LOCAL NEWS.

Burned to Death.—By the accidental upsetting of a kerosene lamp, on Sunday last, a little girl in the Nineteenth Ward named Wahlquist was so badly burned that she died on Monday at midnight. The funeral took place to-day at 1 p. m. at the residence of the father, A. Wahlquist.

Returned.—After a week's absence, the genial face of John C. Neels, Esq., is seen around town again. It is supposed that he has been viewing the glories of the great city named after him, on the line of the Utah Central, south. Welcome.

Overcoat Stolen.—About noon to-day a man drove his team into a public yard in the city and left in his wagon a long black overcoat. When he returned it had been stolen. The police were informed and are now on the look-out for the thief. The coat had a black velvet collar, and a pair of buckskin gloves in the pockets.

An Omission.—In noticing the members of the Legislature representing Weber and Box Elder in the House, their member for the Council, F. S. Richards, Esq., being now in Washington, the name of Hon. D. H. Peery was inadvertantly omitted. He has had considerable experience in the lower House and will, as before, ably sustain the interests of his county as well as the general interests of the people of the Territory in the body to which he has been elected.

In their New Premises.—Heesch & Ellerbeck have removed to their new and commodious quarters, No. 49 E First South Street, and having enlarged their stock of gas and steam fixtures, etc., are prepared to do all kinds of plumbing, gas and steam fitting, etc., at short notice. They are agents for Mitchell, Vance & Co.'s gas fixtures, Page steam heaters and Tunk's water motors. They are well known, having been in business for several years. See advt.

Leap Year Benefit Ball.—The Leap Year party given at the 15th Ward Music Hall by the young ladies of that Ward, on the evening of the 10th inst., for the benefit of a deserving young lady, who has been very ill for some weeks, in St. Mary's Hospital, was quite an enjoyable affair. Sufficient funds were raised to cover all her expenses. Nothing happened to mar the pleasure of any who participated, except that one or two ladies failed to secure the partners of their heart's choice.

Delivering Lectures.—Elder B. H. Roberts, of Centreville, home on a brief visit from his field of labor—the Southern States Mission—has lately been delivering a couple of very interesting lectures in the different Wards of Davis Stake. One is entitled "The Divine Mission of Joseph Smith," and the other, "The Improvement of the Youth of Israel." Wherever he appears on the platform he is greeted by large and appreciative audiences. Bro. Roberts is making good use of his time.

Further Particulars.—The NEWS mentioned night before last that a male passenger on the Central Pacific Railway died on the train Monday morning just as it rolled into Ogden. It was said then that it was supposed alcohol had something to do with his taking off, and that an inquest was being held over the body. The Herald of that city states that the man died a little this side of Corinne.

Ever since leaving San Francisco he had abstained from eating, but drank heavily all the way. His name was Samuel Meyer, and his age about 40 years. He had a second class ticket, was slimly built and poorly dressed. The coroner's verdict was death from delirium tremens.

Law and Architecture.—Last Monday evening a course of lectures on law, its elements, nature, sources and application, was commenced at the Deseret University, supplementing the course in civil government and political economy. The lectures are intended to be preliminary to a fuller course of study on the same subject in the future, and to lead finally to the establishment, in connection with the University, of a complete Law Department.

Mr. J. L. Rawlins, attorney, is the gentleman engaged to deliver the lectures, which will be given on each Monday night during the rest of the academic year. Mr. Rawlins, besides being an able lawyer, is an experienced school teacher and lecturer, in fact, just the man for this purpose.

A practical course in architecture has also been inaugurated, under the tuition of Mr. D. C. Young. The class commenced at 12.45 p.m. to-day, and will hold its sessions on Wednesdays and Fridays. A brief course of elementary instruction is all that is contemplated, at present, by the Institution. At first, the history of architecture will be reviewed, and the characteristics of its different orders learned. Then, the general and most practical principles of construction will be taught, and some knowledge given of the relative values of building materials, together with their economic uses in reference to strength, durability, lightness and beauty of form.

Proper consideration will also be given to the subjects of ventilation, acoustics, sanitation, heating, and decoration, as important features in the structure of all public buildings. Building processes and the elements of composition and design will also receive a share of attention. The object of the course, at present, is not to make architects, but to awaken a spirit of investigation that shall tend to the improvement of taste, and lead to a higher appreciation of the art as an economic study.

Supreme Court.—Proceedings before Chief Justice Hunter and Associate Justices Emerson and Twiss, on Wednesday, January 16, 1884.

F. Auerbach et al., respondents vs. Robert Mulhall, appellant, from Third District Court; on the petition heretofore filed therefor, ordered that a rehearing of this cause be and it is hereby granted.

