MEXICAN MATTERS.

A Party of Mexicans Cross the Rio Grande for Revolutionary Purposes.

TREASONABLE DODGERS DISTRIBUTED.

A Fight With Armed Customs Guards, but Nobody is Hurt, as far as Known.

By Telegraph to the News.

THAT MEXICAN REVOLUTION.

It is Generally Believed to Be a Hoax.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 17.—Captain Randall, of Fort Ringold, wired General Stanley concerning the row who invented it, with the object to start a revolution. The secret service yesterday has learned, and repeats that he went to Rosalia much, eighteen miles from Fort Ringold, and found a party of sixty men had crossed the Rio Grande in the night of the 15th. They came from Falcon Heights, eighty miles north of the country. Many of them were Mexicans from Carmargo, and were commanded by C. A. Garcia, an editor. A large body of Mexicans from Guerro Monagas engaged them yesterday at Mier, and are now in pursuit. There is a report of more trouble by the revolutionists at Guerry. Leader Garcia was formerly editor of a Mexican paper at San Antonio, and lately at Carmargo. He is under indictment for criminally libelling the government of Leon.

TREASONABLE PAPERS.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 17.—The Times Democrat's Laredo, Tex., correspondent telegraphs: Long night when the glass of this city and Nuevo Laredo were crowded with people, numerous parties distributed dodgers printed in Spanish, called "Pen of Revolution." It set forth that Mexico was in the hands of a second Santa Anna, referring to President Diaz, and all Mexicans should rise and join in the revolution and place Sandoval, of border fame, as commander-in-chief of the army. Sandoval is the man who crossed the river near here some months ago with seven men and was escaped by the civil authorities, assisted by United States troops, and was acquitted for lack of evidence as to his motives. Catarina Jarcia is also the promoter of another revolutionary and his dodgers are anything but a minside. Some years ago he became mixed up in politics here, and finally had to leave the city. He was once had served a reputation, once being shot in the Granite City over an election squabble. He secretly published a small paper on a hand press in Nuevo Laredo, and he wanted here for libel on account of articles published in that paper. Last night after the circulation of the dodgers, a man named Bongonia, foreman of Garcia's paper, was arrested on the plaza. He is defendant in a libel suit. It is the opinion of the people that the whole thing is a hoax, and the reports that Garcia crossed the river with fifty men are discredited by people who know him, and believed him a coward. It is known that Sandoval is not with him, but is in Galveston or New Orleans.

A FIGHT BY ARMED MEN.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 17.—The Picayune's Brownsville, Tex., special says: The last information here shows that 150 men crossed the river near Guiler and Camargo. They cut the telegraph wires, but communication was restored today. The revolutionists have had a fight with a squad of armed customs guards near San Miguel, and had some of their homes. No one was hurt so far as known. General Curtius, the nearest Mexican of note to neighborhood, was arrested at Matamoral today. Cause not stated.

The Canadian Printing Bureau Investigation.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 17.—The printing bureau investigation was continued today. Some damaging testimony was given showing that Seneca obtained commissions from various firms. A warmer war took place between Lister and Minister of Finance Foster regarding evidence that could be admitted. Lister and Foster threw themselves into a rage when a letter given by Young at the Montreal trial, Foster denied this, but Lister persisted, when Foster appealed to the commission to be protected from such disingenuities. Lister finally retracted and Foster peacefully accepted it.

Horrible Discovery in a Russian Jail.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 17.—Horrible disclosures were made at a recent trial in Kieff, arising from the death of a prisoner in jail. The post mortem showed the man had been horribly beaten, twelve ribs being broken. At the trial the warden confessed that by order of Inspector Moranoff, they had beaten deceased with sticks and stones wrapped in rags, and declared the punishment common. The inspector was sentenced to exile in Siberia, and six warders are sentenced to hard labor. Moranoff has disappeared from the police and fled to Austria.

The Labrador Expedition.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 17.—Professor Lee, chief of the Bowdoin College expedition to Labrador, expresses himself as being more than confident as to the success of his expedition. He not satisfactorily solved the question of the existence and grandeur of the Grand Falls of Labrador, a subject which has long puzzled the men in the scientific world. Traces of the Mandagnan Indians have been found. This is the first discovery of that race known to the white man.

Accident at the Alta Mine.

