IN THE SUPREME COURT.

A Big Water Case Argued and Taken Under Advisement.

In the Supreme court today in the case of Sidney Stevens, appellant, vs W. J. Stevens et al, it was argued by the court, after consultation by attorneys on both sides, that the case be submitted on briefs.

The big water case of the North Point Consolidated Irrigation company, respondent vs Utah and Salt Lake Canal company, South Jordan Canal company, North Jordan Canal company and Salt Lake county, appellants, was argued today before Chief Justice Zane, Justice Miner and Hon. M. L. Rich, in lieu of Associate Justice Bartch, being disqualified to sit in the appeal by reason of having heard the case in the lower court. F. S. Richards, Esq., appears for the appellants and E. W. Taylor and John M. Zane, Esq., argues for the respondents. The case was taken under advisement.

Candidates for Industrial School.

Addison D. Perry, Thomas J. Baker, Tedie Denies and Wm. Sanborn were brought before Judge Hiles this morning for commitment to the State industrial school, they having been convicted in the police court for petty larceny. The last conviction was for the first offense of which the boys have been found guilty, but they have been a source of much trouble and annoyance to the officers and their parents, who were present in court this morning as witnesses in the case. The boys range from 12 to 15 in age and his honor expatiated N. V. Jones to represent them as attorney and ordered them to appear, as well as the witnesses, promptly at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, when Judge Hiles will dispose of the case.

Before Judge Street.

In Judge Street's court today the suit of James Anderson vs Geo. M. Scott et al was argued and continued until next for Oct. 21, 1896. The defendant's request for a continuance for the term was refused.

The suit of C. M. Jackson vs Wm. Morgan et al was dismissed as to Wm. Morgan, and the plaintiff was given permission to file an amended complaint within five days.

Judgment was given the intervenor, Andrew Nink, in the suit of Hiliah Bells et al vs Wm. H. Lyon et al, and findings ordered drawn.

DEFEND THEIR ACTION.

Commissioners Christopherson and Roberts Give Reasons For Their Vote.

Commissioners Christopherson and Roberts defend their action in voting against the registration resolution yesterday by stating the fact that they were advised by the county attorney that an office registration would be illegal; and while they could have authorized a house-to-house canvass the two days allotted would have been totally inadequate and the expenditure of $625 by the county would have been useless. Furthermore, say they, notwithstanding the fact of a certain local party, it is a fact that all people of the Territory are already registered, and the extra two days allowed by law—Oct. 16 and 17—will be ample for the registration of the remaining contents. Besides that, any bright man can register 50 or 100 voters in any one precinct in two days if they go to his office. The commissioners above referred to are in favor of "locating" registrars for days on which other days have been neglected.

Will Plead on Thursday.

Charles Chapman was brought into Judge Hiles's court upon an information charging him with grand larceny. Joseph Jackson appeared as attorney for Chapman and the accused was allowed till Thursday, October 1, to prepare his plea.

Mr. Barrette Admitted.

On motion of Mr. Frank Pierce in the Supreme court today Mr. W. J. Barrette of the Supreme court bar of Iowa was admitted as an attorney and counselor at law at the bar of the Supreme court of Utah.

THE GREEN RAG.

Mary Ann Brown is suing John Brown for a divorce.

Judge Bolapp will hear the Morris and Sonntenger bribery cases.

The Eslinger-Fratt appeal was argued and submitted in the Supreme court yesterday.

Jurors Wm. Smedley and John McDonald were excused for the term by Judge Street.

Being engaged in the Supreme court today, Judge Hiskie held no session in the equity division of the Third district court.

The jury in the suit of Green & Green vs William Atwood, to recover $1,500 damages sustained by reason of seduction, allowing his mare to run among plaintiff's sheep, disagreed and were discharged.

Clerk Hankins has filed an answer in the suit brought by the State to recover fees turned in to the county treasury by the county clerk. Mr. Stanton pleads that the money treasurer and Salt Lake county be made parties defendant and that he be dismissed on the grounds that he paid over the fees to the county treasury on order of the commissioners.

Judge Street has issued an order to show cause, ordering Judge McKay to file with the clerk of the Third district court the transcript on appeal in the case of Ah Tie vs Mousel Shangkey, which was appealed from Judge McKay's court in May, 1894. The papers were given into the custody of Judge McKay who promised to file them immediately, but has failed to do so and kept them ever since.

The county clerk today issued the following marriage licenses: Milton Cohen of St. Louis and Rosa Rosenson of Salt Lake City; Henry K. Bassett of Salt Lake City and Viola Byers of Evanston; A. L. Hammond Jr. and Winifred Cleland, both of Salt Lake City; Thomas W. Spalding and Louisa Bishop, both of this city; Charles E. Stewart and Catharine Ramsey, both of this city.

