THE FARMINGTON GOLD STRIKE

The Canyon Being Filled with Prospectors—Great Excitement Prevails.

Farmington canyon now presents a scene of the utmost activity. The news of the recent gold strike in that locality seems to have spread throughout the Territory with wonderful rapidity, and experienced and inexperienced prospectors from even the remotest sections of the Territory are now arrivals in the canyon.

More than twenty locations have already been made, while others are being added to the list daily. A gentleman who came from there yesterday states that the road-bed was lined with pack animals, the bottom of the canyon covered with tents and the hillsides dotted with gold seekers. Great excitement prevails. Even the farmers are contaminated with the fever. Upwards of one hundred men are now in this new district. It is situated in the mountains four miles above the mouth of Farmington canyon. The first discovery of gold in that locality was made on the 5th of September last, by J. T. Griffith. An assay of the find—which was only croppings or float—was made shortly afterward. It went only $10.20 in gold and 45 ounces in silver per ton. A few days later a second assay was made from rock taken out of the ground at a depth of about eighteen inches. In this instance the result was astonishing, reaching as high as $10,450 in gold and 45 ounces in silver per ton. The story, says Mr. Griffith, was made by the most reputable mineralogists in this city and can be depended upon as being correct.

This rich discovery is the property of Messrs. J. T. Griffith and H. W. Southworth and Sons, of Farmington. A shaft has been sunk to the depth of three feet and reveals a six-foot surface of rock, such as the last assay was made from.

JUDGE ZANE'S COURT.

Various Matters Disposed of at This Morning's Session.

Only business of ordinary interest was transacted in the Third District court this morning, and one case having fallen through, owing to a technical flaw in the indictment, the criminal programme for the day was thereby considerably shortened.

"ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL."

In the case of Wm. S. Gilbey, indicted for adultery, the defendant yesterday failed to answer when called, and his bonds were declared forfeited. This morning Attorney Rawlins notified the court that the non-appearance of the defendant was entirely due to a misunderstanding, and, upon his application, Judge Zane set aside the order as to the forfeiture, counsel undertaking that Mr. Gilbey would be ready when again called for trial.

WITNESSES FOR THE DEFENSE.

Attorney Hill, appointed by the court to defend John Stringham, charged with grand larceny, obtained permission to file an affidavit asking that certain witnesses for the defense be paid on behalf of the funds of the Territory.

FOR THE SECOND TIME.

The second trial of John D. Howard and Elias Everitt, on a charge of adultery, had been set down on the list for today, but this morning Prosecuting Attorney Stephens informed that he would prefer to take up some of the other cases first, and let the Howard-Everitt matter go over. The case, he said, would take a full day to try.

Mr. Hamilton, the defendants' counsel, suggested that the matter might be continued until next Monday, though he said he was quite prepared to go on now, if the court so desired.

No definite order was made for the present.

CHASED HIS MAN.

Frank St. Clair and John Smith, two restless looking young fellows about 24 years of age, were indicted for burglary and robbery at the dwelling-house of Mary Hart, on Franklin Avenue, on August 28th.

Mr. Riley and Mr. Anderson defended the accused, by previous order of the court.

Just as Mr. Riley sat down after making an application to the court as to the arraignment of the prisoners, counsel were astonished by St. Clair suddenly jumping up, expressing a wish to withdraw his former plea, and to plead guilty. Pertaining to this, Mr. Riley said that the case of Mr. Clair to hold in abeyance until Smith, who he claimed was innocent, had been tried. Mr. Clair was taken out of court, a jury was empanelled to try the other man, and the prosecuting witness was called to the stand; but the case was speedily cut short owing to a small flaw in the indictment, which the defendant's counsel eagerly seized upon.

On the motion of Assistant District Attorney Stephens, the judge ordered the case to be set aside and re-submitted to the grand jury.

CHARGED WITH ADULTERY.

The last named case having fallen through, that of William S. Gilbey, adultery, was taken up. Attorney Stephens for the prosecuting and Attorney Rawlins defending.

The offence was alleged to have been committed with one Viola Rhodes on February 1st, 1891, near this city. Miss Rhodes was a domestic servant in the defendant's household. Her parents resided near by, and the two families were on friendly and even visiting terms. The offence charged is alleged to have taken place while the complainant was in Mr. Gilbey's service, the result being the birth of a child.

There was quite a number of witnesses, and the trial was in progress when the court adjourned for the noon recess.

A CONTINUANCE.

Upon the application of Mr. Varian, the hearing of a motion to have cases in the case of John Wheeler et al. vs. the Water and Land Company, was continued until Saturday, the 24th instant, the same time being allowed to answer.

COURT NOTES.

Frank Hamilton and Frank Johnson were yesterday afternoon found guilty of horse stealing and sentenced was set for October 17th.