VIRGINIA, Nev., Sept. 17.—This morning the engineer of the hoisting engine in the Alta mine broke, and in consequence the passenger broke at the surface, carrying everything with it to the water level. Five men on the 1200-foot level in that mine supposed to have been killed, but it is thought now that all can be rescued.

The men imprisoned were safely brought to the surface this afternoon. A large part of the shaft is a wreck, but his damage will not be large.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument.

YONKERS, N. Y., Sept. 17.—The dedication of the soldiers' and sailors' monument took place this afternoon. It is estimated that 10,000 visitors witnessed the ceremonies. The secretary of the navy and the U. S. ship "Houston" to his duties. Preceding the exercises here there was a mammoth parade. The creation of the day was delivered by Hon. Orlando Potter.

Indicted to be Hung.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 17.—A motion for a new trial in the case of H. Clay Ellis, convicted of the murder of David H. Poston on the 20th of March last, was today overruled by Judge Hollow of the criminal court, who ordered that the accused be hung November 6th. King's attorneys announced that they will appeal to the Supreme Court.

Lieutenant Governor Jones' Statement.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Lieutenant-Governor Jones today prepared a statement that not only have the interests of the people been sacrificed, but that the existence of the Democratic party has been jeopardized. "Continued admonitions," says he, "have made the condition too degrading to be quietly borne by Democratic citizens. There is but one way to discharge their duty." The temporary defeat of the party will be harmless compared with the defeat of the principles. For the welfare of the State and in the interest of the Democratic party, my duty is to oppose the election of Republican candidates. My duty is conscientious, to such extent as may be within my power, and in such manner as may seem best to accomplish that purpose."

Harrison Invited to Augusta, Ga.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The President today received a delegation of prominent citizens of Augusta, Ga., who invited him to attend the exposition to be held in that city next November. The President thanked them and said that he had not yet decided upon the invitation or not, he could not say, as very important matters demanded his attention from now on until the meeting of Congress.

The Reading Syndicate Dissolved.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Sun in its financial article says: "The following official statement is made this morning: The Reading Syndicate formally dissolved yesterday by a vote of two-thirds of the members. The syndicate originally was formed with the object of controlling the property absolutely. It failed, however, at the time of its formation yesterday, only 225,000 shares, while nearly 1,000,000 shares were necessary to control. The syndicate was composed of about twenty members, all of them, a few excepted, have joined in the agreement of dissolution. The one not yet signed represents only a small amount of stock."

NO NECESSITY FOR A SYNDICATE.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—It was learned late today that the dissolution of the syndicate, which has for nearly three months held the Reading, is due to the fact that the Reading railroad, is substantially correct. A prominent member of the syndicate said that it was considered best by all concerned that each man should control his own stock, now that there was no necessity for continuing the existence of the syndicate.

Meeting of Nebraska Democrats.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 17.—The Democrats met in State convention here today. Hon. Frank D. Crounse presided, and J. H. Brady was nominated for supreme judge, and F. A. Rogers and S. F. Hatcher for regents of the State University. Every section of the same of Cleveland provided with applause. The platform adopted congratulates the people upon the defeat of the prohibition amendment, denounces the force bill, rejoices that Congress will soon again become a deliberative body, denounces trusts and pools and condemns the unqualified reciprocity of the present administration, which invites commercial intercourse with nations which tariff on manufacturing products, and prohibits the freedom of interchange with those nations which particularly our surplus of agricultural products as an attempt to continue to manufacturing industries to another form the advantages which they have under the system of protection, and we demand that all legislation upon this subject shall give to the interest of the producer of the farm and farm with other classes of society. It favors the free coinage of silver and that it shall be made a full and legal tender for all debts, public or private, and denounces the unjust and dishonest provisions of the law recently enacted, allowing parties to stipulate against payment in silver certificates, thus setting up one standard for the rich man and another for the poor man.

The platform denounces as sugrrelive of farmer prejudice the Indesent insinuations in issuing the writ of master against Hon. James E. Boyd, and congratulates Boyd on the fact that courtesy and fair treatment unusually accorded to the meanest criminal in the land.

Relating to the maximum freight law, the platform reads: We assign the Republican party of this State for the assumption of the supreme power for years past, and we condemn the Republican State board of transportation for failing to exercise the authority in the manner, and refusing in the face of an overwhelming demand to fix reasonable freight rates and give the people relief from excessive transportation charges. We are in favor of the proposed amendment to the constitution creating the office of three railroad commissioners, and making the commissioners elective by the people, and are also in favor of a law establishing reasonable maximum freights to govern the railroads of this State.

