WATCHES JEWELRY

ABOUT three months ago all the watchmakers in this city agreed and subscribed to certain prices for work in their line, for the purpose of obtaining uniform and Cheap Rates. This agreement, however, has already been broken by several watchmakers, who are undermining their colleagues and thereby proving themselves untrue to their written word. In consequence of which, the undersigned has withdrawn his name from said agreement and established his own prices, cheaper than any other watchmaker's in Salt Lake City.

The War between Chili and Peru.

NEW YORK, 18.—The Commercial Bulletin is assured by parties in a position to be well informed that the reported widespread discontent throughout Chili is caused, not by opposition to the war itself, for on that point they are enthusiastic, but they are utterly disappointed, however, with the conduct of the government to whom they attribute the recent reverse in Peru. The universal feeling, represented to be one of great earnestness, is in favor of pushing hostilities, as people there have not yet felt the burden of war to any serious extent. Under these circumstances little doubt exists that the war will go on until either or both combatants reach the point of exhaustion.

The President Still Speech-making.

DETROIT, 18.—The Presidential party were met this morning and welcomed in an appropriate address, to which the President responded as follows:

"I am glad to have an opportunity to visit Detroit and Michigan, and I am further glad to learn that this city and State will share in common with other cities and States the return of business prosperity. The prosperity and business of the country should always be independent of the action of government and its officers, and its officers cannot be held responsible for any gloom or business depression which falls upon the country. If there was such a condition of things at the present time I would press this point more forcibly yet although the opposite is the case, the officials of the country can claim no credit. But I believe that the business prosperity of the country is due to the inherent energies of its people, and if the government only lets you alone your continued prosperity is assured. Thanking you for your hearty welcome and your proffered reception, I will make way for General Sherman."

Gen. Sherman then advanced, and in substance, said: Mr. Mayor and gentlemen of the reception committee: Thanking you for the honor you have conferred upon me by mentioning my name in connection with that of President Hayes, I will only say that I accept with thanks your invitation to attend the reception of President Hayes to-night. Gentlemen, I am at your service.

At 10.30 the entire party assembled at ex-Governor Baldwin's, and at 10 the procession, headed by bands, State militia and citizen soldiers, was formed and started for the State fair grounds.

Upon arriving at the grounds the President was introduced to the vast assembly. He congratulated the people of Michigan upon her prominence in manufacture and industry among the other States of the Union; alluded to the predictions last year of coming property, and read from tables showing the increase of exports over imports of various articles to have been immense, both as to percentage and amounts. As a means of keeping up this wonderful prosperity, he advised a study of Franklin's maxims, "pay as you go," and "never live beyond your means." He referred in this connection to the local indebtedness throughout the nation, and to the pernicious practice of repudiation in some parts of the country. To illustrate the amount of local indebtedness, the President referred to an article of R. P. Porter, of Chicago, in which figures are given showing that the local indebtedness of 130 principal cities of the country in 1868 was $221,000,000 and in 1876 it was $644,000,000, an increase far beyond the increase in population. He suggested the radical remedy of abolishing the debts and preventing them from being contracted by suitable legislation. The national policy was bound to create no debts in time of peace and pay war debts as soon as possible. This government has paid off the debt of three wars and is rapidly paying off its only remaining debt. This honesty has rendered our credit the very best. The same will hold good of the cities and towns.

At the close of the speech Gen. Sherman and Senator Chandler were introduced and each made a speech.

The Fall River Rioters.

FALL RIVER, 18. — A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, called by Mayor Lindsay to act upon the received request of City Marshal Brigham, that immediate action be taken for an increase of the police force to preserve the peace of the city, which is almost violated. The Mayor seconded the request of the city marshal, and characterized the present condition of things in the city as one which ought to make any citizen of Massachusetts burn with indignation.

At the close of the mayor's remarks, a motion was made to add 100 men to the police force, but as two democratic aldermen were absent, although notified of the meeting, and the third immediately left, the members of the board were unable to transact the business for which they were called.

The city is at the mercy of the strikers. The committee on police met this afternoon and will recommend at the next meeting of the board, that the police be increased from 70 to 100 men for the remainder of the year.

City Marshal Brigham announced to-night that the board of aldermen having refused to grant him any extra force, he had determined to take the responsibility of increasing the force himself, as far as he has any power.

Secretary Howard issued a card to-night offering the mayor and aldermen the whole force of spinners now on strike to act as special constables.

General News.

