DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Monday - August 31, 1896.

Salt Lake Stake Conference.

The quarterly conference of this Stake will commence in the Assembly Hall, Salt Lake City, on Saturday, September 5th, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., and in the Tabernacle on Sunday, the 6th at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7 p.m.

The officers and members of the Stake will please govern themselves accordingly.

Your brethren,
ANGUS M. CANNON,
JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,
CHAS. W. PENROSE,
Presidency of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion.

TABERNACLE SERVICES.

Elders Benjamin Ivins, H. Eldredge, Angus M. Cannon and Wilford W. Young addressed the saints.

President Angus M. Cannon of the Stake presidency was the presiding officer at the Tabernacle services held yesterday afternoon.

The choir sang the hymn:

We're an anointed and chosen race,
And a royal nation on earth.

Prayer was offered by Elder J. F. Simmons.

Choir further sang:

All hail the power of Jesus' name
Let angels prostrate fall.
By Thyself being crowned.

Elder Benjamin Ivins, who had recently returned from a mission to Europe, was introduced as the first speaker. He said that in standing before the Saints to address them, he felt his weakness as he always did when occupying such a position. Therefore he asked that those assembled would assist him with their faith and prayers, that his remarks might be blessed to the benefit of all who had gathered together. His stress time was spent in England, partially in the Birmingham conference and afterwards in the London conference. In the latter the Elders have something over nine millions of people to preach the Gospel to and all in but two established branches of the Church. In this conference there were at present eighteen missionaries who were laboring constantly to promulgate the principles of life and salvation. The Gospel work in that part of the Lord's vineyard was progressing very favorably and the Elders were being treated with greater respect and courtesy than has been accorded them for a few years back. The newspapers were giving space to matters concerning Mormonism and interviews had with Elders were being published without the least bias or prejudice. While not many converts were being made, those who did join themselves with the Church were brethren and sisters whose whole souls were in the work and who were determined to stick to it through good and through evil report. The Gospel was understood today as it had never before been understood in the nations of the earth. England in past years had added many to the Church membership and as conditions existed now, the promise was that many more would be called out from among the masses and brought to know and understand that God had restored His glorious Gospel to the earth in these latter days.

Elder Eldredge said that when he left home to preach the Gospel, he had not a knowledge of the divinity of the work which he was about to represent. He had not now its importance, its grandeur and its ultimate benefits. He was pleased to say, however, that upon returning to his home, he had come back knowing full well that God had spoken from the heavens, and that His work was destined to roll on until all the wheat had been gathered from the tares. Elder Eldredge related how good times had come to Israel, that God had blessed His people and had manifested unto them the power of God. In conclusion he said he felt proud to be a young man and women of the Church in such good compliance and to live in such a way and manner as to merit the blessings that God had in store for those who love Him.

President Angus M. Cannon, in thanking the Lord that the meeting was unpremeditated and was due to be filled in consequence of the remarks of Elder Eldredge, whose subject had been so much to the edification of the conversation, and had given of the resources to the entertainment of international institutions in our midst. He enjoyed was that God would bless all who would join in the chorus, and all who in their power tended to the comfort of their fellow man.

Elder Benjamin B. Young was the next speaker. He commenced by referring to the prayer that was offered up at the commencement of the meeting. He spoke, he said, with the feel of God, and the spirit which prompted their utterance carried with it a feeling of gladness and rejoicing that assembled in the house of God. He felt that the spirit of such a feeling or refreshing was the best that men could together would be imparted. The speaker was pleased to encourage and tell to cheer and hope that the sons of those who had made requests to help the children of the Church and Kingdom of God. He believed that the giver of such a donation or refreshing experienced just as much joy and happiness in making the gift as did they who received it. Those who had contributed freely and generously of their means to the upbuilding and the material advancement of the Church of God, had been the ones who were blessed among the Pioneer settlers of this valley. The experiences through which they had passed in early days, gave them an opportunity to know whether or not God was with His people when they tried to do right. They had tested the promises of the Almighty and had found that God was always ready to carry out his part of the program. The early settlers of this valley had always been found doing their utmost to establish educational institutions, that the young and rising generation might have the privilege of attending such institutions. Not only did they look to the mental advancement of their sons and daughters, but they had always advocated physical training that the young men and women might be fitted to take upon themselves almost any avocation, being able to enter the field and fill the soil or well as to follow the arts and professions. The Saints of God should be a people that were always ready to turn their hands to anything, so long as they earned an honest living. It had been said, and truly, too, that the greater percentage of criminals were people who had been highly educated and had received degrees from some of the best seminaries and colleges in the land, and the question had been asked, why such a thing was. The speaker felt that this condition had been brought about through a lack of proper training. Thousands had gone through their college training with their mental training would cling to them into returns without having to resort to hard manual labor. Intemperance had been encouraged in the people and the consequences had been that the hopes nurtured to school had vanished and caused them to retrograde and go down to wickedness, which afterwards landed them in the prisons and penitentiaries. It was to avert such a condition of affairs that God's servants were striving and serving, and if the rising generation would stick to the counsels given them from time to time, all would be well.

