The Uintah reservation lands will be subject, when thrown open, to any entry applicable to the public domain, with the exception that the homesteader will be required to pay $1.25 per acre, while under the general law, five years' residence entitled the homesteader to a patent without having to pay for his land.

According to Byron Groo, who was register of the land office in this state during the last administration of President Cleveland, the timber frauds that are shaking things up in the northwest, will not affect Utah, as only two timber land entries have been made in the history of the state. These are in Summit county, and were made by a contractor who wanted the timber for ties for the Union Pacific road.

Rose Hartwell, the artist, has on exhibition at the Commercial club, the fine large oil painting of an Italian family at dinner, that took a first prize at the exhibition of the Paris Salon. The painting will be hung up on the south wall, and remain there for some time. The Italian family are earnestly investigating the merits of a large pan of spaghetti, the national dish, and the entire scene is one of interest and truthfulness to life.

The appointees on the governor's staff are preparing for extra dress to the extent of $200 or over apiece for uniforms, to be ordered from Chicago or Cincinnati. The quartermaster, commissary and inspector generals will have to buy three uniforms each, a fatigue dress and full dress uniforms, as they will have to appear for field duty at encampments where a fatigue uniform is called for. The others will try and get along with dress and full dress outfits.

Miss Alice Ewing Foote, a Salt Lake Collegiate Institute graduate, and now a junior in Wilson college, Chambersburg, Pa., has been honored with the appointment of secretary of the self-government association of the college. The method of self-government at this institution is based upon a charter granted by the faculty to the students, the latter governing themselves within prescribed limits. The scheme is said to work very well, and puts the students on their honor.

RECEPTION WAS A BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

That to Members of the Legislature Reflected Credit on Women's Republican Club.

HELD AT KENYON LAST NIGHT.

Several Hundred Guests Were in Attendance, Including Gov. Cutler And State Officers.

The reception last night to the members of the Legislature was a brilliant affair, and reflected credit on the Women's Republican club, under whose able auspices it was given. The function took place at the Kenyon hotel, where, from 8 o'clock until 12, several hundred guests mingled together in the most informal manner imaginable. The reception afforded an opportunity to meet the governor and, needless to say, all availed themselves of this privilege. Those present were received in the main parlor by a committee consisting of Mesdames John C. Cutler, Frank Hines, M. A. Breeden, Charles S. Tingey, and W. H. Jones, while other members of the club rendered valuable assistance during the evening. RHODES SCHOLARSHIP.

Details for Examination Just Received By Dr. Kingsbury.

Dr. Parkins, who has charge of the Rhodes' scholarship fund, has sent to President Kingsbury of the University of Utah, a list of examination questions, with all details as to the final arrangements for the Rhodes scholarship examinations. The requirements are identical throughout the country.

So far but one student has applied for the scholarship, and the committee urges that those who intend to compete for the rare prize should make known their intentions at once. The examination will be held at the University on next Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 17 and 18, and will be under the direction of Prof. Byron Cummings, who is one of the committee in charge.

A SAD BEREAVEMENT.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frost Succumbs to Appendicitis.

It will be sad news to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frost of this city to learn of the death of their little son Decoy, who passed away at St. Mark's hospital last night, after an operation for appendicitis. The boy was taken ill a week ago with what was at first thought to be an ordinary case of inflammation of the bowels. Later, however, it developed that he was afflicted with appendicitis, and on Saturday he was taken to the hospital, where he was operated on by Dr. Fisher. The operation seemed to be entirely successful, and the little fellow rallied nicely, but on Monday his condition became somewhat alarming, and despite all that loving hands and skilled medical attention could do, he gradually grew worse and passed away at 9:30 last night. His parents are heart-broken over their bereavement, as Decoy was an intelligent, lovable boy, and gave promise of a bright future. The remains are now at the family residence, 457 west Seventh South street. The funeral will be announced later.

Young Couple Married With Not Enough Money to Pay the Parson

GROOM EXPLAINED MATTERS.

Had Only 45 Cents and This Was Needed to Take Them Back to Their Home in Murray.

With but $2.95 in his pocket, a prospective bridegroom, accompanied by the intended bride and a young lady friend, who came with them to witness the ceremony, walked into the clerk's office yesterday and applied for a marriage license. The document was immediately issued by a deputy clerk, and the groom paid the required fee of $2.50, after which he asked if they could be married in the office. They were invited into a private room adjoining the clerk's office and Deputy Clerk David A. Smith was called to perform the ceremony.

The groom informed the deputy that he wanted to speak to him privately. The two then left the office, leaving the bride and her friend inside, and found a secluded spot where none of the clerks in the main office could hear what was said. The man then made the startling announcement that he only had 45 cents left after paying for the license and that he needed just that amount to take the bridal party back to Murray from whence they came. He asked the clerk if he would not perform the ceremony free of charge.

It was an unusual state of affairs and Deputy Smith was in a quandary as to what to do. He had often performed ceremonies for the small sum of $1, but he had never yet met a 45-cent bridegroom who needed even that to pay car fare back to their homes. He finally decided that he would accommodate the man rather than place him in the embarrassing position of having to take his intended bride and witness back to their homes without the ceremony being performed. They then went back into the private office and the ceremony was performed and the bridal party left on a wedding tour to Murray. It is probable that the deputy will in the future try to avoid charity marriage ceremonies. It was suggested that the groom's credit must be good at Muray otherwise the young couple would have to start out in their married life with an empty cupboard.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made.

