CONFERENCE VISITORS.

I BELIEVE that the Citizens of the Territory could afford to pay a committee $10 per day to examine into the merits of machines offered, thus preventing the palming off of inferior articles on the market, and the consequent loss of thousands of dollars, to be repeated, semi-occasionally by unprincipled New Yorkers, who name to said machines. When the time comes the Branson Kutter and New American Sewing Machine will take a front rank for simplicity of parts, durability, ease of learning, quiet, etc.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 16.—The House joint resolution to print 300,000 copies of the report of the commissioner of agriculture for 1877, and 5,000 copies of the colonial charters and constitution, passed after considerable discussion.

At the conclusion of the morning business the Senate resumed consideration of the bill to repeal the specie resumption act, and Matthews read an argument upon the general financial policy of government, and gave notice that he would hereafter submit to the Senate a proposition of his own as an amendment to the pending bill.

Matthews referred to the provisions of section 3,579 of the Revised Statutes and said they were consistent with those of the specie resumption act of January 14, 1875. There was nothing in either forbidding a reissue of notes redeemed in accordance therewith. When Congress intended an absolute extinction of redeemed currency, language was used which could not be mistaken. He quoted from various acts of Congress in support of this view, but favored an express provision of the law on the subject, being made now, to remove any doubt which might exist. If the resumption of specie payment meant the redemption and reissue of treasury notes, he was in favor of it, but if, on the contrary, it meant the redemption and retirement of legal tender notes, then he opposed it. What we needed was not a repeal of the specie resumption act but to provide for the beginning of resumption and to steadily maintain it. He then explained the amendment, in the nature of a substitute, which he proposed for the pending bill, introduced by him on the 8th of November last, providing for a reissue of treasury notes when redeemed, the amount of legal tender notes outstanding at any time not to exceed $350,000,000. It further provides that a coin reserve fund of $100,000,000; that bonds of the United States shall be sold for legal tender notes and also that legal tender notes shall be serviceable for all debts, public and private, except the principal and interest of the public debt. In conclusion, he said that a most careful and anxious examination of the subject, he submitted this for the settlement of a question of such great importance to the public welfare. He moved it be adopted as a substitute for the bill reported from the committee on finance.

Pending discussion, the bill to repeal the specie resumption act was laid aside.

Ingalls, from the committee on the District of Columbia, reported a substitute for the House bill providing a permanent form of government for the District of Columbia. Placed on the calendar. He gave notice that he would call it up for consideration on Monday. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 16.—Stephens indicated a desire to speak, but met with cries of "Regular order" from the democratic side.

Walt—Will not the gentlemen on the other side let Stephens speak.

Stephens—I ask consent to be heard for three minutes. (Cries of "Regular order" from the democratic side and "No objection on this side" from the republicans.)

Potter—It would afford me great pleasure to yield to the gentleman from Georgia, if I were permitted to yield to anybody, but I am not permitted to do so and I move that the House adjourn. Agreed to. Yeas 141, nays 116.

Before the announcement of the vote the Speaker submitted requests of three members for leave of absence, but Hooker objected unless coupled with the condition that their absence was not to operate against obtaining a quorum. The Speaker stated that it amounted to an objection and therefore withdrew the request. The result of the vote was announced and the House adjourned.

A reporter ascertained that the suggestion which Stephens desired to make to the House was that the demand for the previous question should be voted down, and that all amendments proposing to carry out the proposed investigation in its fullest extent, should be admitted. It will be observed that on the last vote the democrats numbered 141, and as most voted on the other side they have this 117 members present, within five of a quorum.

EASTERN.

Sold to Russians.

NEW YORK, 16. — Friday's Sun says: The yacht Mohawk, which capsized in this harbor two years ago, whereby several lives were lost, has been sold to the Russians. She originally cost $175,000, but was sold for scarcely a tenth of that sum.

No Galvanized Mummy Wanted.

