PROVO.

BEST SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL.

Death of Charles E. Young—Drilling Artesian—Damage Suits Against Railroad.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Sept. 6.—The Provo City council did not a session this evening. Mr. Geo. S. Taylor, the newly appointed member from the Fifth ward, qualified and took his seat.

The street question was again up and discussed at length, but nothing was done in regard to grading Center street.

The committee on irrigation, who has been drilling a well for water on the Fair grounds, which is caving in, reported that they had decided to go more drilling to reach the bottom of the well, and which now is dressing. Fifty-eight inches flow would be needed. The committee also recommended that the property owners whose land was benefited by the work should be asked to help pay the cost.

The estimated cost of the creation was $27 per rod if sewer pipe was used.

CITY AND COUNTY JOINT BUILDING.

Trouble is brewing between the county and city and is likely to come to a head by the next meeting. Both committees have been appointed to confer jointly, the city committee of the building and the county the building of the building and the county committee of the building. The city has now been paying one fourth of the building expenses of both, and some time ago entertained the idea that there was no need of the county to come down to one-fifth of the expense. The county was an afterthought from the commissioners, and it was due to the use of three things, viz.: to act, but or per mechanic of the expense. The mechanics have not been responsible under agreement for some time and decided that owning to accept the arbitration in the way they had decided on—with the exception of the entire four sides of the building, which is more than they are now using, and will pay but one-fifth of the expense or the county will have to buy the city's interest. The city attorney was instructed to notify the commissioners. If the county buys the city out it will be a full adjusting the Dr. Ba-parcel.

CUTTING DOWN EXPENSES.

To cut down expenses the council recommend that the services of the following officers be discontinued with:

Special Deputy Marshal Chief and Patrol, $60 per month each; "assistant Marshal Chief, $50 per month; "assistant Marshal, $50 per month. Assistant Marshal, $50 per month. Assistant Marshal, $50 per month.