Louis Benites appellant vs. Benjamin Hampton et al., respondents; from Third District; same order.

A. G. Campbell et al., respondents vs. Thomas Taylor appellant, from Second District; in this cause upon the suggestion of diminution of the record and motion for leave to supply deficiency, made the 14th day of January inst., it is ordered that a certified copy of the entire stipulation referred to in said motion may be filed with the Clerk of this Court.

Ogden City, respondent, vs. Robert Burns, Jr., appellant, from First District; based upon a certificate of the Clerk of said District Court, filed this day, a motion to dismiss the appeal of this cause was made by A. B. Taylor for respondent, because more than thirty days have elapsed since the perfecting of said appeal and no transcript has been filed in this Court. Said motion was taken under advisement.

Court adjourned till Friday January 18th 1884 at 10 a. m.

The Iron Interest.—Bishop Thos. Taylor returned on Monday from a five weeks' visit to Iron City, Iron County. We learn from him that the works of the Iron Manufacturing Company of Utah are progressing. The building of the blast furnace has been suspended for the season, but other departments are being proceeded with. A large force of men are taking up the railroad that Brother Taylor purchased for the company in Nevada, ready for transportation to Utah. It will be laid between the coal and iron deposits and the furnace as soon as practicable. There are over 20 miles of rails, two locomotives, 25 cars, turntables, round-house, weigh-scales, tanks, section houses, tools and other appurtenances. Bishop Taylor thinks he has been exceedingly fortunate in securing such useful property for the ironworks, being exactly what was needed. It will place the ores and fuel cheaply at the furnace and enable the company to make iron at as low figures as it can be manufactured in any part of the United States.

Progress of the Young.—By invitation of Bishop Chester Call, Elder John Nicholson delivered an address in the East Bountiful Tabernacle last night. The drift of the discourse was in the nature of a lucid explanation of simple methods by means of which the young people can become familiar with the doctrines of the Gospel and at the same time acquire the power to express their views regarding them to others. The audience was large, the hall being well filled. It is intended to organize classes shortly under the system formulated and explained by Brother Nicholson.

Horse Thieves Caught. — Sheriff Rheinhart of Beaverhead County, Montana, and Sheriff Rickard, of Humboldt County, Nevada, arrived in Ogden from the north on Monday afternoon, and left for the West next morning, having in charge Kellog, Bowdin and Ryan, three horse-thieves recently captured on the Yellowstone. Woods, a "pal" of the precious trio now in custody, is still at large. They have a long notorious history, and have escaped once since first taken. Woods being the only one who has not recaptured. Sheriff Rheinhart goes along to assist Rickard with his charge, and prevent further depredations on his "birds" ere they fly away.

Notice. — The Territorial Central Committee will meet at the office of the Deseret National Bank, on Tuesday, January 18, 1884, at 11 a. m.

A punctual attendance is requested, by order of the chairman.

THEO. MCKEAN, Secretary.
Jan. 16, 1884.

Theatre To-night.—The long-talked-of benefit to Mr. Thomas Harris, the veteran door-keeper at the Salt Lake Theatre, comes off to-night. The "Green Lanes of England" will be put upon the boards in splendid style with a powerful cast. Seats were selling at a rapid rate yesterday and to-day, and the heavy reserve foretells a full house.

The Unity Club, we are pleased to note, are reciprocating the kind offices so often lent their organization by Mr. Harris, and are interesting themselves in behalf of his benefit. Besides decorating the interior of the building, each member of the Club has purchased tickets for the performance.

The Home Dramatic Club give their services gratuitously, as do most of the other actors and attaches, and the orchestra has reduced its figure for the occasion. The benefit is a popular movement, and we look for a large audience and a fine performance.

Utah Artists.—The Busy Bee, the second number of which has reached us, contains the following list of artists, natives or residents of this Territory:

G. M. Ottinger, 20th Ward, Salt Lake City, historical and landscape.

A GENUINE AFFAIR.

Our readers can rely upon it that if they have any rheumatism in the system, they can by using Britannia become entirely cured. This is no fiction. A great many persons have tried it in Salt Lake City and Ogden, and other parts of Utah whose testimony can be privately obtained, and who say that no remedy ever reached the disease before. It removes pain at once. It conquers the cause of the pain, and removes it, builds up the general health. It acts mildly on the bowels, and strengthens the kidneys. It gives an appetite and a relish for food, and prevents its souring on the stomach. Just try a bottle, and you will never want to be without it in the house as a family medicine. Sold at Z. C. M. I. Drug Store.

Mr. G. D.
