The festive saw crusher is busy in Sacramento, Cal.

Phillips county, Colo., will go down for artesian water.

At the meeting of the state grange in Denver next month a grange insurance company will be organized.

Jefferson county, Colo., has become the owner, by tax sales, of about 17,000 acres in addition adjoining Denver.

Colorado wheat fed hogs this winter has realized the farmers in one county in the eastern portion of the state.

At Albuquerque, N. M., a dividend of 15 per cent has been recently paid to the depositors of the Albuquerque National bank.

In Las Animas county, Colo., Mrs. Dr. Bechner enjoys the honor of being the fine lady voter to register in that county.

In Jefferson county, Colorado, some of the farmers on the Church ditch have to haul their water for domestic uses distance of six miles.

Wheat seeding is now going on all winter in Elk Canon county. The weather has been so mild so far September on the plains this winter.

Greeley's ice harvest threatens to be a limited one this year, and the ice cutting citizens are doing their level best to obtain a supply.

The cook books and ledgers that record the financial doings at the city and county hospital at Sacramento, Cal., for the last twenty years are missing. Their absence has created suspicion.

William Bryant of Boise, Idaho, met with a painful accident in the mountains on Tuesday. He was chopping down a tree. As it fell it grazed his head, taking off a large piece of the scalp.

For some time past two bold confidence operators have been successfully working in Sacramento, Cal. Their principal victims have been men who arrive in the city on the early morning trains.

Trinidad (Colo.) children continued enough fuel, fuel and clothing for the helpless poor of that city to last all winter. About ten wagons of stuff was gathered together, among which was 1,000 pounds of flour.

Dr. Whitlow, who attempted suicide at the city jail, has so far recovered that he has gone home, says the Cheyenne Sun. He left the county hospital last Saturday afternoon. He was far from being an entirely well man, but he will fully recover if no new complications set in.

On Tuesday Rosinda Gonzales, a 6-year-old girl, while returning home from an errand, encountered two vicious dogs, which set upon her. The screams of the child brought some of the neighbors out, who drove the dogs away, but not until her face and body were badly chewed by the brutes. She is expected to recover, but will always be badly marked.

On Tuesday morning the Sadewasser brothers were involved in a quarrel and fight, with a shotgun in the hands of Henry Sadewasser. The two brothers fought some twenty yards from the house, when the gun was discharged, Henry receiving the charge at close range in his right lung, dying almost instantly. Perlmutt was arrested and taken to Kiowa and is being held for a preliminary examination.

Together day at the Bitterroot mines the one-year-old child of Will Majors was playing in a yard when an eagle swooped down on the child, who defended itself as best it could, the eagle making desperate efforts to carry the little one off. The child's scream attracted Mrs. Majors, who scared off the bird of freedom. Boys spent an entire day trying to find the eagle's nest, but unsuccessfully.—Santa Cruz Sentinel.

Some time last spring a man named Stevens came here with his family, says the Helena (Mont.) Independent. Three weeks later he deserted his wife and children and went to live with a woman of the town, going with her to Iowa shortly after. Now he has received Helena that Stevens had been stabbed and killed back in Iowa. His wife has been supporting herself and children here ever since Stevens deserted her.

A man named Davis has been hauled in by the game warden for killing deer in violation of the provisions of the fish and game law, says the Butte Inter-Mountain. When Davis heard that his officers were after him he skipped out, but the warden was too sale for him. He was captured quite in the hinter land. Said Dis. He could not raise the fine, so he was committed for fifty days in the county jail at Pocatello.

Tirello Buonanoma, the Sacramento Italian, who got forty-seven knife wounds in his flesh between his left ear and the right side of his throat, on Monday morning made a second job of it at the Oakland Receiving Hospital. When the steward entered the cot room of the hospital he found Buonanoma suspended from his cot by the neck. Life was extinct. He had taken the rope which was attached to his cot, and tied it tightly around his neck.

Four boys are in the city prison at San Francisco and are very loath to take a trip across the bay if the police prove the charges that are made against them. The lads determined to be robbers, and they went to several places of the Waste trust and held up the proprietors. They went at the business just like old professionals. In all their escapades they used masks, so that they could not be recognized. The boys made a complete confession of all their crimes to Chief Crowley.

A Christmas dance at a ranch near Topeka, a small station on the Short Line about twenty miles west of Hagerman, Idaho, ended in a tragedy, a man named Stevens having been shot down by Peter Hill, a rancher. The shooting was the outcome of an old feud between Stevens and the Hill boys. During the Christmas festivities Stevens had drank quite freely, and when the Hill boys escaped, but one of them was arrested near Twin Falls by a deputy sheriff. The injured man died a few hours after the occurrence.

A Bird Boy Caught.

The authorities of Madison, Ills., have a wild boy who they believe ran from St. Louis. He is supposed to have been lost last week in some manner from the—with some of the men found in the wilds near Fort Chartres, Ill. The boy and the man were given to understand boards. The man stating he was crazy, he let him go. The boy, for the sake of his safety, attempt Southern Illinois and was arrested instead. He was brought to Lyle party of immigrants who had been detained by inspectors, who were searching for the victim of a railroad robbery in the vicinity of Vandalia, Ill.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
