

LAKE DYNAMITED; SIX UNDER ARREST

Deputy Warden Gurrard and City Attorney White of Heber Make the Capture.

WAITED WHILE MEN WORKED

On Way to Jail, One of the Men, It Is Charged, Offered Bribe for Their Release.

After watching three men blow up Silver Lake in Wasatch county last Sunday morning, Deputy Warden Louis Gurrard and City Attorney L. B. White of Heber City, arrested the men at the point of revolvers and later captured four boys who were acting as spies. The prisoners were taken to Heber City where complaints charging them with a felony were issued. Joseph Kauffman, C. W. Westerland and Lee Henderson were the men who were charged with committing the felony and John Johnson, Roderick McKenzie, Robert McCall and Albert Lyon are charged with being accomplices. Before leaving the lake, Gurrard and White took the raft which they had built out on the lake. They gathered up a half dozen fish which had been killed to present as evidence. They also secured the seal which the men had taken with them in which to gather up the fish. The largest one which the men found weighed four and a half pounds.

MAY CHARGE BRIBERY.
When the prisoners were being taken to Heber City, it is charged by the officers, the men offered them $100 to allow them to go. Gurrard declares that the prisoners offered to double the amount if they would let them go. A complaint charging them with offering a bribe will probably be preferred against two of the men.

For several years complaints have been made that the small lakes and streams have been dynamited, but this is the first arrest made in three years. Upon information that Silver Lake was to be dynamited, Deputy Warden Gurrard accompanied by City Attorney White, went to the lake to see if the dynamite was being used. For five hours they watched the men prepare to blow the lake. The boys were stationed some distance from the lake to give a signal if anybody approached. They were interrupted several times in their work before they placed the charge in the river. Kauffman, however, caught the match to the fuse. When the explosion occurred, the water was thrown 25 feet in the air. Fish were blown out of the water and the entire lake was disturbed.

ARRESTED BY OFFICERS.
While the men were making preparations to go out on the lake Gurrard and White rushed out of the underbrush 50 yards from where the men stood. Drawing their revolvers, they compelled the men to throw up their hands. The boys returned to the lake after the explosion and when they saw the officers, attempted to escape. Gurrard chased them and caught them in the underbrush. White took care of the other prisoners. J. E. Jensen of Ogden was arrested Sunday in Weber canyon for fishing without a license. His trial will be held this afternoon.

One arrest was made in Utah county for the same offense Sunday and Deputy Warden "Bill" Ringley caught a boy fishing in a canyon yesterday without a license.

DONOHUE HOME ROBBED.
Two Maids and Little Girl Slept While the Man Worked.

While two maids and a little girl slept in an adjoining room a thief entered the bedroom of Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Donohue sometime about midnight Saturday and secured as plunder upwards of $500 in money, jewelry and clothing.

The burglary resulted in the richest haul that has been reported to the police for some time and was evidently the work of one possessed of all the coolness and nerve that come from long training.

Dr. and Mrs. Donohue had spent the evening out, returning to their home at No. 4 Stafford apartments shortly after 1 o'clock. The young daughter had been left in the care of the two maids who had not retired until 11:30 o'clock.

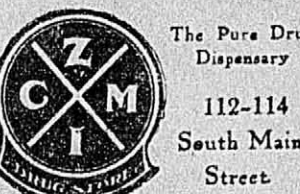

Between that hour and the return of Dr. and Mrs. Donohue the thief had gained entrance into the home by "jimmying" a front window, and evidently worked quietly and quickly. From the bureau in Dr. Donohue's bedroom he secured about $50 in money, a diamond-studded watch, a jeweled bracelet, gold watch and chain and other articles of jewelry, as well as some clothing.

The jewelry was contained in a caseket, which the robber had carried away with him, only to throw it away after he left the house and had emptied it of its contents. The cap was found in the rear of the Masonic temple yesterday morning by the police.

Although detectives worked on the case all day yesterday and this morning, at noon today they were without a clue to the burglar, and have been unable to locate any of the plunder.

REAL ESTATE DAY COMES TOMORROW

Big Prize List and Good Weather Assure Record Breaking Attendance.