The Tammany Hall general committee met tonight. Senator Eccleston made an address. Herald at the last presidential election the democratic party went in under the banner of a man who had not and did deserve to have the confidence of the people. The causes of Hayes being president are: First—The corrupt practices of the republican leaders and second, the want of stamina in the candidate who, being elected, had not pluck enough to take that which was given him by the people. The republicans have foreshadowed their coming man now leaning in Europe. He is bold, vigorous and determined and sticks to his friends. To beat him the democrats must name a man of like qualities and satisfactorily the sense of ambition of any man. We want no galvanized mummy. (Laughter.)

Funeral of Prof. Joseph Henry.

WASHINGTON, 16.—There were many costly and elegant floral tributes at the funeral of Prof Joseph Henry on Thursday. Some distinguished men acted as pallbearers, and many members of Congress, the Supreme Court, the President and Vice President, the military and diplomatic corps, and prominent educators were present from all sections to lend honor to the obsequies of the distinguished scholar. The remains were placed in the Oak Hill Cemetery.

Petitions Presented.

Since the beginning of the present session, the number of petitions presented in the House of Representatives has been fully 8,000. Of these, about 2,300 were on the subject of tariff; 500 related otherwise to commerce; 300 urged an extension of suffrage to women, and 157 were in favor of regulating and restricting the liquor traffic.

The Chinese Immigration Question.

The concurrent resolution reported by the Senate foreign relations committee last week, favoring negotiations with China to restrict Mongolian immigration to this country, received bad treatment at the hands of the telegraph operators somewhere between Washington and California. The resolution as printed in all the California Associated Press papers, makes the commitee say that the treaty might be easily modified on this subject to the advantage of both nations; whereas, they reported something much more to the purpose, namely, that it might wisely be modified, etc.

The Dead-Lock on Potter's Resolution.

During to-day's brief session of the House of Representatives, no progress whatever was made towards the release of the dead-lock on Potter's resolution, and the subsequent renewed determination of the democratic caucus committee, that no compromise should be entertained, is generally supposed to have left no room for hope of an early release. There are nevertheless surface indications that this recommendation of the caucus committee was announced only for a strategic purpose, and that it will soon be followed by some proposition for a compromise. The suggestion is made privately by certain prominent democrats, that Potter should allow an amendment, directing the proposed committee of investigation to inquire into any new evidence of fraud which the republicans may present in the case of Oregon, but not to make up any old charges. This proposition will not be considered satisfactory by the republican minority, but the fact that it is proposed to offer it is quite significant, taken in connection with the additional fact that Alexander H. Stephens, who arrived to-day, is earnestly advocating the propriety of allowing the Potter resolution to be opened for unlimited amendment and full discussion.

Bloomer, the Ticket Scalper.

BALTIMORE, 16.—Wm. E. Bloomer, ticket scalper, convicted of conspiracy to defraud the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, by dealing in fraudulent passes, was sentenced to-day, by Judge Brown, to one year in jail and to pay a fine of $100. After Bloomer's conviction in the criminal court, the case was taken to the court of appeals on a bill of exceptions, where the finding of the lower court was affirmed.

The Musical Festival.

CINCINNATI, 16. — A drizzling rain did not cause any abatement in the musical fervor this afternoon. The numbers were evenly divided between the Wagner and Beethoven selection. Pappenheim was the star to-night. The wonderful precision of Thomas' orchestra is a matter of general remark.

Confession of an ex-Prosecutor.

INDIANAPOLIS, 16.—The Journal publishes a confession by ex-Prosecutor, Wm. B. Walls, of Boone, Iowa, who says that in 1874 he received from Nancy Clem, on trial for murder, and delivered to Judge Palmer $1,000 in consideration for a nolle pros in the case. He gives dates, names and places. The News publishes interviews with the interested parties, denying the whole story. Walls was recently disbarred for unprofessional conduct.

The Fenian Movement.

NORTH TROY, Vt., 16.—A body of strangers are encamped in the woods near this place. They are all Irishmen, well dressed and intelligent. Accessions are being made to the camp almost hourly. The Canadian militia has been called out, and there seems to exist a feeling along the border that an immediate invasion of Canada by a large army of Fenians is more than probable.

Capture of a Desperado Cattle Thief.

