TRUE.

People are getting acquainted—and those who are not ought to be—with the wonderful merits of that great American Remedy, the

MEXICAN

Mustang Liniment,

FOR MAN AND BEAST

This liniment very naturally originated in America, where Nature provides in her laboratory such surprising antidotes for the maladies of her children. Its fame has been spreading for 35 years, until now it encircles the habitable globe.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is a matchless remedy for all external ailments of man and beast.

To stock owners and farmers it is invaluable.

A single bottle often saves a human life or restores the usefulness of an excellent horse, ox, cow, or sheep.

It cures foot-rot, hoof-ail, hollow horn, grub, screw-worm, shoulder-rot, mange, the bites and stings of poisonous reptiles and insects, and every such drawback to stock breeding and bush life.

It cures every external trouble of horses, such as lameness, scratches, swinny, sprains, founder, wind-gall, ring-bone, etc., etc.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is the quickest cure in the world for accidents occurring in the family, in the absence of a physician, such as burns, scalds, sprains, cuts, etc., and for rheumatism, and stiffness engendered by exposure. Particularly valuable to Miners.

It is the cheapest remedy in the world, for it penetrates the muscle to the bone, and a single application is generally sufficient to cure.

Mexican Mustang Liniment is put up in three sizes of bottles, the larger ones being proportionately much the cheapest. Sold everywhere.

Fatal Shooting.

CHICAGO, 14.—At 2 o'clock this morning, Jeremiah Kennedy, an Irish laborer, living on the west side, shot his wife Mary twice, killing her instantly, and then put a ball into his own body in the vicinity of the heart, from the effects of which he will probably die. Several causes combined led to the deed.

Terrible Death Rate from Excessive Heat.

ST. LOUIS, 14.—Another scorching day and another terrible death rate. Fully 50 cases of sunstroke occurred to-day, and about 20 deaths, including the number of cases of yesterday and Friday. Notwithstanding the intense heat, thousands of people have visited the beer gardens and other places in and around the city, and the usual amount of drinking was indulged in. In view of the fact and in anticipation of the increased number of excited or weakened systems, to-morrow, resulting from the carousals of to-day, the health officers have added several more cots to those already in use at the city dispensary, and have also increased the medical force for to-morrow's labors. Horses are also beginning to succumb to the heat, and considerable numbers of them, especially those attached to the street cars, are dropping in the streets, and either dying or becoming disabled.

WESTERN.

The Indian Hostilities—Distress of the Forted-up Families.

SAN FRANCISCO, 14.—A Portland dispatch says: General Sprague, superintendent of the O. S. N. Co., has received the following dispatch from Governor Chadwick:

Umatilla, 13.—Could Portland do anything to relieve the distress of Pendleton. The actual necessaries of life are needed there by the families forted up. Some emigrants are there. I have requested the officials to prevent suffering.

The following dispatch has been received:

Walla Walla, 13, 8 p.m. A man who left Weston, to-day, says: The troops are fighting between the mouth of Lodi Willow and Cayuse, a station 12 miles from Weston, on the Meacham road. They commenced firing between 8 and 9 this morning. They were still fighting when he left. There are about 350 soldiers under arms. They expect Major Sanford at Cayuse station to-night. The six companies that left Walla Walla for Lewiston have been turned back, and are now en route for Wallula.

Many wagons have arrived in the city, containing families coming in for safety, and they are still arriving from various directions.

The following dispatch has also been received:

Walla Walla, July 13, 10 p.m.—This place was thrown into excitement this evening upon the receipt of the report that the hostiles were on Wild Horse Creek and that fighting was going on there between the artillery and Indians, and that in all probability the reds would come down Vansycle Cañon and make for the mouth of Snake River, passing within two or three miles of this place, and likely calling upon us.

Upon learning of the fighting on Wild Horse Creek, General Wheaton stopped seven companies of cavalry, under Gen. Forsythe, who were just leaving for Lewiston, and ordered them immediately to Wallula or to aid Miles who, it was supposed, was engaged.

A message has just been received confirming the supposition, and a courier sent from here to Gen. Forsythe instructing him to make all possible speed, and by the shortest roads, to Miles, who has, doubtless, had a long, hard fight to-day, as 500 Indians are reported to have been in the band that burned Cayuse Station. It is undoubtedly this same band that Miles, and perhaps Throckmorton, are fighting to-day.

We have all the women and children aboard the wharf boat. No one here, however, has any fears for personal safety. We are so well fortified.

Runners, who have been sent out to ascertain the whereabouts of the hostiles, and to report their appearance at six o'clock this evening, have not yet returned.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN:

Substance of the Articles of the Treaty of Peace.

LONDON, 14.—The following is the substance of the articles of the treaty of peace concluded by the Berlin congress:

Article 1.—Bulgaria is constituted an automatic tributary, the principality under the Suzerainty of the Sultan, with a Christian government and national militia.