WHEELING, W. Va., 18.—This evening John V., oldest son of Jacob Oltmyer, manager of the Benwood nail factory, was caught in the machine, which he had been feeding only a few months, and was instantly killed. He was literally torn to pieces before assistance could reach him.

New York, 18.—Daniel Drew, who was familiarly known as "Uncle Daniel," died suddenly to-night at his residence in this city, aged 82.

There is no more reliable barometer by which to judge of the activity of business in commercial circles than the amount of telegraph service required, 85 per cent. of which is of a commercial character, and there would be no better evidence of reviving commerce than the great increase in that service. For the past two months, even in a season of factions, the Western Union Co. has sent and received at its principal office in this city from 44,000 to 48,000 messages per day, and the present week was inaugurated with the handling of 55,410 messages on Monday. The average has been 10,000 per day above a corresponding period of last year, when the business was considered large. Some of this is doubtless due to the steady growth of telegraphic business, but much of it must be attributed to the increased activity in trade.

Carlisle, Pa., 18.—Yesterday, W. H. Winnemyer and Mrs. Catherine Zell were arrested, charged with administering poison to Mrs. Mary Kheil, an aged lady of this place, who died suddenly last May. The body has been exhumed and the evidence of poison found. To-day, on application of Mrs. Zell's counsel, a hearing in her case was given, and she was remanded to jail. Writs of habeas corpus have been sued out in both cases, and the matter will be heard by the court on Saturday.

Chicago, 18.—Five thousand people attended the races this afternoon. The programme was fine, the weather mild and the races generally exciting. In the 2.30 race, second heat, while going down the back stretch, Green Charley suddenly began kicking and striking his driver, Farrel, with his heels, threw him from the sulky, but did not seriously injure him. Lady "M" ran into the wreck and Abdallah Boy and Surprise became involved. Logan, the driver of Surprise, was thrown out, stepped on by his horse and his shoulder and side badly hurt. The other drivers were slightly bruised, and Billy Boy and Green Charley were not allowed to start again.

The pacing race was most exciting, but it was not decided when darkness put a stop to the day's sport. In each race of this meeting the purse has been $1,000.

Summary of the 2.30 race: John R., 1, 1, 5, 1; Business, 2, 2, 1, 4; Abdallah Boy, Lady M. and Surprise next. Billy Boy, Little Wonder, Green Charley and Fleta drawn before the race. Finished time, 2,25¼, 2.28, 2.31.

Secretary Sherman, writes the editor of the Bulletin here, replying to his inquiry regarding the expediency of holding an international monetary conference, having for its text a currency based on bullion deposits. Such a conference would undoubtedly be a great service in developing opinions and preparing a way for international commercial treaties by which the relative values of gold and silver may be fixed, and in accordance with which certificates of deposit may be issued by several concurring nations to be used as a medium of commerce. The suggestion of the Bulletin is that the conference agree upon a decimal bill calling for a certain weight of gold or silver of a certain fineness on demand; the rates of gold to silver and the issue of bills by the respective nations to be determined by a biennial congress, and the governments to issue these bills through the banks that will hold bullion to the full amount of the bills furnished them.

The Secretary says: The only practical difficulties are fixing the relative values of the two metals. No doubt the bullion certificate of any nation of established credit, issued alone upon the deposit of bullion, to be retained for its redemption, would be universally received as current money, in all commercial transactions, without being made a legal tender or affecting in any way the local currency of any country. I therefore am of opinion that such a monetary conference as you suggest would be expedient and useful.

James Redpath, well known throughout the country in connection with the Lecture and Amuse-Bureau, has been missing for two weeks. His friends are utterly in the dark as to his fate, and fear that he has become insane, as he was suffering from violent pains in the head and from sleeplessness when last seen.

Suicide.

LOUISVILLE, 18.—Frank H. Lensing, aged 50 years, suicided this morning. He poured coal oil over his clothes and set himself on fire. The smoke from the window attracted the attention of people on the street, who ran to the room in the second story and broke it open, but found the man burned to a crisp.

Murdered.

EAGLE PASS, Texas, 18.—Tom Ford, government teamster at Fort Duncan, returning from the Mexican independence anniversary celebration at Piedras Negras, Mexico, was murdered on the outskirts of the town.

WESTERN.

Waiting for Grant.

SAN FRANCISCO, 18.—The city has worn throughout the day an air of expectancy, and the community seems to have devoted itself to waiting for the arrival of the City of Tokio. The streets are crowded with people. The hotels are full, while a partial suspension of business, on account of the Jewish New Year, adds to the holiday aspect.

