ANOTHER GOOD BILL OF RACES

Plenty of Thrills in Offerings at Saucer Track Last Night.

CRAMER MUCH SURPRISED.

Veteran Rider Forced to Sit up and Take Notice When Samuelson's Time is Announced.

Last night at the saucer track was a demonstrative one. Everybody had a shout coming, and took advantage of his prerogative. For Battling Nelson there was the loud applause that is a champion's due, and for Cramer there was another such, when he was announced as the American champion bike rider. For Iver Lawson there was a rough house kicked up because the crowd wanted him and wanted him bad when the other champions were bowing to the applause. John Held "got his." It wasn't good natured applause, either; for the crowd is tired of "Merry Oldsmobile," and he inflicted on playing it just once too often. Notice to this effect was served on him, although John may not have heard the message in the confusion.

WIZARD STOP WATCHES.

The race bill was an interesting one, in which the reputation of Samuelson was savaged from the wreck of his recent efforts, by the fact that he went six miles to catch Pye in the extra remarkable time of 12:30 2-5. Cramer informally remarked to the riders around him when the time was announced that it made him sit up and take notice. Others it impressed with a desire to buy their own stop watches.

The pursuit race was built to please the galleries. Sammy rode powerfully hard from the start and for five miles kept Pye crowded to his limit to kep ahead of him. Then he let out a more powerful touch of speed and gradually wore Pye down, passing him at six miles even, according to the announced distance.

The Lemp's beer handicap, in which $20 of the purse of $215 was a donation from the booze agency, was a wild and weird affair. Lawson was starred by starting alone 20 yards behind the nearest competitor. Away up the line McFarland clung to a wheel and a starter, and then the others stretched out half around the saucer. Nobody seemed to have a plan for his riding. Lawson and McFarland combined to get up, but they didn't work at it very hard, and Iver took his turn with Mac in pacing.

Up in front there was a jumble of speed men who had been lapped mingling with speedier sprinters who had lapped them, and combinations working in all kinds of confusion. When the race finished men were scattered all over the track, but Hollister was declared winner as he had lapped most of the bunch. Lawson was second and Downing, who had hogged his wheel to victory, was third.

HUME GOES SOME.

Hume was cheered for winning the five-mile lap race for amateurs. Instead of making his usual sprint of a lap and a half to home, he jumped the last quarter lap and passed Diefenbacher, who made a brilliant fight all the way through.

The summary:

Half-mile open professional, final—Lawson, McFarland, Bardgett, Hollister, Clarke. Time—:57 3-5.

Mile handicap, amateur, final—Carter (25 yards), West (scratch), Hume (scratch), Diefenbacher (25 yards). Time—1:51.

Australian pursuit race between W. E. Samuelson and E. Pye—Samuelson won in 6 miles. Time—12:30 2-5.

Five-mile handicap, amateur, (lap)—Hume (scratch), Diefenbacher (10 yards), Wright (75 yards) Berryessa (175 yards), Giles (5 yards). Time—10:26.

Two-mile handicap professional—Hollister (35 yards), Lawson (scratch), Downing (25 yards), Palmer (50 yards). Time—3:40.

PLAYER ON STRIKE.

"Cy" Seymour Refuses to Don New York National Uniform.

New York, Aug. 3.—"Cy" Seymour, the center fielder whose release the New York National team paid $10,000 for recently to the Cincinnati club, and who has been playing with the local team for some time refused to don a uniform here today in the game against St. Louis at the Polo grounds. Seymour claims that he is entitled to a share of the money paid by the New York management to Cincinnati for his release and until this is done, he says, he will not play longer with the New Yorkers nor with any other club. The management of the local club cannot do anything in the case as they have nothing to say as to what arrangement or agreement the player may have made with the Cincinnati management.

Seymour says he has nothing to complain of so far as the New York club is concerned and he has repeated this statement to President John T. Brush today. At the same time he refused to put on a uniform and walked out of the grounds just as the game began. The local club is chagrined at the loss of Seymour's services just on the eve of the series with Chicago which begins here tomorrow.

AUGERED TOO QUICK.

Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Charles Carr, manager and first baseman of the Indianapolis American Association Baseball club, was discharged today, in police court, where he answered to a charge of assault with a spectator in the grandstand of the ball park here several days ago. He was acquitted upon a technicality. It was brought out at the trial by witnesses that the remark at which Carr became angered was in no way an offensive one.

MANAGER QUITS.

Sioux City, Ia., Aug. 3.—Manager John J. Carney of the Sioux City Western league baseball team, has resigned. Carney's resignation was due to the illness of his wife. He is now at her bedside in Boston.

FRIGHTFULLY BURNED.