Art. 2.—The principality is limited on the south by the Balkans.

Art. 3.—A prince shall be elected by the population and confirmed by the Porte and powers. No member of the reigning European dynasties shall be prince. In the event of a vacancy, a new prince will be elected under the same conditions.

Art. 4.—A plan of the government will be prepared by an assembly of nobles convoked at Tirnova before the election of the prince. The rights of the Turks, Roumanians, Greeks and others will be taken into account in whatever relates to the election of the government.

Art. 5.—The following shall form the basis of the public law of Bulgaria: Distinction of religious belief or confession shall not operate against anyone as a reason of exclusion or incapacity in what concerns the enjoyment of political rights; admission to public employment, functions, or honors, or exercise of different professions and industries, liberty of public profession of all creeds shall be secured to all the returned population of Bulgaria as well as to strangers; no trammels shall be imposed on hierarchies or organizations of different communions or their relation with their spiritual chiefs.

Art. 6.—Until the permanent organization is completed, Bulgaria shall be governed by a provisional organization directed by Prussian commissioners, who will be accepted by the delegated consuls of the great powers.

Art. 7.—The provisory government shall not be prolonged over nine months, by which time the organic government shall be settled and a prince elected.

Art. 8.—The treaty of commerce, etc., between the Porte and others, regarding Bulgaria, remain in force. The people and commerce of all the powers are to be placed on a footing of equality.

Art. 9.—The tribute to the Porte shall be settled by the signatory powers at the end of the first year of the new organization. Bulgaria shall bear part of the public debt.

Art. 10.—The principality shall carry out the existing railway conventions between Austro-Hungary, Servia, and the Porte.

Art. 11.—The Ottoman army shall evacuate Bulgaria. All the fortresses shall be destroyed within a year, and new ones shall not be erected.

Art. 12.—Mussulmans who remove from the principality can retain their real property by allowing it to be administered by third parties. A Turkish-Bulgarian commission shall be engaged for two years with the regulation of all matters regarding the transfer of state properties and religious foundations.

Art. 13.—There is formed, south of the Balkans, the province of Eastern Roumelia, under the direct political authority of the Sultan, having an administrative autonomy and Christian Governor-General.

Art. 14.—Fixing the limits is missing.

Art. 15.—The Sultan shall fortify the frontiers, keep troops there, employ no irregulars nor quarter troops on the inhabitants. Internal order shall be preserved by the native gendarmerie and local militia, in the composition of which an account shall be taken of the inhabitants where there are stationed officers, to be named by the Sultan.

Art. 16.—The governor may call on Turkish troops if security is menaced.

Art. 17.—The governor shall be appointed for five years by the Porte, with the assent of the Powers.

Art. 18.—A European commission shall determine, in three years, the powers of the governor, also the judicial, financial, and administrative requirements of the province.

Articles 19, 20 and 21, Provide that all international arrangements applicable to Roumelia be continued in force and insure religious liberty.

Art. 22.—The Russian army in Bulgaria and Roumelia shall not exceed 50,000. They shall begin to evacuate the territory in nine months, three months being allowed them to complete the evacuation.

Art. 23.—Bosnia and Herzegovina shall be occupied and administered by Austro-Hungary, with the exception of Sandjak of Novi Bazar.

Art. 24.—The independence of Montenegro is recognized.

Art. 25 applies to the conditions of Article 5 respecting religious liberty to Montenegro.

Art. 26 fixes the new frontier of Montenegro.

Art. 27.—Antivari is annexed to Montenegro. No fortification shall be constructed except to protect Scutari. Montenegro shall have the right of free navigation of the Bayana, but shall have no flag or ship of war. Antivari is closed to war ships of all nations. Spizza is incorporated with Dalmatia. The consuls of Austria shall protect the merchants' flag of Montenegro, the latter adopting the Dalmatian maritime code.

Art. 28 prescribes for Montenegro, the same provision as article 12, except that the Turko-Montenegrin commission continue three years.

Art. 29.—The Montenegrins shall evacuate, within 20 days, the territory beyond the new limits of the principality.

Art. 30.—Montenegro shall bear a share of the Turkish public debt, proportionate to her new territory.

Art. 31.—The independence of Servia is recognized unconditionally prescribed in the following article.

Art. 32 is a repetition of article 5.

Art. 33.—Laying down the new frontiers of Servia, is missing.

Articles 34 and 35 provide that the present commercial relations, etc., of the principality, with foreign countries, shall continue in force until new arrangements are made.

Articles 36 and 37 make the same provision for Mussulman, public and private, as article 28.

Art. 38.—The Servians shall be allowed 15 days to evacuate the territory not in the new limits.

Art. 39.—Tribute to Servia shall be capitalized; the rate of capitalization to be arranged by the powers with the Porte. Servia shall bear a share of Turkish debt proportionate to the territory she acquires.

Art. 40.—The independence of Roumania is fixed on the conditions in the following article.