The real estate men are in high feather over the prospects for a record breaking attendance tomorrow, on the occasion of the annual outing of the Salt Lake Real Estate association, at Saltair. Nearly 600 prizes have been contributed by local business houses appreciative of the benefit that the association has been to Salt Lake and as the weather bureau predicts clear skies and cooler weather, there is sure to be a rush that will keep the railroad equipment of the resort busy from morning until late at night, to handle the throngs of people who, though "everybody" was rushing for tickets.

One noteworthy feature of the occasion is the fact that all the net proceeds will be devoted toward building up a great display of natural resources of this state at the chamber of commerce, preparations for which are now actively in progress. So the outing is in the nature of a public enterprise worthy of general support. All of the committees are busy completing the details of their work so that there will be no hitch or hindrance in the full enjoyment tomorrow of the excursion to Saltair.

LIVING FLAG DRILLS MAKE GOOD PROGRESS

Schedule of This Week—Gov. Gilchrist Makes Significant Statement Regarding Utah's Founder.

The work of drilling the children who are to take part in the great "living flag" feature of the G. A. R. parade during the forty-third national encampment to be held in this city in August is going actively forward under the direction of Prof. W. A. Wetzel. Splendid progress is being made, and the children who are to take part are as enthusiastic over the success of the feature as is the professor himself.

The following drills for the present week are announced by the women's citizens' committee, in behalf of Prof. Wetzel:

The members from the Webster, Hamilton, Emerson, and Wasatch schools will meet for drill Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Webster school building.

The members from the Lafayette, Longfellow, Lowell and Bryant schools will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the Lafayette school building.

The members from the Jackson, Washington, Onequa and Franklin schools will meet on Wednesday forenoon at 10 a. m. at the Jackson school building.

The members from the Sumner, Waterloo, Quirk and Fremont schools will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the Sumner school building.

In response to an invitation to be present at the forty-third encampment sent him by Fisher Harris, secretary of the executive committee of the G. A. R., Albert W. Gilchrist, governor of the state of Florida, forwards the following communication to Mr. Harris:

"My Dear Sir—I, thank you very much for the invitation to be present at the next century of the Republic. It is incident to the parade and review of the Veterans' on the morning of August 11.

"I have made arrangements to be present at the meeting of the prison commission at Seattle, and for Governors' day at Spokane. I have about completed arrangements to make this trip by the Southern Pacific.

"In 1904 I had the pleasure of visiting Salt Lake City. I was very much pleased with your city. I have often said that one of the greatest men of the past century was Brigham Young. Owing to the enterprise, far-sightedness and executive ability of him and of those associated with him, an absolute wilderness has been converted into a prosperous empire.

"It would afford me great pleasure to be present, on account of the significance of this special occasion, the parade and review of the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic. For years, it has been my desire to make the country feel a pride and a glory in the accomplishments of those who were the blue as well as those who wore the gray. The heroic acts of each should now be considered our common heritage. I quote some passages from a speech delivered by me, in 1905, when a member of the house of representatives of the state of Florida, before the Ladies' Memorial association of this city. I also inclose you extract from my biennial message to the legislature of April 5, 1907.

"ALBERT W. GILCHRIST,
"Governor."

THREE THOUSAND WORKING ON ROAD

Copper River Line in Alaska to Be Pushed to Completion.

S. W. ECCLES IS PRESIDENT.

Representative of Morgan-Guggenheim Interests Says Road Will Reach Coal Fields in Spring.

Seattle, Wash., June 28.—The 3,000 men at work on construction of the Copper River railroad in Alaska will be kept busy all next winter, according to S. W. Eccles, president of the road, and representative of the Morgan-Guggenheim interests in the north.

"We want to complete our line as quickly as possible," said Mr. Eccles last night, "and to that end we will have five boats on the copper river by July 1, supplying the various camps to be established along the river. When spring comes we hope to have the grade ready. We have the grade stakes set and will be ready to build the track line to the Bettling Lake coal fields once it is known the government will give title to the applicants for the coal fields."

WOULD CONFIRM REPORT.

W. L. Park Said to Be Successor to A. Ridgway.

A Denver dispatch states that W. L. Park, general superintendent of the Union Pacific railroad at Omaha, it is believed, has been selected to succeed A. C. Ridgway as general manager of the Denver & Rio Grande. Should Mr. Park go to the Gould system it would be considered a confirmation of the report that the Denver & Rio Grande now rests jointly with Gould and Harriman.

