TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

Fillmore, Millard county, Progress: A "scrap" which might have resulted fatally was averted by the timely appearance and action of Joseph McIlvile upon the scene of the would-be tragedy. A couple of young men, (strangers here) who were rivals, apparently, for the hand and heart of the same fair damsel, became engaged in a war of words at Liberty hall, Thursday night, while the dance went on. Finally, one of them, the larger, drew his gun from his hip pocket, and was in the act of using the same when Mr. McIlvile took a hand in stopping the fracas—taking the weapon from the would-be victor, thereby stopping any further trouble.

Richfield, Sevier county, Advocate: There is nothing slow about device county. Last week C. D. Burbidge loaded a two story frame building upon a wagon on Main street and hauled it to Joseph City, fourteen miles away. The editor was left in Richfield.....Both the political glee clubs of Richfield have done good work during the campaign ended yesterday. Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast and savage beasts are an unavailable result at the bitterness incident to a campaign.

Payson, Utah county, Globe: The election passed off very quietly here, with the exception of a few drunks in the evening and a little racket at the dance, in which, for a short time, the polished barrels of six shooters gleamed beneath the electric light.....Nels Young and three other boys were out hunting near Santaquin, Thursday evening and by a premature discharge of Young's gun, the fore finger of his left hand was blown off. He was brought to this city and had the wound dressed by Dr. Tisdale. The youth seemed to be rather unconcerned about the accident and remarked that he saw the pieces fly, and one, he believed, fell over on a haystack. His parents reside in Park City.....Mountain lion are quite numerous up around Leaf'er. Last week Jesse Miles, who was herding sheep over on the south side of the mountain, turned some burros out to graze during the night and in the morning he started out to hunt them up. He had not gone very far from camp when he suddenly came upon two large mountain lions that had dragged down one of the burros and were devouring it. Miles gave a shrill yell and the two simple beasts scampered away for a short distance, and turning around calmly sized up the disturber of their morning repast. Tuesday a young man named Underwood, who lives up near the mouth of Maple canyon, went out to hunt deer, and a shor distance from his home ran across a large mountain lion's track. He followed it for a short distance and routed the beast. He took a shot at it, but missed his mark.

Beaver Utonian: Last Saturday the Beaver woolen mills closed for the season after a most successful run of months. It was last April the mills began running in full blast. Some time prior to this a few hands were being worked on repairs and spinning and carding. Since April, however, every department has been in full blast, and every piece of machinery run to its utmost capacity. The value of the stock of goods run off in this time aggregates $34,480, and the wages paid out for the year to October 31, is $12,095. This is a fine showing and one that reflects great credit upon the manager, Mr. W. H. Farnsworth. There have been employed some forty hands during the greater part of the seven months the mills have been in operation. The class of goods made has been exceptionally good. Many new patterns have been brought out, the quality of the goods has never been questioned, and the trade at the mills has been better than was ever known before.....Mr. Davy of this city built a log house on some land he took up recently near the outskirts of the city. The other day he went out to his place to find that during his absence someone had taken away the entire house. Bishop Munford in giving notice of this fact last Sunday, stated that when the parties who had taken it got through with it, Mr. Davy would like to get it back.

Manti Messenger: A corps of R. G. W. surveyors went south Wednesday night to commence work on the extension south from Salina. If reports don't cause smiles, dirt will be thrown on the grade just as soon as spring sets in.....The section of Sanpete valley was visited by a snow storm on Monday. It was a welcome visitation to the farmers, putting the land in good condition for plowing.