James Hack, of Bountiful, was arraigned and plead guilty to unlawful cohabitation. Sentence will be pronounced on Saturday.

On motion of Prosecuting Attorney Stephens, the charge of adultery and unlawful cohabitation against John Beck were dismissed.

In the case of David James, indicted for unlawful cohabitation, Prosecuting Attorney Stephens stated that the prosecution could not go on with the trial, in consequence of the absence of an important witness, who could not be found. The defendant's counsel insisted upon either a trial or a dismissal, and Mr. James was then discharged by the court.

The case of W. I. Gilby, charged with unlawful cohabitation, was called up and as the defendant failed to appear his bonds were declared forfeited. Defendant's sureties are C. E. Henderson and W. Anderson.

In the divorce case of Glendora Watrous vs. H. R. Watrous, the defendant was allowed until November 1 to file statement and motion for a new trial.

In the case of John Wall vs. P. A. H. Franklin, the hearing on the order to show cause why an injunction should not issue was set for November 3.

The charge of burglary preferred against Will Carlson, by E. P. Austin was dismissed by Commissioner Norrell yesterday afternoon.

Governor Thomas has issued a requisition on the governor of Montana for the surrender of Thomas McMillen, "wanted" in this city on a charge of grand larceny. The man was arrested at Butte, Mont., and a deputy marshal will go to fetch him home. McMillen is accused of stealing from W. R. Andrews of Salt Lake, a few days later a second assay was made from rock taken out of the ground at a depth of about eighteen inches. In this instance the result was astonishing, reaching as high as $10,450 in gold and 45 ounces in silver per ton. The story, says Mr. Griffith, was made by the most reputable mineralogists in this city and can be depended upon as being correct.

This rich discovery is the property of Messrs. J. T. Griffith and H. W. Southworth and Sons, of Farmington. A shaft has been sunk to the depth of three feet and reveals a six-foot surface of rock, such as the last assay was made from.

A carpenter named George Aldrich was last night arrested by Deputy Marshal Bush, on a charge of burglary. The complainant is a fellow workman of the accused, one Joe Fine, and he alleges that Aldrich made a forcible entrance into his house on First East Street between Seventh and Eighth South. Failing to give bonds, Aldrich was held in custody to await preliminary examination.

Judge Anderson held an court today, as the United States commissioner had nothing before them this morning.

The Attorney General has appointed Mr. J. L. Rawlins to represent the government in the proceedings before the Examiner in regard to the apportionment of such funds as are to be applied to the public schools from the proceeds of the tithing of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Mr. Rawlins will act in conjunction with United States District Attorney Varian.

Amusements.

The Choral Society and Tabernacle Choir combined last night at the Tabernacle. There were about 150 members present. The "Hallelujah Chorus" and "Voice of Discord" were rehearsed under the leadership of Professor Stephens. Both organizations will meet again on Monday night for joint practice.

Sol Smith opens his engagement at the Salt Lake Theatre tonight in "The Nominee." He will play the same character night after night "A John Mint" will be given at the matinee tomorrow. No one can accuse "The Nominee" of correct or questionable morality, but it is certain that it contains lines to be being paid for the privilege of receiving them. The box office statements show that in addition to being a very funny and clever drama it is also being filled to a state of wealth which would turn the head of a lone senate politician.

ALLEGED CRIMINAL ASSAULT.

A School Teacher Charged with Building a Lady Student of Her Virtue.

The little settlement of Pleasant Green, on the west side of the valley, was thrown into a flutter of excitement at an early hour this morning by the arrest of J. W. Wood, a school teacher, at that place, on a charge of committing a criminal assault on the person of a sixteen-year-old girl.

The accused, it is said, came to this Territory from the East, about two years ago, and has taught school in several of the outlying towns since his arrival. About two months ago he was engaged as instructor by the Pleasant Green trustees, and soon after entered upon his duties. At first he made his home at the residence of Mr. A. G. Spencer, but for some cause changed his boarding place to the home of Mr. Austin Brown, at whose house he was visited by the officers this morning. The story goes that the new schoolmaster was importunate and entertaining, but that he took undue liberties with some of his lady students, by reason of which some of them indignantly refused to continue attending school while he was in charge.

