AN INTEMPERATE MILITARY ADDRESS.

THE Grand Army of the Republic has been holding an "encampment" at Denver, and no doubt there has been a time of jollity and enthusiasm. The defenders of their country are entitled to all the pleasure that can be evolved out of their reunion, and the veteran soldiers have the best wishes of all the patriots in the nation. There was but one occurrence at the Denver camp which we consider it necessary specially to notice. Commander Vandervoort delivered an address in which, it is reported, he made allusion to Utah in the following uncalled-for and in some respects untruthful manner:

In company with the Surgeon General I visited the Provisional Department of Utah, on April 21st and 22d. We were cordially received by as gallant a band of comrades as ever wore our badge. The Posts at Ogden and Salt Lake are lively and enthusiastic. I have added Idaho and Montana to the department, which gives them sufficient Posts to form a permanent department. The organization in Utah have had many difficulties to contend with. They are upholding the banner of the grand army in what is practically a foreign and hostile community. They are in front of an enemy, treacherous and defiant, and who are trampling daily under foot the laws of the land with perfect impunity. The grand army in Utah are the natural protectors of the glory and honor of the flag. They here in the presence of a crime as hideous as treason and as damnable as slavery, grandly illustrate the shining glories of our Order. They witness this treasonable organization extending into Idaho, Nevada, Arizona, Wyoming, New Mexico and Colorado, and grasping with greedy hands the balance of power in the very center of the Continent. They are entitled to our sympathy and solid support. It is right we should send greeting to them, for the evil they are massed in solid lines against is one that will cause the next great struggle for Republican government unless it is speedily checked. The question there is not in any sense political; all true men drop party lines there and are simply anti-Mormon. There Jews are Gentiles by name and all stand in solid column though vastly outnumbered by the wicked host. This question is a moral one and we have a right to add our testimony in favor of honor and purity. The slums of Europe with matted hair, blood-shot eyes, unholy thoughts, and beastly, idiotic ignorance and fanaticism impelling them, are being massed behind the solid walls of the gigantic mountains; the flag is defied, the laws which we willingly obey, and the authority of the nation we saved are spurned and spit upon. The school taxes paid by our comrades and those in league with them, are used in sustaining Mormon schools, and in every way the spirit of disloyalty and hate is exhibited. We crushed slavery and purified the flag, we made one country and one flag a living reality, and it is our duty to say to the polygamous wretches who have erected a structure as unholy and damning as slavery, that the men who wore the blue demand that these wicked, unholy efforts to establish on our soil the superstition, crime and hideousness of the dark ages must cease before we are mustered out.

Let us demand through a strong committee that a band of earnest, true men who know and have faced the evil and sin day and night, shall be designated to codify the laws heretofore passed through the dictates of the leaders of this unholy Church. That it shall be written and declared that no Mormon shall vote or hold any office whatever. That all holding Government offices shall be removed, that this commission shall ask Congress to approve the codification of the laws, and that all officers of every grade shall be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Council, and that the emigration of recruits to build up this damning crime shall be stopped at once and forever.

We emphatically deny the statement that the "Grand Army of the Republic" has had "difficulties to contend" with from a "foreign and hostile community." It has met with no opposition whatever in Utah. Any "sympathy" for the members of the Order on such ground is a waste of sentiment. No one here has offered them any indignity or opposed them as "natural protectors of the glory and honor of the flag." The stars and stripes need no protection in Utah. That flag was flung to the breeze as soon as the Pioneers encamped on the spot where this beautiful city now stands, and here it has waved ever since on every public occasion, and is honored universally as the emblem of a system of government which the people venerate and admire. Commander Vandevoort was simply giving his hearers slush. It is popular to say something mean about the "Mormons" and he was talking for applause. Look at the picture he draws of our quiet and peace-loving immigrants. "Matted hair, bloodshot eyes, unholy thoughts and beastly idiotic ignorance and fanticism." His coarse words and unjust epithets are evidence of his own unwise heat and lack of knowledge, and his charges of "idiotic ignorance and fanaticism" fly back in his own face. The only forms that could have served as originals for the portraits he has painted, are well-known members of his own Order, who have rolled in the gutters of Salt Lake City, and with matted hair bloodshot eyes and idiotic yells have uttered in foul language their unholy thoughts and exhibited their "beastly idiotic ignorance and fanticism," by blasphemous curses against men whose shoes they are not worthy to black, and principles that they have no more soul to appreciate than a mad bull has to sense the music of the spheres.