It is said Park was recently offered $12,000 a year as general manager of the Denver & Rio Grande, but he refused it, after consultation with Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman system, who said Harriman would take on new lines for Mr. Park to manage.

FIREMEN GET INCREASE.

Five Per Cent to Be Added to Their Wages After July 1.

Beginning July 1, the locomotive firemen employed on the Salt Lake division of the Southern Pacific will be granted an increase of 5 per cent in their wages. This was decided upon Saturday at a conference between M. Davis, general superintendent of the Oregon Short Line, E. C. Manson of Ogden, superintendent of the Salt Lake division of the Southern Pacific, and a committee representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, consisting of D. W. Karn, W. O. Pell and Robert Cole.

At the same time a pay asked for an increase in their wages, but no official action on the matter was taken until at the meeting Saturday the petition of the men was granted.

TO INSTALL IPSON INDICATOR.

It is announced the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad will soon install on its passenger coaches the Ipsen station indicator, a patented device which indicates the name of the next station to be reached. The device has been given a local firm to manufacture a number of the machines in order that they may be given a thorough trial. The indicator is a small machine which will be installed on other roads in this section of the country also.

TO OPEN PASSENGER AGENCY.

The Pennsylvania railroad will open up a passenger agency in Salt Lake City, shortly, and give the place to a man who has been traveling passenger agent for the Pennsylvania in Denver for some time. The agency will be located in the office of the Star Union line, in the Judge building, where the freight business of the Pennsylvania lines is now handled by Leon Engstrom.

BIG PASSENGER BUSINESS.

All railroad lines report unprecedented passenger business, both east and west, prevalent at the present time. The limited trains on the Short Line, Denver & Rio Grande and Salt Lake Route are crowded to the point of man rail, as a general thing, and no reason for many years has shown any thing like the traffic passing in and out of Salt Lake City.

SPECULATE ON EIRLAND.

J. C. Dalley, general superintendent of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad lines in Utah, left for Denver today. It is rumored that Gen. Dalley has been summoned to Denver to discuss the changes recently occurring on that road, occasioned by the resignation of General Manager A. C. Ridgway and Capt. W. D. Lee as general manager of the Denver & Rio Grande. Dalley today of Vice President C. H. Schlacks from New York is looked forward to with considerable interest, as he will probably announce successors to the men who have resigned.

INJURED WHILE BEWILDERED.

Mrs. Margaret Larson is Run Over, Suffering Severe Injuries.

While bewildered with the confusion of a passing street car, railroad engine and a wagon, Mrs. Margaret Larson, aged 77 years, was struck down by the latter vehicle in the middle of the street at the eastern approach to the O. S. L. viaduct last night, and sustained such injuries as to make her condition extremely critical.

Mrs. Larson, the mother of Oscar and Joseph Larson, at the time of the accident, was on the way to her home, 64 North Third West street. While crossing North Temple at the viaduct she stopped to allow a car to pass. At the same time a wagon belonging to the Woods Cross Dairy company, driven by Harry Egan, drove up. The aged woman, whose confusion was added to by the roar of a passing engine, attempted to dodge out of the way of the car and wagon, while the driver at the same time swung his horses out to avoid both the woman and the car. As he did, Mrs. Larson was directly in front of the team, and was struck down by the pole.

She fortunately escaped the horses' hoofs, but she suffered the shock of the wagon, which passed over the lower portion of her body.

When removed to her home, Mrs. Larson was still unconscious, and her condition precarious.

MARGARET LARSON DIES.

Margaret Larson, who was run over by a milk wagon at the O. S. L. depot yesterday, died at noon today as the result of her injuries. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. William Taylor, 21 South West Temple. An account of the accident is given in another column of this paper.

FRANK KNOX RETURNS.

Frank Knox of the National Bank of the Republic, returned yesterday from a trip to New York. Mr. Knox stated that he found business conditions good generally, and that money is plentiful in the east. "The crops have been delayed somewhat," said Mr. Knox, "on account of the prolonged wet spell, but indications point to a big harvest. The weather in the east is extremely hot but has not affected business to any great extent."

POLICEMEN HELP WOMEN GET AWAY

During Sheriff's Raid They Cry the Alarm so Stockade Inmates Might Escape.

