AN ENGLISH PEER SKIPS

His Name Connected with Scandal of the Oscar Wilde Type.

London, Nov. 2.—A tremendous sensation was caused here today by statements that another scandal of the Oscar Wilde type was about to become public property. It is asserted that the man whose name is connected with the affair, and who is a peer, has fled the country, but there is every reason to believe that he is presently lying in wait at an English watering place. A report of this affair found its way into print, but every effort will be exerted to prevent further publication.

TWO PRESIDENTS

La Patrie Draws Comparison Between Those of America and France.

Paris, Nov. 2.—In an article headed "Two Presidents," La Patrie today compares President Roosevelt with President Loubet. Referring to the French and American coal strikes, the paper says the energetic measures adopted by President Roosevelt brought the American strike to an end and declares that President Loubet was contented by conditions exactly the same as those Mr. Roosevelt dealt with, but that the president of France remained passive, with the result that the French strike continues.

The sultan expresses his willingness to indemnify Mr. Banks, and that he has forwarded this communication to Washington.

McFarvey, president of the church in 1870 and its first pastor, today asked for letters for himself and wife, that they might transfer their membership. His attitude has prevented the introduction of an organ for many years, but sentiment in its favor became so great that the vote was overwhelming. Pilgrimages to Vienna Cemeteries

Vienna, Nov. 2.—One-third of the population of Vienna, made pilgrimages yesterday and today, All Saints' day and All Souls' day, respectively, to the central cemetery of early morning. The pilgrims started in the early morning and returned late at night. Some went on foot, while others used vehicles of all descriptions. It is estimated that 600,000 persons visited the graves in the cemetery on these two days. The pilgrims all carried wreaths of flowers, and before the tombs and in the long grass burned countless candles. The sparsely-occupied parts of the cemetery presented a weird and picturesque spectacle.

England's Volunteer System on Trial

New York, Nov. 3.—England's volunteer system is virtually on its trial, according to the Tribune's London correspondent. War Secy. Brodick has decreed that the volunteers must spend six days in camp at a fixed period, and this regulation has caused a great deal of dissatisfaction. Notices of numerous resignations of officers have been given, and there has been a big falling off in the recruiting returns. The success of the scheme will not be known until official statistics are issued.

Labor Supply for the Hand Mines

New York, Nov. 3.—One of the many difficult problems awaiting Colonial Secy. Chamberlain's solution during his visit to South Africa is the question of supply of labor for the hand mines, says a Tribune dispatch from London. In the old days all the mining laborers were Kafirs, but owing to the war, this field of employment became disorganized. Most of the Kafirs were driven from their work by the state of affairs, and it is generally admitted that the supply of labor at present is insufficient to an alarming extent. The British government has al-

Physicians knew that the fat or grease in what is necessary to make fat or tissue. They also know that it is one of the main things that make cod liver oil impractical in many cases. The fat is too rich to be digested by a stomach weakened by disease.

Here they captured and beheld their victim, a young man named S. Y. M. C. A., who had married his wife, whom they slashed with bolts, and abducted the president's children. The motive of this crime is said to have been the president's friendliness with the Americans.

The National Review contains an article advocating the proposition that native labor in the mines should be largely supplemented by the employment of white men, but this scheme is objected to on the ground that it would mean an enormous addition to the cost of production.

Politics Discussed in Pupils

New York, Nov. 2.—Politics was discussed in many pupils in this city and lessons were drawn from the conflict now being waged. Rev. Robert Packard, in an address before the West Side Y. M. C. A., said: "It is strange that ministers do not talk politics. It is a pathetic condition of society and Christianity if preachers fail to take their part in the discussion of the political subjects. Parishioners should demand that their ministers interest themselves in politics. A man cannot be a good Christian if he does not exercise all the privileges and duties of good citizenship."