Such examples of the idiots who pretend that "the flag needs protection" here, are looked upon even by our youth, as the most disgusting specimens of degraded humanity that have ever staggered down our streets or attempted to address the people from the stump on the beauties of "liberalism," inspired by the alcohol. There cannot be found in all Utah a "Mormon" who will come anything like as near to the picture drawn by Vandervoort as some of his comrades from this region.

We do not wish to cast any reflection upon the gentlemen who belong to the "Grand Army." We honor their bravery in the field and respect their heroism in defence of their country; and their dissent from our views, and ours from theirs on important questions, does not affect our admiration for their good qualities. They have a perfect right to their opinions and have always had freedom in Utah to express them. God forbid that they should be debarred from the exercise of such rights. But Commander Vandervoort has gone off wrong in trying to pander to the popular notion. They were not "Mormons" he was describing, but some of his own comrades of Utah posts at the close of a not unfrequent debauch.

We have not space to follow the speaker through all his floundering on the question that he has endeavored to handle without understanding, and which it appears to us was quite out of place in a military harangue, but will just notice the closing paragraph. What he means by part of it is difficult to discover. Probably he could not explain himself what he wants to do with a codification of "the laws heretofore passed by the dictates of this unholy Church." But everybody can understand the desire that "no Mormon shall vote or hold any office whatever." That is easy to comprehend. That is what some of his comrades in Utah are working for. They want the local offices. They want the local treasury. The disfranchisement of all "Mormons" would mean full political control for the small minority, and a chance for the whisky-guzzling, matted-haired, blood-red-eyed, and foul-mouthed patriots (?) who now have to "bum" for much of their liquor and cigars.

We are sorry for Commander Vandervoort. He must have been in the society of some of those scheming disreputables who presume on their former connection with the military, and take advantage of titles which they perhaps won with honor, but which they have not made brilliant in private life or civil service. He should be careful of his company and beware of talking in public on subjects on which he is not posted; and if he will reflect a little we think he will agree with us that at a reunion of old soldiers who have fought for the maintenance of republican institutions, something more appropriate could be introduced than an endorsement of schemes for the destruction of the political rights of a whole community, because they believe something different from the creeds of their neighbors.

Speculation.

NIAGARA FALLS, 26.—There are some who believe that Captain Webb succeeded in his foolish undertaking and that he is concealing himself to fan the flame of excitement, when he will make his appearance and a fresh trip. A great many wagers have been made on the American side that he will be seen alive inside five days, and bets have been made even and two to one that such will be the case, but the general belief among the older residents is that Capt. Webb is no more. The general belief is that life was extinct before he had cleared the rapids, and that when he had reached the pool his lifeless body was swallowed by the immense eddy, and that it is altogether likely his body will never be recovered.

The War that for a Space Did Fall

NEW YORK, 26.—By a majority of persons the surrender of the American Rapid Telegraph Company, to the demands of the strikers is regarded as a certain indication that the strike is nearing its end. It is rumored that the Baltimore and Ohio company will be the next to give in and that negotiations are now pending, looking toward consolidation with the American Rapid Company, thus forming a combination against the Western Union. It was stated this morning by officers of the B. & O. Co., that it was their intention to remain firm. At the office of the American Rapid Co. 800 operators were on duty today, including the 116 men that went out on day strike. Nine hundred out of town offices opened and four hundred operators in all had returned to the employ of the company. Thirty-eight branch offices of this city also reopened and a large amount of business was reported to have been handled, western union men still remain firm.

Norwich, Conn, 26.—The entire force of telegraph operators except the manager struck this morning.

Chicago, 26.—Superintendent Clowry this morning reports all business of the Western Union Co. in this city is cleared up to all leading points, but Winnepeg, to which wires are all down. All the wires in the board of trade are manned. He also reported that the day and night forces in the main operating room of the company are not getting full rest. The wires on the North western roads were cut again last night but were speedily repaired.