That the police department of Salt Lake City is not only positively ignorant of the "stockade" but is in the dark as to the whereabouts of the "stockade" and its degraded scores of law-breaking inmates, but openly and notoriously assisting them to evade capture and punishment, was the subject of the police officers' raid on Sunday morning's raid on those dens of infamy, according to statements made by officers who participated in the raid.

When the deputies were approaching the "stockade," and were about to enter, several of the sheriff's officers noticed the police patrol wagon standing near the entrance, and a number of policemen, with uniforms on and stars on their breasts were standing near the entrance. The deputies, according to the story of two of their number, one of the police officers shouted, "Look out, here they are, here they are!"

Deputy Sheriff Andrew Smith made the above statement, this morning, and he was corroborated by Deputy Sheriff C. A. Carlson, who was not sent for the police officers," said Deputy Smith, "and we wondered who had got them there. But when we heard one of their number shout, 'Look out, here they are,' there was no longer any question in our minds as to why they were there."

"I noticed that Sergeant Roberts was there with the wagon," continued Officer Smith, and Patrolmen Woods and Griffith were also there, and the special officer whose duty it is to maintain order in the "stockade," the "stockade" did not offer to help us arrest the law-breakers inside the entrance, but seemed rather to be posting the inmates as to the approach of the "deputy sheriff."

Deputy C. A. Carlson said: "I demonstrated with the special officer about permitting the law-breakers to go on, and asked him to ask them to go on, and he said, 'I will do it, but I will not lift a finger to help us. The impression we got was that the special officer, who wears a policeman's uniform, was the star on his breast as an insignia of authority, and carried his club in his hand, was there to notify the inmates of the stockade, and give the alarm of the approach of the deputies. In fact, after some one shouted, 'Look out, here they are, here they are,' I saw an Austrian dart over to the window of the 'stockade' and heard him shout the alarm to the inmates within. A dozen of the deputies saw the police officers and the inmates, and they all looked at each other and did not attempt to assist us in making the arrests, and soon drove off."

DEATH OF MARY AUER.

Paralysis Claims Well Known and Beloved Woman Today.

Mary J. Cutcliffe Spencer Auer, wife of Ulrich Auer and relict of the late Daniel Spencer, died at her residence, 736 East Third South, at 3 o'clock this morning.

She was born July 5, 1835, at Bristol, England, the daughter of George and Elizabeth Cutcliffe. She was the mother of six children, five of whom are living. Alvira Hirst, Lydia Clauson, Samuel George, Amelia Stewart and Mary Grossen, all of whom were at the home of the deceased when she died, were caused by paralysis of the brain, though she has been suffering for more than a year from a former attack of paralysis. The deceased was first taken to the hospital at the city, where she died at an early age; afterward her father, mother and sisters followed her example. She emigrated in 1855, settling in midwinter, Dec. 21, having to travel in snow knee deep with frozen clothes many days before reaching the valley, which she did without a murmur. She was a thoughtful, kind, and a good mother and faithful housewife, and will be missed by her family and a wide circle of loving friends.

Funeral services will be held at the Tenth ward meetinghouse at 2 p. m. Wednesday, June 30. The remains may be viewed at the residence between 11:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. the same day. All friends are invited.

DANGER IN GRASS FIRES.

Fire Department Warns Householders To Be Cautious.

With the continued hot weather the menace of the grass fire is upon the city, and the fire officials are now urging not only vigilance but the utmost precaution upon the part of property owners.

During the past few days the fire department has been required to respond to an average of two and three calls a day, and in some cases fires of which had reached threatening proportions before the arrival of the department. One of these yesterday at 2:30 p. m. was a grass fire which threatened the destruction of a large quantity of stacked hay, a barn and several other buildings, and but for the efforts of 20 men and a woman in that vicinity who fought the spreading fire with wet sacks until the arrival of the fire department, a considerable loss would have resulted. This forenoon the department was called to 883 F street to extinguish another threatening grass fire.

The origin of a number of these fires is due to the thoughtlessness of some people who look upon this as an opportunity to burn up rubbish or clear off weeds and tall grass by burning. Several fires have also been traced to children playing with matches.

The fire department officials urge that people during the dry season, and especially when there is any wind at all, should be extremely careful and use every utmost caution in starting a fire around the grass.