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Cora Walker of Porterville, California. There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold so quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by all druggists.

TOM REED VERSUS SPEAKER CANNON

Latter Does Not Like Former's Scheme of "Special Order" Legislation.

INCIDENTS OF SMOOT HEARING.

Witty Allusion to B. H. Roberts' Book—Thin Air and Hot Air Defined.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Speaker Cannon desires to avoid making the present a "special order" session—that is, to force legislation through by invoking the power of the committee on rules. It was Tom Reed who invented that powerful machine by which a bill could be passed within a few hours. It was the engine to prevent filibustering, but now it has become so powerful that even the men responsible for it are loath to invoke it. The "special order" is really unpopular, and Speaker Cannon and the Republican leaders desire to avoid it if they can.

NO WHIPPING POST.

Washington has been "all torn up" over the idea of re-establishing the whipping post for wife beaters and like offenders. The suggestion contained in the president's message has been discussed in all possible places, but it is evident that public sentiment is against it. Public sentiment is also against granting divorces for wife beating. The abused wife may as well accept brutal treatment as a part of the conjugal burden.

WILL FIND AN ENEMY.

"Who are you going to fight with your navy?" asked a foreign journalist of Senator Hale.

"Oh," said the Maine senator satirically, "we must find an enemy. There must be some one for us to fight. With our increased army and navy we will be compelled to go to war to show that they were needed. Why, there is Mexico. Who can tell at what moment Mexico may invade us from the south or Canada from the north or some nation come from over the sea to attack us? You may be sure we have powerful enemies, for we are preparing powerful defenses to meet them."

A QUESTION OF FLOWERS.

When the vice presidential caravan was traversing Minnesota a particularly fine bunch of dahlias was presented to the party during a meeting. Senator Doliver was speaking at the time, and it became him, as the last of the speakers, to thank the people of the town for the flowers. Turning to Senator Clapp, who occupied a seat on the stage, Doliver asked:

"What the devil kind of flowers are they? My education in botany was somewhat neglected."

"American Beauties," promptly responded Clapp, but he did not catch the Iowa senator.

"I knew Clapp didn't know any better," said Doliver afterwards, "and I knew enough to know they were not American Beauties, so I simply contented myself with thanking those people for their flowers."

HEPBURN-DOLLIVER BILL.

People in prohibition states are making quite an effort to have Congress pass the Hepburn-Dolliver bill providing that liquor shipped over interstate commerce lines shall be subject to the laws of the state in which it is sold. This is one of those bills that make cowards of members. There is a majority that does not want the bill passed, but as sure as it reaches a vote it will be passed, because members find it easier to vote for such bills than to face the charge that they are opposed to temperance. It is doubtful if the bill can reach a vote in the senate even if it passes the house.

A COMMA OMITTTED.

Attorney Tayler, representing the organizations who are trying to oust Senator Reed Smoot, was questioning Apostle Penrose about books of doctrine which were used in the "Mormon" Church. Among those mentioned was one written by Brigham H. Roberts called "A New Witness For God." Tayler in asking Penrose a question used a comma, which Penrose omitted in answering. Said Tayler:

"That is a highly thought of work, by Brigham H. Roberts?"

Penrose replied: "Yes, highly thought of by Brigham H. Roberts. That is correct."

The answer caused a titter in the committee room, and Tayler was forced to further inquire:

"Is it not highly thought of outside of Brigham H. Roberts?"

"Yes, sir; a good many others think so," replied Penrose, who was enjoying his joke.

THE KIND OF AIR.

There was another little byplay during the hearing between Attorneys Worthington and Tayler. Witness Owen, who has worked up the evidence in the case against Smoot, was relating something about a stenographer who became the plural wife of one of the Church leaders. "She was," said Owen, "a stenographer for awhile and later went into thin air."

"What do you mean by that?" asked Chairman Burrows.

"She disappeared about a year ago," replied Owen, "just about the time of the first investigation here."

"You said she went into thin air. Do you mean she is translated?" continued Burrows.

"She seems to be," replied Owen.

"You will observe the close relation, Mr. Chairman, between thin air and hot air," remarked Worthington jocularly.

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L.L.D.

Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." 25c, 50c and $1.00. This Day In History.

JANUARY 11th.

1757—General Alexander Hamilton, American soldier and statesman, secretary of the treasury under Washington, born in Nevis, West Indies; killed by Aaron Burr in a duel July 12, 1804. Hamilton's career was romantic from beginning to end. It was by adoption that he became a citizen of the country he served with distinction. His father was a Scottish merchant located in the West Indies. At 15 the boy was sent to New York to enter King's college to prosecute studies for which he showed a strong inclination. After two years spent in military studies he entered the army as captain of artillery. He served five years in active campaigns.

1825—Bayard Taylor, American author and traveler, born at Kennett Square, Pa.; died in Berlin in 1878.
