IN SEVIER COUNTY.

Interesting News from Thrifty Towns and Villages.

ELSINORE, Sevier County, Utah, November 26, 1894.

Editor Deseret News:

After holding meetings at Kingston and Junction, Piute county—Circle valley—we drove thirty-five miles to this place, where two meetings were in readiness for us according to previous appointment. They were under the supervision of the Seventies. The general meeting to all the public was crowded. The Bishop, who, with his counselors were present, opened the meeting, after which it was turned over to the Seventies of the forty-first quorum. H. O. Magleby presiding in Monroe, five miles southeast of Kanosh, is the senior president. There were twelve speakers, including six of the presidents, two returned missionaries, Benjamin Gardner and John A. Johnston, the Bishop, Jens A. Jensen, and the two counselors, Elliott, W. Isaac added his testimony, making thirteen speakers. The Bishop and audience desired the meeting extended rather over time, because of the interest taken by both speakers, an opportunity being given for any who were weary to leave. Only one aged lady retired. Never the spirit and power of God was present, hence edification. All who spoke testified that so far as they had kept the Word of Wisdom they were abundantly blessed, and were determined to keep it more fully, for they were convinced of the necessity of doing so; also, to remember tithes and offerings. It was astonishing to see how many of the Seventies, and one of the seventies arose, when asked to do so, to witness of their determination to more fully observe the putting away of tobacco, tea and coffee, and intoxicants, realizing that by so doing great blessings would follow.

Let me say in behalf of the good people of Panguitch, Sevier, Sanpete and Juab Stakes, all of which I have visited, that almost invariably the Presidents of Seventies and many Seventies with loads of others, are fully resolved to keep the Word of Wisdom, reforming and drawing nearer to the Lord.

These were the topics dwelt on at the Elsinore general meeting, which was said by many to be a model meeting. Before closing the meeting, large as it was, only four raised to their feet who ever had seen the Prophet Joseph Smith, and nearly one half of the congregation arose who never saw the Prophet Brigham Young.

Elsinore is situated in a lovely valley seven miles southwest of Richfield, five miles northwest of Monroe and five miles northwest of Joseph city—a small place in a little valley in the mountains. It is under the twenty-five mile canal which taps the Sevier river, passing down the valley of the Sevier past Richfield, thus watering the dry and thirsty acres, and making them fruitful. I am informed that the little valley at Elsinore, where properly cultivated, produces from thirty to fifty bushels of wheat per acre, excellent apples and small fruits. The people are mostly Scandinavians, progressive, and more self-sustaining than many of the neighboring towns. They make co-operation a success, as evinced by the following: A roller mill, a packing house from which last year they shipped twenty tons of bacon and hams, tailoring establishment, a tannery, a creamery and a foundry, from which they cast their own church bell. Although it is a small town it is a model one, away up on the Sevier river. Well named.

Yours truly,
EDWARD STEVENSON.

"MULDOON" DAY.

How the Erstwhile Publisher of a Notorious Newspaper is Handled.

Indian Agent Dave Day is thus toasted by the Grand Junction Sentinel, a paper published in his own state: When Dave Day edited the Solid Muldoon at Ouray he used to revamp a dirty story occasionally and it passed for wit with a certain element. That was all right if his subscribers demanded such mental pabulum, but now that Day has become a government officer he should come off the perch with his Muldoonism. His letter to Governor West was neither humorous nor in good taste. This Indian trouble is a very serious matter, over which blood may be spilled, and does not call for levity, especially from the agent who is supposed to look after them. Governor West was right in terming his letter an incident and blackguard document.

Paving District.

The property owners in the paving district are requested to meet at the Chamber of Commerce hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock to hear the report of their committee, Messrs. Auerbach, Lawrence and Walker.

Brown and the "Tribune."

A couple of affidavits of some importance have been filed by Judge Powers in the Third district court, in the case of Arlene Brown vs the Tribune Publishing company, and will be used in support of a motion to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial. The affidavits are by A. D. Westley and F. H. Lamun. It is alleged, first, that there was prejudice on the part of certain trial jurors, and, second, that the jurors were not drawn in the manner prescribed by law.

Suit for Divorce.

Jessie V. Zane has brought suit for divorce against Oliver W. Zane in the Third district court.

The parties intermarried in this city on June 6, 1888, and it is alleged that for more than one year last past the defendant has failed to furnish the plaintiff with the common necessaries of life; also that on April 19, 1893, he willfully and without cause deserted and abandoned her. Wherefore she prays for a divorce and the custody of the two minor children. Powers and Stump are attorneys for plaintiff.