Chas. W. Moore, a machinist, of Ford City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electrical furnace. He applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve with the usual result: "a quick and perfect cure." Catarrhal Gastritis

"For two years I was in a very bad condition. I was treated by a number of eminent physicians for chronic catarrhal gastritis and dilatation of the stomach, and obtained no relief. I grew gradually worse, my breathing was so difficult at times that I thought I would die. My heart was in very bad condition from poor circulation and pressure of the dilated stomach. I decided it was only a matter of a very short time with me. I was advised to try Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure, and before I had finished taking one bottle of the medicine I felt like a new being. I took eight bottles of the medicine, and am entirely cured, for a matter of about $8.00 in the face of two hundreds spent in the two years before without relief." A. D. SLACK,

Master Mechanic of the I. & G. N. R. R., San Antonio, Texas.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

BATTLING NELSON IN RING TONIGHT

Champion Lightweight Will Give Exhibition in Bicycle Arena.

IS MATCHED TO FIGHT GANS.

Greatest Ring Battle of the Age to Take Place at Goldfield on Labor Day—Purse $30,000.

Salt Lakers will have a chance this evening to see Battling Nelson in the ring for the last time until he enters the roped arena to do battle with Joe Gans, one of the greatest lightweight fighters the world has ever known.

A special program of sports has been arranged by the management at the Salt Palace for this evening, the feature of which will be a six-round exhibition with Battling Nelson as the principal attraction. He will box three rounds with Clem Groves and a like number of round with Terry Davis. In a day or two Nelson and Manager Billy Nolan will leave for Nevada, where Nelson will condition himself for the most important battle of his career.

In addition to the exhibition this evening, Iver Lawson, Jack Hume, Benny Munroe and Fred West will race behind motors. They will try to lower the mile record behind pace. There will also be a five-mile motor race between Clem Turville's and T. M. Samuelson's machines. Willard Bean and Jack Christy will entertain the crowd with a four-round bout.

BIG MATCH IS ON.

The greatest boxing match arranged in a decade is now on and there remains but a few tangled threads to be brought together when articles will be signed for a finish fight between Battling Nelson and Joe Gans. Manager Nolan has been reluctant to signing for a match with Gans for the reason that he does not trust the negro. Gans has played so many low tricks and has figured in so many fakes that Nolan did not look kindly on a contest. But, public sentiment and the offer of a $30,000 purse on the part of rich men at Goldfield, Nev., and Gans promise to post a forfeit of $5,000 for appearance, weight and as a gaurantee to box on the square has won Nolan over and the big match is now all but made.

Nelson has long wanted to cross arms with the black man. The Great Dane hates the negro and has been aching for a chance to show the public that he can beat the great lightweight. He was a happy boy last evening when Nolan showed him the telegrams received from Goldfield, and informed him that the match was on. The telegrams, which are published below, will tell the story of the arrangements, and will tend to show what a wise and foxy manager Nelson has in Nolan:

NOLAN AFTER BIG MONEY.

Goldfield club to Nolan: "Will you fight Jack Clifford, $5,000 side bet?"

Nolan's answer: "What inducements from club. I will cover any side bet that any living lightweight makes."

Goldfield club to Nolan: "Clifford's manager will not make any side bet."

Goldfield club to Nolan: "Will give you $15,000 purse to fight Gans."

Nolan's anwer: "I would expect more money than that for Nelson's end."

Goldfield club to Nolan: "Will give you $20,000. This is final."

Nolan's answer: "I will accept nothing less than a $30,000 purse for the Gans-Nelson fight."

Goldfield club to Nolan: "We accept your offer to fight Gans on Labor day. Have $30,000 purse in bank. John S. Cook's bank guarantees purse."

Nolan's answer: "Never had any business with you and don't know your bank. Deposit your money with the San Francisco Call and then we will do business with you."

Goldfield club to Nolan: "Money in Cook's bank. Will have it with Call tomorrow."

WILL BE FINISH FIGHT.

According to Nolan, the fight is to be a finish affair. This is one of the conditions demanded by the wise manager. He does not propose to give the dinge a chance to use his great cleverness to win over Nelson on mere points. The longer the battle goes the better for Nelson. Those who know Nolan and his methods know full well there will be no fight unless Gans lives up to every clause in the articles of agreement. The black man must weigh in at the ringside at 133 pounds. This does not mean he can weigh in and then take a two hours' rest and thus pick up a couple of pounds or so. Right after the weighing in the big fight will be on and, as Nelson remarked last night, "The man who wins will truely be a hero." It will surely be a battle worth crossing the continent to see. Nelson's style of milling is well known to Salt Lakers. They remember how he went after Spider Welch at the Salt Palace, in the fight that started the battler on his climb to the championship. No matter how hot the pace he is always at the scratch. No man has ever made him break ground. He may be knocked down but when he gets up it is only to lay back his ears and wade in more viciously than ever.

