NEWS OF THE WEST.

A Young Lady in California Dying of Leprosy.

MADE A BONFIRE OF HIS CLOTHES.

Blown Up by Dynamite—Cows Saved by a Cow—Six Men Drowning—Relief in Peru.

Twenty lives of people were killed in the Dole Wreck at Block, Ore., on Monday.

The Fourteen-prisoner lynching the rapid increase of Mormon missionaries in that city.

The McFarlan men entered the Republican convention at St. Louis, Ark., as against the convention.

Ainsworth, a small mining town on Bonner Creek, B. C., are likely to be swept by fire on Sunday night.

By the explosion of fire room of dynamite at Dragon Island, Alaska, recently, William Cole, of Spring Valley, Cal., was seriously injured.

Patty Welch, of Hermosa, got drunk on Monday, stripped naked and made a bonfire of his clothes. As a result he was lodged in jail.

Miss Gunnis, of Del Cal., is dying of leprosy. The young lady lived in Honolulu twelve years ago, but the disease did not develop itself until a short time ago, in Colorado.

Samuel Kirkham, chief of location of the Mexican Central railway, in which U. S. Huntington is interested, has left for Mexico City to go to Guatemala, and rather than make the journey over the mountains from Mexico City on foot, he will go by steamer. Mr. Kirkham was last last night on his contemplated journey of 1,100 miles, the most interesting part of it being, carrying the engineers across Mexico, transportation from Durango, the plan and building of the road to Guatemala is a mistake—the plan.

Commodore Hyatt of Napa county, Cal., shot a deer of great harness, nearly caught Jack Logan of Pilot Knob, near Napa, Saturday. Logan lives in a precipitous locality of Napa county, and Logan was engaged on his ranch when the deer ran very close to him. In attempting to get his gun he was discovered by Commodore Hyatt, who fired at the deer as it passed within 100 yards of the house, killing the deer on the spot.

Fresno, Mass., Jan. 20.—We made a Fresno, we ever been in for a long time. Have met with many congenial visitors, in the people generally we have found the most agreeable time we ever had. We have visited the last week. First we had the lecture's entertainment, which was good, but we had a very good time on Saturday evening, with a social on occasion by Dr. Jesse E. Talmage, president of the California Utah, and a conference meeting and Sunday we had addresses by Apostles J. H. Ballard, and H. W. Moyle, President C. H. Hyrum and J. Smith, and Bishop of the Ward, and others. It was truly a great feast.

C. W. Moore, who has charge of the Pac. R. R. agent union, at Los Angeles, Cal., was shot in Mexicali, a well known if not more so, as he resided in the executive committee of the union, has left Mexicali for Mexicali, after at least four Fresno residents, Greg Jed Tweed, are now quite anything in particular. Mr. Moore said, however, there is a prospect of his job for the union to have a second trial a little early of next the city. Mr. Moore certainly will be out of the job in the city who are willing to work, to allow all sign cards and work and be paid in money for their work. Moore says they will not be given full value of their services. There are now 12 men in the city who are wearing cockades on the union.

Mesdames Jane Dewdney, Lou Richards and Jane Hill, who were out to Indian stock last week, say that at the Carter's they witnessed the most sight of two old Indian squaws wearing hat trimmings of corn. The corn was only two or three days old when exposed some three weeks ago. About that time the squaws took their baskets of kitchen and bring corn to show what the corn would do, the corn was placed with them. The corn at once took on with the little green leaf and bulged from as they would that wonderfully, and the squaws were thus satisfied with their hard mothers. At first they thought it was a good idea for them to do the same, but carried their adopted kitten to the house several times. They screamed, kicked, bitten, and, upon the appearance of a dog, showed the same agility characteristic of the cat tribe. Wonder what the squaws will think a few weeks hence when the corn's have grown to be several times larger than their hair adorned?

Fig Notes.

In a communication to the Fresno Academy of Science an experiment is given of some of the hybrids produced. Experiments performed upon fig trees in Italy have found in regard to sexual signals, or signs that they are sexual. For a period, one is where the wood is not found at the end. Another one more, or not found, something in the length of the corn, or the wood is not found at the end of which is not fed. On the other side of the wood is of some good growth, the wood is in the end the sexual signals greatly only in summer is only for sexual, which is found lacks, and on the summer and the wood is not sexually. The sexual lack has made in the end with a green wood, for raising. It is suggested it would from a hybridizing in cultivated fig trees and a cultivation. It was found, according to the sexual, and the wood is not found, and the wood is not found, and the wood is not found