Art. 41 is a repetition of article 5 relating to religious liberty.

Art. 42.—Roumania gives back to Russia that part of Bessarabia taken under the treaty of Paris.

Art. 43.—Roumania receives Dobrudaja, also the territory south as far as the line starting east of Silestria and joining the Black Sea, south of Mangolia.

Art. 44.—The lines of boundary and water division shall be fixed by a European commission and a Danube commission respectively.

Arts. 45, 46 and 47 continues the present commercial relations of Roumania in force until new arrangements are made.

Art. 48.—Tribute shall be capitalized at a rate arranged by the powers and the Porte.

Art. 49.—Roumania supercedes the Porte in all obligations relating to public works in that principality.

Art. 50.—The fortifications on the Danube, from the Iron Gates to its month, shall be razed. No ships of war shall navigate the Danube downwards from the Iron Gates. Guard ships of the powers at the mouths of the rivers may, however, ascend to Galatz.

Art. 51.—The commission of the Danube, in which Roumania and Servia shall be represented, is maintained. It will exercise its powers henceforth as far as Galatz, with the complete independence of territorial authority, and all arrangements relative to its rights are confirmed.

Articles 52 and 53 contain further regulations in regard to the Danube commission.

Art. 54.—The work of the removal of the obstacles which the Iron Gates and cataracts cause to the navigation of the Danube is entrusted to Austro-Hungary.

Art. 55.—The Porte engages to apply in Crete the plan of the government of '68.

Analagous regulations adopted to local requirements shall be introduced into other parts of Turkey. Special commissions of the Porte, in which the native element shall be legally represented, shall elaborate the details of these plans. The Porte, before promulgating these acts, shall take the advice of the European commission for Eastern Roumelia.

Art. 56.—In case the agreement relative to the rectification of the frontier, provided by protocol 13, between the Porte and Greece, should not be realized, the powers are ready to offer their good services to Turkey and Greece.

Art. 57.—The Porte having expressed its willingness to maintain the principles of religious liberty and give its widest sphere to contracting parties, shall take cognizance of this spontaneous declaration. In every part of the empire difference of religion should not be a motive of unfitness in any thing relating to civil and political rights, admission to public offices, duties and honors and exercise of all professions and industries.

Everyone should be admitted without distinction of religion to give evidence before tribunals. The practice of all religion should be entirely free; no impediment should be offered to the hierarchical organization of different commissions in their spiritual chiefs. Ecclesiastics, pilgrims, and monks, of all nationalities, traveling in European and Asiatic Turkey shall enjoy the same privilege. The right of official protection is accorded to the agents of the powers in Turkey and holy places with their religious and charitable establishment. The rights conceded to France are especially reserved, it being understood that the statu quo with respect to holy places shall not be seriously affected in any way. The monks of Mount Athos, of whatever nationality, shall maintain their possessions and enjoy, without exception, the full equality of their rights and prerogatives.

GERMANY.

The Congress—Bismarck's Closing Speech.

BERLIN, 14.—Prince Bismarck, in his speech at the closing of the congress on Saturday, declared he did not hesitate to affirm that this congress deserved the welfare of Europe. The plenipotentiaries would have the consciousness of having, as far as was possible, restored an assurance of peace. He entertained the firm hope that the European understanding would remain durable, and that the cordial relations established among the plenipotentiaries would consolidate good relations between their governments. Bismarck incidentally remarked that his health was such that he had scarcely hoped to preside over the congress until its conclusion.

Count Andrassy started for Vienna on Saturday, and Beaconsfield left for home to-day.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The Religious Question—Railroads—Guano Loading—Heavy Weather, Etc.

PANAMA, 6.—The religious question has been debated at considerable length in the Columbian congress. The President and cabinet were in favor of adopting conciliatory policy towards the church, and recommended restoring certain revenues of which it had been deprived during the late revolution. This congress promptly refused, objecting probably to the government bid for popularity among the ultramontanes rather than to the proposition itself. Many of the clergy are under sentence of perpetual banishment, and the public funds and properties of church has been expropriated by the government.

A railroad is being built in the state of Cauca, from the capital to the coast. It will almost certainly receive national aid. A mixed commission has been appointed to examine how and, to what extent this should be done.

The government of Peru has concluded negotiations with the associated banks for the final expropriation of the nitrate works. Five million pounds stirling is to be devoted to the purchase, &c., and the government will have £1,000,000 which it is proposed to devote to the completion of the Chembote and Cuzco railroad.

The associated banks advanced £6,000,000 in all, and will hold the nitrate works as security, administering them on account of the government.

The long pending dispute between the former guano loading company and the government has been arranged by arbitration. The claim made by the former has been reduced to 2,801,061 soles, which was a much smaller amount than was claimed by the company.

The Chili congress is in session, and principally occupied with the revenue customs and like matters.

Heavy weather still continues along the Chilian coast.