GANS IS TRICKY.

Gans is one of the cleverest fighters in the world. He is a great ring general. Knows all the tricks in the game, is quick as lightning and has a terrible wallop. But it is doubtful if he will be at his best when pulled down to 133 pounds. It means he will have to work off 10 or 12 pounds. It is well known that Nelson is at his best at the poundage agreed upon. The terms of agreement have not all been decided upon. There is still the question of division of the money, and the selection of a referee.

On another page of this issue of the "News" will be found additional comment on the big match, with a statement of the records made by Gans and Nelson.

HUNT LOSES AGAIN.

Is Defeated in Northwest by Nat Emerson of Cincinnati.

Minneapolis, Aug. 3.—Nat Emerson of Cincinnati defeated R. H. Hunt of California this afternoon in the semi-finals of the northwestern tennis championship at Deephaven. The match was the heaviest fight of any of the present tournament. The defeat of the coast representative was a surprise, as he was playing in great form, and it was expected that he would carry off a victory in this match. The final score was 7—5, 6—0, 3—6, 4—6, 9—7.

Tomorrow Waidner and Emerson will meet, and the winner is matched with Kreigh Collins for the championship.

HERMAN AT WORK.

Young Boxer Improving for Coming Fight With Benny Yanger.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 3.—Kid Herman, who is to fight Benny Yanger here Aug. 10, offered some of the local boxing fans some amusement today when he took on three or four of the local boys for short bouts with the pillows at his training quarters at Broad Ripple. Enough boys consented to spar with the coming would-be champion to make the bouts interesting and a big crowd journeyed to the gymnasium.

Herman sparred with Joe Galligan today. They went five fast rounds and Herman came up at the finish apparently as strong as ever. He can stand a great deal of work and will be in shape to go through the hardest kind of stunts by Monday. He took a longer trip on the road than usual today. After he returned from the trip he took a swim and then rested until time for the afternoon gymnasium exercises.

The work of the past week is beginning to do Herman a lot of good. He is getting faster on his feet and is putting up some swift bouts with the clever Ryan and the hurricane Galligan. The surplus flesh is coming off gradually, but his trainers are watching their man that it does not come off with too much speed.

WALKS ON WATER.

Mexican Student at Cornell Tries New Invention on Cayuga Lake.

New York, Aug. 4.—A special to the Times from Ithaca, N. Y., says:

Jose Antonio Ostos, a Mexican student at Cornell university, walked on the water of Cayuga lake yesterday. He wore a pair of water shoes which he recently designed in the department of mechanical engineering. He shot about over the water in every direction with little apparent effort.

The shoes are constructed of tin, with four air chambers in each and a separate compartment for the foot. They are five feet, three inches long, 14 inches wide and nearly 15 inches deep. Collapsible fans prevent them from slipping backward. A large crowd witnessed the test. Mr. Ostos is a prominent athlete in the university, rowing in the freshman crew at Poughkeepsie in 1902. His chief object in having the shoes made is to start a new form of water sport at Cornell, a sort of water lacrosse. He hopes to introduce the game in other universities if it proves a success here.

MAXWELL LEADS.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 3.—Harry L. Maxwell's 70-footer Yankee was the first boat over the finish line at Morris Cove in the first squadron run of the New York Yacht club's annual cruise this afternoon, making the run from Glencove, L. I., in 5 hours, 21 minutes, 31 seconds. The Yankee was closely followed by Cornelius Vanderbilt's Rainbow, whose time was 5 hours, 30 minutes, 29 seconds.

CREW IN GOOD FORM.

Queenstown, Aug. 3.—The Harvard eight oared crew, which is to row Cambridge university on The Thames Sept. 8, arrived here tonight on the White Star liner Cedric. The men enjoyed the trip over, and exercised on board ship as much as possible. They are in splendid health.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. SIR THOMAS HAS NEW RACING IDEA

Would Build Two Yachts and Run Best Against Defender.

ASKS FOR A CONCESSION.

Rules at Present Require Him to Name His Boat With the Issuance of His Challenge.

New York, Aug. 4.—A cable dispatch to the Times from London says:

Sir Thomas Lipton, whose anxiety to challenge again for the America's cup is well known, has made the suggestion to a number of prominent yachtsmen on this side of the Atlantic that, in case he sees his way clear to a formal challenge, he would like to secure a concession from the New York Yacht club allowing him to build two yachts, sail one against the other and send the better boat against the Defender.

He firmly believes he is justified in seeking this concession. The defending side, as is well known, has the privilege of trying out its boats, but the challenger must, under the deed of gift, name the boat with the challenge. Yachtsmen here who have discussed this matter informally seem to agree with Sir Thomas that this desire to obtain such a concession is perfectly fair.