Notwithstanding this, he was instrumental in installing himself in the good graces of a young lady—whose name is purposely withheld—on the last day of the exhibition of Forepaugh's Circus in this city he invited her to come to town and spend the day with him, by the free and full consent of her mother. On their arrival the young lady accompanied her schoolmaster to a restaurant where they had dinner. After this they went to the show during the afternoon. The couple had supper at another restaurant, when the performance was over. Then it is further alleged that he induced the young lady to take a walk with him. She says that he exhibited signs of nervousness, but did not excite her suspicion. He finally proposed that they go into a hotel and rest for a short time. The girl did not suspecting that a trap was being laid for her, agreed to the proposition. Her friends say that she was soon horrified to find that she had not been taken into a hotel, but into a house of assignation where she was robbed of her virtue. The girl in explaining away her presence and reasons for entering the building says that she is unacquainted to the temptations of a large city and that for the time been in such in the rural districts. She swears positively that she resisted the fiendish assault of her inhuman companion and screamed lustily for assistance, but says that no attention was paid to her cries, by the inmates of the house, although they must have heard the outcry in the building. She accompanied him home and avers threatened to expose him but time and reflection, if not fear, of offering to make restitution by marriage.

She concealed the whole affair from the family until a few days ago when he estimated of the outrage to her mother. One of her brothers learned of the awful crime and the first time that he could manfully control himself would have killed the alleged seducer of his sister had not his better judgment prevailed and regained the mastery of his anger. He, however, came to this city last night and laid the matter before the officers. As a result, Wolf was placed under arrest at 4 a. m. today by Captain Parker and Officer Johnson on a charge of committing a criminal assault on the young lady.

It is said that he made an attempt to leave Pleasant Green last night, but the house in which he lodged was closely watched making escape impossible. He was arraigned before Justice Goodwin before noon today and entered a plea of not guilty. He gave his age as 23, though he looks at least ten years older.

The story as told by the complainant is very damaging to the guilt of the accused. He, however, will set forth that she was a willing accessory to the alleged crime. The date of trial has not yet been fixed.

At the Temple of Honor.

The second lecture of the proposed series under the auspices of the Temple of Honor was given last night by Scott Anderson at the society's hall, over the Deseret Bank. The audience was fairly large, and the attention of it throughout greatly enlivened the meeting. The lecturer was one of the founders of this branch of the order, and the address dealt largely with the history and purpose of the same, and its work in the cause of temperance. According to his recording the organization is over a generation old. The speaker's talk is were followed with great attention and interest.

Alleged Highwaymen Discharged.

The trio of Italians who were arrested at an early hour yesterday morning on a charge of holding up one Louis Spire, bartender of the I. X. L. saloon, were arraigned before Justice Cox, last evening. They entered pleas of not guilty. Although the evidence seemed very strong against them they stoutly protested their innocence, and were discharged by the court on a promise that they would leave the city within twenty-four hours.

They averred that they were detectives, in search of one Lee McCormick, the alleged murderer of Thomas Hamilton, of Lemhi county, Idaho, who was killed on July 5th, last. In proof of this statement they produced badges and certificates of membership in the United States and International Detective Agencies of Walla Walla. They were all heavily armed and were bad looking men. Experts say that their certificates of membership were all spurious.

Templeton Hotel Fire.

Between the hours of two and three o'clock this morning one of the chambermaids of the Templeton Hotel was aroused from her sleep by the strong smell of smoke. She at once concluded that there was a fire somewhere in the hotel and ran out in the hall. The fire was said to have originated from spontaneous combustion. The loss is only trifling, and the affair passed off so quietly that none of the guests were disturbed.

Coroner's Verdict.

An inquest was held by Coroner Harris at 2:30 this afternoon, over the remains of John Frick, the Rio Grande Western brakeman, whose tragic death was chronicled in yesterday's NEWS. The jury impanelled of E. G. Irvine, George Rhodes and C. P. Martin. The following verdict was rendered: "We the jury find that the deceased came to his death by the detachment of a car at the Diamond Quarry switch, on the Rio Grande Western, in Ruby Park canyon on the evening of the 14th inst. by being crushed under a derailed box car." There also exonerated the railroad company and its attaches from all blame.

He continued by saying that, as the individuals are to his treatment of Parnell were not denied or repudiated by the men who lines them to be false, he felt absolved from all obligation to silence in regard to the conference at Boulogne. These same men are now silent, whilst their organ charges me with plotting to get rid of Parnell. They, themselves, pressed me to consent to Parnell's final proposition which was that he should retire for a brief period, and in the course of the negotiations, they repeated their convictions that it should have solved the difficulty, had I consented."

A letter from Parnell to O'Brien was then given in which the former expressed his gratitude for the kindness and gentleness of spirit shown him by O'Brien. O'Brien concludes: "This closed the Boulogne conversation with a full to the conviction that we parted as honorable opponents."

The Great Benefit

Which people in run down state of health derive from Hostetter's Stomachs conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hostetter's Stomach Bitters up in a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver. 3

Happy Results.

WM. TIMMONS, postmaster of Linville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, in the hope of relieving suffering from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be best medicine for Liver and Kidneys, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies, he found new strength, good appetite and has just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle, at A. G. Smith & Co's Drug Store. 3a
