shaken; that an irresponsible executive administration has been installed, which has not the support of the country or either of its great political parties; that this conflicts with the whole theory of our institutions and those of the mother country, whence they are derived; that to carry on, as to get possession of the government, the incumbent must seek support from those elected as his opponents; that this relation is in itself corrupting is shown by reason as well as all experience; that no useful public service can be rendered by an administration whose title to power rests on fraudulent election returns, manufactured by its own partisans and made effectual by an agreement with the subsidy and jobbing men of the opposing party; that the indispensable first step to any reform of the public service is to restore the government to the people; that it is only by men who have been elected by the people and who are free from all entangling alliances with the jobbing interests, from which all the great abuses have sprung, that any reform can be effected. Your memorialists, therefore, pray that needful legislation may be adopted, to ascertain judicially who was elected president at the last election and to give effect to the will of the people, and will ever pray, etc.

Blair advocated his memorial, urging its adoption and reviewing generally President Hayes' title to the office.

Lodge, republican, moved to lay it on the table, and called for the ayes and noes, which resulted—ayes 13, noes 34.

It was then referred to the committee on federal relations.

Mysterious Disappearance.

ST. LOUIS, 8.—J. C. Fryer, manager of Fryer, Pappenheim & Adams' Opera Company, has been missing since Friday last. Diligent search fails to discover his whereabouts. His disappearance is entirely unaccountable to the members of the company.

Dairymen's Association.

CLEVELAND, 8.—The thirtieth annual convention of the American Dairymen's Association met to-day. There was a large attendance. Subjects of interest were discussed. It was stated that the dairy interest was growing rapidly and higher prices than ever before were prevailing. The exports to Great Britain last year were 110,000,000 pounds, worth over $13,000,000. A large increase over past years. Francis D. Moulton spoke on the milk question.

WESTERN.

Arrested For Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, 8.—Henry W. Grayson, was arrested yesterday in Portland, Oregon, on a requisition from the Governor of Kansas, on the charge of murdering Allen G. Potill, in Johnson County, Kansas, November 1st, 1867.

Rain Storm.

Another general rain has visited the State within the last 24 hours.

Embezzler Sentenced.

Henry L. Sparges, late postmaster at Fort Bidwell, convicted in the United States circuit court of embezzling $1,041 government money, was sentenced to a fine equal to the amount of the embezzlement and nine months imprisonment.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The English Government and Russia's Terms.

LONDON, 8.—The Post publishes the following in an official form: "We believe the English government, with a view of ascertaining Russia's terms, has suggested to the Porte the desirability of complying with Russia's request for direct communication between the commanders of the forces."

The usual official circulars have been issued requesting the presence of the supporters of government at the opening of parliament. That of the Earl of Beaconsfield to the Lords says that matters of moment will be brought under consideration. Sir Stafford Northcote's circular to the members of the House of Commons says attention will immediately be called to matters of great importance.

Prisoner Released.

Corporal Chambers, the only remaining military Fenian prisoner, was released on Monday.

Eastern War News.

An official dispatch is published, announcing that after two days of sanguinary fighting, Hafiz Pasha, commanding the Noui Bazar division, has reoccupied Kurochumeje. The Servian loss was considerable.

Eyoub Pasha, commanding the civic guard at Noui Bazar, also defeated the Servians, pursuing them to the frontier, burning six of their military stations and destroying their entrenchments.

The Russians have occupied Slatitza and Petrichevo.

Chakir Pasha telegraphs to Constantinople that after checking the Russian advance with great loss at Petrichevo, he retired to strongly entrenched positions at Polbrine and Otlukkel.

A Bucharest special says: The railway from Frateshti to Simnitza will be opened for traffic on Friday. This will enable the Russians to transport the new iron bridge which they have had ready and only awaited the completion of the railway to the Danube. Ten small steamers have also been brought from Russia for use in connection with the bridge.

It is stated that the Russians in Bulgaria have only three weeks' supplies, and great difficulties relative to forage are probable, unless communication is speedily restored.

A Belgrade correspondent says an agreement exists that the Servians shall occupy Sofia, transferring their headquarters thither.

A dispatch from Pera says: A communication from London, advising Turkey to open negotiations with Russia through the military commanders has been received here. A strong disposition is evinced to accept the advice therein proferred.

HIGHEST HONORS AT THE
UNITED STATES
Centennial
World Exhibition,
1876.
MASON & HAMLIN
CABINET ORGANS
Unanimously assigned the
"FIRST RANK" IN THE
"SEVERAL REQUISITES" of such Instruments!
The MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. have the honor to announce that the Organs of their manufacture have been unanimously assigned "the FIRST RANK in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of instruments of the class by the Judges at the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION at Philadelphia, 1876, and are the ONLY INSTRUMENTS OF THIS GENERAL CLASS AWARDED THIS RANK. This is after the severest competition by the best makers, before one of the most competent juries ever assembled.
They have received the MEDAL; but, as is well known, medals of equal merit have been "awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition; so that it will be easy for manufacturers to advertise that they have received "first medals."
The differences in competing articles, and their comparative excellence, are recounted in the Reports of the Judges from which the following is an extract:—
"THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. exhibit reeds of great power and good quality, thus giving elements of the FIRST RANK IN THEIR SEVERAL REQUISITES OF INSTRUMENTS OF THE CLASS, viz: Smoothness and equal distribution of tone, security of position, freedom and ready blowing, promptness and quickness of action of keys and bellows, with thoroughness of workmanship, combined with simplicity of action."
(Signed by all the Judges.)
The Mason and Hamlin Organs are thus declared to rank first, not in one or two instances only, but in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of such instruments, and they are the Only ones assigned this rank. This triumph was not unexpected, for the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs have uniformly been awarded the highest honors in competitions in America, they having been scarcely six exceptions in hundreds of competitions. They were awarded highest honors at
FIRST MEDALS
PARIS, 1867; VIENNA 1873; SANTIAGO, 1875
PHILADELPHIA, 1876;
and have thus been awarded highest honors at Every World's Exposition!
at which they have been exhibited; being the Only instruments, Organs or Pianos ever obtaining Any Award at any competition with the Pianos, Organs, etc., in any European World's Exposition!
