Sutro Tunnel—Ku Klux—One Term.

The report of the Sutro Tunnel commission was transmitted to the Senate to-day. The commissioners reported that the tunnel is entirely feasible and may be constructed in less than two and a half years, at a cost of about four and a half millions. They believe that the Comstock lode is a true fissure vein, continuing downwards indefinitely, and express the opinion that, while the tunnel is not a necessity for ventilation or drainage, yet any scheme which promises increased energy, and renders valuable the vast amount of now worthless low grade ore in the Comstock lode, becomes of national importance. Whether the Sutro tunnel project fulfills this condition depends on the efficacy of the methods now employed in Germany and other countries of Europe, for the concentration and profitable working of low grade ores. On this point the commission has not, in this country, by personal investigation, been able to obtain the desired information. In conclusion, the report recommends the Sutro tunnel to favorable consideration, as an experiment, in the work of deep mining.

Scott made a special report from the joint Ku Klux committee. On a question of privilege, he said that the committee, on investigating the affairs of Arkansas, found that no Ku Klux outrages were alleged to have occurred in that State for more than two years, but incidentally testimony had been given by two witnesses, from Arkansas, named Wheeler and Whipple, implicating one of the Senators of that State, Mr. Clayton, and a member of the House, Edwards, which evidence the committee laid before the Senate, so that the Senator implicated might invite investigation. Clayton, when Governor, made a bargain with the democratic members to disregard the regular returns of the election for members of Congress in the district now represented by Edwards, to give Edwards a certificate of election, although Boles was really elected.

U. S. Senator Clayton asked that the rules under which the report would lie over for the day be suspended, and that the report might be considered at once. There was no objection, and he proceeded to read a lengthy address in self vindication.

Pending the conclusion of his remarks, the morning hour expired, and the amnesty bill came up, but was made the special order for Monday next. Clayton concluded by asking the appointment of a special committee to investigate the charges against him. A resolution appointing a special committee of three was adopted.

Conklin gave notice that he would, on Thursday, call up a joint resolution to amend the constitution, limiting the President to one term.

A resolution was adopted, admitting Goldthwaite, of Alabama, to a seat, pending the investigation as to the validity of his election. Also a resolution allowing Foster Blodgett, of Georgia, the usual expenses for contesting the seat.

HOUSE.

Ku Klux—Cotnage.

Poland, from the Select Ku Klux Committee, submitted a report embodying the testimony taken before the subcommittee, impeaching the official conduct of Senator Clayton, of Arkansas, and affecting the right to a seat of representative Edwards. The motion was referred to the committee on election.

Kelley reported a bill to revise the laws relative to coinage.

Patten said he did not see the necessity of legalizing coinage, when the country had had no coinage circulation for the last ten years, and was not likely to have it for ten years to come.

The House then went into a committee of the whole.

Maynard moved an amendment to the section which provides for the appointment of a director of the mint, striking out the words "who shall hold office for five years, unless sooner removed for cause shown." He argued that the tenure of office should not be limited to five years, as the office would then be thrown open for a general scramble.

Garfield opposed the amendment. He spoke of the report of the civil service reform, as proposing only to take care of the front door at which appointments are made, while it left the back door to remain wide open.

Morton moved an amendment striking out only the words, unless sooner removed, which was rejected; yeas 59, nays 103.

Mr. Willard moved an amendment, by providing that the incumbent shall hold the office during his good behavior, which was rejected. Pending the consideration of the motion of Mr. Garfield, to reduce the salaries of officers the bill provided for, the house, on motion of Dawes, who said he opposed the increase of salaries, adjourned, so that the question might be more fully considered to-morrow.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Nomination—Mild Weather—Fire at Lowel—New Orleans Squabble—A Representative Shot—The Fisk Inquest and Verdict—Mayor Hall—Customs Investigation.

WASHINGTON, 9.—The President, to-day, sent to the Senate the nomination of Chas. Hall of Mass., to be assistant Secretary of State.

Private telegrams from New Orleans to-day, say that quiet everywhere prevails and no further disturbance is anticipated.

A private letter from Messina, Italy, dated 9th Dec., says nearly every city in Italy has smallpox in it.

Von Arnim, the German ambassador to France, to-day, presented his credentials from Thiers' Government.

Gountier Biorn, the French ambassador to Germany, has telegraphed to his government that he has been flatteringly received by Bismarck.

NEW YORK, 9—Gold dull, stocks, dull, W. U. T. 70¾; Pacific Mail, 54¾; W. F. 57½.

CHICAGO.—The weather here, for the last ten days, has been very mild and pleasant, allowing the continued progress of the work of rebuilding. Many substantial buildings, brick and stone, are already finished, and many more are in various stages of completion. Scarcely any snow has fallen during the winter, which, so far, has been unprecedentedly mild.