Bowdick Will Hold On.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the county court a communication was read from G. P. Turnbull, of Bingham canyon, calling attention to the charges that have been preferred by the inhabitants of Highland school district against Harry Bowdick, one of its trustees, and citing that he had been disqualified by the withdrawal of Patrick McIlvanie, one of the sureties upon the trustee's bond. The charge into which an investigation was recently begun by the electors, in mass meeting convened, is that the trustee is illegally occupying the position since the withdrawal of McIlvanie. The matter was referred to County Attorney Murphy for investigation. Mr. Murphy stated that the surety had a right to withdraw from the bond and that he was still liable as a surety. Therefore the act had no effect upon the trustee's tenure of office. So Mr. Bowdick will hold on.

Appropriations amounting to $6,000, all were allowed. Among the heavier ones were in favor of the Gardiner Marble company for $2,000.00.

Utah versus Deseret.

BANNACK CITY, Mont., December 3, 1894.

Editor Deseret News:

I notice in the News an article wherein it is advocated that the name of the new state be changed from Utah to Deseret. But as the writer claims to respect the memories of the hardy and noble founders of Utah, I regard his proposition as most unfortunate; as such a change of name would seem to me to come near to annihilating the memory of the leader of Rocky Mountain pioneers and his faithful followers and fellow-redeemers of this then uncompromising wilderness. The name of President Brigham Young is so unexpressibly connected with the name of Utah as that of George Washington with the independence of the United States, or that of U. S. Grant with the civil war.

It is a well known fact that "Utah and the Mormons" have become so united in the minds of the people of the civilized world that they cannot mention one without thinking of the other. To deprive the great commonwealth of the name by which it has become known, would be to obliterate from the page of history, as far as possibly can be done, the name of Brigham Young and that noble band of exiles whom we, like Moses, under the direct assistance of God, guided across the extensive wilderness from Nauvoo to the majestic valleys of Utah.

As to there being anything degrading or connected with the name Utah I fail to see it. It is no more nor less than a name applied to one of the wandering bands of "the lost sheep of the House of Israel." Utah forever!

JOHN THORNTON.

Vacancy Filled.

Elder B. H. Roberts, H. S. Wells and Edward Stevenson met with the Thirteenth quorum of Seventies in the Nineteenth ward meeting house last night and filled the vacancy in that quorum caused by the promotion of Elder Stevenson from senior president to the office of president in the First Council of Seventies. Elder Abram H. Wright was chosen to fill the vacancy in the council of the quorum.

Snowflake Stake Conference.

The quarterly conference of the Snowflake Stake of Zion convened in the Stake house on Snowflake at 10 a. m. on Sunday, Nov. 25, 1894, and continued until Monday evening—holding four day sessions besides a Priesthood meeting held on Sunday evening. The Stake President, Jesse N. Smith and Counselor Jesse H. Richards, most of the members of the High Council and Bishops of wards, a very good number of other officers and members generally, were in attendance.

The speakers who occupied the time were Elders Jesse N. Smith, J. H. Richards, Ralph Ramsey, E. N. Freeman (of St. John's Stake) J. Heinhold, Andrew L. Rogers, C. H. Decker, John Bushman, Nicholas Miller, Allen Frost, Homer Brannon, Clara Rogers, Joseph C. Hansen, F. A. Webb, John Hunt, Hans Hansen, Paul Smith and Niels Peterson. The topics principally dwelt upon were the Word of Wisdom, home manufactures, the honest and prompt payment of tithe, the practice of economy, the more charitable tithing of the soil and the honest payment of tithes and offerings. Speakers and hearers all seemed to enjoy that serene and peaceful spirit incident to all such gatherings during the Saints.

The general and Stake authorities were sustained by the unanimous vote of the congregation, and we parted with many expressions of gratitude and joy, with sincere desires for many recurrences of the happy occasion.

AN OPINION GIVEN.

Recently Mr. J. D. Thomas, of North Dakota, visited the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, and after carefully examining the country located in Winchester, he writes to Mr. V. Richards, Land and Immigration Agent, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Baltimore, Maryland, as follows: "I have been in nearly every state and territory of the United States, and am frank in my opinion that this valley surpasses all other sections in the Union. The lands are low in price, and produce profitable crops. I thank you for directing me here, and solicit those seeking pleasant and profitable homes to locate in this country."

About Croup.

Croup is a terror to young mothers. To post them concerning the first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The first indication of croup is hoarseness. In a child who is subject to croup it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following the hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the rough cough has appeared it will prevent the attack. It has never been known to fail.

Gen. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria Times, Cal., in speaking of the serious ailments of children said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the Bilious fevers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious.