While no formal statement has been made by Sir Thomas Lipton that he has any legitimate hopes of success in this direction, the inference is that he has sounded certain of the New York Yacht club officials and is not without reasonable expectations that the question may be raised at the proper time with satisfaction to both sides.

THREE RECORDS GO.

New Horse Takes World's Records in Consecutive Heats at Glenville.

Cleveland, Aug. 3.—At the Glenville track today the Broncho, the little daughter of Stormcliffe, and who was recently purchased by Messrs. Charles Dean, the Broncho's driver, took her away fast, and in each heat was so far ahead of the other four starters that it looked like a parade. Results:

2:24 class trotting, M. & M. consolation, purse $2,000—Czarina Dawson won three straight heats and the race in 2:11¼, 2:13, 2:14½. Fashodt, J. N. Blackmore and Frank Hedic also started.

HAPPY MULTI-MILLIONAIRE.

How Andrew Carnegie Amuses Himself at Skibo Castle.

If any one doubts that a multi-millionaire can be a perfectly happy man, said a friend of the writer, I should advise him to arrange, if possible, to spend a day or two with Mr. Andrew Carnegie at Skibo Castle, his summer house in Scotland, and I guarantee that his doubt will speedily take wings; for I do not think there are many men in Great Britain, rich or poor, who so thoroughly enjoy life as this wonderful Scotsman, who has made almost as many millions as he has lived years. This at least was the conviction forced on me when I spent a few delightful days as his guest a couple of years ago.

But, indeed, it would be rather difficult for any man not to enjoy life under such ideal conditions and in such a lovely environment. Skibo Castle, you must know, stands on a slight eminence near the shores of Dornoch Firth, in the far north of Scotland and but a few miles from Dunrobin, the regal home of the Dukes of Sutherland. Behind it rise magnificent, heath-covered hills, and in front stretches a glorious panorama of loch and moors and hills, such as you will scarcely match even in romantic Scotland; while the castle itself, which Mr. Carnegie has largely rebuilt, is a stately pile, beautiful to look upon and full of historic associations.

To this splendid retreat the millionaire "laird" loves to retire every summer; and here he spends an ideally happy time with his wife and little daughter, entertaining his countless friends and finding each day too short for his many recreations and activities.

Naturally a man who has led such a strenuous life finds no pleasure in idleness. Full of irrepressible energy, he must always be doing something, and at Skibo he finds plenty to occupy his time very agreeably. In fact, the place is his hobby, and he is always planning some improvement to add to its charms. Now he is enthusiastically superintending the laying out of golf links; now he is diverting the course of a stream to make a beautiful lake; and again he is constructing a road through the mountains—schemes which give him infinite pleasure and also provide employment for a small army of men.

And these are but a few of his many activities, mental and physical. Every day, from all quarters of the world, there pours in on him a perfect deluge of letters, all of which demand attention; and although the majority of them (chiefly of the begging order) are suppressed by his secretary and never come into his hands, his daily correspondence usually occupies a large part of his morning. He is a great reader, too, and spends an hour or two daily with the newspapers and periodicals which are scattered in lavish profusion all over the place, or with the treasured volumes in his splendid library.

Almost more than his books Mr. Carnegie loves music, and one of his greatest pleasures is to sit in the hall of Skibo while the castle organist, a highly-paid artist of great skill, conjures sweet music from his magnificent organ. Another form of music which delights the millionaire is the skirl of the pipes, to which the household, in good Scottish fashion, awakes every morning. Mr. Carnegie also spends many pleasant hours in the billiard-room, where he handles the cue with great enthusiasm and no little skill; he loves to work in his beautiful gardens, and to take long tramps over the hills with the brisk step of a boy.

But undoubtedly Mr. Carnegie's happiest hours are those spent with his wife and daughter—"Madam" and "Missie," as he playfully calls them—to both of whom he is devoted.

When, as is often the case, the castle is filled with his friends he is one of the most hospitable and thoughtful of hosts, and the day's program is a full and merry one. He takes his guests for long and delightful drives, accompanies them on fishing expeditions (he is a keen disciple of the great Izaak,) takes them on his steam yacht to explore the romantic castles on Dornoch Firth, and arranges shooting parties on the moors and matches on the golf links.

Mr. Carnegie, by the way, is one of the most enthusiastic of golfers, and it is said that he is prouder of his progress in the game than of making his millions. In this connection an amusing story is told. One day an interviewer ran him to earth on the links to ask his opinion of a threatened crisis in the steel trade. After Mr. Carnegie had listened patiently to a long string of questions, he said: "Well, I know nothing about all that, but I'll tell you something. Yesterday I broke my record. I went round this course in five strokes fewer than ever before."
