MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS

WHITE PINE CAMPS WILL HAVE BOOM.

Ernest L. Godbe Visits Cherry Creek and Other Nevada Mining Districts.

MUCH ACTIVITY DISPLAYED.

Property Changing Hands Freely—A New Gold Camp Found—Railroad Construction Underway.

Ernest L. Godbe has returned from a professional trip to Cherry Creek, and other Nevada mining districts and brought the information that the region is alive with prospectors and mining men and that there has not been so much activity witnessed in the country before.

At Cherry Creek, particularly, the outlook is exceedingly bright and during the past few weeks several quite important deals have been made in which eastern capital has figured conspicuously. Some very rich ore has been found in the Egan canyon section, while other finds have been made along the range of mountains south of the canyon, indicating that there is a vast gold belt extending the whole distance from Cherry Creek to Ely.

In the latter camp the Giroux Copper company is pushing the construction of the new smelter with the display of a great deal of zeal, while the Nevada Consolidated is carrying forward its campaign of exploration with equal vigor.

Mr. Godbe brought in the interesting information that the grading for the Nevada Northern railroad, which is to extend from Hoano to Ely, a distance of 148 miles, is well under way; that the Utah Construction company has outfits scattered along the route for a distance of probably 30 miles and that fully 10 miles of the grading has been completed.

When the construction company landed its outfits in the Steptoe valley sometime ago the report went out that they were there in the intersts of the Western Pacific Railroad company. This report, Mr. Godbe states, was erroneous; that no Western Pacific outfits have yet reached that portion of the country.

The camps of White Pine company are going to have a boom, Mr. Bodbe believes is certain. Ely is going to make a great big copper camp and the building of the Nevada Northern and the Western Pacific is sure to give to the camps of that section such stimulous that nothing can hold them back.

Mr. Godbe visited Aurum and Muncy Creek, both of which, he believes, are going to make god camps.

FORENOON ON EXCHANGE.

New York Bonanza Drops a Few Points—Closing Quotations.

On the mining exchange during the forenoon a total of 11,800 shares of stocks were sold, the same bringing the sum of $4,218.37.

The feature of the trading of the regular call was furnished by New York bonanza, which sold down to 19 cents. There seems to be a growing belief that an assessment cannot be long delayed; that this will be a part of the business transacted at the next meeting of the board of directors. Butler-Liberal found buyers at 6½ cents on the open board and Columbus Consolidated moved up to $2.21 from $2.20, the opening sale price.

The closing quotations and sales were as follows:

EDISON WANTS COBALT.

Inventor Asks Utah Mining Men to Supply Him With This Mineral.

A private letter to a well known Salt Lake mining man from the great inventor, Thomas A. Edison, indicates that he is in the market for cobalt ore and that if it can be found in commercial quantities here there will be a new field opened to local mining men.

Mr. Edison says in his letter:

"I am after cobalt. It is sometimes found disseminated sparingly in various kinds of rocks, which give no indication to the eye of containing any mineral. In your spare time if you will collect about two ounces of each kind of ore, rock, pyrite, etc., and forward a number to me plainly marked so that you could identify the place, I will have them asseyed for cobalt, and, if in sufficient quantity, I will notify you in which sample it is found, and a fair amount will probably lead to business between us."

BAMBERGER-DE LAMAR.

Improvement Noted in Mine Conditions—The New Shines Plant.

Work at the Bamberger-DeLamar mine, according to the Lode of DeLamar, is being energetically pushed by Foreman Heath. The uprise in the new ore body on the sixth level is being shoved skyward, and continues of the same rich quality and dimensions. In fact, this infant bonanza, as work progresses, indicates that it will be as big a man as its dady, and fully equal to it in richness.

The ore body in the Korkskrewue, better known as the Hog Pen, keeps nobly growing in dimensions. The ore on the eleventh and twelfth levels continues about the same. A new and substantial hoist is being erected on the tenth level for facilitating the extraction of ore, a skip being placed thereon. The ore on these levels is loose, and several caves in the mine have recently occurred. This plainly shows the ore body has ample room to expand and liable tot grow in magnitude. A drift has been run in on ore on the twelfth level for a distance of 80 feet.

The mill, under the supervision of Jack Angus, continues running steadily, grinding up about 350 tons of ore per day. The mill department is running as smoothly as one could desire, and extraction of the yellow metal A No. 1.

The erection of the new works for leaching the old tailings dump is going on as rapidly as circumstances will admit, and will be pushed to early completion.

MADE NEAT CLEAN-UP.

President of Steel Trust Makes a Profit Of $6,000,000 in North Butte.

A message which came over the Pollock wires today says:

"The Boston Herald has a dispatch that President Corey of the Steel Trust, and associates of Pittsburg, have just cleaned up a profit of $6,000,000 in the North Butte mine. Perhaps this is where all the stock has been coming from lately."

DEAL FOR COAL LANDS.

One Said to be Pending for Sanpete Property.

It was learned from a reliable source during the day that the Utah Fuel company and the Rio Grande Western Railroad company had undertaken negotiations for the purchase of a large tract of coal land east of the Sanpete Valley railroad in Sanpete county.

Beaver County Development.

At the Lulu and Frisco Contact properties in Beaver county the campaign of development is progressing steadily. At the Lulu drifting is in progress on the 400 level, while in the Contact, the shaft is going down, the present depth being 380 feet.

Mrs. J. D. Bowers, who resides next to Gunter's, saw the fellow enter the basement window. She immediately gave the alarm and Mr. Bowers saw the fellow leaving. Armed with a rifle, Mr. Bowers brought the fellow to a standstill, and the police were telephoned for.

Officers Seager and Leaver responded and took the man to police headquarters. He stated that he merely went into the basement to get a blanket and did not intend to rob the place. He will be charged with housebreaking.

STILL LEARY WILL NOT.

Cannot be Induced to Run With "Amerians"—New Party Emblem.

Following the flush of excitement after the primaries of the American party, there is a long faced lull just now, and one cause of it is James C. Leary. When he announced over the wire from a distant point in Idaho that he would not stay tied, his friends in the party became his persecutors. They went to Idaho, and then they went to his home in Salt Lake and pleaded, begged, entreated, and besought him to hold fast to the nomination. But Leary said them nay, and at last they have admitted that a vacancy exists in the ticket. A meeting will be held tcnight to consider ways and means of filling it.

The financial side of the question of "American" party politics is also very much in the air, it is alleged, as the defeat of Joe Lippman as a delegate on the grounds that there was "too much Kearns" in the party already, has caused a screwing up of the taps leading into the barrel.

The party's emblem, too, has been put out of commission for their use by its previous adoption for the Republican party. It is now said that they will chose a substitute in the near future.

CAN'T PLAY "TRELAWNEY"

Henry Miller Seeks Revenge With University Dramatic Club.

Henry Miller, or some of his associates, remembered an unpleasant incident of four years ago, when the University Dramatic club recently requested permission to play "Trelawney of the Wells," and the result is a sudden change on the part of the Utah students in their plans. They will present "Niobe" this fall, just before the Christmas vacation, and "Twelfth Night" in the springtime.

The incident is that four years ago the Dramatic club secured permission to put on "Trelawney" and billed the town for it, when Henry happened along with his high class company, intending to bill the town for the same show, with a date a week later. The advance man wired for instructions, and an effort was made to suppress the University performance. It was not successful, and Mr. Miller was forced to substitute a play in which he had formerly appeared here.

Now the answer to a second request for the piece brings a prohibitive figure, and the statement: "We still have recollections of the unduly advertised amateur presentation of this piece by your association some few years ago."