NEW YORK.—Stokes continues at the Tombs, and is apparently cool and collected.

The Congress investigation committee continue their sessions. They received a telegram from Washington, notifying them of a resolution passing the Senate, authorizing them to sit during the session.

The steamer Weser, from Bremen, is quarantined, having smallpox aboard.

LOWELL, Mass.—The Thorndike manufactory, a large wooden, three story structure, engaged in the manufacture of suspenders and elastic fabrics, was burned last night. Loss fifty thousand; insured thirty thousand. Seventy-five hands are thrown out of employment.

NEW ORLEANS, 9.—The legislative embroglio continues. The Senate is still without a quorum, seventeen Senators absenting themselves in Mississippi. The House had a full quorum to-day. The first bill tat en up provoked a quarrel between two members, and the lie was freely passed. Finally the House got into a muddle over a point of order, and took a recess, the speaker warning the members not to go outside the military lines, lest Carter the sergeant-at-arms catch them.

The House met, 43 members present; ten less than a quorum.

Gen. Emory has ordered a regiment of infantry here from Louisville.

CINCINNATI, 9.—The general court-martial, for the trial of Thomas Hunt, assistant quarter master, U. S. A., charged with endorsing a fraudulent voucher, for forage, reassembled to-day.

COLUMBIA, S. C., 9.—Governor Scott sent a message to the legislature to-day, defending himself from the charges made against him by Bowen.

TRENTON, N. J., 9.—The day fixed for the execution of Botts is Friday, the 26th. It appears the woman, on whose account Botts killed Halstead, was really Botts', a fact which he concealed, to save her from prosecution for bigamy.

The court of pardons has refused to take any action in the case of Botts, the murderer of Pet. Halstead.

NEW ORLEANS, 9.—About five, this afternoon, while the assistant sargeants-at-arms, for the Carter House, were attempting to arrest Matthews, a members' scuffle ensued, in which Walter C. Wheyland was shot, and died an hour later, in the Governor's parlor, in the State House. Weyland claimed to represent the parish of Sabine, but had been expelled by the Carter faction. The supposition is that he was endeavoring to prevent the arrest. A bystander, who witnessed the affair, says the shooting was done by a policeman, who ran up just as Wheyland drew a pistol, and who, doubtless, thought he was going to shoot.

NEW YORK, 9.—The Fisk inquest resumed: Patrick Hart testified to picking up the bullets after Fisk was shot, and Capt. Byrne, of the police, identified the bullett to be that of a pistol which he picked up on the staircase. Dr. Tripler described the wound of Fisk, and said the one in the abdomen was necessarily fatal. Dr. Marsh read a postmortem, and produced the ball. He also thought the wound necessarily fatal to Fisk. An ante mortem statement was read, despite the objection of prisoner's counsel. Graham protested that it was a burlesque of justice, to give the case to the jury without allowing it to be proved that Fisk was armed, and was as prepared to take life as Stokes, but the Coroner declined to take any exceptions, and left the case to the jury. The jury then retired and, at 7 30, submitted their verdict, which alleged that deceased came to his death in consequence of a wound or wounds, inflicted by a ball, or balls, from a pistol, in the hands of Edward S. Stokes, discharged by him, in deliberate malice, at the person of said Fisk. The Coroner committed Stokes to the Tombs, to await the action of the Grand Jury. His counsel urged that he should not be sent before either of the Grand Juries now in session, on account of the present excitement of the public mind, but that he be sent to the next term of the Grand Jury. The Prosecuting Attorney reserved his opinion.

Miss Mansfield's house is closed, and guarded by officers, under orders of the Coroner, to prevent her leaving it without his special permission.

Mayor Hall has publicly announced that his private affairs will prevent him attending to the duties of his office as Mayor, during, at least, a week. The President of the Board of Aldermen, General John Cochrane, he says, will act as Mayor until this notification be revoked. This step is regarded as preliminary to Hall's actual resignation.

At the Custom House investigation to-day, several witnesses, who worked for the United States weighers, testified that it was a common practice of the latter to take the English marks of weights, on packages, instead of re-weighing them, and, as the English marks are always less than the weight here, Government was defrauded by the difference. Witnesses also testified of the regular assessment of employees by certain officials, also to the fact that a great number of sinecurists were lying around the various offices, doing nothing but drawing pay.

EUROPEAN DISPATCHES.

The German-France Treaty—French Court Martials.

LONDON, 9.—The city journals, in certain articles on the assassination of Fisk, cite the cases of Richardson and Crittenden, and attribute the frequency of such deeds to the peculiar civilization of America. They denounce the laxity of public sentiment.

The Queen and members of the royal family have gone to Coburg.

The announcement that the trials of hostages taken by the Germans will commence to-day is premature. There is reason to credit the statement of last week, that the German officers would not proceed to extremes.