The platform concludes by denouncing the McKinley bill and says: "It monopolizes the people's burdens and increases their taxes, because the price of their products and decreases the purchasing power of their income. We demand a tariff for revenue imposed by the necessities of the government economically administered, and in adjusting from special to constitutional taxation, we favor placing raw materials upon the free list, greatly reducing the burden of the necessaries of life and lessening the revenue duties upon luxuries."

WANTS A KINGDOM.

England is said to be Planning to Take Possession of Hawaii.

HARRISON INTERESTED IN THE NEWS.

He Directs his Informant to Communicate with Secretary Blaine.

By Telegraph to the News.

THE BRITISH LION.

Suspected of Being out Howling for Prey.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A Washington special says: Senator Blair, Senator Morrow, a well known Hawaiian Annexationist, and Minister Carter, of the Hawaiian Legation, were all in the city today. Information was received from the Hawaiian Islands that England is now planning to take possession of the kingdom. The writer said that unless action on the part of the United States is necessary, that the people are favorable to British interests and ready to commissione the news to Secretary Blaine. The President was interested in the letter, and asked Senator Morrow to communicate with Secretary Blaine.

The Results of Jobbing Medicals Aside.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Captain McGlinn of the Fire Insurance Patrol is dead, and Captain Dennison and Joseph Williams, firemen, are in a critical condition from having inhaled fumes of morphine sold at a fire last night. It is stated at the county hospital that several others will die from the same cause.

Prospective Settlers Impatient.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sept. 17.—Prospective settlers of the new Indian lands are swelling with impatience the President's proclamation permitting them to enter on the lands. Hundreds are now in the Indian country, and more are arriving every day. Many have already gone as far as the border and lined only ward from Washington to neighboring towns. Many have left family from people are gathered. One fact in regard to people who intend to settle in the new land is that large numbers of them, nearly half, it is estimated, are negroes. They come from principally from the South, attracted here by advertisements of negro colonies, which are said to be the noted negro Lassiter and the other by ex-Senator McCabe, colored, of Kansas.

A Chicago Fire.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Fire broke out in the basement of block 115 Monroe street at 1:15 this morning. When the fire companies arrived it had already made its way to the roof through the elevator shaft, and it was apparent that the fire would be a bad one. The alarm was turned in and a large number of engines are now at work. The building is occupied by Wykoff, Seamans & Benedict, typewriter supplies, W. J. Jefferson Printing Company, and other firms.

Jameson & Morse, printers, and Blomgren Bros. & Co., electrotype foundry, also occupied the building. At 2:30 the fire is still confined, but it is not possible to give an accurate estimate of losses tonight. They probably will exceed $50,000.

A Railroad Contractor from Running Sliding Cars.

The "Tonic" Case.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—An opinion beginning ground here that the proposed libel suit against the Chicago Tribune for "Tonic," issued in the trial at San Diego, Cal., on the 25th, will be prosecuted by the government, although further postponement may be said before the case proceeds. It was impossible today to gain any special information upon the point. Though Attorney General Miller did not say that he could not tell what the result of a postponement would be, so far as he knew, it might result in a trial.

China Unable to Keep Her Promises.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard telegraphs that the German foreign office has received news from China that her government was unable to fulfill the promises made to Baron Richthofen, and that China is determined to repudiate the agreement, and that she will demand that all legislation upon this subject shall give to the interest of the producer of the farm and farm with other classes of society. It favors the free coinage of silver and that it shall be made a full and legal tender for all debts, public or private, and denounces the unjust and dishonest provisions of the law recently enacted, allowing parties to stipulate against payment in silver certificates, thus setting up one standard for the rich man and another for the poor man.

Russia's War Preparations.

VIENNA, Sept. 17.—A dispatch from Warsaw confirms reports of the mobilization of Russian troops in the western districts in connection with coming great military manoeuvres. The dispatch says the Russians are now in the steep grade, and as the second shot was fired. The horses carried the rock of one of the horses, but a turn to the road sent him the team out of range of the shooting. Dutton continued to force the team up the grade, holding his revolver ready at that boy in the vehicle with one arm, and bandaged from head to foot with his little blood. Reaching the Mount Vernon house, Dutton left Chandler's body and his buffoon in the brush, and then rode to this city to notify the officers. A wagon has just gone out after the dead superintendent's body, and several squads of armed men are starting for the scene of the murder.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

NEVADA CITY, Cal., Sept. 17.—The body of the dead superintendent was brought here this afternoon. The full account the line of the left side of the nose, and the superintendent died instantly. MURDERED FOR GOLD.