The Gospel work was spreading; it was gaining ground on every hand, and with eight hundred missionaries in the field, the nations of the earth were being made acquainted with its resurrection in these last days. Those who desired to know the truth had every opportunity to learn it, as it was being expounded to many all corners of the earth. The Elders were scattered throughout the world, so to speak, and they were exercising an influence that was being felt throughout the entire globe. Great numbers of people were now investigating the principles of the Gospel, and the chances were that many of them would be added to the fold of Christ in the divine time of the Lord.

Choir sang the anthem:

Here, lord, we are.

Benediction was pronounced by Elder Joseph Kimball.

WAS A SEVERE ACCIDENT.

Branford Faulk is Mrs. Sarah w- [illegible] Loss—Notes of a Sick and Injured Man.

PLEASANT GROVE, Aug. 30, 1896.—Mr. Garnett accidentally broke his arm on Thursday while dismantling from a hay stack. Dr. Lewis of Lehi set the injured member and he is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. Hiram Mayhew and Mrs. Margaret Mayhew, with their children, which are going to a conference in Germany, are now entirely free by having the buggy overturned. The animal showed signs of his much spirit, when the driver, Mrs. Mayhew, thought she would faint or do opposite attempting to get the reins and the consequence, she must have turned the shaft, throwing the occupants out with great force, Mrs. Mayhew got her nose and quite heavy bruised. Mrs. Mayhew immediately said and is now willing it should be determined that it was her fault. The conditions compel assent.

Sister Elizer Bennett accidentally dropped her cousin off while making a back rider on a lady but week.

Professors Fred W. Reynolds and Frank M. Driggs of the Utah University returned last January from Harvard University, where they have been attending the summer school. The boys took in all the great cities in the eastern states and return after a pleasant and profitable trip. Mr. Driggs was quite ill for a few weeks but is now feeling all right. The young men will resume their positions in Utah's great school, viz., Mr. Reynolds in the University and Mr. Driggs in the school of the deaf at Ogden.

Misses Maria Valey and Ada Robins of Salt Lake are visiting friends here.

Friatrach F. Driggs passed his 82d mile stone on Thursday, 20th; he is hale and hearty and still plying his vocation.

The gravest fears are entertained for Sister Mayhew's recovery. Drs. Robertson and Pike are in attendance.

Lehi.—Pleasant Grove, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Mayhew died a few minutes ago. She was the daughter of the Mayhew home here. Her husband Elijah died very suddenly last winter. She was generally respected. She leaves a Sorrowfully. H.

AMUSEMENTS.

ELLISON'S CLOSING PERFORMANCE.—Another large audience, scarcely less than that of the opening night, witnessed the closing performance given by the "Mormon Wizard" at the Theater Saturday evening.

The program received was for the most part the same as that given on the opening night and the same enthusiasm was displayed, Ellison having to respond to several curtain calls, a particular demonstration being occasioned by the mystifying rendition of the "Beggar's Dream" which is certainly the best thing on the program. Mr. Ellison will go direct to New Orleans in a few days to replenish cabinet's work, which the Nance trunk will be a successful one.

Mr. H. S. Goddard the popular baritone singer and vocal teacher, proposes to inaugurate a series of recitals, to be given complimentary, by invitation, by members of his singing classes, the first of which will occur at the Congregational church about the middle of September and to followed by others during the season.

THE LYCEUM.

Tonight the Arzer company will begin the first week of their engagement at the Lyceum, presenting the five act comedy-drama "Man and master."
