Sherman and Party—Heavy Rains.

DENVER, Col., 19.—General Sherman and party arrived here last night. He will remain a week or ten days in the Territory, visiting points of special interest, and will return east by way of Leavenworth. General H. W. Slocum is a member of the party.

Heavy rains are prevailing throughout Colorado and New Mexico, and the prospect of an abundant grain crop is unusually promising.

A Letter from the Black Hills.

WASHINGTON, 19.—The following letter was received at the Indian Bureau this morning, from Prof. Janney:

"Camp on Spring Creek, Black Hills of Dakota, July 31st.

"To Hon. E. P. Smith—Sir—In my telegraphic dispatch, dated July 17, I briefly informed you of my explorations in that section of the Black Hills, north and northeast of Harney's Peak. In order to more rapidly explore the Hills I have divided my party, Mr. Newton, geologist, going south from French Creek with the astronomer and photographer, to map and explore the southern portion of the country as far as the Cheyenne river, and I, with the assistance of my miners, have prospected the Hills to the north region, hitherto unexplored and unknown. I found gold in placer deposits on both Spring and Rapid Creeks, from their headwaters to the point where they emerge from the Hills, and more extended prospecting and exploration shows that in some localities in the valleys of these streams, the gravel bars, especially those of the older formations and elevated above the present level of the streams, contains gold in quantities sufficient to yield fair remuneration for labor economically and skillfully applied, assisted by proper tools and mechanical appliances, with at least a moderate amount of capital or its equivalent, and such a system of working as an experience of twenty-five years has taught the miners of the Pacific slope to employ. Fortunately there is an abundance of water in both of these streams, with a good fall and, in most places, a rapid current. Spring Creek will yield from 300 to 1,000 miners' inches of water, according to the season, and Rapid Creek at least twice that amount; and while the valuable placer deposits, as far as discovered, are by no means rich or very extensive compared with those of California, still there is enough of the precious metal to develop the country, and stock-raising and agriculture will do the rest.

"Among the flat hills along the eastern slope of the Black Hills there are large gravel deposits, in some places thirty feet in thickness, often cemented by lime into hard conglomerate, and capping the high hills of the Jurassic sandstone and red beds, the decomposition of this conglomerate has in places yielded the gold which it contained, and which has been washed by heavy occasional rains down the dry gulches, and caught and concentrated in the dry gulches in the lower sandstone of the red beds, affording the only crevicing yet found in the hills, and which may be worked during the spring months, while there is water flowing out of the hills in nearly every stream on the top lands; but in the summer scarcely a single stream carries its water in an unbroken current to the Cheyenne; they all, except perhaps Rapid Creek, sink in their beds on reaching the foot of the hills. If should these conglomerates be found to contain gold in paying quantities, it will require the employment of capital to work them successfully.

"Several enormous ledges of a mixture of slate, ferruginous quartz and quartzite cross the valleys of Spring and Rapid Creeks, extending for miles in a northwesterly direction. The oxide of iron contained in the ledges has leached from the decomposition of iron pyrites, and specimens of the quartz show occasionally visible particles of gold, and give, on crushing and panning, a track of the color of the much-sought-for metal.

"It is remarkable that, so far among the valuable minerals which have been found in the hills, although the country is overrun by miners, and everything in the shape of rock in any way peculiar in its appearance is brought to me for identification, I have not yet seen any mineral containing lead, copper, or silver, only iron pyrites. The iron ores resulting from its decomposition are mispshickel, graphite, black tourmaline, rose, quartz, garnets and stamolide, which I regard as mineralogical curiosities.

"In testing the deposits on Spring Creek, I worked out a particularly rich spot, where an old channel had been cut across by the present beds of the creek, and in ten hours work, with a small sluice, obtained five-sixths of an ounce of gold, or about fifteen dollars and fifty cents. The soldiers had previously panned out of the same place not less than two ounces of coarse gold, and on measuring the amount of gravel washed, I found that the total yield was at the rate of four dollars per cubic yard, or about three cents to the pan, as an average for the whole thickness of the deposit. It was truly said of the region that there was gold in the very roots of the grass, but it is not in the gold of gravel beds or quartz ledges, but in the gold of the miner or the geologist, in which it is to be sought the future solid worth of the Black Hills, but in the luxuriant growth of the fine grasses that are everywhere spread over the beautiful country.