The work of decoration has been pushed vigorously during the day, and Market, Montgomery and Kearny Streets now present a brilliant appearance.

Various committees have been in session all day perfecting the details of the reception, and everything is now ready for the arrival of the expected guest.

For several days a dense fog has prevailed during the night and early hours of the morning. Precautions have been taken, however, to intercept the steamer several miles from the head. Two pilot boats are constantly cruising across her course, with instructions from the agent of the Pacific Mail Co., to hold her outside until the naval pageant can be prepared for her reception. Should she arrive outside in the night she will lie there until morning, before signaling her presence.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE AFGHAN WAR.

Another Outbreak.

LONDON, 18.—A dispatch from Gandahar says that General Hughes' brigade has been ordered to Khelat Ghiza.

The regiments at Herat mutinied on the 5th inst., and murdered the commander.

An All Kheyl dispatch says: Intelligence has been received here of a terrible outbreak at Herat. The troops revolted and murdered civil and military authorities.

A Bombay correspondent says: The Mohamunds have stopped all messengers from Cabul.

European Notes.

Thomas C. Scott, a well known agricultural authority, writes the government that he has made estimates which show that the surplus of wheat in America, Russia and the East is 505,000 quarters less than the aggregate deficiency of the various countries, and a rise in the price of breadstuffs is therefore anticipated.

A correspondent at Paris has reason to believe that the newspaper war between Germany and Russia is a mere diplomatic comedy to test the intentions of France.

Three thousand persons are now utterly penniless in Middlesborough.

The South African cable has been completed between Natal and Mozambique. The section from Mozambique to Zanzibar will be laid by the 20th inst., which will place South Africa within communication with England.

A Vienna correspondent reports that in consequence of a bad harvest and the numerous floods, the distress in parts of Hungary threatens to become appalling during the coming winter.

The Times says: The Banat district is threatened with famine and some families are preparing to emigrate to Servia.

Wm. Shaw, a leading home rule member of the House of Commons, has written a letter refusing to participate in the proposed Irish National Convention. He proposes the establishment of a convention to discuss the land question only.

The labor troubles are increasing. The Bedford new mill at Leigh being closed, the old mill operatives are rendered idle. The Preston Spinning and Manufacturing Co., running 45,000 spindles and 750 looms, have commenced to run on the short time system. There is not the least indication of the settlement of the present strike at Mosley. The number of strikers is increasing daily, and by the end of this week it is expected that, with two exceptions, every mill in the district will be closed. The operative spinners of Hyde will meet shortly to discuss the question of a reduction of wages and to decide whether there shall be a stoppage of mills throughout the whole district.

Quite a panic has been created in Glossop by the announcement that Summer's mills, employing 3,000 hands will shortly be closed. The Wood Bros. mill, employing an equal number of hands is about to start running on short time. As Glossop is entirely dependent on the cotton trade all classes of the community express grave concern regarding the condition of affairs.

A correspondent of the Manchester Guardian at London says: Lord Cranbrook, Secretary of State for India has gone to Balmoral. Although it is said his visit is merely on routine duty, it is thought he can only be absent at such a critical time because he has gone to consult the Queen on some course which the ministry has decided upon. Nobody will be surprised if his visit is followed by an early summoning of Parliament.

Lord Beaconsfield delivered a speech at an agricultural banquet in Aylesbury to-day. Referring to American competition with Great Britain, he said: The greatest apprehension was felt in the United States that they could not compete with Canada, owing to their high taxation and high wages. Since the surrender of the territory of the Hudson's Bay Company, Canada had become possessed of an illimitable and fertile wilderness, nearly all the chief land holders in the extreme Western States of America had sold out, gone to that wilderness and begun the work of cultivation there. He had heard on high authority that Canada expected to outstrip the United States in the competition for the European markets. He therefore advised the farmers of England not to be precipitate. Another high authority had informed him that under all the circumstances the markets of the United States would be disturbed, and that with the impulsive character of humanity in the United States, the Canadian wilderness would soon be occupied by millions.

Cetewayo Prostrated.

A dispatch from Capetown, Sept. 2, says: When Cetewayo was captured, he was utterly prostrated. The king was taken 2 to Ulundi. During the march, 11 of his followers tried to escape and six were successful; the other five were shot. The king will be taken to Maritzburg and from there to Greytown.