The hearing of Ed Chin, the Chinaman who is charged with having stabbed George Smith several nights ago, was to have taken place Monday afternoon before Justice Wenger, but as Smith was not in a condition to appear it was postponed indefinitely. Chin asserts that he is not the guilty party and will in all likelihood attempt to prove an alibi at the hearing. J. M. Hamilton is the defendant's attorney succeeded in having his bond reduced from $1,000 to $500.

AT WALLA WALLA.

Letter from Elders Stevenson and Cowley on Their Missionary Labors.

WALLA WALLA, Sept. 14, 1896.

To the Editor:

We concluded our last correspondence at Riparia Junction of the O. R. & N. railway with the steamboat line running from Riparia to Lewiston, 93 miles up the Snake river. The town above named is truly a desolate looking place. The only real thing of beauty aside from human beings that we saw there was the gigantic railroad bridge spanning the river, made of solid steel, costing, we were informed by the agent, upwards of a million dollars. The wind blows bleakly and the sand, which is plentiful, is continually on the floor, table and window sills of the residence of Riparia.

After a tedious delay we boarded the crowded train for Walla Walla, where we arrived at 11:05 p. m. We took lodgings at the Delmonico lodging house and enjoyed a refreshing rest until the dawn of the morning, when we arose and went in search of a hall to preach in. Your humble servant was impressed to call at the court house. We heeded the promptings of the Spirit and succeeded with but little effort in secure the court house. Mr. Young, deputy sheriff, and Mr. McDonald, one of the county commissioners, readily consented, and we appointed meeting for Friday night Sept. 18th, at 7:30 p. m.

Walla Walla has a population of about 7,500, and is one of the very oldest towns in the state of Washington. Fallows are very lively in the town just at present, and notwithstanding the great agitation in the West favorable to silver, Walla Walla is largely a gold standard town. A large silver convention was held in the court house Wednesday night, the 16th inst., and was addressed by Patrick Henry Winston, candidate on the Populist ticket for attorney general. Notwithstanding his ability as a speaker and the packed hall of probably 1,200 people, the applause was not frequent nor general, but rather tame. Thursday morning I was taken very ill, and being among strangers without the comforts of comfort at hand, I was kindly provided with a bed and attendants at the Catholic hospital. During our stay there from Thursday morning until Sunday, the sisters of charity and other attendants did all that was necessary or could be done to alleviate my sufferings and give me comfort. Kindness and charity are commendable in all people, and the Lord will reward them for all the good they may do, whether they be Catholic or Protestant, heathen, Jew or skeptic.

In the meantime the appointment for our meeting was published in the Statesman and the Union, the latter crediting also the Articles of Faith. We published 500 hand bills and saw them freely circulated in the town. At the hour appointed I arose, although very weak in body, walked to the court house and addressed the congregation for about thirty-five or forty minutes on the fulfillment of prophecy, and bore a testimony to the divine mission of the Prophet Joseph Smith. The audience was not large, but very attentive. Concluding remarks I retired to the hospital and retained to bed.

Elder Cowley continued the discourse. He spoke about one hour on many subjects on the atonement of Christ, and the first principles of the Gospel. At the conclusion of the meeting he announced that, agreeable to our rule, we would be prepared to answer questions or give a lecture on any subject, if requested, upon the morrow. I want to say some good words, we haven't heard anything evil—only good. Want us to pray and sing?

Elder Cowley announced that the President of the Church had issued a manifesto on that subject, which had been adopted by the Church in conference assembled, and any one could receive a copy and read it, to know our present position, but as there were intelligent people in the world, not Christians, who held views favorable to that principle, he recommended that if the two gentlemen wanted to know anything about the subject, he would procure a book entitled "History and Philosophy of Marriage or Monogamy and Polygamy compared by a Christian Philanthropist."

At this the minister muttered that he did not care to read anything about it, and dropped the subject. He then said: "Well, what about the Book of Mormon?"

Elder Cowley explained to the audience who remained standing silent while the questions were answered the nature of the Book of Mormon, quoting several passages from the scriptures, pointing to the coming forth of such a record, and that the resurrection of aborigines in North, South and Central America all went to make collective testimony to the Book of Mormon; that the book does not supplant the Bible, but furnishes proof against the attacks made by sceptics against the Bible. He furthermore pointed out that several prophecies contained in the Book of Mormon have been fulfilled since its publication in the world in 1830. The audience now dispersed without further interruption.

We might here remark that notwithstanding the close proximity of these North Pacific States to Utah, some ignorance exists among many otherwise intelligent and well informed people, regarding the doctrines and history of the Latter-day Saints. It is also worthy of note, that in towns where any considerable number of Latter-day Saints have located themselves, and conducts themselves in harmony with our profession, the presence of their one Mormon neighbors has largely given way, so much so that in such places as Anacortes, Mount Vernon, Mission, and Baker City, Oregon, a good field is open for missionary work.

The Walla Walla Gazette, a weekly journal, published a good report of us, was the Articles of Faith. The editors, Mr. Brock and his son, William Fox Brock, were especially kind to us, and expressed a desire to receive copies of the DESERET NEWS. Dr. S. A. Young, a leading physician of Walla Walla, also proved himself a friend in the hour of need.