"Of the climate of the Black Hills, the severity of the winters, the danger of crops being injured by frosts, and of the agricultural products best suited to the soil, I can only judge by analogy in the flows of the region along the eastern slope, where the elevation is from 3,500 to 4,500 feet above the sea. The valleys are filled with a rank growth of burr oak, elm, hornbeam, box elder, white birch, ash and hazel. The conspicuous plants are the tiger-lily, poison ivy, and Virginia creeper. Grape vines, wild flax, hops and oats, white raspberries, black and red currants, gooseberries, plums, strawberries and serviceberries are in places quite abundant, from which I assume that the climate is not more severe than that of Maine and New Hampshire, where many of the same plants grow and ripen their fruit; and that while the season is not long nor hot enough for corn, yet wheat, oats, barley, flax, hops and potatoes would grow there luxuriantly. The rain fall is quite remarkable; scarcely a day passes without a shower of rain, though perhaps lasting only a few minutes; heavy rains of long duration only occasionally occur, but thunder storms are very prevalent, and numerous trees may be seen all over the Hills showing marks of lightning. The elevation above the sea makes the climate cool and healthy, while heavy dews and frequent showers of rain keep the country carpeted with a luxuriant growth of grass always green.

(Signed) "WALTER P. JANNEY,
E. M., Geological Exploration Black Hills."

The Marine Corps Frauds—A Civil Rights Case.

A suit has been entered by the district Justice against Captain Maddox, of the marine corps, and the bondsmen of the Messrs. Barnum, contractor for furnishing clothing to the marine corps, to recover funds alleged to have been illegally paid said contractors.

Corie Fisher, a colored school teacher of Mississippi, has brought a suit in the Supreme Court of this district against the Pullman Palace Car Co., claiming $10,000 damages, for refusal to allow her to travel on a palace car from Cincinnati to Washington.

Spotting for a Fight.

AUGUSTA, Ga., 19.—Arrests of alleged negro insurrectionists in Johnson, Washington, and Jefferson Counties were continued today. Thirteen armed negroes came into Wrightsville and surrendered themselves. In Burke County a collision between whites and blacks seems hourly imminent, both races being under arms, and the negroes are reported to be massed a few miles from Waynesboro, while scouts were fired on by negroes this a.m. The Burke people sent here, to-day, for troops, but Governor Smith declined to let any companies go. A number of volunteers left for Waynesboro to-night, and it is feared that a fight will soon take place. About a hundred arrests have been made in different counties.

Anxiety About the Corn Crop—The Mississippi.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., 19.—The State Register, of to-day, publishes the following in relation to the corn crop—

"We learn that grave apprehensions are entertained as to the approaching corn crop, owing to the cold, cloudy weather; the season is growing rank, but is not filling as it should, and warm sunshine is what is now needed. The crop is not ripening, and unless this process commences soon the frost will catch it. There is much anxiety in regard to this matter among our leading producers, and it is hoped that a more favorable season will specedily set in and put all things to rights before it is too late."

Nothing further has been heard by the State authorities from the Franklin Co. Kuklux. The action of the authorities of this county has stimulated the Williamson and Jackson Co authorities, who are now organizing the militia of their counties, to be supplied with arms by the State, which the Governor has promised to send them.

Crop Reports.

CINCINNATI, 19.—To-morrow morning's issue of the Cincinnati Price Current will contain, what it claims, is the fullest and most comprehensive presentation of the weather and crop reports yet published, comprising about three hundred and fifty special returns from nearly as many counties in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Michigan and Kentucky, together with some other States. They relate chiefly to wheat, oats, corn and hogs. Of the wheat the report indicates that in Ohio and Indiana there is a full average acreage, but the yield is somewhat short owing to large losses by rain, and of very inferior quality; in Illinois the crop is below an average condition, and of largely bad quality; in Iowa the acreage is about as usual, generally harvested in good condition, some damage done by the blight, and other causes, but the yield is large, but in many places the crop is not a full average, and in quality is inferior; in Missouri the crop will be considerably short and materially damaged; in Kentucky the yield is an average amount, but largely and badly damaged; in Michigan a fair crop; in Wisconsin a very good crop and condition. In oats, while the acreage was much increased, there is large destruction and damage in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, and portions of Missouri. Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa show a large production of corn, there being a largely increased acreage, very promising outside of portions of the Ohio valley, and if the crop matures in the north and north-west it will be much greater than usual.

Bad Break in a Canal.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., 19.—There is a bad break in the Erie Canal, six miles west of here, which will take several days to repair.

President and Party.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 19.—This morning President Grant and party went to the Coggeshall Ledge oyster-fishing meeting, and had good success; this afternoon the entire Grant run into the harbor to Block Islands and the President, Secretary Bristow, Secretary Robeson and Attorney General Pierrepont and others of the party landed here. The President was met by Senators Anthony and Burnside, and General Woodruff of the lighthouse board, and [illegible] cally greeted by [illegible] of the [illegible] tion of the [illegible] proceeded to [illegible] Hotel, near the landing, where he held a reception for an hour or two, and afterwards dined.