OMAHA, 16.—Supt. G. Snyder, of the detective agency, has arrested, near Fort McKinney, Sam Kelly, a desperate cattle thief and murderer, for whom $5,000 reward has been offered. Kelly resisted, but Snyder and a posse of soldiers captured him and a confederate.

WESTERN.

Workingmen's State Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, 16.—The workingmen's State convention met here to-day. The county committee faction and Kearney body met in separate halls with full delegations from the city. The country delegations met by themselves, with a view of deciding with which faction to affiliate. Their action is not yet fully decided, some having entered the Kearney convention; others say they will not act with the county committee, while others still are disposed to join neither. The Kearney convention effected a permanent organization by electing Dennis Kearney, president.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Oxford University Election.

LONDON, 16.—The election for members of Parliament for the Oxford University, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the elevation of Gathorne Hardy to the peerage, has been in progress two days, and will last five days. Up to last night the figures stood—Talbot, conservative, 1,962; Professor Henry J. Smith, liberal, 823. The election is regarded as a test of the feeling of the clergy on the eastern question.

The Eastern Controversy.

Notwithstanding the silence of the St. Petersburg semi-official press, there is little doubt that the following dispatch represents the present views of the imperial court and chancellary:

ST. PETERSBURG, 15.

Notwithstanding the mercy observed in regard to Count Schouvaloff's reports to the Emperor and conference at the foreign office, various points whereby a real understanding may be attained form the subject of discussion in well-informed political circles. Though, in the first place, the necessity of securing the great object of war—the independence of Christians—is insisted upon, there is, on the other hand, no disposition to inscribe "noli me tangere" on the map of New Bulgaria, which was only set up as a provisional draft. At the same time, other compensations than those fixed on in lieu of the war indemnity are not regarded as excluded from discussion. While it is declared there can be absolutely no serious idea of the retrocession of Kars, the same is not true of Batoum. The advantage to Russia of the acquisition of Batoum is said to have its reverse side, inasmuch as millions must be expended in the construction of convenient lines of communication and proper fortifications before the possession of the place could be rendered of great importance. In the peaceful current of general indications a favorable significance is attached to the fact that the right of sale in the streets has been withdrawn from the Golos, which had lately adopted a warlike tone, while the Bourse Gazette and New Times, which recently observed an attitude favorable to peace, had that privilege restored to them.

Russian preparations to attack British commerce attract great attention. The Times says the United States may be depended upon to do all in their power to observe the treaty of Washington, but even if the Russians succeed in equipping their little fleet it will hardly do much mischief and is more likely to fall a victim to our cruisers than to inflict damage on our merchantmen. We might have some trouble at first, but a short time will suffice to clear the seas and make the passage of our vessels from one port to another, as safe as now.

A special says: The Porte will allow no further addition to the British fleet at Ismid.

Prince Charles, who has been visiting the army of the north, has gone to Turn Severin. Movements of the Russian troops and provision trains towards the Danube continue.

The Servian corps of observation, hitherto consisting of 15,000 men, has been increased to 35,000. This was caused by the fear of a Turkish attack. The Turks have been concentrating under Hafis Pasha on the Servian line of demarcation.

HUNGARY.

The Sixty Million Loan.

PESTH, 16.—The lower house of the Hungarian diet to-day adopted a bill providing for the credit of 60,000,000 florins. Only the extreme left were opposed to the bill. In the course of the debate Tisza, the premier, stated that the government regarded the affair of the Balkan Christians as a European question which they intended to settle in concert with Europe.

GERMANY.

Movement to Restrict Communistic Meetings.

BERLIN, 16.—It is reported that in view of the attack made upon the Emperor, the government has resolved to propose, or even to introduce by administrative decree, serious restrictions on the freedom and right of public meeting. Efforts will be made to bring about a common action on the part of Germany, Russia, England, the United States and other countries where socialistic or communistic symptoms have lately appeared.

FRANCE.

International Jury of Exhibition.

PARIS, 16.—The United States will be represented on the international jury of exhibition by thirty-three members. The French authorities promise no salary nor allowance for expenses and require them to be in attendance from early June to the 1st of September. Gov. McCormick, therefore, thought it best to make as many appointments as possible.