A Mine Superintendent Shot and Killed by Highwaymen Yesterday Morning.

HIS COMPANION'S WILD RACE FOR LIFE.

The Gold Brought in in Safety.—Searching the Country for the Assassins.

By Telegraph to the News.

A SHOCKING CRIME.

The Superintendent of the Devine Gold Mine Assassinated.

NEVADA, Cal., Sept. 17.—Mr. Chandler, superintendent of the Devine Gold mine, was murdered by highwaymen this morning while coming to town city with $800 in gold, which he received up at the mines. Garrett and J. D. Dutton were in a two-horse buggy descending the South Yuba river grade, six miles from the city, when a shot was fired from the bank above. The last entered the back of Chandler's head and scattered from his mouth, causing instant death. Dutton heard the horses in a run up the steep grade, and as the second shot was fired. The horses carried the rock of one of the horses, but a turn to the road sent him the team out of range of the shooting. Dutton continued to force the team up the grade, holding his revolver ready at that boy in the vehicle with one arm, and bandaged from head to foot with his little blood. THE LOTTERY CASES

To Come Up for Argument at the October Term of the U. S. Supreme Court.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S MILLER'S BRIEF.

Congress, He Argues, Has Undoubtedly the Right to Legislate for the Common Good.

By Telegraph to the News.

A BRIEF

Prepared by Attorney-General Miller in the Lottery Case.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The case of the United States against John L. Rapier, and the United States against the United States vs. George W. Dupre, will come up for argument at the October term of the Supreme Court. Each of these cases is an application for discharge by a writ of habeas corpus from arrest for alleged violation of the act of Congress of March 3, 1890, of the United States to mailing lottery advertisements. Indictment was against the latter, and in the case from appealed to the Supreme Court Attorney-General Miller has prepared a brief, which he will submit in behalf of the government. In it he demonstrates, "says the brief, "that to pay upon one's letterhead by means of a lottery is a misdemeanor, Lotteries right, the envelope and sermon on the mount, and to mention the Declaration of Independence right to be rewritten at once. A mandate," continues the attorney general, "without fear of successful contradiction, that whatever Congress may do, it cannot have power to make criminal in the District of Columbia or the Territories, it may remove directly or indirectly to aid, encourage or abet in any state without violating any etiquette, either to the citizen or state. Any state may make the creation of this lottery company or give the possession of the tickets within its borders, with intent to sell, a crime."

In the exercise of this power of legislation, in regard to the mails at in the exercise of many of its other legislative powers, the attorney general holds that Congress has a very broad discretion as to whether it shall act at all, and if so, when, and to what extent, and for what purpose it shall act.

The attorney general then argues to show that Congress has undoubtedly the right to legislate for the common good, and says: "Perhaps, as is now an early probability, a postal telegraph should be established, it is true that the United States government would be compelled to transmit over its telegraph lines messages in reference to all the business or practices not indictable at common law or not known to be law-breaking, and so could it not refuse to transmit a telegram lotteries, gambling transactions, betting on horse races, speculating in wheat or stocks, or negotiating the purchase and sale of lottery tickets, or in regard to any other business which, in the exercise of a sound discretion, Congress might declare to be contraband?"

Upon the theory of the argument of the petitioners, that the publishers of newspapers had the absolute right to carriage in the mails, and that any discriminative against them is abridging the freedom of the press, the postal regulations by which letters are given precedence over newspapers might be held to be an abridging of the freedom of the press.

Excitement Over a Grand Jury.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 17.—There is considerable excitement over the grand jury, in its interference with the McCarthy-Warren fight before the Olympic club last Tuesday night. The state law permits glove contests taken regularly chartered athletic clubs. The present grand jury, which has only been in existence two weeks, is a very moral body, and started in on prize fights without much delay. Owing to the law their future course is clearly apparent. They examined the chief of police and several police captains and the officers of the Olympic club. The jury held a long session, reviewing their statements and the laws. The outlook is that the grand jury will make its report tomorrow and will call upon the proper authorities to stop the McCarthy-Warren fight.

Interstate Cocking Main.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 17.—Arrangements have been completed for an interstate cocking main between California and Maryland for $5000 and $500 aside the proceeds.
