TOUCHED FOR $50.

J. M. Jameson Held in Bonds of $1,000 for Grand Larceny.

W. H. Edwards, a miner on the Highland Boy at Bingham has reason to believe that a man he befriended has repaid him in the form of $50.

He came to Salt Lake and met J. M. Jameson in Bishop's saloon on Dupont on Sunday. Jameson said he was "flat broke," as the horse race had compleated his bankroll. Edwards felt for his Salt Lake, and was paid for several drinks when they arrived. Finally Edwards gave Jameson a $50 note, and the latter passed South and promised to meet off his relatives. When he awoke his friend was gone, and so was the $50 note. Edwards did not let the matter rest long, however, but hunting up Jameson, who lives in Bingham, he had him arrested. The defendant was brought to the county jail on his person.

This afternoon several witnesses told their story before Judge Norrene with the result that the defendant was held in $1,000 bonds to await his trial on the charge of grand larceny.

A BANNER DAY.

Yesterday was a banner day in the office of the county clerk in the way of Marriage license issued, and little, the clerk, was the happy man that day. Four hundred licenses were issued.

CAN'T CATCH THE OLD MAN.

Mr. Black was thrifty in orange matters and stood little for his wife, particularly when it came to a dollar. He was one of thrifty Scotch stock and his sons were students of him, and that to the extent of being as close as their father. "No, no," he said, "I wouldn't have the expense of a funeral, I would rather have the money." Mrs. Black was horrified that he should talk so low and, believing that he would live to be a great deal older than she, she promised with a tear in her eye, a $50 dollar suit for every dollar that his father was a bachelor and that had every, and what a beautiful casket for the old man. Mr. Black further was and finally, at the end, after hearing the tender plea for his comfort, took it and shuffled off to his bed.

But when he reached the door he had an idea with him.

"Didn't you say it was the cost, father?"

"Yes, and it was five dollars," replied the old man.

"Well, it is!"

"Why, I was choosing it for a friend on the street car, and when he offered me half the money I gave him. I got him down to $2.50 for it. I got him down to $2."—Chicago Times.

STOCKHOLDERS MEETING TODAY.

Only One Change Made in the Union Pacific Directorate.

SON SUCCEEDS HIS FATHER.

James H. Hyde Takes the Place Formerly Occupied by Henry H. Hyde Deceased—Other Matters.

The annual annual meeting of the stockholders of the Union Pacific Railroad company was held at the office of the company here today and the same person were present as those who attended the special meeting of the stockholders which was held at the same place on yesterday. The same board of directors was re-elected with the exception that Mr. James H. Hyde takes the place of his father, Mr. Henry H. Hyde, recently deceased. Mr. Henry H. Hyde was, it will be remembered, the president of the Equitable Life assurance society.

The names of the directors are as follows: Oliver Ames, Boston; Frederic Ames, Omaha; George G. Cannon, Salt Lake City; T. Jefferson Coolidge Jr., Boston; Sidney Dillon, Jersey City; Frederic Gallatin, New York; George J. Gould, Lakewood, N. J.; Edward H. Harriman, New York; Horace Porter, New York; Charles Steele, New York; Chas. M. Pratt, Chicago; James H. Hyde, New York; Otto H. Kahn, New York; Samuel Sloan, New York; Jacob H. Schiff, New York; Jacob H. Schiff, New York; James Stillman, New York.

It is understood that Judge Kelly and W. S. Pierce contemplate taking seats hereafter.

General Passenger Agent E. L. Lomax of the Union Pacific, who has been in Salt Lake for several days, will probably return to Omaha today.

The next meeting will be that of the Oregon Short Line, which will be held tomorrow afternoon.

RAILROADS DO GOOD BUSINESS.

Earned About 15,000 Customers Visitors Here During the Last Four Days.

Including the Ogden and Provo circuits, the total number of people attracted to Salt Lake by California, the Pacific Coast Points, and general conventions, approximated 15,000 during the last four days.