Today in the foothills to the east of the city grass fires cover a wide area, but none of the residential territory in that direction is thought to be in danger. On the reservation the troops were called out twice Saturday night to extinguish fires, and precautionary measures have been taken to prevent the outbreak or spread of any grass fire within the post limits.

Warden Pratt of the state prison said today the grounds there have been protected from grass fires by the previous burning of the grass at favorable times.

LUCE-BROWN NUPTIALS.

There was an important official change in the Salt Lake custom house today when Miss Marie Luce, who has been acting as a clerk for the past five years, resigned to make a prominent Chicago business man, W. Z. Brown, happy by marrying him. The ceremony was performed at noon at the Sixth East street residence of the bride's parents, and the happy couple left for Chicago at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. Brown as Miss Luce, has been an efficient official, as letters of recommendation from the department at Washington will show. Her place as deputy is taken by Miss Alice Edwards, formerly a stenographer with Adit. Gen. Wedgwood.

HIGH PRICE FOR FINE ODORS.

Imported Delicacies for the Sense of Smell to Cost More.

F. C. Schramm has returned from a three weeks' absence in the east, during which time he attended the Shriners' convention at Nashville, Tenn., and then went to New York on a business trip. Mr. Schramm says owing to the war, the cost of imported perfumery, soaps, etc., will be advanced 10 to 15 per cent. The recovery in the far east from the effects of the panic is not as rapid as it has been in the west, where the stagnation was less felt. Mr. Schramm says there is more going on in Salt Lake, considering its size, than in any other city of the country. He is pleased to get back to where the outlook is as cheerful as it is in this city.

GIRL HEROICALLY RESCUED.

Burning Can of Gasoline Taken From Her by Passerby.

That 8-year-old Margaret Luke, whose home is at 309 East First South street, escaped from what would have been serious if not fatal burns yesterday afternoon, was due to the prompt, heroic action of a passerby who rescued her from the grasp of the girl a can of flaming gasoline and hurled it to the ground.

The girl had been cleaning a dress with the inflammable fluid, and thoughtlessly placed the can on a heated stove. As she removed the stove lid the gasoline ignited, and although frightened the girl seized the can and rushed to the door with it.

Henderson, who belongs to the Meridian street fire company, happened to be passing at the moment, and seeing the girl's danger rushed to her side. Seizing the can, he threw it to the ground, and with presence of mind drew the girl backward, barely escaping the blinding flash of the flame spreading from the ground.

The girl escaped without a burn, but both hands were badly burned about both wrists. Mrs. A. J. McCord, who resides in the house, faintly described the excitement, but was revived without ill effect.

JUDGE POMEROY LIKES SALT LAKE

Presiding Official of Jockey Club to Locate Here—Horsemen and Horses Going to Butte.

The uptown office of the Utah Jockey club at the Cullen hotel was a scene of busy activity today. Judge P. M. Pomeroy, presiding official of the club, was here, and Mr. W. P. Pomeroy, promoter and treasurer, and manager respectively, were squaring up accounts and planning for the future.

Horsemen, officials and bookmakers were squaring up and then getting their affairs in order to say farewell to Salt Lake City. Messrs. Gleason and Pinn will remain in Salt Lake and their former will return to his ranch in New Mexico while the latter may go to Butte.

Judge P. M. Pomeroy, the presiding official of the club, will go to Butte for a short business trip and then return to this city to locate here. Judge Pomeroy stated that he and Mrs. Pomeroy are most favorably impressed with this city and that Pomeroy is anxious for a home here and the judge is contemplating building one. Associate Judge Jay Davidson will go to Butte and from there to the coast. Starter Bryant goes to Vancouver, where he takes a similar position. These gentlemen have endeavored their horses because of their stand for clean sport.

W. H. Gleason said this morning with reference to receipts and expenditures, and the termination of the meeting.

"Of course, we expected to run at least 40 days but the end has come, it's all over with, and there is no use crying over the fact. The talk about the sale of the club and money to be made out of the state is all rot. I am unable to say at this time just where we stand, because all the bills are not yet in, but when the accounts are straightened out we will give you a statement. The meeting was a clean one and we are sorry it did not run as advertised."

"The money does not go away, but remains here. What about the horses? Then restaurants, hotels, grocery and clothing stores and implement houses reaped benefits. I shall remain here for some days and then return to my home in New Mexico."