Sunday morning at 4:55 we boarded the train from Portland and came to Baker City, Oregon. We arrived here at 12:10 p. m. We were met at the depot by Elders Baker, Geddes, Smithwalley, Geo. A. Wilcox and many other brethren, who received us with open arms, and you can well be assured that our hearts were glad to meet with saints once more.

Saturday, 26th, we went conference day in Baker City. President Joseph F. Smith and Elder H. J. Grant were expected, but the heavy wind storm at Ogden delayed them twenty-four hours in Pocatello, as the Portland train had left before their arrival at that point. They arrived, however, in time for the night meeting. In the afternoon the people were addressed by Elder Stevenson, who bore a testimony to the restoration of the Gospel. Elder Cowley spoke on the necessity of being guided by the spirit of Revelation and attending to our practical duties. In the evening President Joseph F. Smith spoke on doing unto others as we would be done by and the first principles of the Gospel. Elders Heber J. Grant and Brigham F. Grant bore faithful testimonies to the truth.

As we have been honorably released, at least for the present, we shall leave for home today or tomorrow. We feel that God has blessed our labors, answered our prayers, filled us with His spirit and verified literally all the blessings pronounced by the servants of God, who sent us apart for this mission. We tear witness of His goodness, and to Him be ascribe all the honor, praise and glory, with our gratitude forever. Respectfully,

EDWARD STEVENSON,
M. F. COWLEY.

It stimulates the action of stomach, liver, bowels, and kidneys. It makes rich, vitalized blood into every fiber of the body and makes firm, solid, healthy flesh.

Mr. W. H. Dawes, of Arlington, Clarke Co., Ga., writes: "My little girl, age 12, was in the last stage of consumption. Her mother had tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when he was quite sick with what we considered a hopeless case of lung disease, and it had cured him. We had given up our little girl to die, and had her coffin ready when we heard of your wonderful medicine. We had tried everything we could think of, but it was too late. Our little girl was so far gone that we had to prop her up in bed to keep her from suffocating. We had to give her the medicine with a spoon. She could not swallow. We had to give it to her every hour for a week, and then we had to give it every two hours for a week more, when we saw we had won the victory. We gave her a bottle of the 'Discovery' and a bottle of the 'Pellets' and she soon was well. We have recommended your medicine to many people since then, and we shall always do so, for we believe it saved our little girl's life."

Sleep

Induced by the use of opiate or narcotic compounds is bad, decidedly bad. They undermine health and shatter the constitution and the patient is steadily growing into a worse condition—often resulting in the terrible slavery and misery of the morphine and opium habit. Sleep induced by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla does not perhaps come so quickly, but it comes more surely and more permanently through nature's great restoring and rejuvenating channel—purified, vitalized and enriched blood. This feeds the nerves with life-giving energy and builds up the system and constitution from the very foundation of all health and life—the blood—pure, rich, red blood.

Pfaff Pleads Not Guilty.

Fred Pfaff, a bartender, was arrested Monday evening by Detective Sheets on complaint of having stolen a watch from John T. Alexander of Brighton. Alexander alleges that he went into the Court saloon where Pfaff works about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and that upon coming out half an hour later Pfaff threw his arms around his neck, and some time after missed his watch. The defendant was arraigned before Justice Wenger today and pleaded not guilty, after which his case was set for 2 o'clock tomorrow and his bond fixed at $500.

Another Continuance.

The case of J. W. Peirsonell, charged with assault with intent to commit murder, should have come up in the police court today, but as Mrs. Peirsonell, the complaining witness, was not able to appear another continuance was granted, this time until Oct. 14 at 2 p. m. M. M. Kaiga, the defendant's attorney, made a motion for the reduction of his client's bond and it was reduced from $5,000 to $2,500.

CANCER CURED

—AND A—

LIFE SAVED

By the Persistent Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in the treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

STOCKS AND MONEY.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 29.—Trade at stock exchange was characterized by considerable weakness, particularly in railways, values declined 1½ to 3 points, the Jerseys yielding the greatest loss under recent gains. The opening was irregular, but the tone was decidedly weak, the movement continued to a change from the last sale of yesterday in large amounts and by unfavorable news of labor complexion.

The remainder of the market took on a decided and quite heavy tendency to sell, values advanced sharply throughout, leaving trade in a very nervous and hesitating condition toward noon, when a slight recovery took place. The demand for gangers was also pronounced.

Sugar was advanced 1½ to 2½ in the second hour, having been depressed by the fact that the decrease of earnings in July of $50,000 was made to appear, contrary to the general belief, was brought about by the sugar trust.

The sense of security against sudden emergencies from croup and bronchitis, felt by those who are provided with a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, would be cheaply purchased a ten times the cost of that remedy. In all lung complaints, it is prompt to act and sure to cure.