It is estimated that the railroads added upwards of 2,000 people to this city during the last four days, as the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias and the Odd Fellows Encampment and attached the entire city, leaving the hotels and the streets full. Many people who came to Salt Lake City for the Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows encampment, remained to see the Utah Jubilee, and the Grand Women had entertained on all local passenger trains.

The Salt Lake and Ogden road did an enormous business, most of it of course, in connection with the Jubilee. When the carriers in the last week are reckoned, it will be noticed that they will be a big business with Christmas and Pioneers came and

BURLINGTON MAKES A CHANGE.

New Schedule Goes Into Effect Monday—To Compete with Southern Pacific.

General Agent McMillan of the Burlington, Denver and Rio Grande has been advised by the company of its intention to change its line in order to make connections with the Rio Grande and Colorado Midland trains at Denver.

The Rio Grande Western has a new schedule, leaving Ogden at 6:10 p. m. with Southern Pacific fast train connections, and reaching Salt Lake at 7:40 p. m. The Burlington No. 6 will leave Denver at 1 p. m. (Central time) and reach Salt Lake at 8:40 p. m. (Central time) 10:40 p. m. St. Louis, 7 p. m. same evening and Chicago 9:30 same evening.

BEYOND BREAKING EARNINGS.

For the Month of September the R. G. W.'s Increase Amounts to $65,700.

The month of September has been a wonderful month in the history of the Rio Grande Western's earnings.

The increase over the same month in last year reaches $65,700. The earnings for the month were $1,000,000 and odd, or $174,000. This is the "second" month in monthly earnings for the Western.

For the last week of September the earnings were $19,400, a $3,000 increase.

The first week of October they were $17,500, a $4,000 increase.

Card Of Thanks.

Sometime ago a brakeman on the Bellevue & Cub railroad saved the life of a passenger from being run over by the cars, and the passenger then presented the brakeman with a purse containing $50 in gold. The company, learning of the incident, sent the brakeman a letter of thanks, and also presented him with a handsome gold watch, suitably inscribed, and a check for $50 in recognition of his act. The brakeman, in a letter to the company, says: "I wish to express my gratitude for the kindness shown me by the company, and I feel that I have done no more than my duty in saving the life of a fellow-creature."

RAILROAD NOTES.

An express office has been open at Lake Point City by Wells, Fargo & Company.

Auditor Thomas Dwyer of the Rio Grande Western has gone to San Francisco.

Last evening, Joseph A. West, chief engineer of the Utah & Pacific, left for Nebraska.

The new Clear Creek branch has commenced business in fine style. Coal is being shipped from the new mines.

The Rio Grande Western may build an outside turntable for its local shops, and if so it will be the only one in the West.

J. H. Bennett, general traffic manager of the Rio Grande Western, is expected home from the east tomorrow or next day.

Friday afternoon the Oregon Short Line will run an excursion to Ogden for the "Bachelors" opera performance. The fare for the round trip will be $1.

The statement concerning the building of other shops on the Union Pacific was carefully in a mistake. The company is not contemplating any such action.

In Salt Lake City, and, maybe, in other cities, the Rio Grande Western's agents are distributing pamphlets giving information to this point of the Burlington railroad system, which is on its way to the Pacific coast, and, with a part of the Oriental traffic—Denver News.

Tomorrow afternoon the action concerning passenger agents of the Rio Grande Western regarding the heads of county seats may begin to develop some, now, the prisoners some of their portion of the secretary's duties. FOREIGN FEELING AGAINST FRANCE.

The whole civilized world followed the proceedings at Rennes with intense interest and curiosity, and the verdict was received with a shout of joy. It is a matter of wonder, it is hard to find a parallel. We for the disappointed has taken the form of a demand for a boycott of the French people, it is without good reason. It is true that the French people have not defended the army and so thinks the great military organization that has been built up, and that, of course, is another matter, but it was much easier to believe ill of a comparatively obscure based upon that to regard several of the officers of the army and nearly all the leading generals of the army as men so low complicated in a disreputable conspiracy. There has been altogether too much said in defiance of the French people, as if they were the people of the world of Dreyfus. We have no sympathy for the French people, as it is, and we do not think that they have been entirely fair to us. Our sympathy is for the Dreyfus family, the victim of
