OBITUARY.

HARRIET ANN ROBERTS.

On the morning of December 16, at her home in Kaysville, Utah, there passed to "that bourne from whence no traveler returns" one of the honored Pioneers of Utah, Sister Harriet Ann Roberts.

She was born in Appenby, Leicestershire, England, May 16, 1816, where the days of her early life were spent. It was here in her native village that the Gospel's glad message greeted her ears, and she embraced its truths and was baptized. Here, too, she was married to Levi Roberts, and in 1841 they emigrated to America with the second company of Saints that gathered to Zion. They came thus early to Utah, and accommodated they that their husband had accumulated they freely expended to assist poorer families to emigrate, and they were consequently poorly prepared to meet the hardships that they encountered in the new world. But with characteristic energy and perseverance they only soon adapted themselves to conditions as they were, and won the love and esteem of their associates. Sister Roberts was a faithful wife and a kind and loving mother. During the trying scenes preceding the death of the Prophet Joseph she cheered her husband in performing his duties, and the suffering and privations of that trying period drew no murmuring word from her lips. Sickness came upon her, but her faith still bore her up, and she passed uncomplainingly through the famine exodus to Winter Quarters. The family was poor, the husband and father was exerting every effort to provide the necessities of life for them, when the call came for the Mormon battalion to organize. The invalid wife and mother freely consented to her husband's volunteering for service in defending his country, she urged him to do so, and bravely she faced the difficulties before her alone, sustained always by an abiding faith in her Heavenly Father.

There was a joyful reunion when the Mormon war ended and her husband returned to Winter Quarters. While he was away she had been miraculously restored to health, and soon after, in 1848, she came to Utah with her husband and family. They settled in Kaysville, and here they have made their home ever since. Her husband died on the 22d day of January, 1878.

Sister Roberts has been patient and uncomplaining through the many years that she has been a hopeless invalid. She was prepared for the call, and when the angel of death summoned her to another sphere of action, though he was clad in somber robes and to others seemed repelling, to her he was a welcome messenger. She died loved and lamented by a circle of old acquaintances who have known her as a faithful, consistent and consistent Latter-day Saint. She leaves seven children, six daughters and one son.

HENRY H. BLOOD.

HENRY TALBOT.

LAYTON, Utah, Dec. 23, 1895.—On Saturday night the 14th inst., there departed this life, after a short illness of one week, Henry Talbot, aged eighty-two years.

The deceased was one of the first to embrace the Gospel in the eastern province of South Africa, and himself and family, who were some of its first fruits also, were among the first to take their journey Zionward. They sailed from Algoa Bay, Port Elizabeth, in the Hesperus, in the month of February, 1861, arriving in Salt Lake City in the month of September of the same year. He leaves behind him twenty children and over 150 grand and great-grand children, a great number of whom are in Utah, Idaho and Arizona.

Bro. Talbot has lived a life of honesty and integrity to the principles of truth and died as he had lived, at peace with all men, and a prayer upon his lips for the ultimate triumph of the principles of salvation. He was buried in the Kaysville cemetery on Wednesday, the 18th inst., the services being conducted by Bishop D. Harris of the Layton ward, in the Kaysville meeting house. Many were the eulogies spoken by the brethren, upon the brother who has just departed. He died in the full hope of coming forth in the morning of the first resurrection.—[Com.

EDWARD PATTERSON.

BLOOMINGTON, Bear Lake county, Idaho, Dec. 20, 1895.—Elder Edward Patterson, son of William Patterson and Jane Mellergar, was born at Byker, Ellesmite Parish, Northumberland, England, July 7th, 1816; embraced the Gospel November 19, 1850; crossed the ocean with a company of Latter-day Saints in the ship Belle Wood; came to Pottsville, Pa., in 1851, and crossed the plains in Captain Martin's train from Boston, landed at Bloomington, Bear Lake county, Idaho, in the fall of 1869; moved to North Eden in 1871, and took to Bloomington in 1880, where he resided till the day of his death, November 6th, 1895, leaving his beloved wife, Mary Bowman, who had been his companion fifty-eight years, and ten mother to his of seven sons and two daughters, of whom remain three sons and one daughter; also thirty-two grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren to mourn his loss. He lived an honorable life, and died in full faith of a glorious resurrection, as though passing into a quiet sleep, at the age of 81 years, 4 months and 12 days.

The popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the high esteem in which it is held leads us to believe it to be an article of great worth and merit. We have the pleasure of giving our experience of three prominent citizens of Bendemeh Beach, Ont., in the use of the remedy. Mr. A. V. Trudell, says: "I have always received prompt relief when I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Mr. James Orchard, says: "I am satisfied that Chamberlain's Cough remedy cured my child." Mr. J. M. Hatcher, says: "For three years I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and its results have always been satisfactory."

Jewelry and watches, at prices to suit the times, at Jensen's.

It Costs Little and Does Much.

Remember when you attend a play or concert how many people disturb the performance by coughing. One man begins and the cough seems to be contagious. The interruption is a great nuisance, and there is no good of it, for anyone may take a cough with the Pineola Balsam, which costs 25c. It soothes the inflammation in the throat and leaves the mucus which causes the tickling cough and heals a sore throat.