PARIS.—The committee of republican electors of Paris called on Vonitrain to-day, and begged him to remember that his election was an expression of the people's desire that the assembly return to Paris.

A court martial assembled at Versailles, to-day, to try parties accused of shooting priests and other Versailles hostages, during the reign of the Commune. The proceedings attracted much interest, and the court room was crowded all day.

LONDON, 10, 5 a.m.—James Ashbury is appointed commodore of the London Yacht club.

A Republican club has been organized in Glawgow.

Small-pox is becoming a more prevalent in Sheffield.

WESTERN DISPATCHES.

Stock Board Election—Fraud—Rain.

SAN FRANCISCO, 9.—The Morgan machine manufacturing company, capital $500,000 was incorporated to-day.

At the annual election of the San Francisco stock and exchange board, held to-day, the following officers were elected to serve during the following year: D. P. Peckham, President; Geo. W. Emily, vice-President; B. H. Coit, caller, Franklin Lawton, Secretary; Henry Schneidel, Treasurer. All the trustees were re-elected.

Detectives Lees and Ellis arrested, to-day, Leopold Eckstein, charged with eight or more counterfeits, on various firms, by which he obtained goods of various kinds, which he sold. He was formerly a soldier, deserted and was imprisoned in Alcatraz, and released, on the intercession of his friends, whom he proceeded to victimize as soon as he got his liberty. The officers have been looking for him for weeks.

Harry Courtaine, went to the county jail to-day for three months, as a common drunkard.

SAN JOSE, 8.—It commenced raining midnight and has continued steadily ever since, with no prospect of clearing up. There are prospects of another flood. The streams are all rising rapidly.

VALLEJO, 8.—It has rained steadily since 10 oclock last night. The rain fall from 8 a.m. yesterday to 8 a.m. this morning was 1 3 8 inches.

At Tenama, it has rained constantly since 10-30 last night. The river has risen about 7 feet, and is now rising very fast. The indications are that the water will soon reach the highest stage it reached in 1861-2.

NEVADA, 8.—Commenced raining at 10 o'clock last night. Over four and a half inches have fallen.

A TRAVELING SIDEWALK.

The imperative demand in large cities for some means of traveling quickly from point to point calls forth some novel designs for securing rapid transit. The most curious that has yet been projected is a plan, already patented, for a moving sidewalk, which shall be in perpetual motion, carrying pedestrians at the rate of ten miles an hour, a speed which they can increase by their own power of independent locomotion. The inventor is Albert Spear, whose previous achievements have been mainly confined to the manufacture of wine and bitters. The particulars of the plan are briefly these: It is proposed to have a series of pillars along the outer verge of the curbstones, rising to the height of the second story of ordinary buildings. The space between the tops of these pillars and the buildings adjacent is to be a sidewalk, one-half of which is movable and the other half stationary. This is to be reached at every corner by a stairway. On the inner or stationary walk pedestrians can pass back and forth at their leisure, entering the stores and offices, which might then occupy the second story of the building, and be entered immediately from the street. The other half of the walk, made of a sort of lattice work, and moving on small tracks which are beneath the surface and altogether concealed from view, is propelled at the rate of 10 miles an hour by engines beneath the surface of the ground at such intervals as may be necessary to secure the requisite power. The sidewalk is moved by friction rollers, worked upon by shafts which pass through the unright pillars, and on one side of the street passes up, and on the other side down, continually night and day.

On this moving roadway pedestrians may stand or occupy the numerous chairs and settees thereon provided, and be traveling towards their destination at the rate of ten miles an hour, or, if so inclined, can walk at full speed in the same direction, thereby adding five miles an hour to their rate of progress.

The most ingenious part of the whole contrivance is the device for getting off and on this moving pathway. The pedestrian mounts to the stationary walk, and then if he were to step from this to the moving one he would be instantly floored. To prevent such a catastrophe, there is a series of seats ingeniously contrived to move partly in the stationary and partly in the movable walk. These are stopped by applying a brake, which releases them from the moving platform and allows them to run off their tracks on the stationary one, where they are readily stopped. The passenger takes his seat, the conductor takes his fare, the brake is released, and immediately the seat moves on, and the traveler can leave it without the risk of breaking his neck.

All this is very curious and novel, but how about its practicability? We are told several competent engineers have examined into the plan and pronounce it entirely feasible, and far less expensive than any that has been broached before for carrying citizens rapidly up and down town, or back and forth between distant points. The machinery will work with very little noise, and that will be [illegible] there is scarcely nothing [illegible] There will be no danger of accident, and the contrivance can be put in any street, long or short, where it may be required. It is said an effort is to be made very soon to demonstrate the feasibility of this scheme, probably on Chambers street, from Povonia ferry to Broadway. Whether it proves successful or not, the project is very curious and ingenious, and will, therefore, attract no small degree of attention.—N. Y. World.
